

TRIBUNE SEES A SOCIALIST VICTORY
Raymond, Veteran Political Writer Predicts Million Votes for Party
IS BASED ON G. O. P. POLL
Draws Comfort for Republicans in Hope Debs Will Take Democratic Votes

The Democratic and Republican parties have completed their poll books, showing how the voters are going to cast their ballots, and the result has been such as to cause a veritable shudder at the indications of an enormous Socialist vote.

Raymond, the veteran political writer of the Chicago Tribune, appears in print this morning with a long article in which he calls attention to "what may be expected of the Socialists, predicting several times in the course of his article that Debs will poll a million votes."

Raymond directly insults the intelligence of those workmen who have become class conscious and joined the Socialist party by saying that the growth of Socialist sentiment is spreading among the farmers, but it is growing exceedingly slowly among the common laborers and those with foreign training.

Raymond, in writing to the Tribune from Indianapolis, says in part: "Unless all signs fail, and unless the reports presented by political workers on both sides are entirely misleading, we must look for a large increase in the Socialist vote next month. There has been a building up of this independent vote to the exclusion of the Hearst element."

"A spirit of radicalism which has been abroad in the land has been seized upon by the Socialist advocates, and the result is a growing sentiment among the more radical of the laboring men, and generally, it must be said, among the more ignorant, that both of the two great parties are dominated by the hard 'capitalists,' which term is generally intended to mean in Socialist parlance almost every one who has any money."

W. H. TAFT TELLS WHAT A GOOD FRIEND HE IS TO THE NEGRO
Whelan, W. Va., Oct. 15.—"Injunction Bill" Taft, called by his friends William Howard Taft, author of "God Knows," is trying to lay the ghost of Brownsville and his labor injunction record at the same time. At Wheeling he told what a lover of a laborer he really is and asserted that the way he has used to show his love is the only way. Then at Cadiz, O. near here, where his train was delayed, he attempted to make the colored voters forget Brownsville, the memory of which he interpreted as freely as that of the party and the candidate toward labor, and I find no reason for the belief that labor will divide other than on the lines

ICE WAGON DRIVERS TO WEL WOME WINTER AT BALL
Chicago Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers' union, local 702, of the United Teamsters of America, will celebrate the close of the 1908 "ice season" with a reception and ball at the big Coliseum, Saturday evening, October 31.

This is the eighth annual ball of this local, and Secretary Charles G. Sagerstrom declares that this, like most of the others, must outdo the preceding one. He says the local is spending more than $2,000 this year to make it a success.

The local began in July to make preparations for this event, and to have this reception and ball the members voted to increase the dues of each member to $1.75 for the month of August, giving each member three tickets to sell, which, should he succeed in doing so, would make his dues but 25 cents for the month.

The Second Regiment armory was given up on account of a lack of room and arrangements were made for the main hall of the Coliseum as well as the lower floor of the annex, and the local officials declare that both will be packed.

The profits of these entertainments are always turned into the treasury of the local, and it is said the former events have always netted the union from $1,350 to $2,500, one year exceeding the latter amount.

The books of the local show that for the quarter of July, August, and September it had a membership of nearly 2,000. About the latter part of September, however, the membership begins to show a decrease, on account of the ice wagon drivers taking up their work for the winter.

HUNGER TO VOTE FOR SOCIALISM
Three Stock Yard Precincts Will Cast 94 for Socialism; 13 Last Time

THIRTIETH WARD, 1906, 1908. Eighth precinct 41 41 Ninth precinct 13 13 Tenth precinct 40 40

The above table, compiled by a Republican precinct captain who is taking an advance poll of the Thirtieth ward for his superiors reveals a situation which has scared the old party organization in the stock yards district out of their wits.

The Republican precinct captain has been commissioned to visit every house and every flat in the ward and poll the houses to get an advance idea of the vote. He began with the eighth precinct and was astounded to find the Socialist vote almost the equal of the Democratic and pushing the Republican vote hard. The Socialists had one vote two years ago in this precinct and they have 41 now. The captain took consolation to himself because the machinery planted himself in the eighth precinct had been closed down for some time, and thought that Socialism might be only temporary, owing to a "grouch" of the workers who were out of a job. He soothed himself with the prediction that the ninth precinct would make a better showing.

