MOTHER AND SON MURDERERS

(Scripps-McRae Press Association.) La Plata, Md., July 11.—Calm and stoical as a Spartan mother, Mrs. Mollie Bowie took the stand today in defense of herself and her son, Henry Bowie, jointly charged with the killing of Hubert Posey, the betrayer of Miss Priscilla Bowie, the daughter and sister of the defendants. The preliminaries were entirely devoid of claptrap.

When Mrs. Bowie was called to the stand her smile faded and she showed signs of deep emotion, but her step was firm. Her brother was open and lines about her sad eyes deepened as she faced the twelve men who are to decide her fate.

ADMIRAL DEWEY'S KIN BLIND AND IN WANT

The extreme wail of a sister-in-law of Admiral Dewey, living in Chicago, has brought her case to the attention of the authorities. The woman, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Haskett, an aged nurse of the civil war, who receives a pension of $25 a month. She is blind and crippled and yesterday when she walked into the federal building to have the matter adjusted she solicited the utmost sympathy.

PEASANTS DISLIKE A NEW MOTIVE POWER

St. Petersburg, July 12.—Several companies of a rifle regiment have been sent to the LaBoga canal, where the peasants have risen in protest against the substitution of mechanical for horse traction on the canal.

MOYER AND HAYWOOD BOTH GOOD WITNESSES

Two Unconvicted Citizens Deny Absolutely the Story of a Self-Confessed Liar, Murderer, Bigamast, Petty Thief, Pinkerton

(Appeal to Reason Special to Chicago Daily Socialist.) Boise, Idaho, July 12.—For the first time since the beginning of the Haywood trial local Boise papers have been forced to admit that the prosecuting attorneys were unable to shake the testimony of a witness for the defense.

Under direct examination Moyer testified coolly and deliberately and with an effectiveness that indicated a trained mind of considerable depth. Not once was he caught in contradiction and at no time did he falter in his answers.

Under cross-examination by United States Senator Borah he shone with even greater brilliancy. The contest between Moyer and Borah was the most splendid exhibition of intellectual power that has yet been seen in the trial. And at the end of it Moyer stood forth a victor towering above a fallen foe.

Enraged at the premature presentation of the cipher telegram, Borah strenuously tried to induce Moyer to admit that it had been originally transmitted with criminal intent, but the admission was not forthcoming.

"I killed him," replied the witness. Her words came slowly, but her voice was firm. Her statement showed that she was ready to take all the burden on her own shoulders. Her breast heaved as she repeated: "I killed him," and she put the emphasis on the "I."

Henry Bowie, the son, who also fled at Posey, jumped from his seat as if to expostulate. He had taken a step toward the judge with his hand uplifted when one of the lawyers seized him and forced him back in his seat.

As Haywood told of his boyhood, that began with toil at the age of 4, and gave the history of his family, his invalid wife, who sat just to the left of the witness stand, began sobbing softly.

Haywood's testimony was chiefly characterized by positive denials of the allegations made against him by the prosecution. He denied that he met Orchard until some time after the Vindicator explosion, denied that he sent Orchard back to Cripple Creek to blow up the independence station. He denied participation in the Lyte Gregory murder and denied suggesting or discussing the Steunenberg murder.

He told of a number of occasions when he met Orchard in Denver in the ordinary course of his relations with the federation, and George A. Pettibone, and said he saw Orchard for the last time in August, 1905, when Orchard told him he was going to Alaska, and Haywood said he chided him for deserting his wife in Cripple Creek.

GIBSON DIVORCE IS AN ACTUALITY

Society continues to be exercised over the divorce instituted by Mrs. Preston Gibson against her husband, well-known "author," clubman and polo expert.

Mrs. A. A. Sprague, at whose home in Lake Forest Mrs. Gibson is a guest, has confirmed the story, but there is another side to it, being the denial of Gibson that he knows aught of a suit.

According to reports, the papers in the case have been filed with a minute clerk of the Cook County Circuit court and are being kept secret until next Saturday.

According to friends, the ground upon which the divorce is asked is incompatibility of temper.

