STRANGE TURN OF OLD PROBLEM

(Mail Correspondence.) In fine, the New Orleans press is taking its spite out on the steamship lines, cotton manufacturers, and on other lines of trade, charging unjust discrimination in favor of Galveston.

8-HOUR MOVES ON TO SUCCESS

The only change in the local pressmen's and bookbinders' strike for the 8-hour day is the capitulation of the firm of Gartner & Bender, 105 E. Madison street. The shop was signed up last night and fourteen striking bookbinders returned to work.

PRESIDENT WOULD BLOCK SOCIALISM BY "REFORM"

Trip of Executive--Lambasts Charles Dickens and "Jefferson Brick" and Declares for Religious Freedom

President Roosevelt at Cairo today stated he hoped to block Socialism and preserve exploitation of labor. He said: "These sentences should be carefully pondered by those men, often very good men, who forget that constructive change offers the best method of avoiding destructive change; that reform is the antidote to revolution, and that social reform is not the precursor but the preventive of Socialism."

(By United Press Associations.) Cairo, Ill., Oct. 2.--President Roosevelt's trip down the Mississippi from St. Louis to Cairo was one of ovation, which began soon after he left St. Louis and continued until late at night. The ovations were resumed early today.

On the steamer Alton last night the President was the guest of honor at a dinner given also to the members of the Inland Waterways Commission by St. Louis business men. He was escorted from the Mississippi to the Alton in mid-stream.

At Cape Girardeau early this morning the citizens who had been awakened by bombs were lined on the river bank and cheered the President as the pageant passed by.

The presidential party made good time coming down the river. In beginning his speech which ended with the important statement that heads this report, President Roosevelt reached out for applause by the old habit of handing bouquets to local pride.

Almost in the first minute of his address he took a whack at Charles Dickens, who made the site of Cairo his "Eden" in Martin Chuzzlewit. "It is curious and amusing to think that even as genuine a lover of his kind, a man formally so free from national prejudices as Charles Dickens, should have staked the region where we are now standing as the seat of his forlorn 'Eden' in 'Martin Chuzzlewit'."

The country he so bitterly assailed is now one of the most fertile and productive portions of one of the most fertile and productive agricultural territories in all the world, and the dwellers in this territory represent a higher average of comfort, intelligence, and sturdy capacity for self-government than the people in any tract of like extent in any other continent.

Continuing, the president boosted "my country" in a way to make the characters in Dickens' famous story turn green with envy. "If Dickens had been present he would have found a new and interesting character for his book, although the president does not chew tobacco as did the statesman described by Dickens.

UNCERTAINTY AS TO TRIAL DATES

Information was received from Clarence S. Darrow today to the effect that the dates of both trials, that of Pettibone, and the separate one of Steve Adams, are very uncertain and it will be impossible to state just when they will be commenced.

JOHN D. SAID TO BE SCARED

(By United Press Associations.) New York, Oct. 2.--When the hearing of the federal suit to dissolve the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey was resumed here today before Special Master Franklin Ferriss of St. Louis Deputy Attorney General Kellogg said he knew nothing of a report that John D. Rockefeller was in town.

It was understood that the old king came quietly from Cleveland, but Kellogg said the move was not made at the instance of the government.

At first it was believed John D. and his oil cabinet would be summoned as witnesses but the government has developed its case so rapidly and so satisfactorily to the investigator from other witnesses that it has been practically determined not to subpoena the great chiefs of Standard finances.

This decision, it is said, has caused considerable uneasiness in the Rockefeller ring and may have induced John D. to hasten his return to his winter home here in order to be near the base of operations.

COTTON MAGNATE WORKED 11 YEAR OLD BOY FOR PROFIT

(Mail Correspondence.) Dallas, Texas, Oct. 3.--President J. T. Howard of the Dallas cotton mills has fined $50 and costs for employing a boy slightly over eleven years of age. The boy, William Walls, had been employed for some time in the factory of the Dallas concern, and the city court instituted the proceedings, which resulted in conviction. The defendant immediately took an appeal, and the case will probably wear a weary way through the upper courts.