Was Nine; Now Thirty-Eight
He remembered that the ninth had been one of the Socialist strongholds, but many of the men had been assured him of their Republicanism a few weeks ago, in the hope of "picking up a nickel" around primary time. The ninth precinct had cast nine Socialist votes two years ago. The sweating precinct captain plowed his way through the precinct and when he sat down to figure up results he found that 38 voters, all registered at the first registration, were ready to vote for Debs and Hanford and all the rest of the Socialist ticket.

Seventy-nine votes this year where the captain noted that the Socialist vote had grown from 13 to 41 in two years. He plaintively asked one of those who had declared his intention of voting for Debs what was the matter with the Thirtieth. "We've been pretty hungry down here, with the boiling works closed, the brewery burned down and the iron and wagon works shut down for eight months," was the reply. "You've got to show something to the Thirtieth. I did not tell of the vote is for Socialism down here this year. You just keep your eyes on the old Thirtieth and all the rest of the stock yards, this November and you will see hunger doing some voting."

"Ward Gone to Blazes!"
"Looks like it," said the precinct captain, disconsolately, as he went away to report to Lorimer that the Thirtieth had "gone to blazes."

AERONAUTS FALL INTO NORTH SEA
Cuxhaven, Germany, Oct. 15.—The Spanish balloon Castilla, one of the three missing contestants in the race for the international cup, if it was started from Berlin Sunday, dropped into the North sea six miles north of Helgoland this morning. A fishing boat was in sight and sent out a small boat to the rescue. Montoro, the pilot, and his assistant, Roberto, were picked up and taken back to the fishing craft. Later in the day they were landed here.

Two Are Still Missing
Berlin, Germany, Oct. 15.—No news yet has been received of the two missing contestants in the balloon race for the international cup, which started from Berlin Sunday. These airmen are the Busley, German, and the Helvetia, Swiss. It is now three days since they sailed away. It is hoped that these airmen escaped the changeable lower currents and succeeded at higher altitudes in reaching Russia. A report received here from Wangerow island in the North sea says a balloon passed over there yesterday.

WILSON GREETED BY FULL HALL AT ARKANSAS CITY
(SPECIAL TO THE DAILY SOCIALIST)
ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Oct. 15.—(Rev. J. Stitt Wilson addressed an audience here which tested the capacity of the hall and was made up of earnest men and women, many of whom are working in the Socialist movement and who by frequent applause attested the earnestness of their sentiments. He drew his inspiration from the auspicious Democratic rally which was held at the same time.

This was Wilson's first appearance in Arkansas City, though his brother, Ben F. Wilson of Clinton, who is the party nominee for congress in this district, has frequently been here in the past few years and is well known.

J. B. Chapman acted as chairman of the meeting and briefly introduced the speaker, referring to the fact that the Socialist movement is worldwide and that the party now has ten million voters in the various nations of the world.

ROOSEVELT TAKES OUTING TO TRY GUNS FOR HUNT
Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.—President Roosevelt took to the woods Tuesday, accompanied by his military aid, Capt. Archibald Williamson Butt, to try out one or two guns that have been offered to the president for his African hunting trip.

It was reported at first that Capt. Butt had spirited the president away to the country home of one of the officer's southern friends for a luncheon of corn pone and other Virginia delicacies. But yesterday it was learned that they looked for squirrels in Woodley forest and found and shot at a few birds.

The president had an opportunity to form an opinion as to the comparative merits of his fowling pieces.

DEMOCRATS GIVE GOMPERS SLAP
Lobbying of Labor Leader Against Alabama Anti-Boycott Bill Failed
(SPECIAL TO THE DAILY SOCIALIST)
Ensley, Ala., Oct. 15.—Samuel Gompers has not always been a friend to the Democrats, or, at least, the treatment which he received from them in this state once would make it appear that he could not hold a considerable amount of friendship for that party.

Gompers Sent Lobbyists
At the time the Citizens' alliance framed an anti-boycott bill Gompers sent lobbyists to the state capital to work against it. The bill was passed, however, and the labor lobbyists reported that there was no possibility of stopping the bill from becoming a law.

EAST IS WILD FOR SOCIALISM
John C. Chase Gives Vivid Picture of Enthusiasm Seen on Debs' Tour

Almost worn out, but full of enthusiasm, John C. Chase, former Socialist mayor of Haverhill, Mass., arrived in Chicago yesterday from his trip on the "Red Special." Chase accompanied the "Special" as one of the speakers as far as Buffalo and then went ahead as advance agent for the meetings, which were so large that this was necessary.

