Milk Dealers Oppose Regulations Tending to Make Food Safe and Free From Germs

(Scripps-McRae Press Association.) Washington, D. C., June 24.—In its campaign for pure milk in the cities of the country, the department of agriculture today sent out to the public hundreds of copies of a report of the government committee on sanitary relations, originally intended to deal only with the milk supply of Washington.

Oppose Laws. In speaking of the opposition of the milk industry to reasonable requirements, the committee says in answer to critics of its policy: "The men engaged in this industry evidently do not know that such hydra-headed diseases as cholera, infantum, scarlet fever and diphtheria have been disseminated in the milk supply; that typhoid fever, typhus, and other diseases, and that milk may be the vehicle of the germs of tuberculosis and infectious diseases and moribund agents."

SQUARE FULL OF DEAD WORKERS

Lisbon, Portugal, June 24.—A square filled with dead and injured, most of the wounded shot in the legs as troops fired upon them, is the sum total of the street riots growing out of the plot to dethrone King Carlos.

The situation is reported as grave and the spirit of revolt widespread among the Portuguese people. The first trouble grew out of the act of the king in dismissing parliament and instituting a government by decree.

Troops Fire on People. After this battle, the dispatches say, there was a public mourning for the dead. The newspapers appeared with black borders and flags appeared at half mast on many houses.

AGED MOTHER IS STRICKEN AND ALONE Rich Daughter Said to Be Living in Evanston; Pathetic Case Attracts North Side

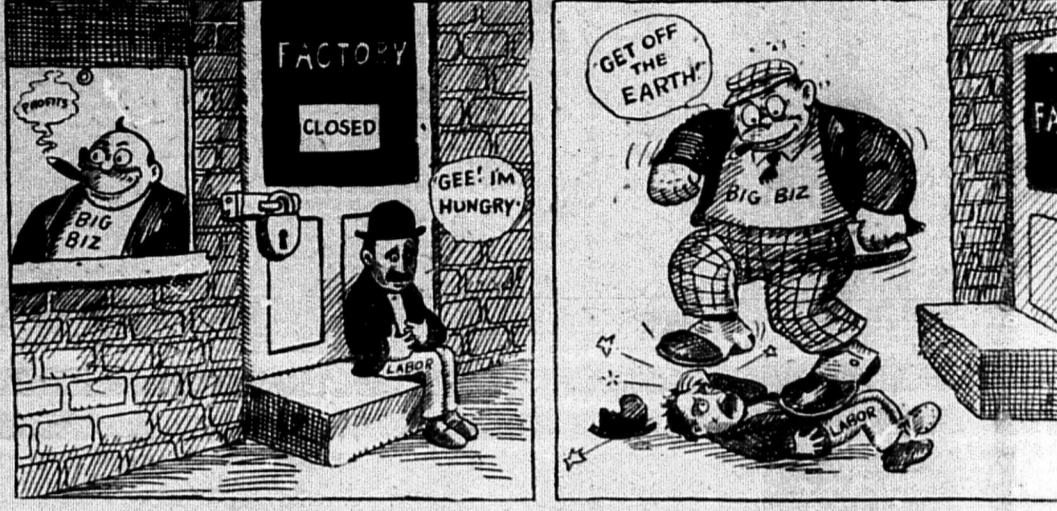

Deserted by her only child and dumb and helpless in her humble home of 338 North Campbell avenue, Mrs. Marie Uhrnholdt, a widow, 72 years of age, is fast approaching death.

BURGLAR CONNERS WAS ALSO A "WHITE SLAVER" Police Declare They Have Evidence to Show New Charge

In the arrest of Thomas Connors, the last of the trio to be arrested for the burglary of the north shore health resort, Winnetka, June 14, it is in custody and the discovery is made that he is a "white slaver."

MORE MATRIMONIAL TRINGLES IN "400" (Scripps-McRae Press Association.) Newport, R. I., June 24.—The chief of gossip here today is the reported engagement of Miss Gladys Vanderbilt to Robert Walton Gossett.

WOULDN'T IT BAMBOOZLE YOU

After you had been locked out from work— And your boss had walked on your countenance—

And had you arrested and fined and thrown into a dungeon: THEN— If he suddenly appeared and invited you to a love feast; WOULDN'T IT GET YOUR TAG?

DEFENSE OF HAYWOOD BEGINS TODAY; ORCHARD'S STORY TO BE RIDDLED

Witnesses Attend Church and Hear Preacher Who Was Bull-Penned in Cripple Creek—Law Abiding. (Appeal to Reason Bureau Special to Chicago Daily Socialist.) Boise, June 24.—Public sentiment in Boise, which took a distinct turn toward the defense when the state demonstrated its inability to fasten the Steuenberg murder on W. D. Haywood, has still further favored the federation effort since the arrival of the witnesses for the defense.

No Gun Rig. The fact that pieces of two revolvers were found at the scene of the explosion indicates according to the theory of the defense, that the weapons were those belonging to the two men who were killed and that Orchard did not rig a sixshooter at the shaft gate as he said he did.