See that your union orders its next lot of printing of the Workers' Publishing Society.

THUGS MADE LAW OFFICERS

(Mail Correspondence.) Des Moines, Oct. 2.--The Great Western is having the time of its life with the new men brought in to take the places of striking boiler makers and machinists.

A batch of thirty or more brought here a day or two ago only fifteen reported for work the following morning.

The company discharged ten, and five of those who had taken advantage of the transportation vanished. The desertions do not impede the company, it states, because it employs ten companies of boiler makers and machinists for the repair shops in Des Moines. The boiler and machine shops at Oelwein are closed, the company not caring to accept the chances of attempting to secure men to fill the places of the strikers.

It is shrewdly suspected that many unionist boiler makers and machinists are responding to demands for men and then deserting, after having transported the goods, and being boarded by the company's expense so long as it would furnish them free grub.

A dozen strike-breakers have been sworn in as special policemen by Mayor Mattern at the request of the Great Western railroad.

The men were imported into the city by the railroad to take the places of the striking boiler makers and machinists here and the mayor was requested to swear these men in to protect the company's property against possible damage.

All of the new special policemen are hazy regarding modern newspaper procedure and are unable to defend themselves whether wearing policeman's stars or not. In the meanwhile the citizens will feel proud that they are to be ordered about by hired thugs.

CLERKS HAVE A NEW BOYCOTT

Chicago retail clerks have carried their campaign for increased wages and better working conditions right into the homes of the store patrons.

This is being done by the distribution of printed cards giving names and locations of stores which recognize the clerks' union and pay a minimum wage of $9 a week. The plan is the direct opposite of the boycott.

Special interest attaches to the clerks' procedure because of the anti-boycott legal controversy now on between the National Manufacturers' Association and the American Federation of Labor.

Making public the names of those firms observing union conditions is fully as efficacious as branding unfair traders who do not and it cannot be attacked at a boycott.

NEWSPAPERS HIT RURAL EFFORTS

(Mail Correspondence.) Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 2.--Florida farmers are beginning to see a great light as regards modern newspaper policy.

Since farmers of this state organized, the Jacksonville Times-Union, a capitalist paper, has turned its guns upon the American Society of Equity, the farmers have subscribed, entertaining the fond delusion that it represented their side of all controversies.

Now that they know differently, it is not at all improbable that they will also realize that the political policy advocated by the Times-Union is as detrimental to their welfare as is its industrial policy.

BEAN TRUST IS NEAR ITS END

(Mail Correspondence.) Detroit, Mich., Oct. 2.--Michigan bean growers are up in arms against the "bean combine."

Secretary E. N. Ball of the Michigan State Farmers' Union has just been reliably informed that several months ago the bean trust contracted to deliver 500 carloads of Michigan beans in October at very little over $1 a bushel.

So increased are the farmers over the price of their crops being set by the combine, even before their produce had been planted, that they are planning to store their beans in the cotton fields of Texas as doing with their product.

More than one-half the beans consumed in the United States are raised in six counties of Michigan. The specific plan now is to store and hold this year's crop until after the date for delivery set by the bean combine.

It is proposed to put the price to $1.50 per bushel. If this is done it will break the "bean trust," which is a small one, not yet reaching the lima size.

Branches of the American Society of Equity, the farmers' union, are being organized in all parts of the state and farmers are awakening to the existence of a class struggle.

BOYS AND GIRLS TRADE STOCKING--PLAY STOPPED

(Mail Correspondence.) Gardner, Kans., Oct. 4.--Principal Brainard of the Gardner high school has ordered the disbanding of the "Legion of the Stockings," composed of pupils of both sexes, whose badge of membership consisted of "loud" stockings.

He found that the girls and boys exchanged single stockings, each wearing mismatched pairs. Twenty pupils were sent home.

SMALL BOYS TIE UP BIG PLANT

(Mail Correspondence.) Toledo, O., Oct. 3.—A strike of 250 small boys has completely tied up the incandescent bulb and tube departments of the Libby Glass Company of this city.