"Never saw anything like it," said Chase referring to the meetings he had addressed and seen. "I don't wonder that speakers and organizers come back predicting a million votes or more. The crowd that lived on the streets and rode on Debs, and the 'Red Special' and Socialism are enough to make any man predict great things at the polls next November. Take, for instance, the Luree meetings in Philadelphia, where the police had to rope off the streets around the 'Red Special' and that was one of the biggest and most inspiring meetings I ever saw."

Crowds Shut Off Traffic
The first meeting was held in Kensington Labor Lyceum. The hall was jammed full and hundreds stood outside trying to catch every word Debs said. Then followed the banner meeting in the Central Labor Lyceum. Brown and Sixth streets, where enthusiasm was rampant. The hall was filled long before the meeting opened up and crowds began to gather outside, slowly filling the street in front of the Lyceum until traffic was shut off.

Debs Greeted with Boar
When Debs arrived at the Lyceum there was a roar. The crowds began to leave back and forth in an attempt to reach him. Fearing a delay and a demonstration that would exhaust Debs the committee took hold of him and led the gathering of workmen anxious to shake the Socialist presidential candidate by the hand. Debs was packed into an automobile and rushed to the rear of the Lyceum, where the crowd at the time was thinner. It is estimated that at least 12,500 people were sold at the meetings in Philadelphia.

Refuses to Forecast Vote
"Any man that goes out and sees enthusiasm for the cause," said Chase, "is not the proper person to give estimates. He has done his best to do ever before his eyes and he is likely to be swayed in his logic. All I have to say is that the 'Red Special' is not out for the actual vote. It is out to place Socialism before the people and allow them to be the judge. It has done its full duty in this respect and if the large increase that is expected at the coming election is not forthcoming, it will arrive later, after the people have had time to judge. The 'Red Special' is mainly an educator and only ultimately a vote maker."

ROOSEVELT WILL NOT AID POUREN
President Refuses to Accept Petitions Brought to Him by Walling
(SPECIAL TO THE DAILY SOCIALIST)
New York, Oct. 15.—At the special session of the executive committee of the Pouren Defense conference, a report was presented by William English Walling concerning the reception given by Roosevelt to the great petition which Walling brought to the White House asking that Pouren be not extradited.

PAPER PULP IS TO BE MADE OF CORNSTALKS; SOLVES PROBLEM
Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.—The chemists of the department of agriculture believe they have solved the problem of cheaper paper that will dispense altogether with the use of wood fiber. The new material from which five grades of paper already have been made is the ordinary cornstalk and the officials yesterday predicted when the manufacture of the new kind of paper is started on a large scale it will be at least 50 per cent cheaper than the print paper now made from wood pulp.

POODLE HAS TUTOR, MAID, BATH AND A SPECIAL MENU
New York, Oct. 15.—Nana, a French poodle, owned by Edward Ellsworth, a real estate operator now has more luxurious accommodations in the Plaza than have been provided for any other pet housed in the hotel since the opening of the establishment. A private room, a tub, a maid, a private bath and a special menu are among the items on the list of necessities of life provided for the dog yesterday.

Orders were given that nobody is to be permitted to enter the room in the basement near the power house assigned to Nana. In the room a bath tub, with a shower bath attachment, was placed for the use of the poodle.

A tutor engaged to teach Nana to perform tricks much more complicated than the ordinary roll over, play dead and jump through, which compose the repertory of less pampered dogs, spent an hour with Ellsworth's prize animal. A maid today took the poodle for the walk she is to have daily. The food which Nana ate was specially prepared in the servants' kitchen, where Nana has her own service of dishes, to be used by none of the other dogs in the hotel.

PITTSBURG 'SALOME' SALOMON, BUT WITH A SKIRT ON
Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 15.—Clad in tights, a long skirt, and tears, Blanche Deyo yesterday afternoon and evening went through the dance of Salome at the Duquesne theater.

In the wings was Chief of Police Thomas A. McQuade, who was under orders from Mayor Guthrie to see that Miss Deyo had enough clothes on and that she kept them on. Her covering was scanty Tuesday night, hence the order.

New York, Oct. 15.—Now that the New England trip is over, and it can be seen in connection with the work in other sections, there is no difference. On the whole, this old country is as ready to hear the Socialist message as is the fresh west.