At the office of the federal inspector of steamboats it was stated today that the federal office did not know that the boats carry but five seamen competent to handle the lifeboats.

At the Graham & Morton offices it was admitted today that it requires from five to eight men to handle a lifeboat and that what is called "the crew" on the boats is made up of unskilled roustabouts that do not know the ship and sail on her but for one trip.

"It is probably true that the steamboats carry as many men as the law requires," said an officer on one of the steamboats, "but the point is that the law does not say what kind of men they shall carry, and as a result the steamship companies put on just enough skilled men to run the boat and the

LAKE SHIPS GO TO SEA WITH ONLY SIX SAILORS; LIVES ARE MENACED

Other excursion boat, like the General Slocum, went down, there would be just as terrible a loss of life," said an old and experienced seaman. "The boats that leave Chicago are all undermanned. They carry throngs of passengers, for whom there would be absolutely no protection if the steamer were wrecked. It requires five able seamen to launch and handle a lifeboat, and the big steamers that leave the city carry just five seamen, two of the whom two are watchmen, and one is the lookout man."

TOUGH CLERGYMAN IS CLEARED OF MURDER

London, July 12.—The verdict of the Kensington coroner's court today that Mrs. Walter Swinburne Hancock, wife of a former Chicago Episcopal minister, came to her death by natural causes will probably release Hancock from the police surveillance he has been under ever since a suspicion that Mrs. Hancock had been poisoned was raised by her son. An autopsy failed to reveal any trace of poison and the verdict was returned in accordance with the death certificate of the attending physician, that death resulted from blood poisoning following appendicitis.

AH, HA! TRUSTS NEED NOT FEAR

The Receivership Threat Was Just a Little "Feeler" for the Boys

(Special to Chicago Daily Socialist.) Washington, July 12.—The federal government is not going to appoint receivers for the trusts and thus break them up into a lot of little competing companies.

It appears that the "feeler" sent out on the receivership idea brought a storm from the magnates and laughter from the Socialists. For this reason the inspired correspondents have sent out another "feeler."

Korea Makes Awful Charges Against Japanese Government

(Scripps-McRae Cable.) The Hague, July 12.—"Highwaymen, barbarians, murderers," are the mildest terms Prince Tjong Oul Yi of Korea has for the Japanese in voicing his appeals to The Hague peace conference for the powers' aid in saving his country from the mikado's oppression.

Women Censor Newspaper Reading of Their Dear Husbands

There are a few women in Chicago who are not the slaves of the particular men who are unfortunate to be their husbands.
In a score of cases men have subscribed for the Daily Socialist only to find that their wives ordered it stopped or destroyed immediately upon finding it upon their doorstep.
To discover just why these women censured their husbands' newspaper reading a reporter called on some of the women.

Mrs. M. F. Coley, 328 Fifty-fifth street, refused to allow her "man" to have the paper because... would "injure her social position."
Her husband subscribed, but the wife told the carrier to stop it. When seen today Mrs. Coley said:
"I do not want the Daily Socialist delivered here because we live in a flat building and do not want it left at our door for the other women in the building will see it and cut me socially for having a Socialist paper coming to the flat."

Mrs. Snyder refused to allow the Daily Socialist to be delivered at her door. She lives in a broken-down wooden house at 234 Wabasha avenue. Her four children peered through the slats.
"It will corrupt the children and break up the home," said the sad-faced woman. When asked whether she had ever read the paper she admitted that she had not and replied: "I know without reading it what it says and what Socialists believe and I don't intend to read it."

Mrs. Calvin, 786 West Forty-ninth street, objected to the Daily Socialist because it does not have enough advertisements of bargain sales. When it was explained to her that this is the only paper that has ever dared to expose the conditions under which young women work in the big stores and that those stores have no control over this paper she will not advertise in it, she admitted that perhaps there might be other things good in the paper, even if it had no big store advertisements.

Those Girard (Kas.) Socialists are the limit. After getting in $50 Tuesday from the Girard Banking company, Local Girard, S. P. came to last Saturday with $10 for subscription cards and the remark, "The Daily must continue. You will hear from a lot of us in a separate card city." Then this morning comes $43.90 more for subs. from the same old gang.

