

HOW MRS. COBB HELPED THE PLOT OF MINE OWNERS TO HANG THE MINERS

National Conspiracy of Capitalists to Put Workers Out of Way Has Not Yet Been Told.

Note--The story of the national conspiracy to hang Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, which caused even President Roosevelt to take a hand, has not been told. One-tenth of the facts have not come out. We hope to dig them all up as time goes on. Below is given one phase of the plot never before printed.

A CRIME NOT TO BE A UNION LAWYER?

M. Weiss, Hungarian, Is Arrested. Charged With Posing as Attorney.

M. Weiss, 377 Hudson avenue, appeared in court at the Harrison street police station today to answer to the charge of practicing law without being a lawyer.

He admitted to Judge Crowe, before whom his case was called, that he is not a lawyer, and furnished $200 bonds. The case was continued until Wednesday, August 7, at 9 o'clock a. m.

Weiss is the man who went to Alexander Balogh, the Hungarian employed by the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, and representing himself as a lawyer, handled a personal injury case. He made a settlement for $25.

Whether he is an agent of the Northwestern road, which employs large numbers of Hungarians who cannot speak English, is not known. Weiss is a political henchman of Mayor Buese. It could not be ascertained today who gave bonds for Weiss.

Weiss is not the first man who has made settlements of personal injury cases for almost nothing. It is a common practice wherever foreigners are employed, as at the Illinois Steel works, to keep foreigners in the works wherever possible who cannot speak English, and when they are injured settle the claims through some man who is really an agent of the corporation.

Even law firms have been found doing this same business. W. J. Callahan, an attorney, is in the business of fooling foreign workmen, but he is a lawyer.

"Any man who settles a case without attempting to get a just compensation for his client should be disbarred," said a prominent member of the Chicago bar today.

Weiss' alleged crime is not fooling a fellow countryman, but is not being a member of the "lawyer's union"--the Chicago Bar Association.

UNION TRACTION COMPANY HIDES THE BODY OF A DEAD WORKMAN

Black Crime Done To Save Paying Damages; Widow and Children Think They Are Deserted.

(The following story is almost unbelievable, but evidence to support every word of it is in the official records of the coroner's office and the county morgue.)

The spectacle of a corporation attorney hiding absolute defiance to a deputy coroner and openly defying the county authorities in their efforts to determine the cause of death of a workman was the scene enacted yesterday at the county morgue.

The Murder. During the inquest over the remains of Paul Weyand, union machinist formerly employed at the Haled and O'Neil streets barns of the Chicago Union Traction company, it was proved workmen were wantonly murdered and injured by defective machinery and spirited away to charitable and public hospitals to die as "unidentified" men.

The existence of a definite, organized plot to prevent the families of workmen thus murdered from learning either the fate of whereabouts of relatives was also brought to light.

It was freely ventured that this was an explanation for more than one mysterious disappearance of workmen. Where the man thus murdered is a husband or father he is wrongfully charged with cowardly deserting those dependent upon him.

Aware of It. Chicago labor unions and other organizations composed largely or wholly of workmen are awake to the danger.

Lynch and the company's attorney offered no objection to his testifying. Assured upon this point, the inquest was held and the majesty of the law vindicated.

Tells New Story. In his testimony yesterday Connolly contradicted statements made prior to the inquest and gave an entirely new line of evidence, tending to show that Weyand was responsible for his own death.

Attorney Farrell succeeded, however, in eliciting from Connolly an admission that the elevator had been reported to Foreman Fitzgerald as defective.

A city law requires that all elevators be inspected once every six months and the certificate of inspection displayed in the car. No such certificate was in the car which caused Weyand's death. It was tacked on the wall out of sight when the elevator was in any position other than at the bottom of the shaft.

Hide Evidence. Immediately after Weyand's accident this certificate was torn down by Connolly, acting, he stated, upon his own initiative. By some error these found their way into Deputy Coroner Davis' possession and were introduced in evidence at the inquest.

During a moment of abstraction Davis thoughtlessly laid these on the table before which he was seated. Quick as a flash Lynch reached for and secured the document. Then followed a dialogue which, but for the solemnity of the occasion, would have been screamingly ludicrous.

Those at the inquest were treated to the sight of a representative of a public corporation openly defying a deputy coroner seated with the power of arrest and snubbing his disdain at the jury empaneled to pass upon the case.

Steals Papers. First Coroner Davis quietly asked for the return of the papers. "You can't have them," said Lynch. "But," replied the Cook county official, "they have been introduced here in evidence and are in my possession."

"You're mistaken, Mr. Davis," answered Lynch, placing the certificates in his inside pocket, "they're in my possession."

"Mr. Lynch, I demand the return of those papers," said the coroner. "I shall be obliged to resort to a search warrant," replied Lynch.

"Mr. Lynch, this is a sad occasion and you place me in a very embarrassing position, returning the certificates and the stenographer take notes as he read."

A withering smile from the corporation attorney was the only indication that the man had been heard.

The coroner had said "Don't" absolutely and given up the evidence. Today the certificates repose safely in the traction company's vaults.

And the great county of Cook, state of Illinois, through its representative, Deputy Coroner Davis, has acknowledged the Chicago Union Traction company as its master. To the residents of that county the coroner's office has said:

How It Stands. "We are unable to protect you against this great corporation. It is mightier than we. It may murder your relatives and then bid defiance to the law of the state and the nation. The office of the general manager of the Union Traction company, not that of the Cook county coroner, is the court of last resort. It is a very embarrassing position, but one to which we must submit."

And out in Maywood a watchful labor union is preparing to grapple with the Union Traction company and through its attorney legally wring from the hardened grasp of the corporation a sum sufficient to place Weyand's widow and children beyond the pale of immediate poverty. Weyand is gone, the union of laborers with which he identified himself stands like a rock between his loved ones and the powers that seek to impoverish them.

