

TEEN SOCIALISTS SLEEP IN CELLS IN LOS ANGELES

More Street Speakers Go to Jail in Fight of the Socialist Party for Free Speech

(Special to the Daily Socialist) Los Angeles, July 7.—The fight for free speech continues with increasing numbers of Socialists in the jail. There are now ten in the jail. The papers here are beginning to become disgusted with the authorities and the news columns of the Herald show that the most recent arrests, those of H. T. Engel, a grey haired civil war veteran of 75 years, J. A. Nevitt, George Limberry, and Walter F. Holloway, were accompanied by police brutality in spite of the fact that the Socialists are preventing violence in the crowds. Holloway held the African flag, and told of the rights guaranteed by the constitution. The police dragged him from the soap box and the flag was trampled on.

Plenty Others Ready There are now ten Socialists in jail and at least twenty more are ready to take the soap box when called on. After they are all in jail there will be more speakers still, as the Los Angeles local is rapidly growing.

The following extracts from the Herald tell their own story of the arrest of Engel: "Five patrolmen stood in the crowd assembled to hear the aged Socialist speaker. They listened to him nearly thirty minutes before they interrupted him to ask if he had a permit."

The old soldier smiled pleasantly and replied, "I have only the constitutional right for which my forefathers fought and which I myself fought to defend. Are you here to deny me the right of free speech?"

Encourages Other Socialists "We have no choice in this matter," said the patrolman slowly, as he took the veteran by the arm and gently led him away.

"Don't give up the struggle for free speech, comrades," shouted Engel with a cheerful wave of his hand. Limberry and Nevitt followed Engel and were arrested. The former was reading from the United States constitution. Nevitt was arrested as soon as he started to speak.

The Herald tells of Holloway's arrest as follows: "Holloway was roughly treated when the arrest was made by Patrolmen Graham and Whalen. The man mounted a soap box and held aloft a big American flag. 'I stand here in defense of the constitution of the United States, which is being violated by the municipal government of Los Angeles,' he shouted in a voice easily heard two blocks away.

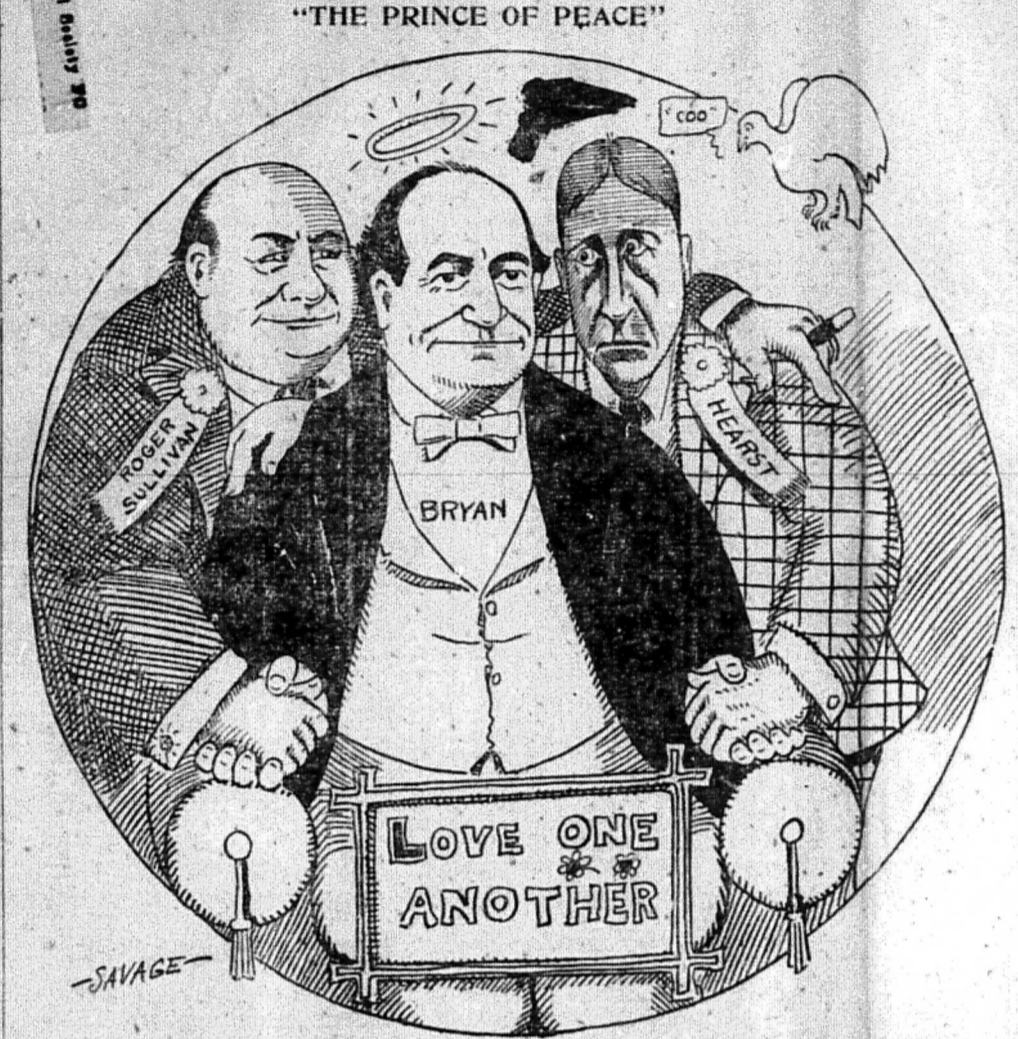

A crowd of about 1,000 assembled quickly. They listened intently to the speaker for ten minutes. "When the police pull me from this box they tear down the American flag," cried Holloway. "I stand here in defense of what this flag stood for in the defense of the constitution."

