LONDON STORY BY BURNS IS GIGANTIC FAKE

Detective Takes Pleasure Trip Abroad at Expense of Los Angeles.

By National Socialist Press.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 18.—Word has

Vardfi London, that the whole story of Burns making an attempt to capture "Caplan" or "Schmidt" was a gigantic fake, worked up by the detective for advertising purposes.

At the district attorney's office it was hinted at the time that Burns was taking advantage of his pleasure trip private fortunes, accumulated on reabroad at the expense of the Los Angeles taxpayers.

Reports Fraudulent

He simply spread the fraudulnet re-ports and allowed the yellow American newspapers to do the rest. Los Angeles newspapers made a big spread of the fake story and have carefully refrained from telling the truth about the fake. It is understood Burns will return via Canada, and it is thought he may avoid the states wherein he is liable to arres the indictment for kidnaping

Indiana.

Another report is to the effect that he has the Indianapolis matter arranged so that he can go directly there and then go about his errands for his masters without fear of courts or laws.

RE THE MURDERESS

Grand Junction, Colo., July 18.—Four children, two boys and two girls, the oldest 17 and the youngest 14, are held today on the charge of robbing and murdering Clark a Wolfkill, who was supposedly accidentally drowned in Grand river, near Clifton, last Wednesday. They will be given a preliminary hearing tomorrow.

The four children are: Gladys Thompson 17; Lillian Oeborne, 14; Lee Baker, 14, and Virgil Wilson, 17.

The coroner's physician declares Wolfkill was dead before he was thrown into the water. The four children, held in different cells, tall widely conflicting stories. They admit, however, they were near Wolfkill's cabin at the time of his death and that they searched his body after they discovered he was "drowned."

It is believed the man was beaten to death.

That action came last night, but led by those who fear the exposure that will result from an opening up of the vice commission's work to public scrutiny the majority of the aldermen voted down the demand for the key.

They did this in the face of the statement made on the floor of the council that aldermen are named in the key.

The Chicago Daily Socialist has worked patiently on the "key" until it has solved the combination. All of the important names and places in the report can be identified.

There will be published next Tuesday, by which time the investigators employed for the purpose will have completed the verification of The Daily Socialist's key to the "key."

With the biggest curve used by any left hander in captivity, Vean Gregg, last year with Portland, Ore, is stancing the American League upon its head this suffiguer.

Gregg is the most sensational pitcher since Waddell was in his prime. He has everything the "Rube" ever had and in addition a head that is not filled with sawdust.

Gregg says his ability to serve wide, sharp-breaking curves which have buffied every team in the league is due to the powerful grip he acquired while working as a plasterer. He recommends trowel wielding to ambitious heavers.

The southpaw sensation has a better record than Grover Alexander, the National League marvel, and a better record than Christy Mathewson made the year he broke in.

"The Christian Socialist, the organ of the so-called Christian Socialists, of which Rev. Carr is the editor, emphasizes the word 'Christian' stronger than the word 'Socialist,' which fact led repeatedly to queer consequences in the Socialist movement.

"At the office of that paper the policy seems to be to let the world know every fortnight with what lady this or the other courade, or with what man this or the other Concilist lady has been seen, and in every instance all kinds of nasty insinuations are made to give the impression that swful orgies had taken place.

"When finally Rev. Carr was compelled to face the music and to give proofs he had to contess that he had no proofs. In spite of this he mounted the high horse and tried to intimidate the party. He said: 'If you put me out of the party you will prove that the Socialist party propagates "'free love." But his trick falled.

"The delegates of the Socialist party of Cook county expelled Rev. Carr and instructed a committee of three, consisting of Comrades Barney Berlyn, D. J. Beatall and W. E. Rodriguez, to draw up a statement.

This statement appeared in the Daily

"This statement appeared in the Daily Socialist, officially signed by W. E. Rodriguer, as chairman, and James P. Larsen, as secretary of the meeting.
"Unfortunately, however, this statement was worded in a queer manner, instead of dealing with the facts in the case, and to emphasize that Rev. Carr was expelled for his milicious slander of comrades and working against the best interests of the party, and for this only, the committee solemnly declares that the party under no circumstances stands for 'free love.'

"Carr, declares the committee, was not expelled because he stood against free love, but because he slandered the party by declaring that it advecated and practices free love, which is untrue.

true. This declaration, in relation to the case in question, we hold superfluous, and in general in the form in which it was published, insufficient.

"With Carr's position, or with the supposed position of the party toward free love, Carr's expulsion from the Socialist party has nothing whatever to do.

The enames are said to be on the list of the A. A. U., and Bartow S. Weeks.

The new board will put the game on a high-class basis in this state and it. The definition of the Cook County Socialist delegate committee, which has already appeared in the Daily Socialist of the party free love in an official way.

Albany, N. Y. July 1

there is no love without freedom. But, of course, all liberty has its boundaries. But with 'free love' these boundaries of course, all liberty has its boundaries; have not yet been scientifically established.