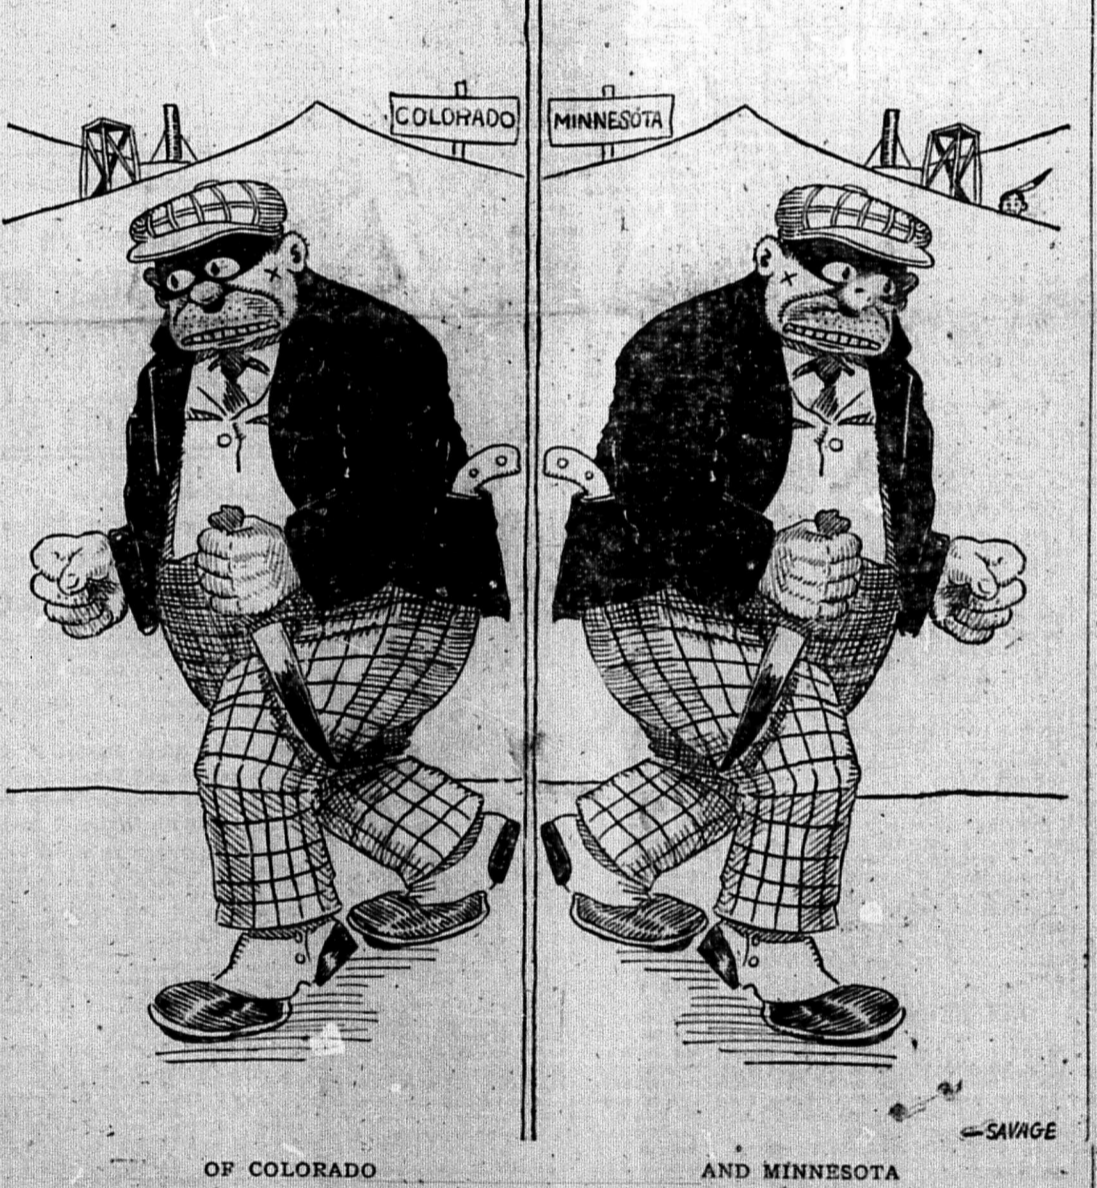

The Mother. "Meanwhile, in a little cottage out in Maywood, a widow, holding in her arms a blue-eyed baby girl and trying to smother with kisses the mouth of a sturdy little boy who insistently calls for "papa." Of the coroner's inquiry she knows nothing. In all probability the corporation which sought to rob her of the dearest possession of widowhood--an untarnished memory of him who led her to the altar--

The Babies. And the children, too young to know mamma cries and papa does not come home, press their baby faces against the window pane, stare out into the night and wonder what it's all about.

BIG OIL LAWYERS ABSENT. The leading attorneys for the Standard Oil company, upon which millions of dollars of fines are expected to be imposed tomorrow, are absent, supposedly in Europe, and the entering of motions when Judge Landis makes his final order in the rebate case will be left to subordinates.

LA MILO IN TIGHTS WILL RIDE HORSE

Original Lady Godiva Did It in the Nude, but That Is Too Much, Though Willing.

(Mail Correspondence.) London, July 22--Mounted on a handsome white steed, Lady Godiva will again ride through the streets of Coventry, England, on Wednesday next. Clad in light fishings, draped with an abundance of chiffon and a wealth of auburn hair, La Milo will enact the part of the famous lady of English legend, while her horse will be adorned with blue trappings and new harness, which are being especially made.

As to the chitrea drapery there will be fully 100 yards of it altogether. It will start from the left shoulder, and several yards will be allowed to flutter in the breeze. Then it returns to the waist, and is gracefully draped around the body.

When the arrangements for the forthcoming pageant were being made there were many who wished her costume to be that of a Saxon countess, such as Lady Godiva would have worn when she afterward received the thanks of the citizens for her brave deed. Ultimately a compromise was effected and the costume was decided upon as described above.

What of the Family.

The smears of acquaintances, the taunts of playmates, the life-long shame and degradation, the probable dependence of his family upon public charity, were all dismissed that the buying coffers of the Union Traction company might not suffer because of its criminal negligence.

Immediately upon learning of Weyand's accident, his wife and two children would never know the fate of the husband and father; it was a matter of small consequence to the Union Traction company that they would be driven to the cruel conclusion that "arrest and hold this man for wife desertion," that his picture and description of a loving father and tender husband would be circulated as that of a criminal; no thought was given to the resulting calamity nor the reproach with which the children would remember their father.

By permitting him to lay unattended on the floor, thereby causing or hastening his death, and sending him to the county hospital as an unidentified man, aged 75, the Union Traction company hoped to effectually hide its criminal responsibility for his death.