The authorities do not care if streets are blockaded. They arrest and persecute us because they are afraid to let us carry the message of industrial freedom to the people. "At this juncture the police charged roughly through the crowds. Not the slightest resistance was offered. Persons were thrown right and left. Holloway was dragged down and the American flag was trampled in the street."

He Clung to Flag "Efforts were made to tear the flag from his hands, but he clung to it. Holloway is a slender, frail man, but the local patrolmen dragged him from his feet. The crowd started to follow but made no threatening demonstration. Other officers turned and swung their clubs vigorously, driving back the crowd."

Frisco Socialists Arrested San Francisco, July 7.—When the faithful officers of the law, Policemen D. Creedon and T. Furman, arrested two Socialists last Friday night at about 12:15 for the heinous offense of posting Socialist handbills on telegraph poles advertising Lena Morrow Lewis' meetings, the officers glowed with glee.

"We've been laying for you fellows, and we've got you now," said Creedon in accents of virtuous victory. But the officers could not explain why the police force is so jubilant over the arrest of two Socialists for posting bills, when the telegraph poles and the electric poles are covered with prize-fight ads, chewing picnic ads, Hibernal club outing ads, and numerous other notices. All these are allowed to adorn the poles, but as soon as the name of Debs, or the slogan of Socialism are pasted on the poles, the whole police force is set to "laying for" the Socialist.

CURIO SEEKERS ARE EASY PREY

Washington, D. C., July 7.—If after turning a running stream into the stock issue of an industrial, then selling the nation for suckers and turning them loose in the new waters, you are supposed to yield up gold, you plan to build a new house in a more select quarter of your home town and live up to your new position, which "honesty, frugality, etc." have given you order your Louis Quinze furniture and other art treasures directly from the nearest American market. It's cheaper than going abroad and getting all fakes there.

WAR VETERAN AROUSES STORM

San Francisco, July 7.—Earnest E. Kirk, junior vice commander of the National Encampment of the Spanish War Veterans, tore the sham patriotism of capitalists and merchants to pieces in an hour and a half's speech before the Socialists of this city. With a startling array of evidence he showed how flag worship was industriously cultivated among the children, and at the same time the "starry banner" was made the cover for a multitude of cheapest articles of commerce.

BRAN'S ENEMIES, IN COMPLETE CONTROL OF THE PARTY, WILL OWN HIM BODILY IF HE IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE U. S.

All of Nebraskan's Friends Are Turned Down in Preliminary Work Before the Denver Convention — Roger C. Sullivan Once More Takes Job of Illinois National Committeeman

Denver, Colo., July 7.—Witt, Theodore A. Bell of California as temporary chairman, who will deliver the keynote speech, the Democratic convention will open in Denver today. Then will start the last presidential race in which Bryan will ever run, unless a candidate for "re-election" in 1912. Bryan is in the same prominent position he held before the delegates arrived in the city, but he holds his place at the sufferance of his enemies, who fear to split the party if they bolt, and are determined to let Bryan have his last chance to carry the party into power. If he succeeds they will control the party organization. They are not in the least afraid of what he might do were he president, as they will have him tied hand and foot.

They only undesirable to receive a blow was Pat McCarren of New York, who is fighting Charlie Murphy of Tammany. As for the others, victory came to them and defeat to Bryan's friends and willing supporters.

Roger Sullivan in Saddle Roger Sullivan was returned to his place on the national committee. So was Jim Guffey of Pittsburgh, in the face of the tirade which Guffey delivered against him July 4. Likewise Tom Taggart of Indiana and John T. McGraw of West Virginia, all won their old places on the national committee.

The faithful Bryan henchmen were mainly conspicuous by their failure to receive the endorsement of their delegates for the places which the "peerless one" at Lincoln had marked for them.

McCarren Victory a Snap The principal victory which Bryan's henchmen had yesterday in the routine matters pertaining to the party and the convention—and the victory came to the champion of pure politics in Tammany hall—was the ignominious defeat of Pat McCarren at the hands of a subcommittee of the national committee which was hearing contested matters and was to vote on the nomination of a man to be Bryan's vice-presidential pick.

The prime Bryan fiasco of the day was the caucus of the Illinois delegation which had before it the declaration from Roger Sullivan that he did not intend to sit on the national committee for the next four years. It was, however, assured control of the Illinois delegation by naming his friend Boehm.

Millard Dunlap, a well-meaning Bryan man, was the one who assured the re-election of Sullivan by telling the "independent" members of the delegation that Bryan had been promised a man that was "acceptable" to him. There had been some chance before this that Sullivan's resignation would be placed instead of Sullivan himself, but Dunlap's declaration killed that chance and Sullivan went in, asserting that he did so against his will.

PIONEER LABOR LEADER DIES IN AN INFIRMARY Cleveland, O., July 7.—Feeble, but with the courage of the past, still clinging to life, George Collins died at the city infirmary here. He was ninety years of age, but to the last, his mind was clear and his step firm. Death came from heart failure.