EMPLOYMENT MEN SWINDLES POOR?

Revelations of a surprising nature, pointing to the existence of a mercenary, law-defying employment agency trust, have been made by Charles B. Gifford, a bookkeeper and defendant in a suit brought by the Elliott-Morrison company, which has sued him for commission on a job it never got him, and has hounded him so that he must keep his place of employment and the number of his home a profound secret.

According to Gifford's story the man who acts as employers' agents for various big houses are in touch with the employment agencies and share in the profits. The moment an employe earns enough to pay the commission on his job he is fired and a new one hired.
In this way there is always commissions coming to the employment agencies and a rake-off for the man who does the hiring.

NEWS FOR UNIONISTS

Charles V. Ulbrandt, a Chicago trades unionist, comes to the front with more official information regarding the recent strike of ice wagon drivers in the east. Not only were drivers advanced from $14 to $15 per week, and helpers from $11 to $12 per week, but every man on strike was reinstated and went back to work wearing his union button. More than 1,200 men were affected. The question of overtime and time to report at the stables is arbitration. Fifty-four strikers were arrested during the nine days' trouble, but as all the complainants were representatives of the American Ice company or private detectives in its employment, prosecution is to be dropped. The arbitrators were the president, business agent and secretary of the union of the New York local, Michael Reagan, industrial mediator, and John J. Bealin, district representative of the New York department of labor. These, together with Westey M. Oler, president of the American Ice company, reached an agreement conceding most of the demands of the drivers.

John Sheridan is taking a vacation. It is one of the finest vacations that a prosperous business agent ever enjoyed. Sheridan recommends it to John D. Fields of the Knickerbocker Ice company, and other millionaires looking for rest. For several years Sheridan was business agent of the Ice Wagon Drivers' union. When he took the job he was a bright, light-hearted man, and his home and his family knew him. For four years, however, he never had a minute to call his own. He was business agent. He had no rest day or night and was wasting away. A few months ago when the ice season began to get warm he resigned and took a job driving an ice wagon. Now he has nothing to do but climb stairs with chunks weighing 200, 300 or any other weight. He begins before daylight and gets home well after sundown, but with it all he is "resting up" and is enjoying his vacation. While some folks might think driving an ice wagon is hard work, let them be business agents for a while and then they will see the difference. Indications are that John will be the next president of the United Teamsters of America.

The Turn of the Tide

The Daily Socialist is just now on the turn of the tide. Responses to the call to place it on a firm foundation have started with a rush that shows how eager are our readers to maintain their paper.

THE TIME HAS COME TO CALL OUT THE RESERVES. It is not a thousand dollars from a few that are most needed or most apt to be secured. It is the few dollars from the many thousands that can turn the tide.

DO ONE OF THESE THINGS TODAY. First—Send ten dollars for a share of stock, or at least send one dollar with a promise to send the remainder at the rate of a dollar a month.

Second—Send five dollars for subscription cards. You will be only advancing this money for a few days until you can sell the cards. Third—Lend any sum that you can afford for one year at 5 per cent interest.

Fourth—SEND IN AN ADDITIONAL SUBSCRIPTION. If you do not do some one of these things the time will come when you will look back on your inactivity with regret that at the moment when you were needed, when your efforts might have gone into the building up of the first daily to stand as the exponent of working class interests in the English language, you stood idle.

Anxious to Write the Obituary

For the first time since the Daily Socialist was started the capitalist press of Chicago are beginning to take an interest in this paper. The fact that it is having a hard fight is heralded forth by them with a poorly concealed air of rejoicing.

Socialist Colors

Liberty, with torch uplifted, by the far Atlantic shore; Lights, but never sees the grasping banks and trusts—no dare not trust; Never sees the shameless organs grown from glutinous and lust;

Strength of Socialism. Allowing to the most ample way for "flushing returns" of the Socialist in the rural and nonindustrial districts, it may, I think, be fairly reckoned that there are well over 1,500,000 potential Socialist voters for parliament in Great Britain.