NOTED EUROPEAN ARTISTS WON'T LAND ON THE 13TH
New York, Oct. 15.—The strenuous efforts of Capt. Pollock of the North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse to land his load of opera singers, conductors, pianists and actresses last night failed, because the superstition regarding the fatal 13th proved too strong and not one of the celebrities he had on board his ship would leave it until today.

Silent Enthusiasm
There were two bands in the procession, a fine local musical organization and the "Red Special" band, which was given only minor prominence by the head. The line was formed with its right ending in Temple street on "The Green" of Yale. The "Red Special" band marched up from the railway station, where it is always in place, the general marshals gave the command to march. The parade was a silent one, except for a cheer or a shout in all the blocks we marched through. It was the most impressive for this silent enthusiasm.

Down Trodden East Side of New York City Turns Out 30,000 Strong
FILL PARK AND SQUARE
Socialist Nominee Is Still Weak but Is Improving; Word From Hanford

(WORKERS' PRESS ASSOCIATION)
(New York's Last Edition.)
New York, Oct. 14.—The down-trodden east side of New York turned out yesterday afternoon 30,000 strong and gave a magnificent greeting to Eugene V. Debs. The thirty thousand gathered in Fish park and in Rutgers square.

The trip made by Debs caused the greatest demonstration in the history of the east side. The crowds on the streets were dense and thousands ran after the Socialist automobile that carried the nominee and his party.

Debs Is Improving
Debs is still in a weak condition, but is improving. His speeches yesterday were better than his previous ones, and the positive dictum of his personal manager during the tour, Stephen M. Reynolds.

Greatest Day in Ghetto
The police handled the masses, springing crowds well. They showed kindness and the people responded, so that no trouble whatever occurred. It was one of the greatest days in the history of the Ghetto.

Pass Pouren Resolutions
Mrs. J. W. Gates, a Socialist woman, who has a magnificent voice, sang songs of sympathy, and a resolution demanding the protection by the national government of Jan Pouren, the Russian revolutionary exile, whom the czar's government is trying to have deported, were unanimously passed.

Did Not Act as Individual
In the preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Shields a number of Russian refugees testified to the close relations which they had had with Pouren in the Baltic provinces. This evidence was offered to show that Pouren was acting as a part of the political organization, not as an individual.

Might Have Been Expected
Walling pointed out that the act might have been expected in view of the close relations existing between Roosevelt and Taft upon the one side and the Russian government and the American bond holders who have been financing the czar upon the other side.

Red torches made the course brilliant, the presence of women attracted the attention of thousands and the trade unions in line gave the procession strength.

FOLK SAYS HE NEVER SAID IT

Writes Daily Socialist He Did Not Abuse Party, as Reported in Papers

The desperate straits to which the capitalist press has been reduced to obtain bitter anti-Socialist news from prominent men is shown by the prompt denial made by Gov. Folk of Missouri of a speech attributed to him which went the rounds of the country and which was reprinted by the Daily Socialist from the columns of an exchange.

What the Story Said

The Chicago Daily Socialist had printed the story in the following fashion, under the head of "Folk, Democrat, Heaps Abuse on Socialists":

Socialist sympathizers who will see some hope of getting something through the Democratic Party, should consider that Governor Folk of Missouri, a Democratic leader, says of Socialists:

Governor Folk at one of his Chautauque addresses lately was requested by an inquirer to define "Socialist." That is easy, replied the governor. "But half a dozen definitions are more expressive than one: 'A Socialist is the one who loses in the competitive race for business and can't get a Socialist is the dreamer among practical men.' 'A Socialist is the man unable to rise to his selected ambition, and as a result determines to destroy it.' 'A Socialist, generally speaking, is an anti-theist always willing to embrace the ignorant foreigner for the foreigner can be still the Chicago-Averton ideal.' 'A Socialist, to be brief, is simply the un-American, the unpermissible and the impossible.' 'A Socialist is the man who is not a Governor Folk's Reply

A clipping of the above story was sent to Gov. Folk and he replied as follows: Office of the governor, state of Missouri, city of Jefferson, October 12, 1906.

Dear Sir—My attention has been called to the enclosed clipping, headed, "Folk, Democrat, Heaps Abuse on Socialists." I am quoted as expressing views in reference to Socialism that I never at any time expressed and never at any time had. Either the sentiments of some one else have been ascribed to me by mistake or the entire story is a fabrication. I am at no time or place have I said anything of the kind. I trust you will correct the misquotation. Yours truly, JOS. W. FOLK.