A score of years ago George Collins was one of the most active and prominent labor speakers and organizers in the West of the country. He was one of the founders of the union movement and bore the brunt of much ignominy and abuse which was then used as effective argument against unionism. He came undaunted through it all and only retired from the field when too old to be of any service.

A few months ago he set his heart upon attending a labor meeting, but pride would not let him. He said that he had no clothes to make him presentable. He didn't speak of his plight, but it became known that the clothes were supplied and Collins was again in the thick of the fight for a few hours. He returned to the infirmary with all the enthusiasm and energy of a younger man.

The old man had no relatives, so far as is known. You'll have cause to regret it if you fail to get a copy of the picture of the departed to the National Convention. The picture will be open for business on Sunday hereafter between the hours of 9 and 5. Advertise in the Chicago Daily Socialist.

POPS TO OPEN CAMPAIGN ON THE FIRST OF AUGUST Massillon, O., July 7.—The national estate campaign of the Populist party will be opened in this city this month, declared J. S. Coxey, the party leader and general Coxey's army, which left this city March 25, 1894, and marched on Washington.

YACHT OWNER'S DOG DIES OF A BROKEN HEART New York, July 7.—Fuzzy, the little yellow Pomeranian dog owned by Oliver Isen, and that gained international prominence as the mascot of the cup defender Reliance, died of a broken heart at New Rochelle, N. Y. Mrs. Iselin went to Europe several months ago, leaving Fuzzy with her friend, Mrs. M. J. M. Fuzzy, finding himself deserted by his friend, refused to eat and took little interest in life. He died on Sunday at Beresford, Iselin's brother-in-law, who called in a doctor to attend the pet. Dr. Nestler was unable to get the dog to eat and his death followed.

SOCIALIST IS ROTTEN EGGED Texas State Organizer in Series of Debates in Open Air (Mail Correspondence.) Necessity, Tex., July 2.—Rev. M. A. Smith, D. D., state organizer of the Socialist party of Texas, has been engaged in a series of public discussions since June 8 at various points in Stephens county with Rev. G. G. Hamilton of Breckenridge and Hon. W. L. Grogan of Abilene, and other prominent men with Smith on the "peerless one" on June 12. Since that time the discussions have been between Smith and Hamilton.

The following are the propositions which have been under discussion: 1. No man can be a genuine Christian who opposes Socialism when he understands it. 2. A Socialist form of government would be preferable to the present system.

The last five sessions of the debate have been held at this place in the open air on the playground of the school house. The crowds attending the entire series of debates have been immense and the interest intense. Last night Smith opened the discussion by attacking the second of the above propositions.

Rotten Eggs Are Thrown He had spoken but 45 minutes, attempting to show that the present economic system, by recognizing in private individual and corporations the right to own and operate for private benefit the means of life on which the whole people depend, naturally, logically and inevitably leads to the pauperizing of the masses and the concentration of the wealth of the nation in the hands of a few capitalists, when a shiver of stale eggs from the outer edge of the crowd came flying thick and fast at the speaker.

It happened that none of them struck him directly, though they struck the school house in the rear of the stand with such violence as to bespat the speaker as well as the clothing of quite a number of others, including several ladies, who were sitting near by.

Fortunately for Hamilton, who had never before failed to carry the seat, immediately behind the speaker's table on this particular night he having taken a seat off to the right of the speaker, some fifteen or twenty feet, there was no harm of any sort and where it must have been so dark as to render it practically impossible to take notes from the speech his opponent was delivering. This fortunate circumstance placed him out of all danger from the flying eggs.

Speaker Asks Leniency Excitement reigned for the moment and pandemonium was threatened, when Smith, who was as cool and deliberate as any judge, urged the people to be calm, quiet and unexcited, every self-respecting Democrat in the audience from all responsibility in the disgraceful affair. He expressed his regrets that the occurrence had taken place, because of the remark it would bring on the fair name of the community, made a plea in behalf of the deluded, misguided zealots who perpetrated the act, and urged that no indictments be brought against them by the grand jury. He then deliberately proceeded to finish his speech.

When his hour was up, Hamilton stepped to the stand with his hat in his hand and publicly declined to make any immediate reply to Smith's speech, but said he would do so later. He expressed no regrets, protest, denunciation or disparagement of the treatment which his friends had accorded his opponent.

Denial of Use of Grounds Smith announced that the discussion would be resumed tonight, but word came this afternoon that Hamilton will not be present, and the trustees have forbidden the use of the playground for the continuance of the meetings. The Socialists have made arrangements for Smith to continue speaking in the school house.

At the close of the session night before last seventeen applications were made for membership in the Socialist party, and it was announced that more are clamoring for admission and will be received right away.

Peerless One Begins to Hedge on Subject of the Anti-Injunction Plank—May Be Modified so as to Admit of Writs Without a Hearing, Is no Better than that of Republican Platform

Denver, Colo., July 7.—Bryan is feeling the bit which the conservatives are forcing into his mouth as the condition price of their backing in his coming race for the nomination, and has begun to hedge on his draft of the anti-injunction plank. In the latest statements from Lincoln, where the peerless one holds high state, it is announced that the plank may be modified with his consent so that injunctions may be issued without a hearing in cases "where irreparable injury might result to life or property from delay."

