

150 I. C. ENGINES DEAD; ROAD CANNOT RUN TRAINS

"We must have a settlement with the strikers in a short time or we can't run any trains," said Henry Eich, master mechanic of the Illinois Central shops at Burnside. "There are 150 engines on the repair track which we can't use until the men come back to work. Not an engine has left the roundhouse repaired in seven weeks. There are eight switch engines on the tracks for repairs, thirteen suburban engines, ninety-one freight engines and forty-two passenger engines. Hundreds of cars are laid up in every yard used by the company. Only one boiler-maker, a foreman, is at work calking flues in the roundhouse. The repairs done by the foremen are of the temporary order."

According to the statement of the officials themselves, not one of the skilled mechanics has returned to work. There has been an influx of workmen without trades from the East, mostly from New York and Pittsburgh, but they are unable to take the places of the shopmen.

Strikers' Scouts Effective

The strikers are keeping well informed regarding conditions in the shops through the work of a half a dozen strikers who are working as strike breakers. These men, following the lead of the strike breakers, spend their time in loading about, getting acquainted with the strike breakers and reporting to the unions.

The officials, who are most bitter against the unions, are making strenuous efforts to locate them, but so far have been unsuccessful. General Foreman McCarthy, at the Twenty-seventh street roundhouse, is quoted as saying that if the strikers learned any more about the plans about strike breakers he would certainly go crazy.

The number of policemen has been decreased from 200 to sixty, and they have found nothing to do. The sergeants at the Kensington station claimed that this is the easiest strike they have ever handled. One of them said, "The strikers are a bunch of gentlemen, which can't be said of the scabs. They are men of families and are citizens of the city."

Police Busy Nabbing Scabs

Almost every day the patrol wagons are backed up against the entrance to the yards and a wagonload of strike breakers loaded in. The greatest haul occurred last Friday when thirteen were taken to the station, where they were booked for stealing tools and fighting. Many of them carry guns in their suitcases. Pickpockets and strong-arm men prevail to such an extent that every day complaints are made to the detectives of the railroad.

One of the head men of the Illinois Central detective corps said today in a Burnside restaurant, "I'm used to these scabs and I have no use for them. They are getting what's coming to them." He was much surprised when informed that he was talking to a Daily Socialist reporter.

Restaurants in Burnside are displaying the Daily Socialist cards worn on tag day, reading: "Help the Wives and Children of the Illinois Central Strikers." A union card is demanded at so many places that the scabs go downtown to the eating room or to the 120th street station, where over 200 eat every day.

C. & A. Machinists Give Fund

The machinists of the Chicago & Alton road, which some time ago recognized the federation, have assessed themselves $2.50 a week for the benefit of their Burnside brethren.

A big benefit ball is to be held at the Coliseum annex Friday, December 15. Over 2,000 tickets have already been sold and the men expect to sell many thousands more. The proceeds go to the benefit of the system federation of railroad shop employees. All union helpers of the Hungarian strikers will hold a big ball Thanksgiving day at Schilt's hall, South Chicago.

H. J. Malloy, business agent for the federation, has devised an almost perfect scheme for the registration of the strikers and every man of them can be found on a day's notice.

Doctors Silent on Strike

Company doctors, when approached about conditions in the shops, showed a strong disinclination to give information, but both Drs. Curtis and Henley show the effects of sleepless nights, as the accidents are many, owing to the inexperience of the strike breakers.

Detectives for the company visit the wives of the pickets and threaten them with dire things if the picketing is not stopped.

The federation will hold a monster mass meeting, Friday morning, November 24, at 10 o'clock.

125,000 WOMEN WORKERS IN CITY

One hundred and twenty-five thousand women are working in the stores, shops and factories in Chicago, and of this number nearly one-half are under 21 years of age, according to a pamphlet being sent out by the Women's Trade Union League in a campaign to raise funds for the carrying on of the various branches of league work.

"Every one familiar with industrial conditions existing today," says Miss Agnes Nestor, chairman of the organization committee, "realizes that the heavy burden falls upon the woman wage-earner. She it is who works the longest hours for the lowest wage, and it is upon her that wrong physical conditions react with most terrible significance."

Women Unorganized

"Working in an unorganized factory, shop or department store, she must accept conditions as she finds them. She can not refuse to work at a low wage except at the risk of losing her job. No words can overestimate the social and individual menace of these conditions, nor measure their power to destroy originality of thought and initiative of action. What chance has the girl earning $5 a week to think of any question but the immediate one of earning her daily bread? What chance has the girl continually under the fear of losing her job to develop her powers of body, mind and spirit?"

The league is raising funds for the various departments engaged in the work of organization, education, legislation, recreation, health, and fire protection.

ROCKFORD UNIONS INDOORSE ACTION OF PARK BOARD

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 22.—The Central Labor Union of this city has passed a resolution denouncing the spirit of militarism which the capitalists of the country are trying to instill in the minds of the young and indurating the action of those commissioners on the park board who voted against the campment of the Illinois National Guard. It also advocated universal peace and the brotherhood of man.

WRIGHT STICKS TO CHARGES OF CONTEMPT

Washington, Nov. 23.—Justice Daniel Thayer Wright today refused to dismiss the contempt charges against President Gompers, Vice President Mitchell and Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor in the famous Bucks Stove and Range company case in the District Supreme Court. This means that he will again attempt to force the labor leaders to trial. The defendants demurred to the report of a special "prosecuting committee," which recommended renewed proceedings. Justice Wright decided against them and took occasion to flay the labor leaders.