What Billy Ackerman Could Tell El Paso, Tex., June 24.—"Billy" Ackerman, the man who, according to the testimony of Harry Orchard, the arch murderer and dynamite fiend, took an active part in the blowing up of the Vindicator mine, manufactured "Pettibone dope" and the bomb which was placed for the purpose of killing Governor Peabody, is declared to be in hiding in Juarez.

Not in Earnest. According to his story the plan to kill Governor Peabody, as well as the plan to kill the two justices of the state Supreme court, Justices Goddard and Gagnard, were planned with no intention of carrying out the purpose, but with the object of convicting the miners' officials with attempting the crime.

Refused Money? Since coming to this vicinity a man is said to have offered to give Ackerman $150 if he would agree to go to Boise. Ackerman refused, because, he said, the train on which he should have El Paso would never reach Boise.

Monstrous Conspiracy. The story told by Johnson as coming from his pal (Ackerman) has been in circulation since coming here and has not yet been refuted by persons on his trail almost passes belief. His statements and Beck were transferring giant powder from the eighth level to the sixth level and that a box of the explosive was accidentally discharged, killing two men.

Murderer's Testimony to Be Refuted by Citizens Whose Word and Character Has Not Been Questioned. heard from the grocer and others all about the poisoning of the milk and the gas explosion, and that he is now claiming that he attempted the dynamiting job for Haywood and the other leaders of the Western Federation.

Grudge the Cause. Scores of witnesses are to take the stand and swear that Orchard nourished an undying hatred for Governor Steuenberg and blamed him for the fact that he was poor, a tramp and a vagabond.

One Exception. Only one exception to this is cited and that is the case of Steuenberg himself. The ex-governor met his death at the hands of parties unknown and not at the hands of Harry Orchard through the treachery of Officers Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, declares Ackerman.

Justice Safe. In the cases of the two justices, they are said to have been perfectly safe all the time, the whole affair being only a grand stand play.

Monstrous Conspiracy. The story told by Johnson as coming from his pal (Ackerman) has been in circulation since coming here and has not yet been refuted by persons on his trail almost passes belief. His statements and Beck were transferring giant powder from the eighth level to the sixth level and that a box of the explosive was accidentally discharged, killing two men.

WALKOUT ISOLATES FRISCO; OFFICIALS POOR OPERATORS

Messages for Pacific Coast Piling Up At All Points—Company Using Post Office In Its Extremity. An investigation of conditions at the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies last night shows that the telegraphers' strike has made itself felt, and there is now tied up in Chicago many important telegrams which will reach their destinations much too late to be of any use to those who are interested in them.

At the Western Union early today there were at least 2,500 telegrams destined to points in the far west. Some were dated as early as 10 o'clock Saturday morning and many operators were sitting around idle, unable to move the business owing to the strike.

From appearances there is not likely to be much done, and the usual increase in the volume of business which always comes on Monday found conditions at these offices much worse than it has been.

The Wheatstone automatic system, which is always relied upon to move such accumulations, was not working, due principally to wire interruptions and lack of attention from the "repairer" and wire-testing stations.

Feeling against the Western Union Telegraph company ran high among local telegraphers when a telegram received from President Small this morning said that Clowry repudiated his own letter of two days ago, in which he offered to submit all grievances to arbitration.

Offer Peace. The telegram sent by President Small was dated 5:05 a. m., and was to the effect that the San Francisco operators offered to arbitrate the grievances, but that the Western Union officials of the San Francisco company also refused to grant the demands for a 25 per cent increase.

Refused. The telegram further states that the refusal of the company to arbitrate, in spite of President Clowry's declaration for arbitration, is bitterly resented by the San Francisco operators and is taken as further proof of the crookedness of Clowry's letter, which was merely a slap at the union, couched in fine though meaningless language.

In Harmony. President Small said that the calling of a strike in San Francisco is fully in accord with the decision of the executive board. Conditions in San Francisco are different than in any other city.

BroKER GIVES $100 TO STRIKE FUND A Young Woman Telegrapher Brings In Donation From Hatley & Co.

One brokerage firm on the Chicago board of trade has sided with the striking telegraphers in a material way. Yesterday afternoon a young woman telegrapher employed by Furness, C. Hatley & Co., in the Royal Insurance building, asked for her pay in advance, and she had been assessed one day's pay for the strike fund.

Commons Hit Rule of Lords Today—Passing of Upper House London, June 24.—A resolution for the clipping of the wings of the house of lords was introduced this morning by Premier Campbell-Bannerman in the house of commons and promises to develop into one of the greatest political issues in the history of Great Britain.

SADDLE HORSE IN AN EQUINE MYSTERY Left at Stephenson's Riding School, but "Miss Graystone" Has Not Called For Him

A horse mystery is attracting interest at Stephenson's riding school, 4540 Grand boulevard. Last Thursday a man in an automobile called at the place and left a splendid, sleek, light-bolted saddle horse there, saying that Miss Gertrude Graystone would call for the animal.

PRUNE WHISKY WILL BRING ABOUT RESULTS How Matt Fargo, Cut Off From Reel, Booze, Got Drunk

(Scripps-McRae Press Association.) Fond du Lac, Wis., June 24.—Unable to secure liquor because of his picture being posted in the saloons, Matt Fargo boiled prunes with yeast and water, got drunk on it and was sent to the workhouse for thirty days. His is the first case of the kind on record.