Same as G. O. P. Plank This, by the way, is the final wording of the useless plank which went into the G. O. P. platform. Bryan has one change in that feature, however. He asserts that such injunctions granted without a hearing being given the defense shall automatically dissolve "five days. This gives all the benefit of the present system of injunctions, as it only allows the defense, while suffering under the injunction, time to prepare its evidence for the hearing as to why the injunction should not be renewed."

With the option of this modification, and perhaps others, the plank will go before the committee on resolutions. This compromise made at the eleventh hour is with the hope that the platform will pass as smoothly through the convention as the G. O. P. platform did in Chicago. It is hoped that the plank to the eastern delegates, who, under the guidance of the same forces that supported Alton B. Parker, are opposed to any change in the present court practice, will find no objection to the insertion of the plank.

Labor Plan Impossible The executive board of the American Federation of Labor arrived here last night and will try to secure a plan for the convention. The absence of injunctions in strikes. This is regarded as an impossibility. Despite this the labor forces claim to be hopeful, they are bolstering these hopes with the idea that Bryan stands back of them, forgetting entirely the men back a Bryan who furnish the campaign funds.

Will Take Up Plank No business was acted. The council will meet to take up the anti-injunction plank and other platform matters, and will probably hold sessions Friday night. The history of the cause of the strike is being reviewed by the train they were welcomed by a large body of local labor men. They got into the city at about 10 o'clock and went to the Tremont by an enthusiastic crowd. Gompers, Mitchell, and Morrison went to the Albert Hall to meet the party and the whole party got into automobiles and went out for a spin, returning late.

FIVE LIVES ARE LOST IN A FLOOD AT LINCOLN, NEB. Lincoln, Neb., July 7.—Lincoln yesterday experienced what was probably the worst flood in its history. The known loss of five lives and possibly two of six minor injuries to several, a property loss which cannot yet be estimated, an almost total suspension of railroad traffic to and from the city, and misery to hundreds of families, who have been driven from their homes and are sheltered in public buildings and private residences.

John Nelson was drowned while trying to rescue a child. Three children of Henry And and three of his wife were rescued after being rescued from their flooded home. Mrs. Schuster died from fright and exposure.

Three of his largest companies in the northwest are against the strikers. These are the Big Blackfoot Milling company, the Western Lumber company and the Mann Lumber company.

AUSTRIAN LABOR GROWTH RAPID

Socialist Principles of Great Help in Union Organization

BY F. B. ASKEW (Special European Correspondent.) Stuttgart, June 24.—The Austrian trade unions have had a most welcome and rapid progress in the last few years as the following figures will show:

Table with 4 columns: Year, Male members, Female members, Total members. Data for years 1922-1929.

Socialist Principles Aid

When we remember the close connections between the trade unions and the Social Democratic party in Germany we shall see that instead of hurting the trade union the recognition of the trade union recognition of Socialist principles has been of the greatest service to them in their trade union work.

About 22 1/2 per cent of the industrial population is said officially by the government to be organized in the trade unions. In Vienna 33.64 per cent of the workers are organized in the unions.

Conditions in Belgium The Belgian trade unions have of late made a great spurt forward. Formerly they had for the most part small local unions in their trade union work.

Among those which have recently held their annual conferences have been the federations of the builders, woodworkers, bookbinders, metal workers, lithographic workers, cigar workers, stove workers and printers.

The builders have grown from 1,430 members in 1926 to 4,779 in 1929—certainly a small proportion of the close to 100,000 workers of this trade in Belgium.

There was a long discussion on the proposal to raise the subscription, which was at length agreed to. The woodworkers also raised their subscription.

The metal workers have 15,000 members. The bookbinders have 1,130 members. In most of the conferences the Communist trade unions were held up as models.

A Peaceful Body A curious document is a leading article in the official organ of the German government on the misunderstandings, of which they are the victims, as well as the misrepresentations. According to this document there is no more innocent, peaceful body of men in the world than the Prussian majority.

Our Prussian comrades will now be represented in their reactionary landtag by six representatives, including Karl Liebknecht. There is no doubt that the presence of these representatives of the Social Democracy will have a very useful effect on the policy of the Prussian government at least in preventing many reactionary measures.

Data on Woodworkers The woodworkers' federation has recently shown some very instructive figures on the earnings and conditions of labor in their trade in Germany.

Unveiled Motteler Monument To our friend, the red postmaster, Julius Motteler, was unveiled at Leipzig this week a monument in the presence of his widow, well known by many of the veterans of the party from the days of the Zurich and the London exile as Tante Motteler (Motteler), when she and her husband, known as Uncle Julius, kept open house for the members of the party who were obliged to come to Zurich and London for one cause or another.

Bornstein on this occasion made an eloquent speech in memory of his old comrade in arms, with whom he shared the honor for many years of a special classification in the records of the German police as dangerous enemies of the fatherland of the Hohenzollern dynasty.

Bornstein also spoke in the name of the party their special thanks to Frau Motteler for the many services she had rendered as well as their sympathy at her loss.

RESURE PEACE IN PARAGUAY

Country in Good Order Since Overthrow of the Government

Buenos Aires, July 7.—According to dispatches received here complete order now prevails in Paraguay. President Ferreira still remains at the government palace, but all the ministers and the chief of police, continue to find refuge in the Argentine legation. The provisional revolutionary government has been consolidated and permanent appointments made.

It is stated that in the fighting the revolutionists lost 150 killed or wounded. The government cruiser Libertad was disabled by the artillery fire and compelled to withdraw.