The court held that the statute of limitations for prosecution of crimes has no application to prosecutions for contempt of court, and that the contention of the labor leaders that the alleged contempt was committed more than three years is meritless. Three days were given to counsel for the defendants to reach an agreement with the "committee of prosecutors" as to the appointment of a commissioner or special examiner to take testimony in the case. If an agreement can not be reached within that time the court will appoint one. The opinion covers more than thirty typewritten pages. Wright in opening referred to the "nature of the specifications," saying that "their character is so serious and grave, such as they do to involve, if true, a declared unfitness to social order, a plain and purposed repudiation of the tribunals of the people, a defiance of the supremacy of the law of the land and an open determination to be done with law for certain cases."

The opinion was read by Justice Wright, with five associates sitting in general session. The courtroom was crowded.

THREE-WEEKS-OLD BOY LEFT ON DOOR STEP

A pretty blue-eyed laughing baby boy about three weeks old was found last night on the hallway of the flat building at 245 North Western avenue. James B. Hogan, a bookkeeper who occupies the flat, has four children of his own, so the little one was promptly provided with a nursing bottle. He was turned over to Dr. Wall, of the Harrison street station, and later taken to the St. Vincent's orphanage. He was dressed in knitted boots and white flannels and was admired by all on the police on duty.

Mrs. Von Clausen was committed to Bloomingdale for sending a threatening telegram to a Supreme court justice, before whom her divorce suit was set for trial.

PLACING THE BLAME

KING'S PRIVATE PREACHER GETS TIP TO SKIP OUT

London, Nov. 23.—Though a pretense is being made by Scotland Yard of a vigorous hunt for the Rev. Frederick Percival Farrar, who has disappeared following his dismissal from the post of domestic chaplain to King George, and for whom a warrant is said to be out, no one believed that the authorities wish or intend to catch the disgraced clergyman.

The general opinion is that a hint was deliberately given Farrar at least two weeks before his disappearance that it would be well for him to vanish and that sufficient time was given him to settle his affairs and provide himself with funds to bury himself under an assumed name and in some place where he will never be heard from by the outside world again.

Disappearances of this kind, pre-arranged by the authorities, of persons who, on account of their position or connections, can not be prosecuted without serious embarrassment to the government, are by no means unprecedented in England.

The Rev. Mr. Farrar's case is obviously one of these. The character of the accusations against him is such, it is whispered, that their ventilation in open court, considering the intimate relations the clergyman was on with royalty, would be exceedingly painful.

PENSION LAW HELPS MANY

"It's absurd to say that the mother's pension law is going to bankrupt the county," said Ballard Dunn, president of the County Civil Service Commission, this morning. "I do not think the pension fund will need to be larger than $1,000,000 a year; but even if it takes two or three times that much the county will hardly feel the expense."

Forty applications for the mother's pension was filed this morning, and it is expected that the total will reach nearly one hundred today. The average number of applications received thus far each day has been about fifty. But more and more women are earning of the new pension law, and naturally wish to take advantage of it. The intention of the law is that mothers with dependent children shall be given a pension large enough to enable them to stay at home and properly care for the children.

About 20,000 women, it is estimated, eventually will be given mothers' pensions under the new law.

$10,000 FOR McNAMARAS RAISED IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Nov. 22.—The McNamara defense fund will receive about $10,000 from the city of Milwaukee, according to estimates made by labor leaders here. Thus far $3,000 has been raised by labor organizations and Socialist branches.

The fund started on Labor Day with the selling of the McNamara defense buttons. Later a per capita assessment of 25 cents a member in the various unions brought a good sum.

Last week the fund committee was given the benefit of the proceeds of a moving-picture house, which showed McNamara pictures and about $800 was realized.

FALSELY ARRESTED; IS AWARDED $1,788

HOTEL EJECTS BROLASKI TO AVOID DYNAMITING

Harry Brolaski, the chief informer on gambling and police corruption in the present investigations by the civil service commission, has been fired out of the New Southern hotel because of threats to blow up the hotel.

The management requested Brolaski to leave the hotel after receiving a communication from an unknown source threatening that if Brolaski continued his residence at the hotel it might expect to have the place blown up.

The threat was signed "the same persons or interests who carried on the bomb crusade in Chicago. Brolaski, who has been threatened many times since the investigation began, is in imminent danger of losing his life."

The trial of Inspectors Charles Dorman and Lieut. William Ambrose, of the Desplains street station and Lieut. Thomas Howard of the West Lake street station was begun before the civil

'PICKED ME OUT TO SAVE OTHERS,' BINFORD GIRL

New York, Nov. 22.—"If justice is being done, it is all right. I am sorry for Henry Beattie; I am sorry that I have been drawn into this thing."

"I didn't know anything about the murder. When he dies in the electric chair tomorrow my connection with the case shall die, too, and I am going to try to be born again into a new life. I want never to hear of the case again, and I want to hide myself behind another name, and I am going to try to forget."

Beulah Binford, pretty little waif, for love of whom Henry Clay Beattie died tomorrow morning in the Richmond jail, today gave the United Press the last interview she ever will give to the press.

"Do not drag me down again. Beulah Binford is dead. I have a good home and a good position here and all I ask is to be left alone and given a chance to save myself. I have got the only real friends that I ever made in my life and these true friends will be the only ones who will ever know the old Beulah Binford in the future."