TO THE WORKERS OF THE WORLD

Manifesto of the International Socialist Bureau

At the very moment in which Nicholas was about to call the first peace conference his policy in the far east was rendering the war with Japan inevitable. At the moment in which he was receiving the congratulations of the second Hague congress he ordered the dissolution of the second duma.

War, on the contrary, finds its best ground for culture in the growth of absolutism. Viewed from this point the dissolution of the duma constitutes a danger for all Europe. It has surprised no one. We are accustomed to seeing czarism violate its pledges, and the moment that it has the power it will treat other nations as it treats the Russian people.

Wall Street Needs Roosevelt. Wall Street will grow to appreciate it that was Roosevelt's policy that has leveled the rising wave of class hatred against capital and replaced it by a greater confidence among investors in securities than has ever existed before.

No Damage. Workman—I got married yesterday, sir. Can you give me a rise in wages? The Boss—I'm afraid not. The firm cannot be held responsible for accidents that happen outside the works.—Ally Sloper.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Edited by Marie Jayne

Child Labor

All over the country papers are filled with articles on child labor, most of them favoring an interpretation of the law that will allow the employers to use the children in their factories and shops during the brief school vacation.

Remodeling a Wardrobe

It is easy to make over worn dresses "when you know how." The Flora McFimsey feeling of "nothing to wear," which overtakes every woman at the sight of her last year's wardrobe, can be allayed if she will spread all of her gowns—good and bad—on hats where she can see them all at once, and then begin a sort of "survival of the fittest."

For Home Dressmakers

Originality of conception and beauty in result are the characteristics of this charming little garment for the summer's neglecting wear. Made of yellow polka-dotted dimity, trimmed with pink of Paris insertion and edging, and embellished with bands and bows of black velvet ribbon, it becomes an element of daily garb which no woman of taste will wish to overlook.

A Journalistic Stomachache

The evidence which is now being presented at Boise is very painful to the capitalist press. It tastes bad in their mouth. It gives them pains when they try to digest it. The contortions through which some periodicals are now going in their endeavor to avoid the, to them, bitter dose is decidedly amusing.

And now Secretary Bonaparte admits that all the trust busting has not lowered prices a single cent. He might also have added that it has not disturbed the stability of a single trust. John D. Rockefeller is placidly playing golf and cheering with as hearty a voice as if he had not just been "captured" and compelled to testify, and even the prospect of a $29,000,000 fine does not seem to spoil his enjoyment of the game.

All a Failure

WAKE UP

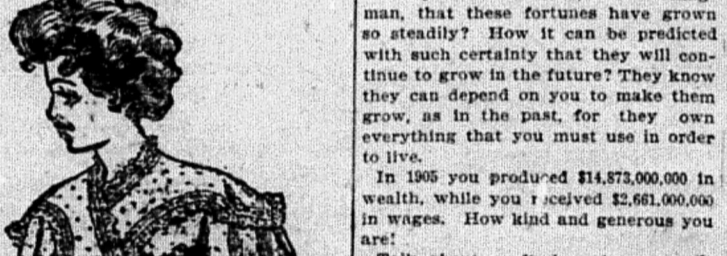

The vision of the reputed "richest man" of Chicago has stirred up in the money worshippers many pleasing emotions, and the daily papers representing the interests of the exploiters have made much of the occasion. One such came out with a list of twenty-seven persons or families owning wealth to the extent of $5,100,000,000, and the twenty-two Americans in the list own $2,750,000, and we are informed that "a recent conservative estimate indicates that there are 18,000 millionaires in the United States."

Boil together one cup water, one-half cup butter; while boiling add one-half cup flour; stir until smooth, then cool and add three eggs, not beaten; stir smooth, drop on a pan, bake twenty-five minutes. To make cream for filling, take one-half cup sugar, one egg, two heaping teaspoonfuls flour; pour this into one-half cup boiling milk; flavor when cold; cut open puffs and fill with the cream. This makes twelve delicious puffs.