EX-JUDGE IS SENT TO PRISON

Abner Smith, former judge of the Circuit court, and Gustav F. Sorrow must go to the penitentiary and pay a fine of $1,000 each, Justice Holcomb Adams and Brown, sitting in the Appellate court, declare in an opinion filed today. The reviewing court finds no reason for setting aside the judgment of the Criminal court in which the men, with Jerome V. Pierce, were tried and found guilty on indictments charging them with conspiracy to obtain money and property by false pretenses, following the failure of the Bank of America.

The bank of America was opened Dec. 4, 1905, by Abner Smith, Gustav F. Sorrow, Jerome V. Pierce and Frank E. Creelman. Feb. 14, 1906, a run was made on the bank and the clearing-house committee refused to allow it to continue business.

At this stage the diplomatic corps offered its friendly offices to effect an arrangement between the opposing factions.

Americans as Mediators Edward C. O'Brien, the American minister, accompanied by Harry R. Owens Jr., secretary of the American legation, were selected to represent the insurgents, and they were met by a fire from the government building and communicated to the president the conditions imposed by the successful revolutionaries.

The included the resignation of Gen. Ferreira and the assumption of the presidency by Emiliano Gonzalez Navero, vice president. The revolutionary committee guaranteed the lives of all the government supporters.

April 27, 1906, Messrs. Smith, Sorrow, Pierce and Creelman were indicted on charges of conspiracy to obtain money and other property by false pretenses. The trial followed occupied five weeks and Smith and Sorrow were found guilty, fined $1,000 and sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary. Pierce was found guilty and fined $500, which he subsequently paid. Creelman was found not guilty and Smith's Sorrow sued out a writ of error to the Appellate court following the judgment July 31 that they were guilty.

The book makes good propaganda.

"NO BUSINESS" IS LONDON CRY

London, July 7.—No business! No business! No business! is the cry all around the stock exchange, and the depression has been all the more pronounced as the week before last closed with the cheer, expectation that the advent of July would see the public coming along with the dividend money it had gathered in to invest in good securities.

A slight rally in British funds and an advance in Grand Trunk are the only two features that stand out in what has been an exceptionally dull week.

That there has been plenty of money about is evidenced by the manner in which the new issues have been received.

N. Y. SOCIALISTS BEGIN SESSION

New York, July 5.—The Socialist Party's state convention convened at the Labor Temple on East Eighty-fourth street to receive the ticket in the field at the next election.

John Spargo was chairman of the convention, in which over 100 delegates from the various districts of the state were present.

Bornstein also spoke in the name of the party their special thanks to Frau Motteler for the many services she had rendered as well as their sympathy at her loss.

None of the seven candidates for Illinois state secretary of the Socialist Party received a majority of the first round votes cast and a second election was ordered, the returns to be in by July 20. This is in keeping with a previous decision on motion.

J. O. Bental received the highest number of votes and Samuel Block the next highest. These two will be the candidates in the second election. The vote was as follows: J. O. Bental, 113; Samuel Block, 234; Walter Dillon, 113; John H. Hanson, 54; John Rosenkrantz, 27; Guy Underwood, 25; Max Walden, 74. Necessary for a caucus, 504 votes.

R. Beryl, John Collins, M. W. Stedman, 73; John Collins, 72; A. M. Lewis, 66; Thomas J. Morgan, 63; R. Corbould, 56; W. Hardy, 25.

MILKERS STRIKE IN ALABAMA

Difficulty Experienced in Securing Jury; Court Seems Prejudiced

Birmingham, Ala., July 7.—A strike has been called by the milk workers of Alabama, only two small commercial code companies having signed the wage contract offered by the miners at 55 cents a ton. The Alabama district organization, United Milk Workers of America, yesterday sent out an appeal calling on milk workers in Alabama to cease work and make a supreme effort to organize the state.

Upon you will depend the success of this movement. If you respond to this call the United Milk Workers of America will assist you in your efforts to establish the organization in your state. If you are unwilling to help yourselves, it will be useless for the United Milk Workers of America to make an attempt to render any assistance. If you approve of this movement, if you are sincere in your desire to become organized, if you want an increase in wages, if you will do your part to bring about these conditions, then you should lay down tools on and after July 6, 1930.

PEARY STARTS FOR THE POLE

New York, July 7.—With only a minimum amount of supplies and equipment, Commander Peary's exploring ship, the Roosevelt, left the pier at East Twenty-fourth street for the initial stage of her journey toward the north pole. Over $100,000 is still lacking in the estimate the explorer made some time ago of the smallest amount of money necessary for another attempt to place the American flag over the geographical point never reached by human beings.

"I haven't the supplies and equipment I would like to have," declared Commander Peary last night. "But still I think we will be able to get through. With my experience and knowledge of the country up there, I think the expedition is prepared for three years in the arctic regions, if conditions are favorable and I have no bad luck. I will, of course, have to depend upon getting a good amount of wild game for food, which would not be so dependent upon if I could obtain all the provisions I expected to have."

State Springs a Coup The state sought to begin the hearing of the evidence as soon as possible by agreeing to accept the eleven men remaining in the jury box from the day before. The defense challenged the whole panel, but its motion was overruled and an exception taken. Several of the eleven men were challenged by the defense on its right of preemptory challenge.

Only fifteen men are left out of the eighty-two called and another thirty names were drawn from the box. Court then adjourned to give the sheriff time to summon the men.