CHICAGO AMERICAN DEIES LABOR AND BOOSTS WHITE CITY

Duplicity in its dealings with both the public and labor organizations came to light today in an expose of the Chicago American's "Man with the ticket" advertising dodge.

Chicago union men are indignant over the action of the American in sending its "Man with the ticket" to White City, the South Side amusement park, officially declared unfair by the Chicago Federation of Labor.

In the face of the disapproval of Chicago labor unions the American has drawn thousands of patrons to the park by its advertising scheme.

Miss Anne Willard, secretary of the waitresses' union, said today: "The American is highly inconsistent. The whole thing is decidedly queer. First the paper pretends to take a firm stand for organized labor, and then engages in this plan to defeat the unions. I have noticed, too, that neither the American nor any other capitalist paper has had a word to say about the unfairness of White City."

Edward Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, said he thought the American was ignorant of organized labor's attitude toward White City.

R. A. Shields, financial secretary of local No. 154, Electrical Workers, dismissed the subject with: "O, we don't pay much attention to the American any more."

Managing Editor Kenicberg of the American today declared he did not know that White City was officially unfair. When asked what action he pursued taking now that he did know it, he replied:

"I don't see how we can stop the arrangement now. We have a contract with White City and must fulfill it, of course," he added.

Then this interesting fact came to light: If the Chicago American has a contract with the White City management for a specified number of days or nights it means that the "Man with the ticket" is not to be caught until the expiration of that contract.

What chance, then, has anyone to apprehend the man with the ticket and the American mutually agree the fact has run itself out and ceased to be a drawing card? The matter will probably be brought up at next Sunday's meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

WHISKER TRIMMERS ASK CLERGY TO HELP CLOSE SHOPS SUNDAY

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 9.—The United Trades and Labor Council of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, representing almost one hundred thousand union men, has unconditionally declared for Socialism and has launched a fight in its behalf.

The council at its regular meeting, July 21, passed a strong set of resolutions pointing out the dangers that beset the working people and calling upon the workers of the country to unite politically as well as industrially.

The resolutions were called forth by the revelations made through the testimony in the Haywood trial. The meeting was largely attended and enthusiastic throughout.

Stirring Addresses. Stirring addresses, pointing out the constant menace to these two working classes, were made, and as a climax to these appeals for a general rallying under the banner of Socialism came the resolutions, which were unanimously passed.

The resolutions said in part: "The proceedings throughout the Haywood case demonstrated the fact that our confidence in the accused and his colleagues were not misplaced and we are convinced our belief that the real conspirators and outlaws were and are the mine operators and their political and Pinkerton hirelings."

We, representatives of Cleveland trade unions, congratulate Brother Haywood for his successful escape from the web that was woven for him by the enemies of labor.

We regard with unconcealed contempt all those instrumental in persecuting the miners, and believe that those workers can be recompensed in no other manner than by the state's expropriation of the mines and operating the same in the interests of the whole people, instead of a few multimillionaires, who seek to enslave the workers.

We take this opportunity to warn the people against the encroachments of an unbridled plutocracy that is surely undermining American institutions, and call upon all working men to rally to the standard of trade unionism and endeavor to realize that a class struggle is waiting in the air that is their duty to unite politically as well as industrially, and to seize the reins of government at the ballot box and free the people from the class rule of capitalism.

They go to jail like brothers, they do strange experiences of two blind men; arrested fifty times.

New York, Aug. 2.—Thomas Brennan, 50 years old, and Joseph Biley, 51 years old, two blind pals who are arrested on an average of once a week, were not at all surprised when they were taken together, were arrested again by Police Officer Meara of the West Twentieth street police station. He found them at Seventh and Erie streets, where they were calmly lying back on the sidewalk and obstructing the way with their legs.

Only about three weeks ago Thomas was in the Jefferson Market court and got a week for vagrancy. When the magistrate refused to send Joe along with his pard Joe went outside and proceeded to qualify for a brief term. He got it, then joined Brennan in his stay on the island.

When the two were handed over to Doorman Bernard Cummings, the old turkey as he is called, having been twenty-four years in the Twentieth street station, he hailed him as an old friend. Cummings says he has kept track of Joe and Tom in their comings and goings and that he has locked them up fifty times.

Disciple of Christ in loud call for blood. Rev. Campbell leaves "forgiveness" idea for death and revenge.

(By United Press Association.) New York, Aug. 2.—"Turn out a regiment of soldiers in New York and send it to the reign of crime does not stop," said the Rev. Dr. C. Campbell Morgan, pastor of Westminster Congregational church, London, who is visiting here.

It is amazing that the police are unable to check the crime, but criminals of this class are stealthy and clever. Summon your military. Only that will end the horrors.

Your immigration laws are lax. The scum of Europe, whom civilization has failed to improve, seem to be responsible for such crimes. Put soldiers in your streets!

Bacon, real estate man, was "sociable". George V. Bacon, a wealthy real estate dealer, living at Sheridan road, was fined $300 and costs by Judge Freeman K. Blake in the Sheffield avenue municipal court on a charge of disorderly conduct, and entering the girl's room, tried to become "sociable," as he called it. The extent of his sociability amounted to a destruction of the bed clothing with which the young woman was wrapped.

Bacon returned to the city a few nights ago, and entering the girl's room, tried to become "sociable," as he called it. The extent of his sociability amounted to a destruction of the bed clothing with which the young woman was wrapped.

ALASKA WHALING As An Investment Under Modern Methods

Too Large To Be At First Believed

Great Fortunes Are Now Being Made In It

The Alaska Exchange, incorporated under the general laws of the State of Illinois, with headquarters at 832 Commercial National Bank Building, Chicago, and branch office in Seattle, Wash., has been organized for the purpose of collecting facts and distributing reliable data and information concerning Alaska. The Yukon and North Pacific Coast Territory; herewith presents to the investment public for careful consideration the sale of stock in the Behring Sea Commercial Company, which company we have thoroughly investigated and unhesitatingly endorse as being a safe and most profitable investment, having none of the elements of speculation, and is confidently asserted that it will be one of the greatest dividend payers of any legitimate commercial enterprise in the country.