REDMOND SAYS IRISH HATE ENGLISH RULE Dublin, June 24.—A defiant challenge and warning to the British government was hurled by John E. Redmond, Irish leader, at Wexford in an address at the unveiling of a memorial to Wexfordians who fell in the battle of New Ross in 1798.

LEADERS RECEIVE FAKE TELEGRAM FROM CLOWRY The following fake telegram was received by the local union of the commercial telegraphers today, purporting to come from President Clowry of the Western Union.

DOTS AND DASHES The Western Union and Postal companies have been picking up a "block" of telegrams in the event the strike is extended to Chicago. As the Postal company has probably not taken out a license for a hotel or lodging house the health department will see that the city ordinances are not violated—maybe.

What They Did in Wisconsin— Pensions for Militiamen Proposed

(Special to Chicago Daily Socialist.)
Milwaukee, Wis., June 21.—Thirteen Social-Democratic measures have passed both houses of the Wisconsin legislature up to date.
These, of course, are the mildest of the Socialist bills introduced. The most important of these was the one for child labor law. This provides for a physical and educational test for all working children under 14 years, forbids night work or dangerous work for them, or a working day of over nine hours.
Another.
Another of the thirteen Social-Democratic measures demands an investigation by the federal government of the moral and intellectual results of child labor.
Other bills which our men succeeded in getting through both houses require an eight-hour day for railway and other operators, that railroads shall not be run without a full crew, that every wheel shall be so guarded that the workmen shall not breathe the emery dust (a bill, by the way, which the trades unions long tried in vain to get passed before there was any Social-Democrat in the legislature) and a bill placing trade schools under the control of the public school system instead of under private management.
All Good.
These are all good bills, as far as they go, and a capitalist legislature cannot be expected to pass any very strong Socialist measures.
"We are having prosperous times," said a "reform" Republican in the Wisconsin assembly. "But we shall not always have them. Periods of depression will come. Factories will be closed and workmen will be without employment."
"Great crowds of the unemployed, driven by the pangs of hunger, will swarm the streets of our cities and congregate in our industrial centers. When that hour comes, gentlemen, we shall need the strong arm of the military power. We must encourage the militia."
Wants to Kill.
He therefore advocated a pension law for the militia.
Social-Democratic Assembled.
Brookhausen arose and asked:
"Do you wish to increase the military force simply because you propose to beat them into insensibility and to shoot them down for the mere reason that they are out of work and hungry?"
The "reform" thundered in reply: "Why is it that your working people create violence in times of economic depression?" and went on to describe the Haymarket riot in Chicago.

"Thank God," piously ejaculated this good Republican, "we had a governor in this state who had the nerve to wipe out this mob violence in Wisconsin. Such times will come again and we should prepare to act in a similar way."
To this tirade Brookhausen replied, with admirable self-control:
Spirit of Capitalism.
"This," said he, "is the spirit of capitalism that breeds hate in the hearts of the working people for your institutions. It is like this that creates bad spirit everywhere. You know well enough that it is not the working class that is the breeder of violence. It is the great corporate interests that set aside law and the common welfare and overburden our people."
Brookhausen continued in this calm and effective strain, making a telling rebuke to the capitalistic spirit.
Such incidents as these serve to cut the class lines clearer and prove to the workmen that they can never place the slightest reliance on the "reformers" of any capitalist party.

PRESSMEN WANT EIGHT-HOUR DAY

International Convention Takes Radical Step for Better Conditions
(Scripps-McIntee Press Association.)
New York, June 24.—The International Association of Printing Pressmen, in convention at Brighton Beach today repudiated the five-year agreement with the United Typothetae of America and demanded an eight-hour day and the removal from the agreement of the open-shop clause.
It was ordered that in case the typothetae refused the amendments to the agreement the eight-hour day proposition should immediately be put to a referendum vote in the union; to be taken within thirty days.
The leaders said today that a referendum vote in favor of the eight-hour day probably would result in a general strike of 19,000 pressmen in book and job offices in the United States.

