

WHITE SLAVE HUNT BLOCKED

Pauline, Alleged Victim, Abducted to Stop Investigation

Who is "Pauline," the girl who, after asserting that she was being held in a resort at 81 Peoria street as a white slave, was spirited away when an investigation was on foot, to look into her statements?

Street Clothes Taken

She said that she had been in the resort since Friday when her street clothes had been taken from her and she had been furnished with flimsy silk robes.

Kingston's Second Trip

Thinking that he could talk with her more easily than the reporters had been able to do, as the story had originally been told to him, Kingston went to the resort Thursday night to look for the girl and learned her last name.

LOCKOUT MAY HIT 250,000

London, May 2.—Negotiations for a settlement of the shipbuilding dispute have failed again, and lockout notices issued a week ago probably will go into effect tomorrow at all the yards of the united kingdom.

CHRISTIAN PARTY IN FIELD ON GOLDEN RULE ISSUE

Rock Island, Ill., May 2.—With a platform devoid of all features ordinary politicians consider appropriate, the United Christian party, in national convention here, nominated candidates for president and vice president of the United States and instructed the executive committee to use its best efforts to get the names on the official ballot next fall.

NOTED VOLCANO, MT. JEFF DAVIS, IN FULL ERUPTION IN SENATE

Washington, D. C., May 2.—Jeff Davis, the dynamic Senator from Arkansas, "ash" in the way after the "smoke" and "poor" in the field in Little Rock when he and a rival statesman had a little difference of opinion at the close of which the excited Jeff looked for his unconvinced opponent with a large "Navy 45" Paines' production of "Vesuvius" was put absolutely in the shade and for the first time in years all senators forsook the cloak room and there was not a faint smoke heard throughout the senate.

NEW LIFE SAVINGS, $925, TO BUY HOME; IS ROBBED

Fifteen years' savings gone, in a moment. That is the sorrow of Mrs. Ina Smith, wife of John A. Smith, 15 Commercial avenue, South Chicago. Mrs. Smith, who is 50 years old, went to the Illinois Trust and Savings bank yesterday and drew out $925, the savings of all those years—her husband's and hers combined.

COSTS $2.50 TO EARN 15 CENTS

News Company Uses a Complicated Contract to Bilk Idle Man

The Union News Company which operates on almost all the railroads of the United States has a unique way of bilking the jobless men. And had it not been for the activity of the Daily Socialist Isaac Wise would have lost $5.00 through the practices of G. A. Lindrum, the company's agent at 182 Canal street. As it was Lindrum was forced to see that he was taking advantage of Wise in an unjust and legally questionable manner, and he compromised by keeping $2.50 instead of $5 as a day's rent for a shabby second hand coat and cap which was used by Wise as the company's uniform.

PRICES WORSE; DUN'S REVIEW

The weekly financial review of the Chicago Daily Socialist published yesterday is borne out by the review of the weekly article on Chicago trade in Dun's Review, published today.

CONDUCTOR'S WIFE, ARRESTED, FEARS SHOCK TO SOCIETY

"Oh, what will society say when they hear of my arrest; can it not be kept secret? I beg of you? I'll be disgraced for life."

BOLT OF LIGHTNING TEARS GIRL'S CLOTHES TO SHREDS

Philadelphia, Pa., May 2.—In a storm that passed over Lancaster county, Jennie Martin, 29 years old, of Bird-in-Hand, was struck by lightning and had a remarkable escape from death.

TEACHER IS OUSTED AND SCHOOL CHILDREN STRIKE

Mayeville, Ky., May 2.—High school students refused to attend school here on account of the expulsion of W. C. Coryell, teacher, Saturday. Coryell struck Sup't. D. S. Clinger for passing the lie. The board expelled Coryell and exonerated Clinger.

Wife Gets $10.15 Back

"Well, I am not trying to collect that penalty," said Lindrum. "You admit that you can't?" asked the reporter.

Doesn't Care if He Starves

"We don't care whether you eat or not," said Lindrum. "You want them?" asked the reporter.