The Behring Sea Commercial Company is incorporated under the laws of the State of Washington. The object of this Corporation being to establish trading posts, coal depots, etc., for the catching, canning, curing and otherwise preparing for the market whales and whale products and fish and fish products. Also a coaling station for the Behring Sea and Oriental fleets that pass by our station on their respective routes. Also the trading of furs and ivories with the natives on the Alaskan coast. A profitable business of this kind is already established by that Company at Akutan Harbor.

FURS

The fur trade this year amounted to $96,000.00 from the Aleutian Islands and Kamchatka alone. The great Kuskoquim region has not yet been heard from, but it is safe to say that the average amount of this commerce will be not less than $250,000.00, wherein there is a profit of from 75 to 200 per cent.

The Company produces a foodstuff for which the demand is far in excess of the supply, and is increasing daily. As the source of supply is not affected by trade conditions, and which is constantly replenishing itself without expense to the Company, it will be seen at a glance that the question of profits is too apparent to require lengthy consideration.

The Company's stations control the greatest whaling grounds in the world. The slimy banks of the Aleutian Islands being the home, feeding and breeding grounds of the various species of whale. The same banks are also proven to be the greatest cod, halibut, mackerel and herring fishing grounds of the world. The salmon runs are larger through the passes than any other in any known country.

Modern methods of whaling consist of shooting the harpoon into the whale with a cannon from the bow of the whale steamer, instead of the primitive method of throwing the harpoon by hand from an open rowboat. Then another modern method is the commercial use of the entire by-product of the whale, just as the packing house utilizes the entire by-product of the hog, sheep and steer, instead of using only the oil and bone, as whalers did in early days. Whale meat is now a commercial commodity, for food purposes, and is relished by the Orientals, with an unlimited demand from China, Japan, Korea and South America. It is also being imported from Newfoundland to New York City and sold to the poorer classes. This whale meat is as nutritious as beef, and meets every requirement of wholesome meat.

The average sized whale weighs from 60 to 110 tons, and the carcass represents a proportionate value in dollars as follows:

|---|---------|
| 50 barrels whale oil, worth..... | $ 700 |
| 10 tons whale meat, worth..... | 650 |
| 1200 square feet of leather, worth..... | 60 |
| 500 pounds glue, worth..... | 25 |
| 600 pounds tallow, worth..... | 30 |
| 250 pounds whalebone, worth..... | 60 |
| 3 tons skeleton bone, worth..... | 99 |
| 3 tons guano fertilizer, worth..... | 144 |
| Total of products..... | $1,738 |

COAL

The profit on the sale of coal to the fleets is $5.00 per ton. From 5,000 to 30,000 tons a year is sold. Water sells to the steamers that pass the harbor for the Orient and Nome at one-half cent per gallon. Each vessel averages 30,000 gallons a trip.

SALMON

Our Company will fish, can and prepare for market at an expense of $2.75 a case, which sells in the Seattle and San Francisco markets at the present rate of $6.00 per case. The output of our canneries is only limited to our capacity to handle the fish caught.

COD FISH

The Company buys its cod fish clean and ready for salting from the natives for one cent apiece. The fish average from 6 to 10 pounds each, and sell salted in barrels for 4 cents per pound.

MANAGEMENT

The management of the various branches of the Behring Sea Commercial Company is in the hands of men who have made this their life's study.

The Department of Whaling will be in charge of Capt. Joh. E. Stixrud, of Tonsberg, Norway, who for 19 years has been the foremost whaler in Norway, which means the world. He is under a five years' contract with this Company, at a salary of $5,000.00 a year and expenses. He has invested $16,000.00 of his own money in the enterprise.

Capt. Henry N. Nice, who will be in charge of the Trading, Coaling and Fishing Departments at Akutan Harbor, is the pioneer cannery man of Alaska. For the past 14 years Capt. Nice has been manager of the North American Trading Company at Dutch Harbor, and which station he established for D. O. Mills, the multi-millionaire of New York and San Francisco. Capt. Nice returned an average profit of $150,000.00 a year to the owners of this concern.

Elliot E. Richardson, Secretary and Treasurer of the Kansas City Stock Yards Company for 33 years, is the Financial Manager of this enterprise. Mr. Richardson is well known as a practical man of affairs in the United States, and it requires the mention of no more than his name in connection with any enterprise to insure its successful financial management.

The two assistant managers in the Aleutian Islands are Capt. Gauntlet, for many years U. S. Deputy Collector of Customs in that part of the country, and Capt. McLaughlin, who for 20 years has been a trader among the natives from Point Barrow to Sitka, Alaska. Capt. McLaughlin is married to Princess Marie, the daughter of the Chief of the islands, and through him we control the trading with the natives.

The President of the Company is Peter M. Baumgardner, of Chicago, for 17 years the President and Manager of the Holland Linsed Oil Company.

The Secretary of the Company is George H. Bailey, one of the leading attorneys of Seattle, Wash.

The stock of the Pacific Whaling Company, organized two years ago, and now operating at Vancouver Island, sold eighteen months ago at a par value of $50.00 per share. Today there is no stock for sale at any price.

The par value of the stock of the Behring Sea Commercial Company is $10.00 per share. We are offering a limited amount at 50c on the dollar, or $5.00 per share.

Where the Pacific Whaling Company has one whale it is safe to say that this company can capture ten.

ESPERANTO AND SOCIALISM

There is no body of people on earth who welcome Esperanto with enthusiasm exceeding that of the Socialists. Our cause knows no boundaries of races, continents or nations. International solidarity demands an international means of expression, which Esperanto gives us. A short time hence, literature printed in our language will be read by a majority of Socialists throughout the world. Comrades, can you see what this means for our cause? Already in Russia and Austria, the ruling class is fighting the language. Esperanto study clubs have been broken up and journals impeded by censors. The language smells of revolution.

THE AMERICAN ESPERANTO BOOK

Comrade Arthur Baker, editor of the first Esperanto journal in the United States (Amerika Esperantisto, Chicago), has prepared a complete compendium of the language, so thoroughly analyzing and completely explaining it that a person who does not even know English grammar can learn Esperanto by means of home study alone. This work, called The American Esperanto Book, contains simple explanations regarding pronunciation, with carefully prepared exercises in reading and translation, a large list of Esperanto words with English translations, and a complete list of Esperanto words with English translations. It places in your hands the means of a thorough reading, writing, and speaking knowledge of Esperanto, through home study. Printed from large new type, over 300 pages, clothbound, in a pocket size.