berg. The policies and purposes of the Western Federation are to be discussed in detail to the jury and the defense will call attention to the historical fact that James H. Hawley, now the special prosecutor of Haywood, advised and aided the formation of the union when he defected Pettibone and others in 1892.
The bitter warfare waged upon the union by them in 1902 is also recounted and evidence that since the day of its organization every member of the federation has been pursued, driven out of mining camps after mining camps and denied employment.
The killing of Lyte Gregory, a mine owner's detective at Denver, whom Orchard admits was one of his victims, is to be proved as a wanton murder, of which the federation people had no knowledge or participation.
Gregory never came into contact with the Western Federation or any of its members, his activities being wholly with the coal miners—and if his death was in any way related to labor troubles it is not chargeable to the members of the Western Federation.
Boasted.
Adding to Orchard's admissions of every infamy the defense will produce testimony to convince the jury that he was a tin-horn gambler, always preying upon credulous miners and farmers, and that he was a braggart and a boaster, claiming as his own many crimes that he never committed.
In this connection the defense has just obtained possession of a photograph of Orchard where he posed as a murderer.
Posed as Murderer.
The picture represents three men, one sitting at a card table dead, the second man stands with his hands on the shoulder of the victim and Orchard, in pose of a murderer, stands on the opposite side of the table, deck of cards in one hand and a six-shooter in the other. Every living man with the exception of Jack Simpkins, who has been brought into the murder deal by Orchard's confession, is here to deny his statements.
All Present.
Big Bill Davis, who Orchard said led the dynamiters at Cochrane, and at Cripple Creek, is here; so is Thomas Foster, who was tried and acquitted for the train wrecking episode at Cripple Creek. D. C. Coates, former lieutenant governor of Colorado, who Orchard said proposed kidnaping Gus Paulson's children, will deny that accusation. Former Attorney General Engley of Colorado is to testify to Orchard's threats against Steuenerberg's life.
Marion Moore, who Orchard says posted a letter for him at Nome, is here to deny that and things related by the state's chief witness. Bill Easterly, who was accused of aiding and abetting the Vindicator explosion; Paddy Moran, the Cheyenne saloonkeeper who Orchard claimed went to Denver and got $500 for him from Pettibone; Max Malich, the Denver storekeeper who Orchard asserted wanted to blow up a nonunion miners' house and kill 150 scabs; Joseph Milnech, who Orchard said drove a buggy for him when he was trying to assassinate Governor Peabody; A. J. Wolf, Pettibone's clerk, who Orchard swore sent him money by telegraph; Paul Corcoran, the secretary of the Burke union, who Orchard declared was the instigator of violence—all and others are to take the witness stand and give the lie direct to Orchard.

Betray Orchard.
Other witnesses are to be brought forward who will testify that after the independence depot was blown up and the dynamiters that the dogs led the detectives straight to Orchard's cabin and that the chief detective ordered the abandonment of the trail; the detectives did not want to catch Orchard.
Nearly a hundred witnesses for the defense are here, many of them miners who were deported from Cripple Creek. Darrow estimates that about two weeks will be consumed in putting in the defense, if there are no lengthy cross examinations by the prosecution. All of tomorrow's two sessions will be consumed by the opening statement.
BURNED INFANTS IN A HOSPITAL STOVE?
Grave Charges Against Woman Are Brought by Janitor
Mrs. Emma Brendecke, proprietor of a hospital of questionable standing at 275 West Adams street, has been confronted with new charges more hideous than all the others on which she has been haled into court. This time a former janitor in the hospital, Joseph Brinberg, declares that he found the charred bodies of five infants in a stove and has given the authorities dates upon which such discoveries were made. The janitor declares the infants were born on the premises and disposed of by burning, but whether they were dead before they were placed in the stove he cannot say.
Upon this will depend in a large measure the contemplated prosecution of the woman whose alleged husband has been attracting so much unfavorable attention.
In addition to these charges there is one of contempt in Judge Chetlain's court. Dora Politsay had testified that she gave birth to a child in the hospital and was held a prisoner in the place, compelled in her weakened condition to perform the most menial work and to hard labor.
Later, it is alleged Mrs. Brendecke offered them $100 if she would leave town until the thing blows over. For this the woman will have to reckon with Judge Chetlain. Another case is that growing out of the testimony of Edna Warner of Momence, Ill., who testified that she was admitted to the hospital in her hour of trouble and then blackmailed.

GRUFF POLICEMAN PINCHES HIS WIFE

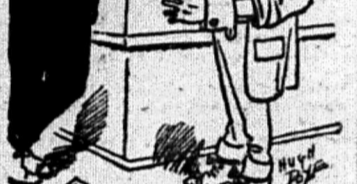

Naturally a Row Followed; a Budget of News From the Gruff Metropolis
(Special Correspondence Chicago Daily Socialist.)
Griff, Mo., June 21.—There were things doing in the home of Christian Wurzbacher last night. Chris had just been appointed on the police force to succeed Bob Mulligan, who was fired to please the voters in the Third ward, who are German.
Chris was selected by the mayor because he speaks brokenly, with a guttural sound like a large body of water expiring through a small drain pipe. pointed, siverold affair, late yesterday afternoon, also his mahogany stick and a helmet two sizes too big for him, but which was made to fit with a strip from a horse blanket stuck about the inside. Thus clothed with the power of the law, privileged to impound hogs or sleep on his beat, Chris whiddled home. He was uncertain as to one thing—the proper way to make an arrest. By the time he reached home he had patented a scheme to get into practice.
Drawing his trusty club, and two lengths of his breath, he trod through his domellitory portal. Mrs. Wurzbacher was trying onions and baking speeches.
With a noise like a gum shoe Chris bore down upon the partner of his failures.
Swish, slap, bang! and Mrs. Chris found herself in the clothes press, arrested by her own husband.
After the neighbors had quelled the riot, having been drawn by the noise of conflict, Chris was arrested by a veteran and taken before the mayor, who ordered him pried from his star and club and looked up on a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer.

