

Cass H.S., 4/11/75

Adventuring in Labor History & Literature: Black & English
--A Philosophy of Liberation

Today will be yesterday tomorrow, and this unity of past in present in which also the future is imbedded, becomes even more present by us walking down a few blocks to the bldg. that has just been completed on WSU campus--the Reuther Bldg.--which houses the Archives of Labor History, centering around 1935-37, Detroit-Flint, where the CIO was born, but also going much further back as well as forward, including RD M-H papers, 1941-1975.

Humanist, Black
Rosa Luxemburg, Det.

You see how present history is right HERE, right NOW. (I.W.Y., 1975)
PHIS. OF FREEDOM, now & FUTURE YRS.

You're trying to cover 100 yrs.--o.k. let's begin in 1870's

1) Wendell Phillips, only Abolitionist to come over to labor--as KM, 1866:

Well, 1871 "Scratch a NYer & you'll find a Communist" not only because of refugees--& I had

By 1877--The City of Little Bread

ALL HISTORY IS CONTEMPORARY HISTORY

YOU HAVE TO EXPERIENCE IT

D.H. Lawrence: "It is as hard to hear new voices as to listen to an unknown language."

I doubt you know the author, or at least he has hardly been assigned to you yet. But the very fact that this tries to combine

1852 - Uncle Tom's Cabin

Moby Dick

Herman Melville's Moby Dick

"Not so much bound to any haven ahead, as rushing from all havens astern."

Queequeg
Tashtego
Dagoo

Yrs are the new voices--it isn't a cliché you hear on graduation day--but in fact, as you have already experienced at least once in a social way, but you have every right to REMAKE THIS ALIEN WORLD YOU DID NOT MAKE

Q R R P 267

12229

Concrete
this job
School, James electing M...
W...
A...
S...
L...
P...
B...

Well, 1871
By 1877--
1852
Herman Melville's
Moby Dick

12229