STEVE ADAMS' TRIAL DRAGS

Difficulty Experienced in Securing Jury; Court Seems Prejudiced

Grand Junction, Colo., July 7.—The trial of Steve Adams, being further delayed by the difficulty in getting jurors, was enlivened by the motion filed by Judge Hilton, counsel for the defense, stating that Steve Adams has not the necessary money to secure the attendance of the witnesses for his defense and asking that the state subpoena them. This motion was taken under advisement.

Admiralty was also filed by the defense charging that the selection of the men to fill the first panel of jurors had not been legal, because the defense had not received the list of names of the men drawn nor had the required five days' notice been given to those called to serve as jurors.

PEARLY STARTS FOR THE POLE

New York, July 7.—With only a minimum amount of supplies and equipment, Commander Peary's exploring ship, the Roosevelt, left the pier at East Twenty-fourth street for the initial stage of her journey toward the north pole. Over $100,000 is still lacking in the estimate the explorer made some time ago of the smallest amount of money necessary for another attempt to place the American flag over the geographical point never reached by human beings.

"I haven't the supplies and equipment I would like to have," declared Commander Peary last night. "But still I think we will be able to get through. With my experience and knowledge of the country up there, I think the expedition is prepared for three years in the arctic regions, if conditions are favorable and I have no bad luck. I will, of course, have to depend upon getting a good amount of wild game for food, which would not be so dependent upon if I could obtain all the provisions I expected to have."

State Springs a Coup The state sought to begin the hearing of the evidence as soon as possible by agreeing to accept the eleven men remaining in the jury box from the day before. The defense challenged the whole panel, but its motion was overruled and an exception taken. Several of the eleven men were challenged by the defense on its right of preemptory challenge.

Only fifteen men are left out of the eighty-two called and another thirty names were drawn from the box. Court then adjourned to give the sheriff time to summon the men.

STEVE ADAMS' TRIAL DRAGS

Difficulty Experienced in Securing Jury; Court Seems Prejudiced

Grand Junction, Colo., July 7.—The trial of Steve Adams, being further delayed by the difficulty in getting jurors, was enlivened by the motion filed by Judge Hilton, counsel for the defense, stating that Steve Adams has not the necessary money to secure the attendance of the witnesses for his defense and asking that the state subpoena them. This motion was taken under advisement.

Admiralty was also filed by the defense charging that the selection of the men to fill the first panel of jurors had not been legal, because the defense had not received the list of names of the men drawn nor had the required five days' notice been given to those called to serve as jurors.

READY TO PLEAD FOR SUFFRAGE

TO BACKDOWN OR FACE STRIKE

East St. Louis Car Men Resent Breaking of the Agreement

(Special to the Daily Socialist.) East St. Louis, Ill., July 6.—Nothing but a backdown by the East St. Louis & Suburban Railway company can avert a strike of its 400 employees.

The company has taken advantage of the panic to violate union agreements. A new superintendent, in order to curry favor with his employers, discharged a hearing before the grievance committee, as provided for in the agreement recently signed by the union and the company.

A Meeting is called—A meeting of the local was held to take up the matter, and R. R. Allridge, president of the local, Charles White, L. E. Modlin, Dr. Howard Lindsay, of the local executive board and C. O. Price, of the general executive board spoke.

The speakers contended that the action of the company was taken with a view to injuring the union. By a vote of 10 to 2, the membership unanimously sustained the executive committee, which advised that the company be forced to live up to its agreement or face a strike.

Red Volunteers Services—The local would send to the daily list of Red volunteers for the relief of the company. Dr. Lindsay, formerly in the employ of the company, but who was discharged as being an "anarchist," has volunteered his services free to the men and their families during the strike, if it is called.

THE HUSTLERS' COLUMN

YOU ARE NEEDED THIS WEEK—While the workers are keeping up a steady fire of subscriptions that, with a little additional energy, will place the Daily Socialist on firm ground there is especial need for urgent action this week.

A large number of accumulated bills, that should have been paid during the two weeks after the convention, when we all nearly killed our paper by taking a vacation, are now pressing for payment and cannot be longer delayed.

A large number of accumulated bills that should have been secured this week. This means nothing more than the very slightest increase of effort from ALL. We had occasion to "call the roll" of the Hustlers last week, and we were more than surprised to see how they have grown.

There are four ways in which these workers can help this week. Choose which one is best for you, but CHOOSE ONE OF THEM AND DO SOMETHING AT ONCE.

FIRST—Take one of those hundred dollar first mortgage notes. That will enable us to meet a note of an equal amount that is due and has been called for.

Second—Make your contribution to the National campaign fund through the Daily Socialist this week. The paper and the party both need money now, and the quicker your money is put at work the more it will do.

THIRD—Purchase five dollars' worth of subscription cards. For that sum you get six dollars' worth of subscriptions at the PRESENT RATE. In two weeks these will be worth NINE DOLLARS and can be sold for that. YOU WILL NEVER HAVE ANOTHER CHANCE TO BUY DAILY SOCIALIST CARDS AT THIS RATE.

FOURTH—Get at least one subscriber today. Not one of the seven thousand Hustlers but can do this. So can ten times as many more who will read this.

ONE of these things EACH ONE can do. If each one does do something this week the paper will not need to have one of those desperate struggles that sap the life of everyone connected with it, but will push on into the campaign in a shape to deal the blows for Socialism of which it is capable.