"I was a victim in the Beattie case. They picked me out of a dozen other victims of Beattie and made me the cause of Beattie's crime because I was helpless and had no one to protect me. I was a castoff of Beattie's. Had they taken any of those other victims of Beattie there would have been still more scandal and they picked me out to protect the others."

LOS ANGELES LAW FORBIDS TALKING TO FELLOW MEN

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 23.—The labor war has broken out in a new spot in Los Angeles. Six leaders in the machinists' strike have been arrested, charged with violation of the infamous anti-picket ordinance. The men were Edward H. Misner, president of the Central Labor Council and chairman of the Socialist campaign committee; Robert Allen, Edward Coker, C. R. Chivers, Henry De Goolfer and William Alyett.

Alyett was arrested on a street car where he had fallen into conversation with a man who is working in the Southern Pacific Railroad shops as a strike breaker. The strike breaker gave a signal and a "pickhandle" man ("guards") arrested the man.

The other men arrested were on Mission street, near the Southern Pacific shops. They were mingling with the non-union men who had just left the shops after finishing a day's work there. There was no disorder and the men were all talking in a quiet manner when the company detectives arrested them.

The men under arrest were hurried to the police station, where each gave bail in the amount of $25. They were arraigned before Police Justice Frederickson, the following morning, and the bail was promptly raised to $50—the limit on misdemeanors. The men were defended by J. H. Ryckman, a law partner of Job Harriman. The attorney demanded a jury trial and declared he would ask that each man would be tried separately. The dates set for trial will be February 15, 16 and 19.

"Job Harriman will be the mayor of Los Angeles by that time and we will have a new city attorney and city prosecutor by that time," remarked one of the strikers who had put up his bail. City Prosecutor Guy Eddle overheard the remark and smiled bitterly. It is known that Eddle concedes the election of the Socialists.

The arrests are looked on as a serious political blunder for the administration at this hour. The "pickhandle" men themselves were discharged by the railroads because there has not been the slightest disturbance and there has been no occasion for the "guards." These thugs determined to stir up some trouble in order to hold their jobs. They beat up an old man a few nights previous to the arrests.

A patrolman stood by and witnessed the assault without offering the slightest interference.

M'NAMARA JURY ALL PREJUDICED

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 23.—Following a lengthy conference between counsel for the defense, Attorney Darrow announced today that he would defer presentation of the new affidavits by J. B. McNamara demanding a change of judge on the ground that Judge Bordwell is biased, until after the jury is finally completed, instead of today, as at first planned. He said he conceded they would be unable to get relief from the court, and would, when the jury is finally ready, make the new application to perfect the record for appeal should McNamara be convicted. Under the law such an application can not be carried on an appeal until the actual trial is completed and until a presiding judge rules adversely on a similar application.

Ten Men in the Box
There are now ten men in the box, five permanent jurors and five still subject to peremptory challenge. It is expected the third exercising of peremptories will take place into this afternoon, when the state will name the entire list. Every man now subject to challenge is recorded as saying he absolutely believed that the McNamaras were guilty and also that the Times building was feloniously dynamited by union men or their sympathizers, but all agreed to lay aside their opinions and try the case simply on the evidence. Judge Bordwell seated them over the direct challenge for cause of the defense.

The defense has now only eleven peremptory challenges, and when it gets through exercising them, it is not expected to have more than five, the same number as the state, still has. Judge Bordwell's rulings yesterday were openly denounced in court by Darrow, who said: "This court is permitting the state to play with a man's life, and his rulings are absolutely one-sided."

Bordwell severely reprimanded Darrow, who insisted on getting his statements into the record. As a result of the court's action seating jurors who believe McNamara guilty, it is now certain that the jury will be completed in not less than two weeks. It will be an easy task to get the box filled as soon as the defense's peremptory challenges are exhausted, which will certainly be the next time after today that peremptories become in order.

Juror's Wife Ill
Juror F. D. Green visited his home last night in charge of a deputy. He lives at Pomona and his wife is suffering from nervous prostration and severe depression as the result of his continual absence. His visit was most pathetic, the doctor having told Bordwell the woman might die if not permitted to see her husband. She collapsed on his arrival and it was necessary to administer strong stimulants. She again broke down when Green prepared to start back, and as a result he is much worked up, demanding continually that the court excuse him permanently. This is certain to occur if Mrs. Green does not get better soon.

SUFFRAGETTES CHOOSE JAIL

London, Nov. 23.—Bow street police court is still trying suffragettes today. There have been no acquittals thus far, and every prisoner given her choice between imprisonment or a fine has chosen the former. The suffragette leaders promise another demonstration in a few days.

Mrs. Fethick Lawrence, next to the Pankhursts, probably the most prominent suffragette in England, and a woman high in the country's social life, was sentenced to two months imprisonment for striking a policeman in the face.

BULLDOG SWALLOWS A 12 INCH HATPIN

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 22.—Women can not serve as jurors in this city, according to Attorney General Webb, who holds that their new suffrage does not make them "free and lawful men."

'BEEF' GETS DELAY

BULLETIN
By United Press. Washington, Nov. 23.—Counsel for beef packers this afternoon succeeded in obtaining a further delay in the government suit against them by an appeal to Chief Justice White of the United States Supreme Court at his residence here.