The boys have been working nine hours a day, five days a week, for $1.20 a day.

They have been alternating weekly on night and day work. The demand which was refused and occasioned a strike was for $1.50 a day.

The Libby Glass Company has a big stock on hand, latest improved machinery and excellent financial resources, yet a strike of small boys has rendered the company helpless and forced a closing of the affected departments.

It is a striking illustration of the value of human labor power.

GAMBLING WAR EXPOSES FILTH IN POLITICS

"Reform" Newspapers and Petty Grafters Show Trend of Chicago Life—A Pretty Story

Thursday was the crucial day in the gambling war and its accompanying grand jury investigation. For weeks the situation has been productive of sensational results, ranging all the way from political maneuvering to eleven bomb explosions; the former being incidents in the war between Gov. Deneen and Mayor Buse, based on the former's effort to compel the city executive to support his gubernatorial candidacy, the latter being merely the expressions of non-favored gamblers to attract public attention and put the alleged gamblers out of business.

The efforts of the state's attorney's office, which is a Deneen aid, to compel the chief lieutenant of Mont Tennes, Horace Argo, to testify or go to jail in Chicago and dates back to the time when the governor was state's attorney, and when Buse was state's treasurer. Deneen got away with something like $250,000 in fees from his office, and his act was approved by the press.

However, Deneen forced Buse to refund something like $5,000 in interest money which he had received, as had all his predecessors, and officials holding other positions of trust. Now, the Buse regime thinks it is with pretty bad grace that Deneen wants Buse to support his candidacy. The gambling war as far as the bomb explosions are concerned is a fair to the efforts of the disgruntled City of Traverse crowd to draw public attention to the alleged fact that other gamblers are being protected in this city.

Relative to the alleged protection, Chief Shippey says he must rely upon his inspectors, and that if there is any gambling in Chicago there is less of it than at any time in recent history. This statement recalls the reinstatement of Inspector Hunt in the Hyde Park district, which came about through Buse's anti-election promises. Hunt says he knows his friend and co-worker James O'Leary has been doing anything in the gambling line, at least for a long while, although he cannot say what he has been doing in the past ten days.

Hunt and O'Leary are credited with being able to hold the stockyards district vote and control it at will. CRIME LEAGUE BUSY. Incidentally, yesterday brought other charges of graft and corruption on the part of the Anti-Crime league, which presented the chief of police with a report of its work for the past ten days. It shows that favored saloons are allowed to remain open in all sections of the city with the connivance

WRECK AND FIRE CAUSED BY STORM

A terrific thunder storm which struck Chicago early Thursday morning caused a serious railroad wreck and two or three damaging fires.

Blinded by lightning and the heavy rain, the engineer of a Baltimore & Ohio fast freight express failed to see the lights of a fast freight on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad at Ninety-third street. In the collision that followed five train men were injured.

Fire was caused by lightning at 6820 Halsted street, where the barn of R. D. Myers & Son was struck and three horses killed. Flames spreading to the plating mill of Albert Dyken, 6818 Halsted street, did damage estimated at $6,000.

Several other lesser fires were caused by lightning, which played over that section of the city terrifically for two hours.

CHICAGO'S ED IN SIGHT

If Strikers Surrender They Will Be Victimized for Years

There is to be a meeting of Western Union stockholders and directors Oct. 9 for the purpose of electing officers. Chairman Likes says he has information from the strike committee that unless the present strike is broken by that date President Clowry will not be re-elected.

The State's Attorney's office is busy trying to force Buse into line by probing a alleged protected gambling, and in the turmoil of politics, bribery and police corruption, civic bodies ever and anon emerge with reports of increased police inefficiency.

Verily, the old town has its hands full.

The Lawson papers, the News and Record-Herald, are with Deneen and may be expected to expose gambling until Buse supports Deneen.