CHICAGO'S BUSINESS-MAN GOVERNMENT BUNCOED

There Is no Graft Here, but Simply a Story of How "Efficient" Business Men Can Be Fooled by Comrades.

The finance committee of the City Council is fast making a record that not even the most fantastic department of the city of Chicago has ever known can approach. Its members are proving themselves more trusting and simpler-minded than any of the men who keep buncos steers alive and flourishing and are revealing a trust in intuition that is altogether fearful.

The latest revelation along these lines is found in the contract made with the Rogers Park Water Company by which the city has contracted the right of the corporation for a $2,000,000 consideration to be paid in six payments of $300,000 each in advance.

A "Verbal Contract." After the contract had been considered disposed of it was discovered that the ideas of the committee and the water company differed widely as to the terms of the agreement. A controversy developed and the Corporation Council's office was called in to straighten out matters.

Investigation of the contract showed that the lands and holdings of the city were to receive for its $2,000,000 not definitely stated and that the contention of the water company that the contract called for only about one-third of the property the city was under the impression it had purchased were well founded.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Miller asked the committee for an explanation and listen to the ingenious answer the members gave him:

"We understood perfectly that we were to get all the land we claim, and we thought that the water company understood the situation in the same way."

It sounds like the answer of the woman who bought a lot of truck at an auction. Her husband chided her and said she felt sure she had been cheated.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THOUSANDS FOR PRINCIPLES OF SOCIALISM

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 3.—The barbers of Little Rock have adopted unique methods by which to wheedle the city council into passing an ordinance regulating the hours of work and designating when a barber shall be expected to labor, with reference to the Sabbath. The appeal is right to the point.

The Appeal.

George W. Mann, acting as the barbers' prose artist, mounts the bewinged and bewhiskered Pegasus and, prodding the frisky beast with his scissiors, lays down conditions in his opening paragraph as follows:

"We are worked such long hours that it is an impossibility for us to attend church through the week. If we are so inclined and we work so late on Saturday that we feel so bad on the Sabbath that we are almost compelled to take our rest.

"As our hours are of such length in our places of business and are so short for our families, our wives, with very few exceptions, say with us at home, for that is about the only time we have to enjoy the privileges with our family as we should."

By this time the steam under Pegasus has got a good head on. He calls right into the pastors and leaves his traces on India's coral sands in the following:

"We appeal to the pastors of the different churches of Little Rock to help us out in getting this ordinance passed, so that we will be able to get out, as well as any other citizen; be able to attend church through the week as well as on Sunday, and we believe that it is not only for our advancement but for the betterment of our moral condition. The hours we ask for are to close at 7 o'clock in the evening and at 11:30 Saturday nights. These hours will enable us who are so inclined to want to attend divine services to do so, and perhaps bring our brother workman with us, who are careless and unconcerned."

Want Reciprocity.

In conclusion on the statement goes right on to the kernel of the situation, holding that as the churches demand much of the laborer, who should the laborer expect of the church. This is how the appeal reads at its conclusion:

"We believe that we owe a duty to the churches, and that the church also owes some little duty to us, and we ask you, as men who earn our bread by the sweat of our faces, that you will step forward in our behalf, and if we ask for bread, we do not feel that you would give us a stone, and if we ask for fish we do not feel that you would give us a serpent."

"So we hereby appeal to you that you use your efforts in helping us to get these hours, whereby we may be able to enjoy the privileges of other citizens; being able to attend the church at all times, and feed on the bread of life, as well as material matters."

NUCENT, TOO, IS OUT OF IT

BULLETIN. Denver, Colo., Aug. 2.—Officers of the Western Federation of Miners here say they will not permit Attorney Richardson to withdraw from the cases remaining against Moyer and Pettibone.

"Oh, no, I have not," she replied with childlike simplicity. "The auctioneer told me he was giving me a bargain."

Of No Account.

After explaining in his cold, unfeeling, legal way to the committee that contracts were only good for what they actually stipulated and not for the interpretation the makers of it put upon the document, Counsel Miller began the task of adjusting matters, and now states that all may yet be well, provided the directors of the Rogers Park Company can be persuaded to see matters as he sees them.

The Kesner Bungle.

The bungle of the finance committee is not without parallel. It can point to the case of the Kesner building at 148 Michigan avenue, leased some time ago for court purposes. The committee contracted to pay $38,000 a year for the building and was told that there would be 28,000 square feet of floor space. When the building was completed it was found that it had only 65,000 square feet, but as the contract called for $38,000 a year, without stating that there was to be a foot of space for every dollar, the owners of the building held the city to the contract made by the finance committee, which is composed of "efficient business men."

Rustic Curiosity.

"You must write me lots of postal cards while I am away for the summer," said one young woman. "Why postal cards?" inquired the other. "Oh, to make it more pleasant and sociable. The postmaster takes an interest in you and everybody is willing to go after your mail if you have plenty of postal cards in it."—Washington Star.

WISE PROFESSOR SAYS IT'S GROWING

(Mail Correspondence.) Toronto, Aug. 1.—Dr. Goldwin Smith, recognized throughout the English-speaking world as an authority on international politics, says Socialism is growing rapidly. He also thinks it a menace.

Expected Verdict. Dr. Smith also had something to say in connection with current matters. "I see Haywood has been acquitted," he said. "It was to be expected. That man who testified against him—what was his name? Orchard—was evidently a criminal of the deepest dye. But still it seemed to me that his evidence bore the imprint of truth."

They Are Strong. "There is quite a growing feeling," replied Dr. Smith, "so much so that the Socialist party was able to poll 8,200 votes for its candidate for the majority. Some of this vote was, no doubt, the result of a quarrel which the people had with the mayor. Probably 1,500 votes could be so accounted for, but the balance would probably represent the strength of the Socialists."

RAIL KING TO BE ARRESTED FOR KILLING

Autotist Dies, but When Workers Are Slain No Warrants Are Issued.

(By United Press Associations.) New York, Aug. 2.—Policemen are out today with warrants for the arrest of President Ralph Peters and General Superintendent John C. McCrea of the Long Island railroad, charged with responsibility for the death of Dr. Edward J. Gallagher, who, with Miss Helen Madison, was killed last week while automobiling across the track at St. Albans. The charges of criminal negligence are based on the coroner's jury's finding in the Gallagher case at Jamaica, L. I.