Griff people feel honored that the last summer Jesse Summers, president of the second branch of the town council, stopped at her hotel in Chicago, and says Mrs. Palmer treated him fine, always seeing that the best dishes were within his reach. In fact, her demeanor toward all the guests met with the same cordiality.
The annual meeting of the Griff Society for the Preservation of the Mosquito will be held in the town hall next week. The object of the organization is not to exterminate, but to educate and civilize the race mosquito, found in these parts. The few, like the buffalo, is gradually becoming extinct, and if the nature fakers will only keep their hands off may yet amount to something. Prof. Palmer of the Griff high school has a scheme for chasing the mosquitoes on sparrows, which devastate crops, and are now trying to corner the cherry crop.

News for Unionists

William D. Haywood is in receipt of a letter from the Union Defense League of San Francisco expressing implicit faith in his innocence. The letter declares Detective McParland and Governor Gooding as conspirators and Orchard as a degenerate perjurer. The Union Defense League represents 25,000 union men in San Francisco and pledges its unlimited support, with the wish that Haywood may soon be out of prison and into the clear struggle for which he has so valiantly worked.
At the request of the Union of Beach & Co., Philadelphia, manufacturers of the Reach and Spalding baseballs and sporting goods, was put on the unfair list by the Central union of Philadelphia and by the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor. The Reach concern absolutely refuses to employ union labor in any shape or manner. A number of the leading unions in Philadelphia have decided to find any of their members who buy sporting goods from that concern. The ball club which has sent out letters to organized labor throughout the country requesting it to make the unfair rule as effective as possible. It recommends the goods of the Victor Sporting Goods company of Springfield, Mass., to be used instead.
A party will be given by the Women's Life Union league at Neighborhood House, Sixty-seventh and May streets, on Tuesday evening, June 25, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Raymond Robins will speak on the value of trade unionism.

Austin, Tex., June 24.—It was announced Sunday by Dr. W. H. He has placed that disease in the same category with yellow fever and smallpox.

GERMANY MAY BE FACING REACTION

Significant Conduct of Money Centers and Industrial Influences
Hamburg, June 21.—The general business situation in Germany is just now attracting wide attention, and the fear has been expressed in some well-informed circles that the empire is facing a business reaction. In support of this contention may be cited the fact that the prolongation of the period of dear money has awakened grave forebodings that the autumn stringency will be greater than anything of the kind in the recent history of the German nation.
Another fact that has a bearing on the situation is the skepticism of the stock exchanges so far as the industrial situation is concerned. Not that the latter is bad, far from it, but a fear is expressed that it may become bad. The iron and steel situation is becoming involved, to some extent, and the statement is offered that this is due largely to American and English influences.
Another feature, the coal shortage previously somewhat conspicuous is increasing and there seems to be a feeling that general manufacturing will be seriously affected on this account.
THIS IS GOING SOME
Poms, Ga., June 22.—James Ward, a negro, buried his wife Thursday and on Friday he married to Sally Atkins, a trained nurse, who had been with the first Mrs. Ward during her illness. Ward says that his first wife was so pleased with Miss Atkins as a nurse that she requested him to marry her. He just before the late Mrs. Ward died, she gasped, "Marry Sally tomorrow," and he promised.

Socialism and Government

There are some people to whom the idea of Socialism is one of restraint and regulation and troublesome interference by officials. Such persons have constructed a bug-a-boo which they call "State Socialism," and which they claim that the Socialists are seeking to introduce among men.

Such people have been told, generally by the enemies of Socialism, though sometimes by some ill-informed Socialist, that the Socialists are simply going to make all property government property. Then they make a picture of the present government directing everything from running railroads to patching stockings, and having thus constructed this horrible nightmare out of their own mental indigestion they shout "Behold the Socialist dream".

It was such a nightmare as this that David Parry, of the Employers' Association had, and thought it was Socialism. Herbert Spencer was similarly afflicted, and there are many others today.

This nightmare is compounded exclusively of elements of present society, which accounts for its horrors. It has nothing in common with Socialism, unless it be by antithesis.

Government today means restriction. It is a great policeman's club that is continually swung above our heads. It is a tyrannical pedagogue, or jailer (they are much alike) forever shouting "Don't".

This is because government is now, as it has always been in the past, primarily an instrument in the hands of the ruling class with which to prevent the rebellion of their slaves. It has to a large degree taken the place of the overseer on the southern plantation before the war. The old overseer was entrusted with the work of seeing that the MAN did not run away from the master. The modern government sees to it that the JOB does not get away from the CAPITALIST. This is done by means of the laws of private property.

These laws attach the job firmly to the man who does not work, and makes it in his hands an instrument with which to exploit the man who cannot live without the job.

Nearly all the legislation, court practice, police duty, and work of the government in general is to maintain the rights of private property. The working-class having no private property has no rights which the state is bound to maintain.

Most crimes are either crimes against property or are the result of a lack of property, or the proper application of property in an educational way.

So it is that practically all the activities of the present state are REPRESSIVE, RESTRICTIVE AND RELATE TO THE PROTECTION OF PROPERTY AGAINST PERSONS.