RICHES SEEN FOR FARMERS

(By United Press Associations.) Washington, Oct. 3.—Bright prospects for the cotton industry were pictured by Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural Department today in a speech at the opening of the semi-annual convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

"By better farming we can double our production of cotton on the acres now present under tillage," said he. "The possibilities of cotton production in this country are practically limitless. We once were told that rice could not be raised in the United States, because labor was too high."

"Yet, we found that one American could produce as much rice in a year as four hundred Orientals.

"The farmers in the south are beginning to comprehend the situation that confronts them. Demonstration work has been organized, and the department is teaching methods of growing cotton and diversifying crops to more than a hundred thousand farmers throughout Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

"We are exterminating the cattle tick so that the south will soon be unhampered in its 'cotton line.'"

NEW COURT ON PAY ROLL

Newport, R. I., Oct. 3.—Formal announcement is expected soon of the engagement of Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, daughter of the late Countess Vanderbilt and Count Ladislaus Sascheny, a lieutenant in the Imperial Hussars of Austria.

The count is now a visitor at the Vanderbilt summer home here, the Newport, which has been opened for the first time in two years for his reception. An announcement is looked for before he leaves. The society colony is also counting on an early marriage at the Newport place.

The count arrived in New York Tuesday night and was met by Alfred and Reginald Vanderbilt. The same night he started in Alfred Vanderbilt's private car for Newport, being met here yesterday by Miss Vanderbilt.

The count is a son of Count Emerich Sascheny, who was in the Austrian diplomatic service for years. He was killed at Egger in 1873. Miss Vanderbilt, only passed her twenty-first birthday, when her share of her father's vast estate, estimated at $12,000,000 passed to her control.

This means that working men and women of this country must support a "count" who also is a soldier and helps oppress workers in Austria.

BORAH IS ACQUITTED OF LAND THEFTS; SPEAKS

(By United Press Associations.) Boise, Oct. 3.—United States Senator Borah will take his seat in the Senate when Congress opens. He has begun already making his plans to go to Washington.

Borah had said that he would not take the seat unless he was completely vindicated in his trial on the charge of conspiring to defraud the government in the Idaho land grants. The jury acquitted him last evening on the first ballot.

There was a remarkable demonstration in the court room, despite the court's efforts to preserve order. When Borah arrived at his hotel, the fire department paraded and a brass band played, "The Conquering Hero Comes."

Borah, in a speech from the balcony of his hotel, declared the prosecution was an effort of "human hyenas" to blot the name of "Idaho's martyr, Ex-Gov. Frank Steunenberg."

CONFERENCE HAS BIG SCHEME

Petitions for the release of George A. Pettibone will shower upon President and the Idaho state authorities, if present plans are carried out.

The Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone Defense Conference held a meeting last night and one of the most important acts was to lay plans for the general circulation of petitions for the release of Pettibone, against whom there is no evidence.

While the plans are not fully worked out, it probably will be determined to circulate the petitions and have them mailed all in one day. Such a peaceful demonstration would have a remarkable effect in showing the trend of public opinion, it is said. All arrangements, however, wait instructions from the Western Federation of Miners.

The conference decided also to send $120 to the fund for the defense of Steve Adams and Pettibone. Money is still coming in and the interest in the conference continues to grow.

HOW $300,000 WAS PASSED OUT

Taken From the Mint and Circulantly Distributed Among the Supervisors

(By United Press Association.)
 San Francisco, Oct. 3.—That $300,000 was passed out among the supervisors of San Francisco by the United Railways without any record of it being kept is the point Special Prosecutor Heney is now trying to bring out in the trial of T. L. Ford, chief counsel of the United Railways, on the charge of bribery.

Led on by Heney, Cashier Dahler of the United Railways brought his books into court to substantiate his assertion that they showed no record of the bribe money. He also said the money had never been in his custody.

HENEY'S CONTENTION.
 Heney contends—and will now produce the witnesses that, he says, will prove his contention—that the money was drawn from the mint, turned over to Ford and by Ford turned over to Abe Ruef for distribution among the supervisors. Neither Ruef nor any of the supervisors ever gave a receipt. Heney will contend, in fact, the money was slipped to the supervisors without any word of where it came from, he will try to show, and is left to their imagination to discover its source.