Though the chief justice refused to issue an order for a stay of proceedings in the court in Chicago, he did consent to present the whole matter to the Supreme Court on its reconvening a week from next Monday. Counsel for the packers, Levy Mayer and John S. Miller, this afternoon declared that they were confident that the lower court would recognize this action of the chief justice, and continue the trial until the Supreme Court renders its decision.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Attorneys Miller and Mayer, representing the Chicago millionaire packers, arrived here today, went directly to the office of the clerk of the Supreme court and filed a record of the case in which the packers are trying to evade trial.

They got into communication by telephone with the residence of Chief Justice White, who granted them an immediate interview and the two lawyers left at once in a taxicab for his residence. In the event of the refusal of Chief Justice White to act favorably on their motion, the exact nature of which they refuse to disclose, Miller and Mayer were prepared to appeal personally to other justices of the court. There are six associate justices here and attorneys were ready to visit all of them if necessary.

R. I. OFFICIALS MEET SHOPMEN

General Manager Tinsman of the Rock Island admitted the officers of the union federation this morning to a half-hour conference, at which arrangements were made for a second conference tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to reach some basis of agreement for preventing a strike of the $300,000 shopmen on the system.

"The conference today was productive of nothing," said J. A. Kline, general president of the Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers. "We are only hoping for a settlement, though we do not intend to give up a single one of our demands for the sake of peace."

ACCUSES HUSBAND OF HAVING RADIUM AFFINITY

Paris, Nov. 22.—Ever since the first publication of an alleged romance between Mme. Curie, the discoverer of radium, and Professor Langevin, officials of the Sarbonne have been doing all in their power to suppress the story.

But a Paris newspaper has printed what it says is a verbatim copy of the complaint lodged by Mme. Langevin against her husband. This complaint charges that July 15, 1910, Professor Langevin rented under his own name an apartment in the Rue de Banquier, renewed the lease October 15, 1910, until July 15, 1911, under the name of Crozier, and that the professor and Mme. Curie met there continually to the scandal of the neighborhood.

Several letters are quoted in support of Mme. Langevin's claims. "I am trembling with impatience at the thought of against seeing you," wrote the professor in one letter, "to tell you how I have missed you, to kiss your forehead, to hear your voice and to see your dear eyes."

"There are the profoundest affinities between us," says a letter from Mme. Curie to Langevin, "which need only a favorable mode of life for development." Throughout the letters the words "cher nous" meaning "at our home" are repeatedly used.

SOCIALISTS AT ATLANTA BUSY

BY J. L. ENGDAL
Start Special to the Daily Socialist.
Auditorium-Armory, Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 22—One of the objects in bringing the present convention of the American Federation of Labor to Atlanta was to give an impetus to the organization of the toilers of the south.

One of the results has been to put new life into the political organization of the workers, the Socialist party, which has a healthy and growing organization in this city and throughout the state.

The delegates of the various trades represented in the convention have been busy among the local workers of the crafts they represent, forming local unions where there were none or strengthening the organizations already existing.

In addition to this the Socialist delegates have been called upon to address numerous meetings that have been held and more that are being planned by the local Socialists.

Socialists Busy
These meetings have been extraordinarily well attended, being especially of great significance now because there is a gubernatorial election on and the Socialists have a candidate in the field.

"Carry Atlanta and Georgia for Socialism—you can do it!" is the spirit of the address made by the Socialist delegates from all parts of the country, as they drilled their audiences in the principles of Socialism.

Joseph D. Cannon of the Western Miners, fresh from the campaign in Los Angeles, has told local audiences how the Socialists are going to carry the Pacific coast city and how the Socialists can do the same here.

Frank J. Weber, from Milwaukee, has told how the battle was fought and won in the metropolis of Wisconsin and of the benefits that have resulted to the working class.

William D. Coleman, alderman-at-large from Milwaukee, has also told how the eleventh city in the nation prospers under Socialist rule.

The story of the struggle for Socialism has been repeated by Frank J. Hayes and Duncan McDonald, delegates of the United Mine Workers of America, while Max S. Hayes, of Cleveland, has told how the workers have gone wrong in past elections, but how they are beginning to go in the right direction now.

The predicted carrying of the state of Mark Hanna by Socialist forces, pointing to the results of the recent election in Ohio as an omen of what was coming in the near future.

This is probably the first time that there has been such an invasion of this part of the south by a force of Socialist speakers as are to be found among the delegates to the present convention of the American Federation of Labor, and the local Socialists are making the most of it.

The city of Atlanta is exploited because all newcomers are in the south. This means that it is good as a business center, more industrial activity going on here than anywhere else.

Workers Heavily Exploited
This of course carries with it the supplementary fact that the workers are being exploited here as they are not elsewhere in the south, because where big dividends are declared and capital is happy there wages are low and hours are long.

But the fact seems to be true to some extent that the workers of Atlanta are still happy in the fact that they are able to turn out dividends for their masters, evidently not appreciating their own lowly condition.

But they are waking up. This is evidenced in the fact that the labor unions are recruiting new members, who are not satisfied with their union card, but immediately proceed to take out another card in the Socialist party.

The political struggle of the Socialists is so far being fought purely on Socialist principles. Even the great and troublesome color question has so far been ignored by the Socialists, no attempt having been made thus far to organize the negroes here.

"We've got to get the white workers into a strong organization first," say the local Socialists.

Georgia has been heralded over the land as one of the States where prohibition reigns supreme to those who live at a distance it is known as a "dry" state.