With the victory of the working-class it would come into control of the government. It would use that government, as have all other classes that have controlled it in its own interest.

Now the working-class being a WORKING and not IDLE class will do its own work, and not seek to compel some one else to work for it.

To do this it must own its own jobs. It can own many of these at least, best through the machinery of the State which it will control.

But the State controlled by the workers will have little in common with the present State.

With the workers owning their jobs and their product there will be no property to produce crime, no quarrels over exploiting property to fill the law courts, no powerful "interests" to be bribing legislatures, and since laborers will own capital, no standing army will be needed to maintain peace between "Labor and Capital".

The State will be used by the workers principally for ADMINISTRATIVE PURPOSES. It will be the great information gathering center from which facts will flow out to the various industrial branches.

Some suggestion of the present probable line of development is offered by our present agricultural department, in so far as it is now a gambler's outfit. This department gathers information from every part of the world and places it at the disposal of those interested in agriculture. Whenever a problem of especial importance arises, like the boll-weevil, the Texas fever, or anything similar, it gives the question the especial benefit of all the forces at its disposal in the search for a solution.

No one ever heard of the agricultural department, even of the present government, interfering with personal liberty.

The Postoffice would never become an instrument of tyranny were it not for the private interests that use it to accomplish their ends, and these private interests would disappear with the coming of the rule of the working class.

No one can now say just what industries would be owned and operated by the State and its various branches. No matter what any one might say now, the workers of that time would never search the files of the Daily Socialist to discover our desires before acting.

State or collective ownership is not for the purpose of carrying out a scheme, but to stop exploitation and insure opportunity, and the workers of the future will decide at what point and how this may best be secured.

THE STATE WILL BE AN INSTRUMENT IN THE HANDS OF ALL TO DO THE COMMON WORK, NOT A CLUB IN THE HANDS OF A RULING, EXPLOITING MINORITY, WITH WHICH TO KEEP THE REMAINDER IN SUBJECTION.

Brewers' Union and the A. F. of L.

The Brewers' union was recently expelled from the American Federation of Labor. It was hoped thereby to disrupt the Brewers' union and force it to divide up into a half dozen little, rival warring unions, such as now exist in several lines of industry.

It is also more rumored that they were struck because their membership had intelligence enough to object to begging for legislation with a costly lobby, when they had the power to take it with their votes.

The attempt to kill the Brewers' union with a paper guillotine will not hurt the union any. Neither will it make any less Socialists, but rather more. But it may hurt the cause of unionism. It may injure the American Federation of Labor.

SUCH WORK AS THIS IS POOR BUSINESS FOR MEN WHO ARE PAID TO SERVE THE CAUSE OF ORGANIZED LABOR.

Thoughtful on His Part. "Did you get damages for being in that railway accident, Bill?" "None, $50 for me and fifty for the missus."

"The missus? I didn't hear she was hurt." "She wasn't; but I had the presence of mind to fetch her off on the head with me foot."—Harper's Weekly.

Come Home Out of Curiosity. A Springfield man whose wife was away on a visit became tired of "bitching" and hit upon a plan to induce her to return, says the Kansas City Star. He sent her copies of the local papers with some items clipped out. The scheme worked admirably. In less than a week she was home to find out what it was that had been going on that her husband didn't want her to know about.

Thrift, industry, enterprise—these are recommended ceaselessly to workmen as the secrets of success. In order to account for the success of a Gould, Stanford, Rockefeller and others, they must be made to read: Thrift, with a franchise; industry, with a trust; enterprise, "an advice of counsel."

The favor and privileges given the Bank of England—how much had they to do with its prosperity? Which were more important, these of "thrift, sobriety?"

"PROGRESS IN SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY"

All In at Boise

By G. Edward Lind

Modern Newspaper Making.

As fast as the reporter or editor frames a sentence it is placed upon the paper by the typewriter, every desk containing a machine by which copy can be far more rapidly prepared than with pen or pencil, of course far more legibly. The pneumatic tube takes sheet after sheet as revised by the editor and places it before the foreman in the composing room.

The battery of typesetting machines are provided with double as well as single magazines of matrices so that the machines may not only set the body of the paragraph, but the headlines as well. This hand composition has been reduced to such a small amount that an entire page of eight columns, including all display advertising, may contain less than half a column set by actual hand labor.

As fast as the form is made up it is shoved on the bed of an impression molder that is actuated by a two and a half horsepower motor. One movement of the massive molder roller over the sheet of paper-mache placed on the form stamps the type into its soft, moist surface.

The form and matrix are placed on a table to be subjected to a steam pressure of eighty pounds, which partially removes the moisture.

At the end of the steam tables the circular matrix roaster, revolved by a one-quarter horsepower motor, receives the matrices as fast as removed from the tables. The matrices travel to the stereotyping room over a chute. While the stereotype is being made the plate is trimmed by electrical-driven tools so that the operation of the casting boxes, the steam tables, the making up of the forms and the transfer of the form tables are the only hand processes employed.

The stereotype containing the matter for publication is fastened with the other plates of the paper on each side of a series of four quadruple presses of the Hoe type. In an hour 100,000 newspapers have been not only printed and finished, but taken from the press room and most of them placed in wrappers for mailing or in the hands of the carriers for distribution.