Steen Death Stalks

"Life, eh? has its own laws. Fundamentally, righteousness and justice, infinitely various in forms, are its essential elements. All day is death. You cannot escape. In one of our life beyond. Mr. President, death stalks, swift, remorseless and solitary, through halls where laughter has not been heard for years."

HOW PATRIOTISM IS MADE IN GERMANY

Berlin, May 2.—According to the yearly report of the German Naval League, just issued, the league increased its membership during the year 1907 from 306,709 members to 1,014,500 members. The organization has continued its campaign of instruction in naval affairs by giving stereoscopic views and lectures in the villages of the empire, by setting up naval exhibitions in seventy-eight cities and by conducting excursions of school children from the interior to the ports of the empire, where they were shown the might of Germany's sea power and the extent of the merchant shipping of the country.

LITTLE MEN IN FEARFUL STEW

The papers here are joining the cry which the little men of the town have set up, and in double column heavy faced type editorials on their behalf are being sent men to go to work at the works of the National Tube company here, and so open the way for the employment of 1,600 men.

Sample of Argument

The papers tell a lot about the fine conditions and high wages that the company is offering and how because the men will not go to work at the works of the National Tube company here, and so open the way for the employment of 1,600 men.

A Desperate Appeal

No union man anywhere will be helped by closing the Kewanee mills, and hundreds of union men will be thrown out of employment and other things in their homes, shrink terribly in value.

WIFE DESERTS COLLEGE HEAD TO JOIN RELIGIOUS FREAKS

Lafayette, Ind., May 2.—Mrs. Winthrop E. Stone, wife of the president of Purdue university, has gone to Germany to join a religious colony of the freak kind.

DIES OF BROKEN HEART WHEN RELATIVES SUCCUMB

Bellefontaine, Ohio, May 2.—Mrs. John Schragie died yesterday of a broken heart. Her husband, daughter-in-law, and grandchild all succumbed to pneumonia within the last few days.

THE WEATHER

Washington, May 2.—Official forecast for tomorrow, Saturday: Partly cloudy, with showers of rain and drizzle. Wind, west, 10 to 15 miles per hour.

DEMANDS FULL RECEIPT

"Receipt in full or nothing," said Lindrum. "I am not going to give you a receipt until you have paid me the full amount of the money I lent you."

RED IS UNDER WING OF POLICE

Anarchist Is Aided by Cops in Breaking Up Socialist Meeting

New York, May 2.—The police of New York do not object to anarchists speaking in public if such speaking is likely to create trouble in a meeting of workmen, composed chiefly of Socialists, and is likely to break up the meeting. With the permission of the commanding officer in charge of a detachment of police detailed to "keep order," and over the protests of the Socialist speakers, Alexander Berkman, noted anarchist leader, spoke at a Socialist May day meeting, given under the auspices of the Industrial Workers of the World in Union square yesterday afternoon.

Police Began Blockade

When Berkman appeared there were cries for him to speak, but a loud protest went up that it was not a meeting of anarchists. Berkman insisted that he was invited to speak, and the Socialists were given a check by Police Inspector Cortright giving his consent.

GRANITE STRIKE SETTLED AFTER $1,500,000 LOSS

Barre, Vt., May 1.—The strike of granite workers in Barre, Montpelier and neighboring towns, which has kept 3,000 men out of employment for the last eight weeks, was finally settled, when agreements were signed for three years by the jumpers, boxers and derricks men provides for an eight-hour day and time and a quarter for overtime work. This is a victory in part for the men. It is expected that there will be a general resumption of activity in the quarries next Monday.

ROOSEVELT ADMIRES WOMEN WHO WORK FOR A LIVING

Washington, D. C., May 2.—"I believe in clubs," said President Roosevelt, while speaking before 600 New England women who claim they make their own living, who were in Washington, D. C., for a conference of the National Life Assurance Society of which Mr. Cleveland is a voting trustee.

WOULD HAVE CHURCH WHERE POLITICS COULD BE DISCUSSED

Presiding Elder M. E. Cady, of the Methodist church would have church buildings where the Republicans, the Democrats and even the Socialists could talk to their hearts' content. Only the United Societies would be barred.