The city is filled with "near beer" saloons, which those who know claim to provide "near beer" that is stronger than the real thing; while there doesn't seem to be any greater difficulty in securing a bottle of Budweiser here than there is in Chicago.

So far as I have been able to learn prohibition only prohibits so far as the colored man is concerned. The white man's prohibition law carries a joker

BEATTIE READY FOR HANGING

By United Press.
Richmond, Va., Nov. 22—The father, sister and brother of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., looked upon his living face for the last time today.
The ministers and family attorney were the first visitors to the death cell, but soon afterward the grief-torn father, the pitifully pathetic sister and brother, who holds up best, but also is near collapse, arrived at the prison.
With less than twenty-four hours of life before him the young wife-murderer knelt in prayer after the fashion of the twelve sturdy countrymen, who, after asking divine guidance in the jury room, pronounced the verdict that is about to be carried out.
Beattie will be executed tomorrow, following the custom of a prisoner about to die, he will probably arise about 5:30 or 6 o'clock, and after having been shaved will be given breakfast. Two clergymen will escort him from the cell in the death chamber, one walking on either side of the two guards, who will hold his hands.

AFTER JOHN D. IN STEEL PROBE

Washington, Nov. 23.—Representative Stanley, on the floor of the House, will demand that the Democratic majority back him in what he believes is "not only a necessary line of inquiry from the legal point of view, but a great work for humanity."

Stanley is convinced that John D. Rockefeller should be called in person before the steel committee to explain his side of the remarkable story related on the witness stand yesterday by "Len" Merritt, who directly charged Rockefeller with cheating him out of property then worth ten millions and now of untold value.

Stanley also believes that the Rev. F. T. Gates, whose chief occupation is looking after Rockefeller's charities, should explain his connection with the deals in which Merritt alleges he represented Rockefeller and was the agent through whom Rockefeller "kicked" him. Merritt charged that Gates proposed a plan to him which amounted to plain stealing, and Stanley thinks Gates should have a chance to reply.

On a technicality in the resolution creating the committee, steel trust attorneys now argue that the pending government dissolution suit forbids any further inquiry into the trust by Stanley's committee. On this proposition the committee is divided and Stanley is about to lose control.

Stanley was compelled to suspend public hearings until after Congress meets, but in the meantime, Stanley will continue his investigations. He will tell the House that his probe has just begun to reach the real sore spots. To stop the inquiry now, he will contend, would defeat its purpose and probably preclude any possibility of the facts now sought, ever being revealed. He will contend that the bill of particulars in the government dissolution suits does not touch upon any important matters which he expects to bring out.

WANT TO BE HEALTHY? WEAR LOOSE CLOTHES

If you want to avoid tuberculosis, don't wear hobbie skirts or anything tight.
This is the ultimatum laid down by Dr. Herman Spaulding, in the latest bulletin of the Chicago health department issued today.
"The misguided man or woman who for the sake of fashion wears the tight-fitting English coat or the tube-skirt has but little chance for health," Dr. Spaulding asserted.
He advocated "loose garments" that would be called "fit fitting," but which gave the skin a chance to breathe.

QUAINT DUTCH CAP A NEW FASHION

Nationality in caps is one of the striking features of this season's fashions. This quaint Dutch cap is made of the mesh net, embroidered in Delft blue. The roses at the ears have no foliage, but on the left side there are ribbon pendants to match in color.

ANT.-MADERO FORCES UNITE

Mexico City, Nov. 23.—That the series of revolts against the power of Francisco Madero is steadily growing in volume and importance and that it will probably soon reach the stage of the rebellion which deposed Diaz and placed the present ruler on the throne, is evidenced today by the confirmation of the news that General Reyes, Emiliano Gomez and Emilia Zapata—Madero's three most implacable enemies—have decided to join hands to overthrow the president.

Reyes, having considerable strength in the North, Zapata in the South and Gomez among the central states, the triumvirate is a most formidable one and friends of the Maderist regime predict the president will have serious trouble unless he succeeds in quelling the union by the arrest of one or more of the leaders. Orders were issued today for the immediate apprehension of Gomez, who is thought to be near this city and Madero will redouble his efforts to crush the Zapatistas before they can unite with the Reyes forces from the North. In this manner he hopes to quell the uprisings before they join.

The impartial, the leading paper here, today openly declared that American intervention was sure unless peace is restored within a month. This has increased the anti-American sentiment here and an outbreak against foreigners is feared. The city is in a state of unrest and many wild rumors are being circulated regarding the revolts.

GENERAL GUARDING FRONTIER

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 23.—General Joseph W. Duncan, commander of the department of Texas, is guarding the Texas frontier to see that the neutrality laws are not violated and that expeditions aimed at the Mexican government are not equipped on the north side of the Rio Grande. He has been advised by Secretary of War Stimson that he can have all the troops needed to carry out his orders.

BIG BATTLE IS ON IN HANKOW

Shanghai, Nov. 22.—Furious fighting is in progress today at Hankow, according to messages just received here. The firing is reported more deadly than at any time since hostilities began. The death roll on both sides is very heavy.

NEW LEAFLETS

The new leaflets are now ready and can be secured at $1 per thousand. The title of this leaflet is "Progress." Special arrangements can be made with this office to use the back page of this leaflet for advertising purposes, which will cost $2.50 additional in 10,000 lots. Many ward organizations are taking advantage of securing the advertising from local merchants, thereby practically paying for the cost of the leaflet and netting the local a surplus above the actual cost.