The verdict was a surprise, inasmuch as the testimony was that Gallagher evidently saw the approaching train and seemed to think he could cross the track before the locomotive could strike him. District Attorney Darrin of Queens county says the jury's finding is unjustified.

(Comment.—Scores of railroad men have been killed because of defective machinery, but no magistrates have arrested a man as automobilist is killed, however, it is different.)

STUDIES INSANITY; GOES CRAZY ON THE SUBJECT

Toledo, O., Aug. 2.—Love for her mentally weak husband led Mrs. Jennie Bitter to the study of insanity. The shattering of her husband's mind greatly affected her and made more dangerous her study of maladies of the brain. The elopement of her husband from the Kalamazoo (Mich.) asylum completed the destruction of her intellect. These are the strange facts developed by an investigation of the case of Mrs. Bitter, who surrendered to the probate court here and was sent to the state hospital. The woman's statement that she was insane on the subject of insanity prompted the investigation.

JAPS SPY ON N. G.; OH, MY!

(By United Press Associations.) Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 2.—Rumors that Japanese spies are at work in the Pittsburg district have been rife some few days. Today it was reported that secret service agents are here watching the movements of several Japanese. "These actions have attracted suspicion. The first report came from Tipton, Pa. last week, while the national guard was in camp there. Col. Rutledge of the Eighteenth regiment says he is used orders that no Japanese were to be employed in camp and several other regimental officers issued similar orders.

DAILY WRECK RECORD

Attempt to Wreck. (By United Press Associations.) Hamilton, O., Aug. 2.—Two attempts to wreck a passenger train on the Cincinnati & Dayton railroad were made last night. But for the watchfulness of the engineer a frightful wreck would have resulted. At 7:16, when an eastbound freight, in charge of Conductor Mahan, arrived, the trainmen reported that they had run into a piece of steel rail at Midway, two miles from Hamilton. An hour later Conductor Sharkey of the eastbound Chicago express, reported that his engineer, John Dooley, ran into a rail across the track and that he saw by the glare of the headlight that a switch in the yards ahead of the train had been tampered with.

CAN'T LIVE; THEY CONTRACT DEBTS

This Makes the Bosses Mad and They Threaten to Discharge Luckless Ones.

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 2.—If the garnishee suit is a mark of lack of thrift among workmen the workers of Kenosha are anything but thrifty, as the wheels of justice in the two justice courts of Kenosha are clogged with the mass of suits of this nature. In one court alone it was stated this morning that seventy-five garnishee suits were pending. In most of the cases the amount claimed is small and most of the suits are for board bills and small bills for merchandise. These suits are provided for by the law in order to protect factories, and it is declared that some of the factories will in the future consider a garnishee as a cause for the dismissal of a workman.

"It is significant that at Kenosha are a number of millionaire factory owners who came here from Chicago to enjoy the benefits of cheap labor. There may be perhaps some connection between this fact and the garnishee suits which are so annoying to the lender-creditor officials of a few law-defying corporations. The threat to discharge employees because they happen to have their wages garnisheed is about the limit and amounts to a declaration on the part of the employer as follows: "We will give you so much to live on, and if you run debts and live beyond your income we will fire you. Now, you know it is unwise to spend more than you earn, so be good, little children, or we will get real angry."

THE MATTERHORN MINING & MILLING CO. IS AN OUTGROWTH OF THE CHICAGO DAILY SOCIALIST. STEUNENBERG MURDER CASE RECENTLY TRIED AT BOISE, IDAHO

The sales of Matterhorn Mining & Milling Company stock have increased from day to day since it was first advertised in the Chicago Daily Socialist one month ago, until it has reached the high water mark of 4,015 shares on Monday, 6,400 Tuesday, and 6,886 yesterday (Wednesday), which, at 15 cents per share, amounts to $1,030. At this rate the first allotment of 100,000 shares will soon be exhausted, and this is the last offer of this stock that will be made at that price. Naturally the heaviest sales are made to Chicago people, as they can call at the office and satisfy themselves of the genuineness of the proposition, but the sales to people in distant states lead us to believe that the Chicago Daily Socialist could lay claim to the largest circulation outside of a radius of 500 miles to any other newspaper.

This space is expensive, otherwise we would print scores of letters ordering stock, but the following are typical of the large and small orders that are coming in with every mail:

Mr. George E. Dickson, Chicago, Ill. Dear Sir—I hereby subscribe for 2,000 shares of the capital stock of the Matterhorn Mining & Milling Co. at the agreed price of 15 cents per share (par value $1.00 each), and in payment for same I herewith enclose draft for $300.00. Yours very truly, HARRY E. SPENCE.

Don't fail to read the following description of our proposition, and if you like it don't waste any time, but write us at once. This is the last chance to get this stock at 15 cents per share.

The Matterhorn Mining & Milling Co. was recently organized by one of the attorneys for the defense in the Haywood case, which has attracted so much attention throughout the country.

It fell to the lot of this attorney from Chicago, in organizing the defense, to go into every mining camp in the Rocky Mountains, for it was apparent from the start that the scope of the famous murder trial would include every crime that has ever been laid at the door of the Western Federation of Miners. Consequently, regardless of expense, it was necessary to investigate all these acts of lawlessness and determine and be able to prove who the guilty parties were.

Having their implicit confidence in his honesty and integrity, and being from Chicago, it was not strange that they sought to interest him in the development of many a fine prospect for a mine. He could spare but little time during the progress of his work to investigate these tempting propositions, but he got a general survey of the field and when the work on the case was finished he retraced his steps and made a thorough and careful investigation of several of the most promising prospects. He explored the assessment work that had been done, took honest samples of the ore that was exposed and carried them to Denver and had them assayed, and when the result was good returned and took other samples and sent them to other assayers to check the work and make sure. He took photographs and examined titles to property, had surveys made, etc., and in short, applied every test that a careful business man would suggest to ascertain the real value of the properties, with the result that he determined to try to raise money to open up some of the properties that seemed to be as near a certainty for investors as it is possible to be.

Out of a considerable number that were exhaustively examined a half dozen were selected for exploitation, and of these the one that promised the quickest returns was chosen and the above company organized to develop it.

The others will be taken up in turn, but it is the determination to make good with this one and then the raising of money for the others will be comparatively easy.