FLEET IS READY FOR THE ORIENT HELL FOR IDLE

(Special to the Daily Socialist.) Los Angeles, Cal., July 7.—If you are out of a job and have to play the part of a hobo, stay as far as possible away from Los Angeles, for the Los Angeles police station is the worst "booby hatch" in the west. At least that is what the members of the unemployed army would tell you.

Police officials in this city are playing their parts in keeping the streets free from "vags," and they have been pretty successful. There are not many unemployed beggars for the necessities of life, for if they do they won't last long in the free and open air of this beautiful climate.

Idle Suffer the Most—The readers of the Daily Socialist have already heard a great deal about the fight for free speech and about the arrests of Socialists in Los Angeles because they insist upon their constitutional right, extending all the way to the fight, these propagators of Socialism have been compelled to remain in the beastly cages of the city lockup. They have been suffering, but have rather enjoyed it. It is the unfortunate "vag" who is suffering the worst. It is the man out of work—the man without "visible means of support"—who is suffering in the reality of misery.

Stone-Pile Sentences—After a breakfast, consisting of much-waited black coffee and awful cornmeal mush, eaten from a dirty table and dirty tin dishes, these men are taken into another "bull-pen," and shortly afterward are led, single file, into the police court. Ten days, twenty days, thirty days, maybe forty days, on the stone pile, with fearfully bad food and bad treatment from trustees or guards is the sentence the "vags" get.

The Chicago Daily Socialist wishes to announce that its book department will be open for business on Sunday hereafter between the hours of 9 and 5.

'The Hit of the Convention'—KARL MARX RED FLAG PINS—Price 25 Cents—This is an exact duplicate of the Socialist pin worn for years by Karl Marx, and now in the possession of Captain French. It was given by Marx to Engels; by Engels to John Spargo; and by Spargo to Comrade French.

Have you seen it yet? The international emblem of the social revolution—the red flag—in a beautiful electro gold plate and enamel pin. We took five hundred with us to the Convention. We had to telegraph back on the fourth day for 500 more, and have now placed an order for several thousand.

The original price was 35c each, but we are now able to make the following prices. Each pin mounted on neat card, giving history of the pin worn by Karl Marx, of which this is an exact duplicate. THESE PINS WILL SELF-FASTER THAN ANY SOCIALIST EMBLEM SO FAR DESIGNED.

For Universal Suffrage

This country is commonly spoken of as being ruled by universal suffrage. Yet in nearly every state one-half the adult population is disfranchised. So long as this is true there can be no democracy...

"RETURNED WITH THANKS"

One of those striking peculiarities among the Chinese is the manner in which an editor rejects a manuscript. Instead of using the perfunctory slip beginning with "We regret that..." and terminating with "Rejection does not imply lack of merit..." the Chinese declares, quite the contrary, that the manuscript is the most marvelous product of literary genius the world has ever seen...

The Honorable James Schoolcraft Sherman

On nearly every presidential ticket of recent years you will find one man to appeal to the mob; another to serve "the interests." The politicians always manage to have someone on the ticket who they believe can get sufficient votes to pull through the corporation candidates. Examine carefully the list of nominees of the Democratic and Republican parties and you will find that for every candidate who pretends to represent the people there are ten candidates zealously serving the interests.

PUBLIC OPINION

Three tailors of Fleet street once assembled and issued a manifesto beginning, "We, the people of England." That is about as much authority as the average opinion labeled "public" possesses. Public opinion, as it usually stalks, is the opinion of some one about the public, not the opinion of the public about something...

For the moment the cause of woman suffrage looked discouraging. But the new conditions, which shook off some sentimental friends, added a host of active fighters. The cause of woman has now become the cause of Labor. Henceforth the fight will be along class lines. It will be a fight by the whole working class, men and women, for the added power which will be given by VOTES TO WORKING WOMEN.

Get Ready for the Love Feast

For the last six months William R. Hearst has been caricaturing and denouncing Bryan and the Democratic party. He has accused them, and justly, of being tools of a gang of as disreputable politicians as ever clung to capitalist carrion. But election is drawing near. The spoils of office are in sight. Hearst's Independence League, which was never more than a shadow of his check book, has almost entirely disappeared.

They Know Their Friends

When over 200 delegates of the Socialist Party met in Chicago the capitalist press of the country united in an effort to belittle and suppress its proceedings. But when twenty-three delegates of a moribund political sect, which may be used to disrupt working class solidarity, met in New York last week, they received columns of notice. Their strength was purposely exaggerated exactly as the strength of the party which was really feared was purposely minimized.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Where Is a Woman Safe?

She was a pale, delicate girl, whose work and experiences had caused her to hold herself aloof from strangers. By some circumstance we dropped our mutual antipathy to each other and became friendly. One day while discussing the outlook for girls to overcome the evils constantly besetting them, I remarked that office work was the most degrading work for a young woman and that no girl of mine should ever experience the contemptible features with which I was familiar...

Prolo's Phillipics

It makes me sad, and 'm almost mad, As I walk with the idle throng; For I feel that hell has cast a spell Over hearts that once were strong. This search for bread fills the soul with dread. Once again we are like the beast, Like primeval man, with no other plan Than to fight for a chance to feast.