DENVER CHINESE WILL RAISE FLAG OF REPUBLIC

Denver, Nov. 23.—Another city may surrender to the Chinese rebellion on Saturday. It will be Denver's Chinatown, if plans perfected by local Chinese patriots go through.

The police fear that there may be some imperialists in Hop alley, and propose to have all the ceremonies of surrender carefully watched.

Plans for the demonstration became known today when a committee of Chinese secured permission from the authorities to raise the flag of the new Chinese republic in their Joss house.

A hurried investigation by the police disclosed the fact that not all the residents of Chinatown were in favor of switching from the standard of the dragon to the red flag of the republic. It is feared trouble may result.

Permission was given, however, for the ceremony and also for the firing of a salute of firecrackers in honor of the event.

LINCOLN AVE. MERCHANTS IN LONG PARADE

Under escort of a squad of mounted police, the assistant chief of police and Company A of the First Cavalry, commanded by Col. Milton J. Foreman, the North Lincoln avenue carnival parade last night outlasted everything of the kind ever attempted by a merchants' association of Chicago.

A hurried at 7 o'clock last night at Lincoln avenue and Irving Park boulevard and moving north on Lincoln avenue to Foster avenue, thence east to Robey street, extended south on Robey street to Lincoln avenue again, meeting the tail end there.

Each main division had its band, the most attractive one being the fire and drum corps of the Social Turners. The local fire department was represented by three companies.

Free Samples Given Out
Selig Polycope had six big floats.

INCLUDING ITS FAMOUS DEN OF REAL WILD ANIMALS

Schulze's butter-nut bread was there with a band of its own, a dancing horse and a midget pony.

Kirk's American Family Soap, with a six-horse team of spotlessly clean percherons, entertained the crowds by tossing out good-sized samples of soap neatly wrapped.

The packers' firm from the stockyards district and Oscar Meyer, the sausage man, showed up in splendid style.

The North Side Lumber Company, had fifteen loaded lumber specimens in line. They really looked like beautiful floats, all bedecked in bunting and red flags.

The Rambler Garage furnished three automobiles handsomely decorated for the committee and the local aldermen.

TWO HUNDRED AUTOS IN LINE

Over two hundred automobiles of all types imaginable and all the outfits that the seventy-five members of the association could muster together for the occasion were in line and no small amount of energy and expense was evident in the decoration line.

All of this was done to impress the people of the neighborhood that trading and shopping can be done to advantage without going downtown. "Do your Christmas shopping early and watch for the advertisements of the business houses that want to save you the expense and annoyance of going downtown to trade," was the lesson impressed on the spectators.

DANCEY TO SPEAK ON CHURCH AND SOCIAL EVIL

The controversy amounts to a question of the origin of the world, and as well as those who know Barnard as a debater, will be sure to be present on the occasion of this contest. Both debaters accept the materialist conception of history, so the Socialists who attend will not be disappointed. Tickets are on sale at the office of The Chicago Daily Socialist, and at the Douglas lectures.

BERWYN SOLONS DOUBLE FARES TO BAR OUT POOR

A 10-cent fare will keep the poorer classes out of our village, said Mayor Rich of Berwyn and now a storm of indignation has broken upon him and the council of Berwyn for granting a thirty-three-year franchise to the street car company, permitting it to charge two fares to the city.

In the face of an almost universal demand for "a single fare or drive the company out of the city," in the face of its own pledge to reject the 10-cent franchise, the council voted it through. Resentment against Mayor Rich and the gang in the council, who treated the outrage is at a white heat. The citizens will call a mass meeting to consider ways and means of having the council rescind the obnoxious measure.

Since Christmas, when the company first attempted to put in force its double-fare scheme, Berwyn has been without street car service, because at that time Cicero, through which the street car line passes before reaching Berwyn, stopped cars going through that city, and the company thereafter never made any move to restore the service to Berwyn, hoping that the residents of Berwyn would become so disgusted with walking streets that they would ask for restoration of the service at any price.

People Voted Franchise Down A few weeks ago a special election was held on Saturday on the proposition whether the people wanted a restoration of the street car service with a 10-cent fare to the city with no transfers or were willing to stick to their demand for a 5-cent fare with free transfers, even if it would mean a loss of the street car service altogether. The voters definitely and decisively indicated their opposition to the double-fare outrage scheme by voting four to one against it. The victory for the single-fare party was overwhelming. It was during that campaign that Mayor Rich said:

But the 10 cent fare because we want to keep the poorer class of people out of Berwyn. We are trying to make this a quiet, respectable city for families of means."

Mayor Rich is a staunch Lorimer partisan and a believer in the old regime. Alderman Cooper is the only alderman who voted against the franchise.

They Will Give Up Ownership If They Can Secure the Income Corporations Are Getting Ready for Government Control for Their Benefit.

The principal aim of the large private corporation interests is not so much the maintenance of their private ownership of the means of production and distribution as the preservation and increase of unearned income, the future earnings or profits or dividends.

Just as the individual capitalist will gladly transfer his producing property to the nation or to the municipality, provided he is guaranteed the net rent or the net interest it brings, so also will all the profit-takers agree to a program that guarantees to them their profits or rents or interest.

In January, 1911, the owners of all the steel manufactories, the trust and the independents as well, took stock and found out that the normal producing and distributing capabilities of the various steel plants in the United States was 50 per cent more than could be used.