BODINE BACKS UP HIS REPORT

Makes New Census Which, Though Still Unfinished, Shows Much Hunger

"If any other city will undertake to make a canvass of the conditions among its school children it will find that in every great American city there are hungry school children in very like proportion to that in which they were found in Chicago."

Canvasses Fifty-Eight Schools This W. Lester Bodine commented on the fact that a new list strictly up to date from fifty-one public and seven private schools, which have so far reported to him, shows that in those schools there are 1,308 children who need immediate relief—1,308 habitually hungry children.

President Otto C. Schneider of the school board has caused the investigation and has caused letters in his name to be sent to the school principals and teachers instructing them to aid the truant officers in making a canvass of the schools.

Show Habitual Condition Bodine contends that the canvass when completed will show that the report of 6,000 habitually hungry and 10,000 underfed school children is right and that it shows a habitual condition.

THE HUSTLERS' COLUMN

WHAT THE SUBSCRIPTION HUSTLERS DID IN ONE DAY

New out-of-town subscribers 114 New city subscribers 10 Total for the day 124

WHAT DO YOU SAY TO THIS?

If you know how hard it was to find some new scheme every day whereby an effective plan could be suggested to the Hustlers which would enable them to aid the Daily in its fight for existence you would send in a suggestion once in a while.

Do you think you could get any small advertisements for the Daily in your town? See your merchant, your grocer and your butcher and tell him that a three-line ad in the Daily can be had for $3.00 a month.

Now get real busy, and see if you cannot send in at least an ad for $3.00. Put it up to the merchant straight, tell him that he owes you an ad, and he does if he is patronized by Socialists.

Any Hustler who sends in an ad will receive a prize. I am not going to tell you what the prize will be, but I am sure it will suit you, so appoint yourself an advertising solicitor, and let us see what the result will be.

It is no crime. Two mysterious individuals just came parading up to the Hustler Editor's desk and asked for seven copies of the Hustler's Column.

Here is a Hustler who says he does not belong to any local club, but that he is doing none the less for Socialism for that reason.

NOON MEETINGS A BIG SUCCESS

Factory Employees Prove Eager to Hear and Read About Socialism

The workmen of Chicago realize that something is wrong with the present system of society and that they have grown tired of waiting for the old political parties to furnish the remedy.

The workmen were seated along the fence, railroad tracks and the sidewalks, eating their lunches out of pails and packages, when the Socialists arrived with a stand and began speaking.

Whistle Breaks Meeting. But little time was allowed the speaker to talk in, however, for the men employed by McCormick, like those of the majority of factories, are allowed only one hour in which to eat their lunches.

Here is a Real Order. The "River Cross," "The Pilgrim's Shell," "The Green Leaf," "The Red Star" and "The Social" from the Book Department.

Seems to Be Worrying Them

The New World of Chicago is having plenty of trouble these days. It is posing as the great anti-Socialist organ of the Catholic church, and just now its editorial antics remind one very much of a hen on a hot griddle.

Almost the entire editorial page in its last issue is devoted to Socialism. There is a wall about the number of Socialist papers that its readers are sending to the editor, evidently with the idea that even the most ignorant may some time be taught something.

There is almost a full column of denunciation of the proposed feeding of school children, under the title "Wanted: Public Swill Troughs." The sufferings of the children are ridiculed with a coarseness that suggests that the editorial was written in close proximity to the hog-pen referred to in the title of the article.

After this it seems appropriate that the next column to this choice effusion should bear the title "What ails us, really?" and should be a long wall because Catholic papers are not so well supported as Socialist ones.

Listen to this from the camp of the enemy, concerning Socialism: "It is going forward with giant strides, and it is doing so because its promoters maintain such an indefatigable propaganda in the way of newspapers, pamphlets and such like."

The New World then goes on to complain of the energy and sacrifices with which Socialists are building up and maintaining their press, and also because Catholics do not show the same energy and sacrifice in supporting The New World.

There was a time when the church did not need to complain of lack of energy and sacrifice on the part of the working class. When it followed the red flag in the catacombs of Rome, and voiced the aspirations of the oppressed, its followers went willingly to the stake and the floor of the Coliseum to yield up their lives in its defense.