This property is near Telluride, Colo., in one of the greatest gold fields in America. It adjoins one of the richest gold mines in Colorado and is surrounded by valuable mines. It was located in 1832 by the present owner, who has held it for the past 25 years, hoping to be the sole owner of one of the richest gold mines in existence, but advancing years and lack of money have convinced him that his dreams of riches can only come true by taking others into the proposition who will furnish the necessary funds for development. He is an old soldier, a practical miner, and has such confidence in the property that years ago, before the railroad was within a hundred miles of it, he refused an offer of $100,000 for the claims. Now the D. & R. G. Ry. crosses the property, attracted there by the rich mines that surround it. Every convenience is at hand for economical operation and the property has stood every test of genuineness. Over 250 feet of tunneling along the ore veins has been done and ore running from $50 to $170 per ton exposed; in short, we are warranted in believing we have the making of one of the greatest gold mines in the state.

Dear Sir—As attorney and fiscal agent for THE MATTERHORN MINING & MILLING CO. you are hereby authorized to enter my subscription for 2,000 shares of stock at the agreed price of 15 cents per share (par value $1.00 each), and in payment for same I herewith enclose draft or money order for $300.00.

Justice for Rich and Poor

The Haywood verdict will not down. Like Banquo's ghost it continues to fret the dreams of the rulers of industry. And well it may. It is the greatest awakening of Labor ever seen on this continent.

But this the press of capitalism will not admit. They dare not admit it. To do so would be to concede the existence of classes, the class-struggle and class-justice.

So it is that the changes are being rung over and over again on the claim that this trial, in itself, the greatest example of class-justice frustrated, proves that law is impartially administered to the rich and the poor.

"Look," they say to us, "here is a poor miner given all his rights in a battle with what you claim is the wealthiest combination of capital in the world. Does that not prove that all are equal before the law?"

Such would have us forget that it was only when the workers of the United States with a sacrifice seldom equaled, divided their scanty earnings and set aside each a part until the total reached into the hundreds of thousands of dollars that these men could have even the semblance of a fair trial.

It was because the total of the multitude of contributions of the workers reached something near the vast sums at the disposal of the prosecution that Haywood was enabled to have his "day in court" with at least the form of equality.

At every point this case tells the same story, and capitalism cannot twist it into meaning anything else, and that story is THE CLASS CHARACTER OF PRESENT INSTITUTIONS.

It has told it with such tremendous emphasis as to drown the peevish clamor of the organs of plutocracy.

Defenders of the present order may explain, and whine and bluster and denounce to their heart's content, but the FACTS stand out there to give them all the lie. Thanks to the working-class press, this event cannot be covered up and suppressed as previous outrages have been.

THE GLARING CLASS CHARACTER OF THE WHOLE MATTER IS HELPING FAST TO BRING ON THE DAY WHEN CLASS RULE WILL BE NO MORE.

Oh! Joy

I left my home this beautiful, sunny, but cool morning of July 29 thinking how well it is with myself and the family, particularly since becoming a member of the Socialist Party, a year or so ago.

Reading such able works as these gave me a taste for the best in literature and a distaste for the worse, and the idle, the ephemeral, the purposeless.

And learning of the horrors of the meat trade through "The Jungle," I cut out eating dead animals.

Reading of the poisons and adulterations in stimulants, I cut down the consumption of these to a minimum.

Habits of health and the presence of good vegetable food, well chewed and digested, tended to give me the feeling of infinite peace.

After a few moments of routine, I asked, "Well, what of Haywood?" expecting to hear the predictions as to a disagreement of the jury realized.

Yes, it is true! A Socialist and a unionist has at last been meted justice in this land!

A few years ago that phrase would have been interpreted universally that he had been hung, as it was thought then that when a Socialist got justice "he got what he deserved," viz.: a rope.

There is now none so poor as to do him reverence! When I voted for Roosevelt I did so with considerable enthusiasm.

Well, Roy got caught in controversies with his friends and escaped with some smirch. Yet the country, good humoredly, exonerated him.

So it began to look that even a windmill speller like him might preserve his leadership forever. But finally he put his foot into the labor-capital controversy, and he struck a live wire.

He branded a man on trial for his life as "undesirable," thus virtually telling the jurors to "remove" the defendant. And when he did this he took sides in the class struggle.

And though the jury was chosen from the owning class, though appeals to prejudice, passion and power were skillfully made, yet all fell to the

ONE OF A MILLION . . . BY A. A. Patrick

Everybody smiled and felt happy themselves in the great happiness of Dave White when he married the pretty Lorine and carried her to his little, cozy home. Dave was a worker in the railroad shops. He was steady and honest, and one felt that he deserved the good girl he had married, and that her happiness was assured.

For a time all these expectations were realized. The work was steady, and though the wages small, Dave White and his wife lived within their income and managed to lay by a small sum each month.

But lean days were coming. The railroad framed up an excuse that traffic was light to cut wages. Sickness came and swept away the meager savings and left them in debt. Dave worked on, however. There were no holidays and no luxuries for him. Work was all he asked for—plenty of work at a fair wage and he would not complain.

Then came a second cut in wages. Rebellion spread through the ranks of the workers. With rage in their hearts they threw down their tools and walked out of the shops on a strike—a strike that was to prove heart-breaking and yet to which they had been driven. Then followed days and weeks of idleness that were ruinous. But if they sacrificed this principle for which they were contending, what could they expect in the future? It threatened their very existence. So they held doggedly on. Dave's home, along with countless others, was mortgaged.

Then one day, in deepest gloom, they faced the fact that they had lost the strike. The iron hand of the corporation had crushed them and, having done so, was still relentless, refusing to take them back.

Now came the long, soul-racking search for work. At the end of each day Dave would come all spent with a weariness greater than he had ever felt before. It was not only the weariness of the body, but the fatigue of the worried brain. Lorine, seeing him at the gate in the evening, read the haunting fear in his eyes—the fear that there were coming days of want, of hunger, when she, too, would feel the pinch of deprivation; for himself he did not care. But for her—oh, how sick of soul it made him! And she would try to cheer and comfort him, and sometimes, it seemed, she had the power of bringing forgetfulness for a little while, when his old-time laughter would ring out, causing the fuses and dimples to light up the face of the little woman.