Shortly after this Taft appointed the Congressional Investigating Committee so that the steel magnates would have the opportunity of offering to turn over their properties to the control of the United States government, providing Uncle Sam would pay them the necessary 25 per cent yearly profits.

The railroads are secured by a very similar arrangement, but so long as these vested rights are so protected the social conditions of those who work for wages are bound to grow worse.

Rent, interest and profit for a few have to be paid for by the many, and compound interest does the rest.

The Plain Truth

An editorial in Leslie's Magazine, labeled "The Plain Truth," is deserving of our attention and comment. The editorial reads as follows:

"Get together! A prominent and successful paper manufacturer in the valley of the Hudson sends an appreciative comment on Leslie's editorial attitude toward the trust-busters and railway-smashers and adds, 'I certainly agree with you. Business must get together and in some way get themselves in politics in place of lawyers and professional politicians, or the country will go over to Socialism. We are fast getting there now. We have too many demagogues.' Yes; the demagogues, with their silver tongues and loud voices, are catching the crowds at every street corner, while business men in the silence of their counting-rooms are trying to figure a profit out of a deficit and to keep the dinner pails of their workmen full."

This is probably the best confession that has thus far been made by a successful business man and the comment by the editor of Leslie's is the best expression of the corporation-controlled magazine that has thus far found its way into "the column."

Any working man who reads this little confession of "the plain truth" and carefully weighs the words and analyzes their meaning will see the plain truth as it has never, perhaps, been expressed to him before.

The "prominent and successful paper manufacturer" proposes to displace the lawyers and professional politicians who are in politics today and put in their stead "business men," in order that the country may not go over to Socialism.

The plain truth is that the lawyers and professional politicians who have made such a muck of our government, national, state and municipal, are the direct representatives of these selfsame business men and have only done their bidding. Now that they have become odious to the public because of their crooked, corrupt and dirty work the business men are going to disown them. They propose to go into politics themselves.

These lawyers and professional politicians were necessary to get public privileges and franchises for the business men in order that they themselves might stay at home perfecting the monopolies and trusts that are so powerful today. Besides the successful business man could not afford to do the dirty work necessary and at the same time hold his position of uprightness and honesty in the community where he lived.

The dirty work was done by a well-paid agent—the lawyer and professional politician.

Now that the crooked work has been done the "successful business man" is willing and ready to step in and preserve the results of his life's work, accomplished only with the help and assistance of the lawyer and professional politician, from the Socialists whom they style as "demagogues, with silver tongues and loud voices, who are catching the crowds at every street corner."

Let the "successful business man" come out of "the silence of his counting-room" and know why the crowds at every street corner are so ready to listen to the Socialist speakers.

Ever since the full dinner pail campaign of 1896 the business man has been sitting "in the silence of his counting-room, trying to figure a profit out of a deficit and to keep the dinner pails of his workmen full."

Ever since the full dinner pail campaign of 1896 the workingman has seen the business men "figure a profit out of a deficit," but he has been waiting in vain for the business man "to keep the dinner pails of his workmen full."

The workingman is getting tired and disgusted with the successful business man's "bunk."

Those Express Companies Again

"What business have the shippers to complain? Haven't the express companies made it perfectly clear that the express service now is more than 882 per cent better than it was in the old stage coach days, and besides, what is it any of the shippers' business, anyhow, if the express managers are good business men and have worked up a good thing? Or is it jealousy?"

"And the public—but it's none of the public's business; this question of express rates concerns only the express companies and the shippers and it's none of the shippers' business how much the express companies make. The shipper ought to be glad that the express companies handle his goods, and if the express rates are too high he can send his stuff by freight."

"But it's perishable and would spoil in transit! The express companies can't help that, that's the shipper's business."—Attitude of the express companies toward the shippers and the public in the matter of express rates.

Of course, even a good housekeeper might get "peevish" and refuse to clean house, just for spite, if everybody kept insisting that the house was dirty and the system of housekeeping the worst in the world. But when conditions are so favorable and everybody is worked up to the highest pitch of anticipation, Mrs. Chicago ought to clean out the police department if she doesn't do anything else till she adopts the Socialist system of Municipal Housekeeping.

The fellows who have always had a good word of some kind for "Hinky Dink" are assuming the attitude of sympathetic friends before a serious operation. Tough luck, old man, that it had to come, but we fear, "Hinky," your days are about numbered.

ON THE STREETS OF NEW YORK

BY THERESA MALKIEL

It took place on the corner of 24th street and 7th avenue, where the woman's committee was holding an outdoor meeting. Hundreds, nay, thousands of people rushed by each other in a hurry to gulp down some food, for it was the noon hour, when the toilers of the world are given a few minutes' respite; some stopped long enough to catch a few words of the earnest speech, others just grabbed the leaflet handed to them, while still others did not even take time for that, but sped on to their place of destination.

In the midst of this general hurry and scurry a pale, shabbily dressed woman turned the corner and reached out her hand for a piece of literature. The emaciated hand trembled, the parched lips quivered, as she muttered: "Why don't you do something for the thousands of women of the street? The streets are full of them," she continued, after a deep sigh. "They are all miserable! Why don't you get at the men who cause this misery?"

The woman's general appearance, her mournful sigh and bitter tone showed clearly that she was one of the miserable ones. She stopped and stood there for a moment as if waiting to be answered. But who was wise enough to answer her? What consolation could she have found in any answer?