The presses are also provided with a pneumatic ink distributor which consists of a reservoir holding 2,000 pounds of ink and readily filled by gravity from a platform above it.

"Wireless Telephony at Last."

It is now definitely stated that wireless telephones are to be placed experimentally in some of the North river ferriesboats in New York, and reports of successful trials of the apparatus on shore make it certain that it is possible to telephone without connecting wires, although much remains to be done before the perfection of a practical commercial system.

Alligator Farming.

An Englishman at Hot Springs, Ark., is engaged in raising alligators for the market. The demand for alligator hides is constantly increasing, while parks and zoos buy the live reptiles for exhibition. An alligator lays from thirty to sixty eggs, which are placed in an incubator, where they are hatched by the heat of the sun. Hence the condition of the weather determines the time of incubation. All the young alligators of the same hatch are placed in one pen, which is built to include part of an artificial lake, and in passing from one pen to another the visitor notices the increasing size of the reptiles until those twelve feet in length are reached.

The Cab Taximeter.

When a cab is hailed the driver lowers the metal flag on the instrument, which registers 50 cents on the pay-meter opening, this being the minimum fare. At the end of the first mile the figures advance to 60 cents, and continue at the rate of 10 cents per one-fifth mile. Should the cab be kept standing after being engaged, the internal clockwork registers 10 cents for every six minutes.

POINTS TO BE REMEMBERED

The jury that is to try Haywood for his life is composed of eight Republicans, three Democrats and one Prohibitionist. Not a workman on the jury.

Orchard admits that he was in the employ of the railroad detective bureau before he met Haywood and Moyer.

Orchard admits that he reported to military headquarters.

Orchard admits that while other federation men were deported and their houses searched, he was unmolested.

Orchard admits that at all times he had free access in and out of the military lines.

Orchard admits that during his imprisonment in the Boise penitentiary he was supplied with money by Governor Gooding.

Orchard admits that his testimony was written in the form of a narrative a year ago, and that it was read by McParland.

Orchard admitted, after making a request to change his testimony, given the day previous, that he had been closeted with Detective McParland.

Orchard admits that Haywood and Moyer repeatedly cautioned the men on strike to refrain from violence and overt acts.

Orchard admits that as a railroad detective he planned and executed the wreck of the Florence & Cripple Creek railroad to be the blame for which was placed on the federation officials.

Orchard admits that Haywood had nothing to do with planning the Vindicator explosion.

Orchard admits that Haywood had nothing to do with the murder of Lyte Gregory, the Pinkerton.

Orchard on oath stated Saturday, June 8, that Bill Easterly helped him make bombs. Easterly was identified in open court Monday morning. After one day and two nights' conference with Hawley and McParland, Orchard changed his testimony to read Billy Ackerman.

Orchard admits having confessed to committing crimes in which he had no hand.

Orchard admits that Haywood had nothing to do with planning the Independence depot explosion.

Orchard admits that he offered to blow up sixty miners at $4 a head.

Orchard admits that the detective, Scott, gave him $157 to pay his expenses to Denver where he was to get acquainted with Moyer and Haywood.—Appeal to Reason.

Trusts. As a matter of common sense and common decency, people must refuse to accept any statements about the cheapness of the trusts which come from them. The people must, if they mean to remain democratic, insist that they will accept as base for action by them, no statistics nor statements of facts which they (the trusts) have any part in making and which they have any chance to check or audit.

When a monopoly asks the people to try it upon evidence worked up by itself, with no check or supervision, and with no voice or view of the evidence on the part of the party most interested, it stultify itself and insult to injury.

Why the American plutocracy is so anxious to control the manufacture of statistics appears from the very great effect upon social theory which is produced.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN Edited by Marie Jayne

Object of Woman's Trade Union League

NUMEROUS inquiries are received as to the object and work of the Woman's Trade Union League, and who is eligible to membership in that organization. The organization is made up of trade union women in the main, but any woman who desires to do so can become a member.

Wives of trade union men, who are engaged in the work of the home, can become active members of this organization, and in some knowledge of the meaning of trade unionism.

The burden of the difficult industrial adjustment to new conditions falls very heavily upon the woman in the home.

Women in the industrial world, so recently that she has not been quick to recognize that today progress along all lines lies through organization, and that much of her disadvantage comes from a lack of co-operation into trade unions.

The president of the National Woman's Trade Union League says: "The present phase of industrialism will be fatal to woman unless she can solve its difficulties through organization, and if she does not avail herself of this method she will remain the 'drudge' of the labor world in the future as she has been in the past."

Many women wage-earners have already realized that advance lies in organization with others existing today a number of labor unions doing effective work to better conditions.

The Woman's Trade Union League was therefore organized, which consists of women in trade union organizations.

The members of the Woman's Trade Union League also believe that a better understanding of the question of labor can be brought about by a personal knowledge of the conditions, which offers the league offers the opportunity to secure this knowledge through its investigating committee.

Thirty years ago, in England, such a movement was formed and has done valuable work in organizing women workers, in creating favorable public sentiment and in securing legislation for protective measures.