BANK CLOSES BUSINESS
 Two hundred thousand dollars was drawn by depositors out of the Federal National Bank, the directors of which had voted on Tuesday to discontinue the institution. The liquidation was conducted without excitement, although depositors with books in their hands stood in line most of the day.

It has developed that among the doubtful papers held by the bank is a Walsh certificate for $25,000. This is a part of the $100,000 worth of Walsh stuff taken by the bank when all other members of the clearing house accepted pro rata shares.

The Christian Socialist Fellowship Center will open next Sunday at Jefferson Hall, 68 Adams st. Watch announcement tomorrow.

PRESIDENT WOULD BLOCK SOCIALISM BY "REFORM"

Of the much discussed trip to the east by a fleet of battle ships the commander in chief of the navy said: "Early in December the fleet will begin its voyage to the Pacific and it will number, friends, among its formidable fighting craft three great battle ships, named, respectively, the Illinois, the Mississippi and the Kentucky.

"It is a national fleet in every sense of the term, and its welfare should be, and I firmly believe is, as much a matter of pride and concern for every man the farthest interior of our country as for every man on the seaboard.

"A long ocean voyage is mighty good training, and not the least good it will do will be to show just the points where our naval program needs strengthening.

"Incidentally, I think the voyage will have one good effect, for to judge by his comments on the movement, some excellent ideas in the way of sections of the country need to be reminded that the Pacific coast is exactly as much a part of this nation as the Atlantic coast."

Mr. Roosevelt rapidly declared himself for justice and religious freedom. "The American people abhor a vacuum and they are determined that this control shall be exercised somewhere, it is most unwise for the railroads to not recognize this and to submit to it as the first requisite of the situation. When this control is exercised in some such fashion as it is now exercised over the national banks there will be no falling off in business prosperity. On the contrary, the chance for the average man to do better will be increased.

"Undoubtedly there will be much less opportunity than at present for a very few individuals not of the most scrupulous type to amass great fortunes speculating in and manipulating securities which are issued without any kind of control or supervision.

"But there will be plenty of room left for the simple honest man of business genius, while the chance for the man who is not a business genius, but who is a good, thrifty, hard-working citizen, will be better.

"I am sure that the course we are pursuing will ultimately help business, for the corrupt man of business is as great a foe to this country as the corrupt politician."

MOVIE ON RAPIDLY DECLARED HIMSELF FOR JUSTICE AND RELIGIOUS FREEDOM.

He said that the American people abhor a vacuum and they are determined that this control shall be exercised somewhere, it is most unwise for the railroads to not recognize this and to submit to it as the first requisite of the situation.

SOCIALISTS TAKE MEXICAN'S SIDE

(Mail Correspondence.)
 Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 3.—Another Mexican labor leader, Yves G. Lelevier, has been arrested and held without warrant in the United States at the instigation of the Mexican government. Lelevier was apprehended at this place.

Socialists of the city held a mass meeting on the public plaza last week and passed resolutions protesting against the usurpation of law by federal authorities. A defense fund was collected at the meeting and every effort will be made to give the young Mexican justice.

Lelevier was an associate of Antonio Villarreal, head of the Mexican junta at St. Louis. The junta was active in swakening Mexican laborers to a realization of their servitude. At the request of President Diaz of Mexico the American authorities began a series of persecutions against Villarreal and his associates ending in trumped up charges against them.

All were forced to leave St. Louis. Villarreal is now conducted by Villarreal's sister, a beautiful Mexican girl, 24 years old. Villarreal has been arrested in Los Angeles and is fighting extradition to Mexico. Return there means his death at the hands of the Mexican government. A similar fate awaits Lelevier should he be turned over to his native government.

The only crime of the man is that he was a socialist among their countrymen against Mexican greed and wage slavery for the profit of United States capitalists.