For Home Dressmakers

PARSLEY will give the peas a delightful flavor and the dish will be found unusually palatable. TOMATOES WITH WHITE SAUCE. An old and very successful entrée served recently at a house party dinner was concocted from medium-sized, whole tomatoes, peeled, of course, and stuffed with a finely mixed mixture of nut meats, chives and celery, moistened with a little French dressing. Over all was poured what appeared to be the accustomed mayonnaise, but which proved to be a very rich, piping hot, white sauce, thickened with egg and containing a suspension of onion. One tomato was served on a diamond of toast to each guest.

PEAS WITH PARSLEY SAUCE. A pleasant variety in serving peas will be found in adding a parsley sauce. To half a peck of peas add several sprigs of chopped parsley and boil as usual. Drain the peas are thoroughly cooked. Strain off the liquid, of which there should be two cups. To this add a little cream, butter, salt and pepper. The

MAY YOU LIVE

"May you live all the days of your life," said Dean Swift, and the great wit and satirist was credited with one more bon mot from his keen intellect, which struck off brilliant sparks from flint. But let us look at this little pleasant out of serious minds and see what we find in it. It will be more, perhaps, than the author saw in it himself, but had he been a Socialist of today we fancy he would have seen below the surface a vision which would have tinged the jest with sadness. What is it to "live all the days of your life"? It is to spend all the days in labor, creating wealth which is drained away from you, working in poverty and enjoying nothing while the wealth you create is enjoyed by others? Those who enjoy it at your expense would have you think that "man wants but little here below, nor wants that little long." They teach you that happiness cannot be bought with wealth while multitudes of your children are dying for want of proper food and care, for want of fresh air and sanitary homes, for want of heat in winter and ice in summer, while consumption still remains the scourge of poverty. Socialism teaches that this existence of the working class is not living. It is existing and working simply that others may live all the days of their lives. Begging for a job and starving when there is none to be had is not living. Depending upon some one else for a chance to earn your bread, a chance which may be taken away at any time, is not living. Practicing enforced economy and denying yourselves all that is best in life is not living. It is often the case that even those who gain a fortune or a competence do not live all the days of their lives, for the larger part of life is consumed and wasted in the struggle, and only a fraction is left to really live, and this fraction can be but poorly employed because of lack of early education, fixed habits which cannot be overcome, and the dulled intellect which cannot be renewed. Nor can those multitudes really live who waste their lives in the competitive struggle to make a living from profits without ever knowing the satisfaction of useful effort, which adds to the sum of human happiness. Only false education, teaching wrong ideals, could keep people at all satisfied with such a waste of life. As surely as one learns what it means to live, so surely will he become a Socialist, working for the day when fullness of life will be possible to all.

TO THE EDITOR

OPPOSES ARTICLE. I kindly request space in the Daily for the purpose of opposing the adoption of Article 15, the last article in the new constitution adopted by the National Convention and now being submitted for approval by the membership of the Socialist Party. The article I refer to reads as follows: "This constitution shall take effect and be in force on the first day of January after the time of its approval by national referendum of the party membership." I am opposed to this article because Articles 4 and 5 also of the new constitution, provide for the election of the national executive committee and a national secretary for a term of two years and that such elections shall take place in "even numbered years." If Article 15 is adopted it will mean that the present national executive committee and national secretary will hold office until Jan. 1, 1910. If the majority of the membership votes against this article it will prevent the old article from being amended, which says that the constitution goes into effect after its approval by the party membership referendum and the national committee may then elect the national executive committee this coming November. HE GOT A HEN

Once on a time, runs a modern fable which appears in the Philadelphia Ledger, a youth about to embark on the sea of matrimony went to his father and said: "Father, who should be boss, I or my wife?" The old man smiled and said: "Here are one hundred hens and a team of horses. Hitch up the horses, load the hens into the wagon, and wherever you find a man and his wife dwelling, stop and make inquiry as to who is boss. Whenever you find a woman running things leave a hen. If you come to a place where a man is in control give him one of the horses." After seventy-nine hens had been disposed of he came to a house and made the usual inquiry. "I'm boss of this ranch," said the man. So the wife was called and she affirmed the husband's assertion. "Take whichever horse you want," was the boy's reply. So the husband replied: "I'll take the best."

THERE WERE BOARDERS

A young woman recently answered an advertisement for a handy girl, and the lady of the house seemed pleased with her. But before engaging there were some questions to ask. "Suppose," said the lady, "now, only suppose, understand, that you were carrying a piece of steak from the kitchen and by accident should let it slip from the plate to the floor, what would you do in such a case?" The girl looked the lady square in the eyes for a moment before asking: "Is it a private family or are there boarders?" "There are boarders," answered the lady. "Pick it up and put it back on the plate," replied the girl. She was engaged.

A FEAT

"Don't you imagine it possible for a same to go through the eye of a needle?" asked the piano salesman. "Oh, I wouldn't be surprised. You know how large my wife is?" "Yes." "Well, she goes through my pockets regularly."

VERY PRACTICAL

"What would you do, dear, if I were to die?" asked Mrs. Darley fondly. "I don't know," replied Darley thoughtfully. "Which is your choice, burial or cremation?" "It's a pathetic thing to say, but I ever put money into that way, I went up in the air was a new patent aeroplane."

TOO WELL FOUNDED

"It's a pathetic thing to say, but I ever put money into that way, I went up in the air was a new patent aeroplane."

OLD-FASHIONED HAND PRESS

Nobody else around the newspaper office appreciates the power of the press so much as the green office boy does when he gets his fingers squeezed in one.