Perhaps, just perhaps, this change may account for the fact which The New World bemoans on this same editorial page, that "Socialism is becoming singularly effective in its appeal to Catholics."

They Fear Discussion

It has always been one of the regular amusements of Socialist speakers and candidates to challenge the representatives of the other political parties to debate. These challenges are never accepted save by some of the less important representatives of the capitalist parties.

In the same way the only political party that dares to open its meetings to criticism and questions is the Socialist party. To ask a question of a Democratic or Republican speaker is to invite an assault by the hired bullies who are always present for that purpose.

Because it is impossible to entirely suppress expressions of disagreement and inquiries at street meetings, no other party save the Socialist makes a practice of holding such meetings.

It was not always so. In the days when the Republican party, for example, really stood for something its champions, especially Abraham Lincoln, sought debates, invited questions and criticisms and expounded its doctrines in the open air.

At the present time, when all political parties save the Socialist depend upon deception for life, when they can only hold their following by keeping them in ignorance, all semblance of free discussion is avoided.

Why They Pay

It is a never-ending source of wonder to the writers for non-Socialist papers that men and women will pay money to hear a Socialist speech. This astonishment is especially marked where the same population has refused to attend meetings of other parties free of cost, or even when offered payment in the form of cheap vaudeville, cigars and drink.

This is no problem to the Socialist. He knows that when men and women are fighting their own battles they do not expect payment. When they are acting as hired Hessians for the enemy they must be paid for their work.

- Exceptional Instance: Gollifer-I've got to move my dwelling house a quarter of a mile or more. Have you any idea what it will cost me? Coach-It depends entirely on the mode of transportation and the difficulties in the way. I know a man in Jackson county, over in Missouri, who once had his house moved 300 miles by the simple process of building it a little too close to the banks of the Missouri river, and he didn't have to pay a cent for it.

- Dangerous: "Body Cracker?" "Yes'm," said the country storekeeper. "I got 'em. I'll send 'em up to you!" "Well," replied Mrs. Medders, "I did 'low to take 'em with me." "Yes'm, but you see, Bill Bruner he's a-dozin' on top of the bar's jest now an' he ain't in the best of humor to-day."-Philadelphia Press.

- Not Dangerous: Pat-I hear yer wife is sick, Mike? Mike-She is that. Pat-Is it dangerous? Mike-Divil a bit. She's too weak to be dangerous any more!-Sun.

ROOSEVELT JUNIOR STUDIES FLEEING

BY BEN HANFORD

Last week, at twenty-one years of age, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., went to work in a carpet factory. It is so unusual for the offspring of our paragon to do any useful work that an exception, as in the case of Young Roosevelt, is something more than a nine days' wonder.

I am no prophet, but in a short time I know that I shall read in the papers that Roosevelt has been promoted on account of his remarkable industry. Later I shall read that he has again been promoted on account of his remarkable efficiency.

The news dispatches tell us that young Roosevelt was set to work sorting fleeces, and that his intelligence and aptitude in judging wool were very noticeable. Observing workmen, however, will find that it is not sheep's wool that young Roosevelt was studying.

Judging him by his father, the art that young Roosevelt acquires will be, not how to sort sheep's wool, but how to pull the wool over the eyes of the working class.

He looked Jim over with a glance and asked him what was the matter, Jim told him.

The doctor looked profound; looked at Jim's chest, felt his pulse, poked at his tongue, took his temperature, examined his spittle and for a moment remained in deep thought.

Jim was thoroughly convinced by this time that there was something radically wrong with his system, so he patiently listened to what the physician had to say.

The doctor hesitated a moment and then said: "Owing to the lack of fresh air and good, healthy food and the conditions under which you labor you have contracted consumption."

factory carpetmakers. The owners of the factory will teach young Roosevelt how to prevent strikes in the factory; how to head off the formation of unions among the employees; how to employ spies to report the words of every man not "loyal" to the management; how to get rid of any employee who dares talk to his fellows of higher wages or shorter hours of labor.

No doubt, also, young Roosevelt's employers will recommend him for membership in the Citizens' Industrial Alliance and the Manufacturers' association, where he would be heartily welcomed by such ardent patriots as Van Cleave, Peabody, Gooding, Haskell, Farry, Post, and others of like fame-or infamy.