GLADSTONE DOWIE WINS CASE; IS ALMOST KISSED

Muskegon, Mich., May 2.—Gladstone Dowie today pleaded and won his first case with a dramatic climax, in which he almost lost his cognomen of "unabashed man." The setting for Dowie's trial was into his chosen profession was the dingy council chamber at Montague, 85th Peterson, 18 years old, much neglected because the court could not collect $21 due him as wages as a doorman. He was defended by John Haverkate, Montague's village constable, who was arrayed against Dowie as counsel for the defendant. Six hundred of the village poor packed the case, which lasted three hours.

WISCONSIN SOCIALISTS BRING FEAR TO THE OLD PARTIES

Another proof of the fear in which the old parties now hold the Social Democrats is the fact that in the city council and county board committees twenty new men have been given party appointments. In former years, before the old parties got together again, our men were on some important committee where they could do good work for the movement. Now they are placed on those where their work will be least dangerous to the old parties.

BURIAL OF EX-SOLDIERS

For instance on the county board, three Social Democrats are put on the committee in charge of the burial of ex-soldiers; but the Republican and Democratic politicians will not have the Socialists have been given the work to do that takes charge of funerals—except the funeral of the city parties.

FREE SPEECH IS STRANGLER IN MONTREAL

Police Disperse Crowd of 10,000 People at Socialists' May Day Gathering

(Special to the Daily Socialist.) Montreal, Que., May 2.—The police of Montreal yesterday succeeded in getting completely into the class of their brethren of New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, when they broke up the Socialists' May Day demonstration on the "Champ De Mars," the famous review ground and meeting place of the city.

DISPERSE CROWD OF 10,000

The May Day demonstration was a big success in spite of the unwanted police suppression. An immense crowd of 10,000 people was present.

CLEVELAND MAY HAVE A CANCER

New York, May 2.—Considerable anxiety is occasioned here by rumors that the condition of ex-President Grover Cleveland, who has been ill for several weeks in Lakewood, N. J., had assumed a grave phase and that slight hopes were entertained of his recovery.

SHIPPY IS TO CARRY A GUN

Chief of Police Shippy made application yesterday for permit to carry a pocket revolver. It was not necessary, as he has the right as a policeman to own and carry a weapon, but he thought he would be in fashion.

6,983 SALOON LICENSES WERE ISSUED YESTERDAY

Practically every saloon in Chicago weathered the storm of "Black Friday" and was prepared to open its doors for business this morning. This victory is but a tentative one, however, and may be snatched from them at any moment, as the "drys" in many districts still are fighting and preparing for various forms of legal action.

When City Collector Magerstadt's office was closed at midnight 4,008 licenses had been actually issued. Last year the total number was 7,216, but most of the 2,518 not accounted for are cared for in bonds and checks sent in by brewery companies and saloon men, not yet checked over.

BOSTON WORKERS' PRESS CONFERENCE WILL MEET

The next meeting of the Workers' Press conference will be at 699 Washington street, Boston, Mass., Wednesday evening, May 6, 1908, at 8 p. m. All Socialists interested in the New York Call and Chicago Daily Socialist are invited to attend.

That Y. M. C. A. Advertising

The rawest thing that has appeared in all the history of capitalist philanthropy is the advertising of the Young Men's Christian Association of Chicago in its effort to raise a million-dollar endowment.

At any rate, that advertising is a gem. It is a straight appeal to the capitalist to give to his victims BECAUSE THEY ARE HIS VICTIMS.

Here is a sentence from one of these advertisements describing the "boy who plays after dark," and for whom the Y. M. C. A. is supposed to be caring:

Yes, that is exactly what is being done. The children who work in the sweatshops that manufacture the clothing sold by J. V. Farwell, the little cash boys in the establishment of Marshall Field & Co., the boys and girls who are wading in fith and blood in the packing houses of Ogden Armour, are turning their "boyhood's promise" into the "manhood's profit" (The capitals are in the original.)