The weeks slipped into months. Then fever came and laid its giant hand upon his tired frame. It was a grim battle for life. Only the thought of his wife and baby was sufficient to keep his will power screwed up to the point that held body and soul together. The last of the mortgage money had vanished, and when at last Dave found himself able to get out again he had gone deeper into debt, with no immediate hope of earning anything.

He exerted himself to the utmost without avail. It seemed to him that some invisible fiend hovered above him, working for his ruin and laughing in derisive shrieks at each of his failures. The old fear was gripping at his heart strings. The grocer refused to credit him further. Hunger threatened those at home.

A fresh anger kindled in him. It leaped beyond all control. They should not starve his loved ones. He'd have a living if he had to rob and steal from those who were hounding him to death. That night Dave went out in the darkness, crashed in a door and laid in a bountiful supply of food. His arrest followed in a day or two; he was given a hurried trial and sent to prison. His driven cattle.

Not guilty, leader! By George Allan England. NOT GUILTY, leader for these coming years, Thine is a magnanimous soul, brave heart and brain! Not guilty! Hark our million-throated cheers!

Hall! With strong hands we bear these home again! Hall! From glad hearts we thrust the threatened pain! Not guilty, standard bearer in our battle, Unbrided, unswayed, impregnable and strong!

Who, thy men harried, scourged like driven cattle, Shouldered their fight—our fight! Let Labor's song Roll in thine honor sea to sea along! Not guilty, thou, save of fidelity! Each of us hath, mayhap, his crown of thorn, But greatest thing, for thou (to set men free) From bondage hast with joy the bitter borne, Mankind shall bless thee with each future morn.

Faith and Hope; An Epigram

By Isaac A. Pool. Oh, Life is but a bubble Floating upon a sea of Soap, Blown by iridescent beauties From the gas of Faith and Hope. Each believes himself the biggest As across the sea they swell, 'Till the gas blows up each bubble— But to find itself in hell.

Perpetuate the Conferences

The most distinctive feature of the battle waged by the workers of the United States against the attempt to murder the officials of the Western Federation of Miners was the formation of the Haywood-Moyer conferences. These were composed of delegates from the trade unions and the Socialist party and acted as a common center through which the battle could be directed and organized.

The Chicago conference has very wisely decided to continue in existence, although the immediate cause which gave it birth is now practically passed.

But it has been impressed upon the members of that conference that the class struggle is a continuous thing. They have come to see that one battle is no sooner won than another appears. In all these battles a common center is needed that shall not be occupied with the regular trade union problems. Such a center is afforded by the Moyer-Haywood conferences.

Unlike city, state or national trade union federations, they have no power whatever, except to do the work that may come to hand and that may be almost unanimously agreed upon. The conference having no power, can maintain itself only by showing itself worthy of confidence.

There is not lacking plenty of work for such a body. This work must necessarily lay largely along the lines of gathering and disseminating information. A' are agreed that more facts concerning the battles in which labor is engaged would be of greater value to the cause of labor.

When Congress meets next winter the working class of the United States should have a man on the ground to report the real actions of Congress. Such a man would not be a lobbyist of any particular measure. He would be there only to tell the facts, to describe the events that take place every day and hour, and that intimately affect labor, but which no capitalist paper will print, any more than these papers would print the truth concerning the Haywood trial, or are now printing the truth concerning the Minnesota strike.

There would be times when labor was unanimous that some local issue should be fought. An example is offered at the present moment in the Chicago charter. Here there is no dispute, so far as we have been able to discover, among labor organizations. All are agreed that the proposed charter is a menace to the working class, a bulwark of privilege, and scheme to give greater power to plutocracy.

In such a conflict, the Haywood-Moyer conference could easily lend its aid without doing violence to any of its constituent bodies.

We believe that the time is not far distant when the Socialist Party can take up these duties, when it will have so completely gained the confidence of the organized workers that it will be looked to as the organ of common action in all those fields for which the trade union is not properly fitted. At the present time it must be admitted that it has not secured that place, no matter how much it may deserve it.

In the meantime, if other measures can best further the cause of the workers no true Socialist will object. The Socialist fights only for the welfare of his class. Socialism and the Socialist Party are but means to the bettering of the condition of those who do the work of the world.

Because he is so sure that these offer the best methods of fighting labor's battles, he can afford never to be jealous of any endeavor that the working class may make.

The Socialist knows that as time passes the truth of Socialist philosophy and the sincerity and effectiveness of the Socialist Party organization will draw about them all the forces of labor in a battle that can only end in the supremacy of the producers.

Do not for a moment let yourself think of Esperanto as something to be acquired for its own intrinsic value. It is simply a tool, a means of getting something somewhere, just as superior to the combined effectiveness of French, German, Greek and Latin as the perfected airship of the year 1930 will be to a fourteenth street electric car.

But that's not the point. If an artist writes a subject, an Alabama mule drawing a wooden plow through a field of stumps, followed by a not too enthusiastic negro, will be duly applauded, and a big one, a steam gannet tearing up an acre of ground in forty minutes is much more to the point.

Our students get too much language and not enough science, rather, what little language they get is so freighted with grammatical absurdities that they waste years of time which might otherwise be devoted to science.

Last spring I talked to a medical student who was taking a four-year course in German at the University of Chicago. His business was to know the human body. His means of getting part of that knowledge lay through four years of study of something he didn't need to know and didn't want to know! And at the sorry end of it all he couldn't read a line of what the French and Russian and Spanish savants had to tell him.

A two-months' course in Esperanto would give that young man access to a library of medical literature which, while small at present, contains the very latest and best from all nations, and in a few years will greatly outclass that of any national language.

The student of the future will not store his brain cells with the rubbish of dead and foreign languages, any more than he would devote years to learning how to use tools that have been superseded by improved types. With his native tongue for use in domestic and national relations, and the international language opening to him every field of scientific thought and work, he will address himself to more serious pursuits.

The pattern of this dress is so becoming to the figures of young girls that mothers are reluctant to relinquish it. This latest addition to that list, made of pale-green English plaid and worn with a gaiter of a similar all-over embroidery is a remarkably pretty development of this idea.

All orders for patterns shown in this column should be sent to the Chicago Daily Socialist. Remember these patterns are strictly the product of union labor. Catalogue showing 1,000 Paris patterns sent on request, 25 cents to cover postage.