HE HAS COURAGE

Davenport, Ia., Oct. 3.—The federal government has run against a new snag here on the west bank of the Mississippi in the refusal of J. D. Martin of Crawfordville, Ia., to qualify as a petit juror.

He told Judge Smith McPherson he belonged to a church which did not recognize the liquor traffic, and so long as the government licensed it he would not recognize the government or its officials. Instead of holding Martin in contempt, the court expelled him from the panel.

ALL FOR CORPORATION'S GOOD "UNCLE JOE"

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 3.—Speaker Joseph Cannon, will go into the national convention backed by the entire state delegation of Illinois. In the great political power now being held in this city, there has developed but one coalition throughout the state and this is the union of all present forces in a great boom for Uncle Joe Cannon for president.

WASHINGTON WAS NO SAINT.

Time may heal all wounds and assuage all bitterness, but in the case of the late G. Washington, it seems that the more time elapses the greater the disintegration of his fame.

The latest thing about G. Washington is the unearthing of evidence among old records in Fairfax county, Virginia, that George was one of the original tax dodgers. He was indicted along with Lord Fairfax and some other chief demagogues of that territory for not having returned all of his personal property for assessment. But the feat about this new Washington story is the father of his country actually swore to his return, and this fact, coupled with the presentment made him liable to prosecution for perjury under a separate statute.

Now, what in the world, is the country going to do? That cherry tree incident is forever discredited. It is known that Washington kept slaves, swore off his taxes, made whisky and raised tobacco, and—and—had a warm spot in his heart for the fair unfortunate of the Washington demagogue. It will not be surprising when some active investigator uncovers that George was an end seat hog, carried a looking glass in his vest pocket, and was the inventor of the cigarette. After all these facts, the work of his press agent is being undone.

NEVER JOSEPH FATHER.

Joseph de Marris was booked to wed Margaret Mansardo, the belle of Little Italy, but because he joshed his father-in-law, or the one whom fate had picked out for that exalted relationship, about the unfastness of his hair, he loses bride, a pretty cousin and $25,000 for furniture. That is not all; the mother of the joshed has been arrested for keeping the $25,000. Hereafter the disappointed Joseph will likely be taken to a gaol, and his prospective father-in-law until the marital knot is twisted.

SAYS OKLAHOMA STOPS PROGRESS

Railroads Declare They Can't Make Money in New Territory

(Mail Correspondence.)
 New York, Oct. 2.—The anti-railroad sentiment in Oklahoma as expressed in the constitution has resulted in putting a stop to nearly all railroad construction in the new state. President A. C. Dustin, of the Fort Smith and West-ern railroad, explaining why the Fort Smith and Western will not be extended southwest to the Texas Panhandle country says:

"Under constitutional two-cent fare provisions, railway companies will be compelled to build with full knowledge of the rates prescribed, and they will be in no better condition to complain of the two-cent rate than the present railroads could of the three-cent rate, and ask for a higher one."

"It will follow, therefore, as inevitably as fate, that railroad construction will stop except perhaps a link here and there to connect up some of the arms of the large systems. There will, however, be no new railroad constructed. It will be impossible to get the money, because capital will not invest where it is not promised reasonable returns."

SHORT TAIL BULL IN FLY TIME

(Mail Correspondence.)
 Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—The accompanying resolution was up for adoption before the Virginia democratic association at its annual reunion in this city.

Nearly all the Virginia Majors who were present favored the resolution. Major J. C. Glasscock proposed and Major McDowell Garrington seconded it, and Major George A. Armes spoke for it.

The proposed resolution follows:

"Whereas, William Jennings Bryan, the great orator, as well as the great, uncommer, the great advocate of free silver, the great advocate of government ownership of railroads, the great advocate of initiative and referendum, the greatest blow upon earth, the greatest standing candidate upon earth, the greatest man without a record known in American politics, is threatening again to become a candidate of the democratic party for president of the United States in 1908; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That it is the opinion of this association that he stands about as much show of succeeding as a short-tailed bull in fly time."