The Socialist is not quarreling with the Y. M. C. A. While capitalism lasts it is one of the functions of those who profit by its existence to dispense a portion of their gains in the form of charity.

In fact, it is decidedly encouraging to see the mask of hypocrisy torn aside and to see a recognition of the fact that those who furnish the courtplaster are the ones who gave the wounds.

But the Socialist also sees that the supply of courtplaster is pitifully short and its effects tragically inadequate to the need. The great multitude of those whose "boyhood's promise" is turned into "manhood's profits" will never enter the halls of the Y. M. C. A.

But of these things the Socialist is not complaining. His indictment goes deeper than this. He sees no reason why that boy should be deprived of his "boyhood's promise" in the first place.

THE SOCIALIST DOES NOT BELIEVE THAT IT IS NECESSARY TO FIRST TURN THE "BOYHOOD'S PROMISE" INTO "MANHOOD'S PROFIT" AND THEN RECEIVE A PORTION OF THAT PROFIT BACK IN THE FORM OF CHARITY.

CONSTITUTIONAL POSITION OF PROPERTY IN AMERICA

BY FREDERICK ARTHUR T. HADLEY OF YALE, IN LECTURE BEFORE BERLIN UNIVERSITY.

The people often declaim against the strengthening of the powers of private capital; they are seldom willing to put that capital under the direct management of the government itself.

They were a powerful means of establishing the American courts in that position of pre-eminence which they occupy under the constitution.

But how was it when property was in the hands of corporations? Here also the power of control by the government was weakened, and the rights and immunities of the individual correspondingly strengthened by two events.

One of these was the decision of the celebrated Dartmouth college case, in 1819; the other was the passage of the Fourteenth Amendment to the constitution in 1868.

The Dartmouth college charter case dealt with an educational institution, not with an industrial enterprise. The Fourteenth Amendment was framed to protect the negroes from oppression by the whites, not to protect corporations from oppression by the legislature.

The courts committed themselves to the position that a charter was a contract; that a state, having induced people to invest money by certain privileges and immunities, could not modify those privileges and immunities thus granted.

No man foresaw the subsequent effect of this provision in preventing a majority of voters, acting in the legislature or through the executive, from disturbing existing arrangements with regard to railroad building or factory operation.

There is another equally important clause in the constitution providing that no state should pass a law impairing the obligation of contracts.

THE FUNDAMENTAL DIVISION OF POWERS IN THE CONSTITUTION IS BETWEEN THE EXECUTIVE AND THE LEGISLATURE, AND BETWEEN THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT AND THE STATES.

COMRADE! OLD COMRADE!

BY BEN HANFORD.

'Come forth from the valley, come forth from the hill, Come forth from the workshop, the mine and the mill.

'Come, youths in your vigor; come, men in your prime; Come, age, with experience fresh gather'd from time.

The Socialist Veteran! Comrade! Old Comrade! What memories the words recall. To be a Veteran in this great army.

These who have fought you, those who have shunned you, those who have scorned you in the past, now are ready to listen with anxious ear.

Not a man or woman can be spared. You may be old and weak, but you can and must do something.

The invalid must rise from his bed—this is the year to do or die; it may be, this is the year to do and die. Ah! But those who die in the Cause, and those who die for the Cause—THEY will live indeed!

All furloughs are revoked. Every man to his post. The cripple must fight with his crutch. Every man not in his grave clothes must get on the firing line.

THIS YEAR we are going to conquer the right and power to carry out a peaceful, orderly revolution. Comrade! Old Comrade! THIS YEAR we are going to raise the banner of freedom higher than it has ever been before.

Comrade! Old Comrade! Socialist Veteran, take heed. In the name of the numberless little wage slaves robbed of their youth and life; in the name of the countless women robbed of home and love; in the name of the world's millions of disinherited men—

THIS YEAR you must do and dare. THIS YEAR you'll lift the load of lead from the hearts that are all but dead. THIS YEAR you'll begin to make the new world—a world of brothers, a world of lovers—a world of Comrades!

At last we know who did it! It would have been a pity, when final history came to be written, that the fellows who caused the panic of 1907 should escape the branding.