Having learned carpet-making as outlined above, and achieved a position as a Captain of Industry, we shall later hear of young Roosevelt as a candidate for office. He will tell us that he "used to be a workman," and that he believes in the "square deal" for labor.

In making the above prediction as to the career of young Roosevelt I run no hazard. If in his veins there is a single drop of his father's blood, such must be his course.

Every workman who wants his children to go to work in the factory at sixteen years of age or under should vote for Taft or Bryan.

Every workman who wants his children to be in the home and the school until they are twenty-one years of age or over, with the best possible opportunities for physical and mental development, should vote for Eugene V. Debs and the entire Socialist ticket.

April Fool Comes in November This Year

LET THE PEOPLE RULE

BY ROBERT HUNTER.

Before the Democratic convention met Mr. Bryan considered the advisability of adopting a slogan instead of a platform. He intended to put the slogan in a few words so that it could be printed on a postcard and sent to every voter in the country.

That war-cry was to have been "Let the peop... rule!" The scheme fell through, but Mr. Bryan puts forward that plea wherever he speaks.

Of course we all agree that the people should rule. No one, and especially no politician, will dare come out IN PUBLIC against that proposition.

But I would like to ask Mr. Bryan: Do the people rule in the Democratic party? Have the people anything to say about the selection of Democratic candidates? Did the people select the delegates to the Denver convention? And will the people be able to control any Democratic candidate when he is once in office?

Mr. Bryan knows that Murphy and Connors, that Tom Taggart and Roger Sullivan, and men of similar character, own the Democratic party in the various states. We all know that there is not a single candidate put up, a single bit of legislation passed, or a single public act taken, by the Democratic party in any state in which the Democratic party rules UNLESS THE DEMOCRATIC BOSS HAS GIVEN HIS APPROVAL.

Mr. Bryan knows this as well as anyone. He has twice been defeated by the bosses in his own political machine, and he will be defeated again by them in the next election.

And bosses who have power enough to defeat Mr. Bryan will have power enough to defeat any legislation that Mr. Bryan or his friends want passed.

Let the people rule. That is certainly THE great issue. But if they cannot rule the machinery of their own political parties, why shall they rule when they put these political parties into power?

Mr. Bryan states that the senators shall be elected directly by the people. Does he mean that Murphy and Taggart and Sullivan and men of that stripe shall select our senators?

He says the Democratic legislatures will pass the initiative and referendum. Well, why does not the Democratic party in its own political machinery establish the initiative and referendum?

He says that the Democratic party will pass labor legislation. Well, why under God's heavens does it not pass labor legislation in those states where it is now in power?

Let the people rule. If that were the issue in this campaign, and Mr. Bryan were the only candidate fighting for that proposition, he would be elected almost unanimously.

But he knows, and the people know, that IT IS NOT the issue. The issue is whether the Democratic machine or the Republican machine shall rule. The issue is between Murphy, Taggart, Ryan, Belmont and certain Democratic monopolists, as against Aldrich, Depew, Platt, Cannon and certain Republican monopolists.

No, Mr. Bryan, you have stated the issue, but you are not fighting upon that issue. And the people cannot decide that issue by voting either for you or for Mr. Taft.

Unfortunately to decide that issue means that the people themselves will have to get down to hard work. Some of them are now at work, and they are building up a party, democratically managed, democratically controlled, and democratically owned.

They are writing a new Declaration of Independence—Independence of all political bosses, whether in the Democratic party, the Republican party, or in any other boss-owned party.

They are buying their own press. They are subscribing their own campaign funds. They are employing their own officials and selecting their own candidates. They are establishing a democracy now in their own political organization—the instrument they intend to use to create democracy.

The thing that the Democratic PARTY advocates but does not approve the Socialists are working out ACTUALLY AND PRACTICALLY within their own political party.

And they know that the time is here when they can make an issue of what you now advocate but of what your own party is making a farce.

THE DOCTOR'S ADVICE

A TRUE STORY

BY EMANUEL JULIUS

Jim had been feeling bad of late, so he thought he would "knock off" a day and go around and see a doctor at the city hospital.

For the last two years Jim had been employed at a white lead factory. He was forced to work all day long right in front of the pots, and so the nearest thing to oxygen he could breathe was white lead.

He looked Jim over with a glance and asked him what was the matter, Jim told him.

The doctor looked profound; looked at Jim's chest, felt his pulse, poked at his tongue, took his temperature, examined his spittle and for a moment remained in deep thought.