REWARD FOR DEAD RATS IN FRISCO EPIDEMIC

(By United Press Association.)
 San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 3.—Without referring specifically to the plague, which it is fighting furiously, the San Francisco health department is offering a reward of $100 for each rat brought, dead or alive, to any one of a seven stations here.

Rats are known to be the means through which the contagion is often spread, and physicians agree that such vermin brought here in ships from the orient unquestionably gave the disease its first foothold in San Francisco.

The board's advertisement, prominently displayed in the blackest type in the local newspapers, is as follows:

"REWARD FOR RATS."

"A reward of 5 cents will be paid for every rat, dead or alive, delivered at any of the stations of the health department between the hours of 8 and 10 a. m."

"They must be delivered to the stations in tightly covered cans, labeled so as to show in what neighborhood they have been caught. Drop rats into a bucket of water, or in the absence of this, into a bucket of water, where they should remain for an hour, after which they may be placed in the cans for delivery."

DR. CONDEMNS MEDICINE

London, Oct. 2.—Prof. Osler, addressing the students at St. Mary's hospital, said success in the medical profession was largely a question of good health. In this matter, he added, doctors were notorious sinners. If they did not work too hard, they smoked too much and were indifferent about exercise. The best students seemed to pay the least attention to nature's laws. Among various other maxims which Prof. Osler laid down were the following:

"Be skeptical of the pharmacopoeia."

"He is the best doctor who knows the worthlessness of most medicines."

"Study your fellow man and fellow women and learn to manage them."

THE HUSTLERS' COLUMN

There is no national campaign this fall. Few of the states have any important elections. Now is the time to make a campaign for your daily paper for the great battle next year. If the Daily Socialist cannot be maintained, with the start which it now has, there will be no daily paper in the next campaign representing working class interests. If the Daily Socialist is properly supported it will make possible the establishment of other papers and the possibility thus established for a real political campaign next year.

Few will ever realize just how much depends upon the next few weeks. It is not too much to say that if every day they are the most critical weeks through which the Socialist movement of America has ever passed, for on the answer to whether the Daily Socialist shall receive the support that will tide it over until the renewals shall come in and other resources be realized upon or not depends in no small degree the answer to the question of whether the Socialist movement will be a real political force or only a propaganda society.

What will your answer be?

Dr. A. E. Briggs, Sacramento, Cal., answers by sending $5 for sub cards. He says: "I regard the Daily as the only great daily in America. It must be allowed to suspend."

J. J. Smith, Estancia, N. Mex., raises the ante $7 and calls for a show down on subs.

Local Girard, Kan., is always doing things. This time it is $5 for cards and a declaration that they propose to make the Girard list of subs the banner list for Kansas.

An examination of the subscription list this morning showed that while there are very few expirations at present, many more new subscribers being received than are taken off, that almost one-half the subscriptions expire next month. This means that at present the income from renewals is very small, but will be very large in a few weeks. As nearly one-third of the remainder expire in December, this should mean a steady income of sufficient size to more than carry the paper through the winter. The great question comes this week. Are you pulling?

"We Socialists cannot afford to let this paper go under," says E. L. Smith, Alameda, Cal.

"It seemed a few days ago that I could not possibly do anything more for our paper before December, but seeing your emergency call this morning I hunted up a couple of plunks for sub cards," W. B. McFarland, Flint, Tex.

Here's another from Texas: G. S. Tuley, Longview, comes in with an order $5 for cards. "Good habit, that Texas one."

Ab. N. Feingold, Hartford, Conn., sends in two new subs and a dollar to extend another that does not expire until January. This gives a hint of what will happen when those thousands of subs expire next month.

"Don't be backward about calling for help, for we all know the odds against you," says Perry Ault, Dillon, Colo., as he chips a dollar in for the birthday fund.

"Sorry my subscription was allowed to expire. Haven't seen a dollar for a long time, but caught one on the fly the other day and sent it herewith, with two cents for the deficit fund," writes Hans J. Blix, Spooner, Wis.