We know them now. The Engineering News has revealed them. They are the workers! Come out of your kennels, you sly, panic-breeding labor unions!

You did it! You caused the panic! Dare you inquire how? BLUSH—and fade away! Your incompetency did it. Your extravagance did it. You did not put as much of your savings in the banks as you ought, and hence the amount of capital for investment was decreased!

Glory to him: the "independent" worker: the beloved of capitalism: the scab: the patriot who put his savings in the bank for the glory of his country! The bank was looted; and he lost his money—but he saved his honor! HE did not cause the panic.

If others, too, had put their savings in the banks as he did; if they had but lent the solid support of their three dollars and fifty-nine cents to the financial speculations of last year the panic would not have happened.

"Have the labor unions learned a lesson from the experience of the past few months?" asks the Engineering News in kindly advice and admonition. No, dear Engineering News, they have not learned it yet. BUT THEY MAY.

Worth More Out Than In. It has been judicially decided that a man's appendix is worth $500 when it is cut out of him. The price seems large, and most people will think it hardly worth while to be bothered to have some other member of the master class some capitalist, in short—doesn't want to employ you, what can you do? Perhaps you'll starve, or break into jail, or commit suicide.

Wasted Caution. Church—'what's that piece of cord tied around your finger for?' 'Chapel—My wife put it there to remind me to post her letter.' 'And did you post it?' 'No, she forgot to give it to me!' London Opinion.

Expecting Much. 'Do you think they will ever hang O'Rourke?' 'I expect they will.' 'But when?' 'On the same day they collect the $25,000,000 from the Standard Oil Company.' Young Actor—'My Paat seems to be a failure. Poor Gosh!'—Flugette Bluetter.

REASON VS. PREJUDICE

BY LESLIE W. LYON, WHEATON COLLEGE.

It would seem at first that a contest between reason and prejudice must necessarily be uneven and one-sided; that reason must triumph over prejudice; that right thinking must prevail over biased custom; and such, indeed, is the case in the final result; but at this very moment, and in our own land, this contest is raging, and thus far reason has not conquered.

How can this be true? It has always been so. How, indeed, did the doctrine of the divine right of kings lose favor? How many generations endured the despotism of a monarch without a murmur, before a handful of men with a principle turned the world upside down?

Rewarding and Punishing

Ten years ago the opponents of Socialism within the unions all declared that the unions must keep out of politics. They even went so far as to introduce provisions into union constitutions forbidding the discussion of political questions.

Today this sort of talk is seldom met with. The first lesson of the Socialist primer has been painfully learned, and the very same men who were so strongly opposed to "politics in the unions" are now declaring that only through "political action" can the unions be saved.

But they are still determined to learn only as the lessons are pounded into them with policemen's club and injunction whip.

Now the cry is for some sort of scheme to "reward friends and punish enemies" in the ranks of the capitalist parties. This scheme, however, seems to be "dyin' a bornin'."

So the next step is being urged—that of "independent political working class action." It may be possible to palm off a sham under this title in a few places and for a few months.

But the workers will soon demand the genuine. They will demand that their political movement be truly independent—that it stand in deadly opposition to all parties of capitalism.

That means SOCIALISM.

SKETCHES OF ENGLISH SOCIALISTS

FROM A LECTURE BY JACK WOOD.

At work in the mines at seven years and without a day's schooling until he was twenty-four, Kier Hardie, the leader of the Labor party in the House of Commons, is the greatest voice for labor and socialism that England has produced in a quarter of a century.

He has the moral force of a Giano, a sphinx, and convictions that nothing can turn aside. A statesman, diplomat, poet, of his peculiar clothing, which is homespun and home-made, he says: "There are no children's suits, no women's teats in it and it is all paid for."

He does not use the upper class. He puts his tin in his pocket when he goes into the House of Commons. An instance of his force and fearlessness was when one day, in the House of Commons, he said: "Mea, there are thousands of you with nothing to eat. If you were males there would be a great outcry. We'll go to the House of Commons and see what they will do about it." And the unemployed marched through the heart of London and the police dared not interfere.