"The scientific specialists, the Socialists included, have not yet been able to agree on the sex problem. Very carnest thinkers are of the opinion that sex problems have nothing in common with morals as such. Specialists differ in their views regarding the question: Are men naturally monogamic or polygamic and polyadrically inclined? It is sett-evident that this problem can not be solved with a resolution or a declaration.

"The words 'free love' have made themselves popular as a catch phrase against the Socialists, 'free love' being held uplas advocating the opposites of the characteristics of the Christian marriage, for instance, love by obedience, riage, for instance, love by obedience, by respect, by command, by usage, by convenience, through sexual require-ments or money of title.

A relation, for instance, may be mentioned in which the expression free love was and is correctly used. The prominent Irish agitator, Parnell, for in-stance, loved Madam O'Shea, and she loved Parnell, in their own way. All the world knew it. All the world knew that her husband also knew it.

"Was English society horrified by it? Did the Irish clergy protest against it in the name of religion and worstle?

in the name of religion and morals? "Nobody thought of it. Whenever an enemy of Parnell attempted to mention the relation during political conflicts, to hold this up against Parnell, he did not meet with great success, his attack being ignored as out of place, the affair being considered a personal matter, and the attack being considered as a slander.

"The enemies of Parnell finally bought off O'Shea and made him sue his friend for altengating his wife's affections. This suddenly changed the aspect of the tass. Parnell, in the eyes of the righteous and darighteous, was disgraced and went down as a result of it. "Nobody thought of it. Whenever an down as a result of it.

"The immorality began in this particular case first when hatred stirred up the 'moral,' and the 'moral' then created a spectacle.

"Then the society, which had had bothing to say against Parnell's relation with Madame O'Shea, became a stern judge. Is that morality? We call it hypochical.

"Noble relations are practiced, relations that are labeled free love' by society, the phrase implicating that something disgraceful has been committed.

"And yet these persons stand morally higher than thousands bound together higher than thousands bound together by legal marriages. Who has not heard of George Elitot (Marian Evans), the celebrated author and her relations toward George Henry Lewes; or Goethe's relations toward Frau Von Stein? Is there anyone having the audacity to call these men and women immoral?

"One will therefore see that it is not as easy to pass judgment on the question of 'free love,' as the committee reporting the Carr case evidently though!

porting the Carr case evidently thought it was.

"One who wants to have a word to say in such matters must be able to see farther than the tip of his nose. If we would permit the views voiced by the committee to take root solidiy in our party there are persons who would soon come to the front and seek to have a permanent 'morality commission' on the trail of every comrade.

"We would eventually outlaw needs."

How Would You Like to Have a Real, Live Camel for a Pet

This is little Miss Frances Treat of Fargo, N. D.

The camel which she is holding is her play-fellow, and she is just as fond of this big, awkard looking pet as though it were a wee tiny kitten. But camels, you know, are very gentle animals and as this one has lived in North Dakota for some time, it is used to little American boys' and girls' ways.

people in case of sickness, invalidism, old age and unemployment.

It remains for the national government in the way of pressing measures to collect and classify accurate statistics, to furnish more and better laboratories for research in preventive medicine, and to disseminate information, as to the prevention of tuberculosis and other diseases, the datagers of bad air, impure food, imperfect sanitation, ventilation, and the like.

Medical schools are coming, and should continue to come, more and more to take for their motto that old proverb: "An opine of prevention is worth a pound of cure." And they are coming, also, to place less weight upon medicine, and more upon proper surroundings, fresh air, pure water, sunlight, exercise, rest and recreation, good food and sex hygiene. Most important of ail, they are coming to learn that the economic system, under which we work and live, is totally out of joint and that coning at it is adjusted will sectial discontinuation. and live, is totally out of joint and that only as it is adjusted will social dis-

Moreover, the so-called representatives of the farmers-officers and spokesmen of the National Grange—were forced to admit be-fore the senate committee that their "expenses and services" were fore the senate committee that their paid for by the lumber interests, i. e., by the lumber trust.

As a matter of fact, it is the 'umber trust, the paper trust, the

And protection to the farmers is not the real reason for the position of Senator Robert M. La Follette.

Bob may not know much about political economy, but he knows more than to believe such nonsense.

The real reason is this: William H. Taft, President of the United States, is a candidate

The Republican President called upon the Democrats to aid him in carrying out a new Republican policy.

By taking up reciprocity with Canada, Taft also took up what was essentially an Insurgent issue—thus putting the Insurgents face to face with their own issue.

This was playing politics with a vengeance. But it was good politics for a man who at that time had nothing to lose—because he had also land, and a presidential election to gain. to lose-because he had also fallen out with the Standpatterssimply an industrious and determined Republican politician who has his eagle eye on the presidential nomination, and no eye for anything else-he could easily have beaten Taft at his own game. La Follette and his band of filibusters could have embraced reciprocity as an "insurrecto" issue-and passed it as such.

That would settle Taft for good with the Republican Stand-