The national league was organized in Boston, November, 1903, following the convention of the American Federation of Labor; several officers of that body being present and assisting.

The Illinois branch of the league was formed in Chicago, January 4, 1904.

Woman's Socialist League Will Meet

A special meeting of the Socialist Women's League will be held Tuesday evening, June 25, at suite 427, 108 La Salle street, to consider the matter of lining up with other organizations of women against the proposed new charter for Chicago. Other matters of importance will also be considered, so a full attendance is requested.

Life Was a Feast

Life was a feast of love and flowers, Youth of the feast was king; Fancy wove for the flying hours Toys and the numbering.

Life was a feast of love and flowers, Youth of the feast was king. Duty paused at the portals golden, Toys were cast and numbering.

To mirth alone are hearts beholden Where carefree youth holds sway." Duty paused at the portals golden, "Away!" cried the king, "away."

Flown is love, fallen the flowers, Flew is the fickle king, But Memory weaves from the mispent hours

Rejoice without numbering— Flown is love, fallen the flowers, Flew is the fickle king.

Women in Other Lands

The entire male population of Japan has been much exercised in its mind by the presentation to the imperial diet of two petitions from the Japanese women, praying, one for political rights, and the other for moral rights.

The meek and gentle Jap woman pleads for freedom and justice it may well be asked, "Unto what shall these things grow?" But the reforms now presented by the wives and mothers of Japan are, in truth, essential to the healthy social and moral development of the country.

The Japanese woman is morally superior to the Japanese man, and the petition is simply the outcome of an earnest desire to bring the man up to the woman's standard. Female education is now freely given; special social legislation is now required.

The little Switzerland is at last waking to the fact that until its women are politically enfranchised it is free only in the letter and not in the spirit. A woman suffrage association has been formed in Geneva, chiefly of public men, who hold the official posts of honor in the society.

Miss Edith Bradley of England urges upon women agriculturists the need of organization. There are now over 6,000 women gardeners, and 99,994 women farmers in that country, who are dependent upon land for their livelihood, and more and more women are turning to agriculture as a means of independent means are taking to profitable branches of "le petit culte."

A school of gardening has lately been opened at Bredon's Norton, Worcestershire, England, which offers the faculty of instruction under the direction of the principal, Miss May Crooke, F. R. H. S. In connection with the school is a ladies' club house, a beautiful old Elizabethan manor where ladies interested in the country and its pursuits can find a residence. Miss Woodhull, daughter of Mrs. Woodhull Martin, one of America's foremost women, to whom the property belongs, is devoting time and attention to the scheme as one that will provide suitable occupation for and bring economic independence to many energetic capable unmarried women.

The woman suffrage committees throughout Austria are working well to bring their claims to the front. Though by virtue of an act passed so early as 1847, women are forbidden to organize into societies for the promulgation and agitation of any political object, the committees ingeniously circumvent the law, and by lectures, pamphlets and press notices to keep the public up-to-date as to the justness of women's claims. For instance, a leaflet has lately been distributed demonstrating the inferior legal positions of women, more especially is the anomaly of "universal suffrage" emphasized which yet excludes women!

Female education is rapidly advancing in China under the auspices of a large body of reformers. The Chinese imperial commission, which last year visited America for the express purpose of studying the educational institutions, has strongly advocated the entrance of women into the higher schools and colleges.

The hatpin question seems to have been run into the ground, if the many styles of hairpins in the shops are any indication. The prettiest hatpins that have the stamp of novelty are those of pluk and blue crystal or quartz.

CHILD'S GUMPE. Paris Pattern No. 1947. All Seams Allowed.

So many of the summer frocks of little girls are made to wear with a guimpe that a great supply of these necessary little undergarments is indispensable for neatness. As a general rule for making them, this model forms the best basis possible, and a wide latitude in ornamentation will give the desirable variety.

The pattern is in 4 sizes—8 to 9 years. For a child of 5 years the guimpe needs 2 yards of goods; 6 inches wide, or 1 1/2 yard 36 inches wide; as illustrated, 3/4 yard of all-over embroidery 18 inches wide for collar, wristbands and upper part of guimpe and 1 1/2 yard of edging to trim.

Price of pattern, 10 cents.

All orders for patterns shown in this column should be sent to the Chicago Daily Socialist. Remember these patterns are strictly the property of union labor. Catalogue showing 1,000 patterns sent on receipt of 10 cents to cover postage.

TO THE EDITOR

Why a Flag at All? Occasionally I notice in the columns of the Chicago Daily Socialist various opinions relative to the flag question, some favoring the red flag and others the Stars and Stripes.

From the time of my becoming a Socialist several years ago I have, until the seeds of class-consciousness and the necessity of concerted political action. If they like "Old Glory" or the "Union Jack" or any other particular pattern, take the thing up and wave it for them. The really vital question is one regarding the "quality" of cloth on our backs rather than the color of a bunch of dry goods on the end of a pole. Let us not sink the dignity of our philosophy in pettiness. When that line of tactics is abandoned, then, and not till then, will the Socialist agitator talk to a full house.