Jim was thoroughly convinced by this time that there was something radically wrong with his system, so he patiently listened to what the physician had to say.

The doctor hesitated a moment and then said: "Owing to the lack of fresh air and good, healthy food and the conditions under which you labor you have contracted consumption."

my advice you will be a new man in about one or two years' time.

Jim had listened through all this with a patient smile playing about his lips. He took advantage of his first opportunity to say something, and this is what he said:

"Doc, thanks for yer advice. But ye'll please excuse me, fer I didn't tink ye'd tell me that! Why, how in de world kin I go to California fer a year or two an' drink two quarts of milk an' a dozen raw eggs a day. Ye seem to forget that I've got a wife an' a bunch of kids hangin' on me trail an' de job I've got is jest about payin' 'nuff t' keep us goin'." "I quit me job what'll become of the bunch o' us? Why, we'll have t' starve t' death. No, I've got t' stick t' this job as long as I kin hol' out. Ter tell ye the truth, Doc, I thought I'd be able to get some kin o' dope to cure me—some-thin' that'd only cost about a quarter of a half. Ain't ye got some kin o' stuff that'll do the job? No! Well, Doc, I'll have to go. I see ye cannot do any-thing fer me. So long."

"Why, where are you going, my good friend?" asked the doctor.

Jim glanced at the clock and replied: "It's seven o'clock. I've got jest nuff time t' git t' work an' git a half day in at any rate." And with this Jim passed out, congratulating himself on his thrift and industry.

The doctor thought for a moment or two and then muttered some words to the effect that there was "something more to the problem of tuberculosis than 'fresh air, raw eggs and milk.'"

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

The Mother at Home

BY MARY H. L. CAIRNS

Most mothers are anxious that their babies shall walk as early as possible, and get the idea that the child is physically weak if he shows any tardiness or disinclination to stand alone at an early age.

When he gets to the age of about eleven months he will probably begin to scramble about, standing at chairs, or even trying a few steps at a time, but if he evinces no eagerness to attempt these things do not force him.

No child should be allowed to walk out of doors before he is a year and a half old and then only for a few minutes at a time when he has been taken from the go-cart for a little exercise.

The modern mother is not content that her child shall grow up a healthy, noisy specimen of humanity, but she attempts to develop the brain out of all proportion to the physical body, with degenerative effect.

As To Nipples: Mrs. Chugwater-Joshab, this paper says a man named Birkman has sued the city as Javed Tipples's next friend. What does that mean?

Does your husband hold any title of nobility? asked the canvasser. "I should say he did!" answered the young man. "He's the majestic grand big, killemaker of the Ancient and Illustrious Order of Spazierinetambans!"

chased by the women must be attended to. Every Socialist woman attend this meeting.

Some New Books

"A Little Brother of the Rich." By Joseph Medill Patterson. Published by the Reilly & Britton company. Cloth, 96 pp., $1.50. For sale by the Daily Socialist.

Many who read this book will be disappointed. Those who have formed their opinion from the fact that it was debarred from the Chicago Public Library and who expect something salacious will be disappointed. It is not the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" of the Socialist movement, nor has that book yet been written.

The central male figure in the story, this is a little reluctance in calling him a "hero," is Paul Potter, a social "climber," who has adopted almost unscrupulously the ideals of present society.

He starts in a small Indiana town, becomes engaged to the daughter of the wealthiest man in the place, and then goes to Yale. While at college he exploits his physical strength to secure athletic, social and ultimately financial advantage.

For a time the ways of the two drift apart. Sylvia enters a department store, where she signs away her rights to life, and almost everything else in return for a chance to work to the limit of endurance, and be insulted by the floorwalker.

There is an utter lack of anything that could be called morality in every direction. One of the leading characters is inveigled into proposing to a girl while he is drunk, who in turn, is forced to lead him on because his father is necessary to the building up of the necessary fortunes of her family.

There are no heroes, no stumpy speeches in the book but no one can read it and retain anything but the most utter contempt for the class that rules and robs in present society.

TO THE EDITOR: Would Debate: Since a very important part of Socialism, as it is at present expounded, is the theory of overproduction, and since the present period of business depression is obtained by Socialists to be caused by overproduction, I would like to debate the question with some Socialist member.

Resolved, That overproduction is not a necessary consequence of the profit system, and therefore cannot be the cause of panic.