W. F. Sutton, Warrenburg, Mo., lives on a R. F. D. route, but that did not prevent him from getting four new subscribers this week.

Z. M. Taylor, Fairmont, Ok., picks up a couple of new ones to come along with his renewal.

W. R. Roselius, Etowah, Ok., says that every workman ought to be willing to come in with that $1 for the birthday fund. He sends his.

Mrs. Cross' Husband Imposes Another Cross on the Eloquent Ferguson

(By United Press Association.)
 Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 4.—Rev. Wilbert F. Ferguson was arrested today on charges of criminal relations with Mrs. A. E. Cross, a member of his congregation at the University Place Methodist church. Mrs. Cross' confession of intimacy with the pastor resulted in his trial at the Nebraska conference, which was stopped by Rev. Ferguson withdrawing from the conference with a declaration that all those sitting in judgment were prejudiced against him. He fled suit for $25,000 against Mrs. Cross' husband and several dignitaries of the church. The warrant today was obtained by Mrs. Cross' husband as a counter move. Mrs. Cross' home and the parsonage of Rev. Ferguson's church are specified in the husband's warrants.

TRYING TO SAVE ALLIANCE

(Mail Correspondence.)
 Alliance, O., Oct. 1.—The members of Typographical Union No. 497, Alliance, Ohio, have been on strike over three months. On June 15, last, a charter was granted the type and the owner of the Daily Leader learning that four men employed there had made application to the local, summarily discharged them, no reason being assigned. The remainder of the force, with one exception, walked out.

The next day the Review management in attempting to furnish matter to the struck office, and thereby violating international law, caused a walkout of all union help at that office.

The following week the scale was presented to all shops in the city, but none would sign for an eight-hour day. Organized labor in Alliance has heretofore seemed almost an impossibility. The city is in the clutch of a Business Men's association, which maintains a committee whose duty it is to discourage and prevent it possible any attempt of labor to organize. The M-Caskey Register Company is perhaps suffering most in this strike because of the employment of incompetent help. The leader is in very hard circumstances; the editor is running one machine and the general manager the other. In dire disgust the office help is now resigning, the past week witnessing the departure of the bookkeeper, the ad solicitor and collector, a reporter, and a general utility man. At the Review office chaos also reigns; dead matter lies in every possible corner, the ad sales in incompetency, the make-up in poor, "roller plates" to be used on every page.

A new union paper is soon to be launched at Sebring, a pottery town five miles out, and Cleveland capitalists are looking into the matter of starting a new paper at Alliance; it will carry the label.

It is only a question of holding out a short time longer and Alliance will be a union town so far as printers are concerned and a nail for organized labor in all branches will be securely driven.

Nine girls and about twenty men are on the strike roll and a more determined and intelligent lot never stood for the rights of labor.

Twelve 50-cent sub. cards, good for three months, mailed to any address for $5.00. Send in your order.

Socialist News

A. H. Masters of Grand Rapids, Mich., dropped into the office today en route to Atchison, Kan. He says that Grand Rapids has three locals and that things are booming.

"We have an organization of Socialists pledged to pay 25 cents a week to keep an organizer in the field," he said. "Myself, Lena Morrow Lewis surely stirred up things in our town this summer. She had crowds that filled the streets and the people remained from the first to the last. I believe work in Grand Rapids did as much as any other one thing to live up to the organization and interest the working class that has not yet seen the way out of its hardships. We have arranged to hold each month an open meeting. It is in the way of an entertainment of a high class. The public is invited and the right hand of fellowship is extended to all who come."

Local Kalamazoo has adopted resolutions on the death of one of its most valued members, Charles East. He was a faithful worker in the local and a member of the state executive committee. The local ordered that a copy of the resolutions be sent to the Chicago Daily Socialist, also to the widow of the deceased, and directed that they be published in the next Michigan Record.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.
 There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Workers' Publishing Society at 55 North Clark street next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. This is a meeting, the importance of which can scarcely be exaggerated, and every stockholder who can possibly attend should make a point to be present.