She was right; the streets are full of unfortunate women. Reginald Kaufman, who has made a study of the social evil, estimates the number of women of the streets in New York city alone at 200,000.

These unfortunate women are not confined to one quarter of the city, to one nationality or race. The horrible evil stretches out its claws into every nook and corner, mostly, however, into the midst of the poor and suffering.

To be good-looking has become an additional curse to the daughters of the poor, for capitalism robs them not only of their labor-power, but of their very bodies. The pitfalls are manifold for the daughters of the poor: the wolves stand open-jawed, ever ready to swallow the unfortunate victims.

It has been proved that the life of a woman of the street lasts but five years, and in order to keep up the supply according to the demand 50,000 innocent girls are drafted yearly into the ranks of white slavery.

The streets are already full of them, and yet they grow and multiply hourly. What are we going to do with them? What are we going to do for them? They confront us everywhere; they are part of us; their demand on our attention is not more than just. We can no longer dispose of them by throwing stones or pointing our finger in disdain, for we no longer care who is good and who is bad.

None of us can be good, so long as sharp-shooting of Socialist literature the two old parties have become bullet-ridden, the shrewder politicians thrust new cloaks or stolen Socialist thunder over the elephant and jackass, which they have labeled "insurgency" and "reform."

And the people will learn that it is the same old animals, and that neither beast will be of service to them again. The North American first gave its game away in 1905.

such terrible evil is permitted in our midst. None of us can shirk the blame for its existence. Nor are we going to help the unfortunate by segregating them into one district, or driving them out of their lairs, as Dr. Parkhurst tried to do a few years ago, or by organizing schools for the purpose of eliminating the social evil, as some of our fashionable ladies are attempting to organize at present. All these attempts are attempted in vain—they can never cure the horrible wound by throwing a heavy curtain over it; it will only irritate it, if anything. To cure the wound we must seek the causes of the trouble, and by getting at them may we hope to find a method of extinction.

The woman who knows the question from bitter experience tells us to get at the men who cause the downfall of these unfortunate women. There is a great deal of truth in her words.

If women, at least those who consider themselves good, would demand one code of morality for all people without distinction of sex. If mothers would be as careful about the past life of their sons-in-law as they are careful about the past of their daughters-in-law. If men, who help prostitute these unfortunate women by creating the demand, would be ashamed as much as the unfortunate women themselves are shunned, the demand would decrease, and, perhaps, in time the evil itself would disappear.

But, alas, for poor womanhood! Good or bad, it is as a whole a victim of economic slavery. And every student of the social evil will tell us without a moment's hesitation that the horrible economic oppression of woman is at the bottom of the entire problem.

How can women today pick carefully, choose or discard at free will, when she is not the chooser, when she still has to wait until her peer, who is to be her eventual provider and feeder, will disdain to ask her to be his.

Not until the barter in human flesh ceases can anyone eradicate the social evil from our midst. For so long as human bodies are being bought and sold for profit, so long will the supply and demand for human flesh exist.

Women of the working class! It is time that you understand the only way of helping our unfortunate sisters of the streets. It is time you realize that we must combine our forces in order to put an end to the system of profit which does not stop or stoop before anything, to the system of rule of man over man, and not until the rule of man over man will be eradicated from the face of the earth will the rule of man over woman cease.

Explanations sometimes explain too much. Particularly true is this of many of the explanations of the Socialist vote.

The Philadelphia North America, one of the foremost insurgent Republican organs in the country, has an explanation all its own.

It is to the effect that the Socialist party increased its vote where there was no reform movement, and failed where there was.

And it "points with pride" to the fact that Philadelphia polled only 3,500 straight Socialist votes. And it goes on to say that had there been no reform movement in this campaign, there would have been 50,000.

OUT OF THE GINGER JAR

The patcher-up of evil things is like that other dub.

Who, when the rain pours through the roof, sleeps underneath a tub.

William Cherney reports that, having new duties, he will become even more of a "hustler" now. He declares that with all this the prospect is not so black as it was in the past, and that HAZEL help him to make good.

We know that old-age pension is a sort of half-promise. Of giving back a part of that stolen long before.

And it will not satisfy us. For the whole they can't deny us. And the more they offer us a part the more we'll work for more!

Only airships are falling; I hear a voice calling. "Eggs, butter and cheese, they are rising each day."

It's an outrage, a folly; And we feel melancholy That things do not move in a natural way.

The House of Commons is well named; for Tuesday, while the members of the House were covering inside it, surrounded by a thick cordon of police, the militant suffragettes stormed the building, and were arrested to the number of 223. Commons; yes. Very common.

There's little that's left us to praise As the Beef Trust trial drags on its days; There is hemming and hawing And lying and lawing. And progress made up of delays.

The new ward arrangements in Chicago will change the face of things to some degree; but a city is not necessarily rewarded merely because it is re-warded.

The Civic Federation Need feel no perturbation For Gompers with his whitewash brush can hide it from all eyes; Its virtues will so shine then; That he need not resign then; And labor still will root itself with nicely worded lies.

First Policeman—How many arrests have ye made, Dinny? Second Policeman—I pinched two of them Socialists last night; that's all.

First Policeman—An' what are ye lookin' so sad about, Dinny? Second Policeman—They won't stay pinched. They'll be back on this very corner tonight givin' th' force th' laugh.

First Policeman—Can't ye arrest them again? Second policeman—No; they're too lawless; they don't know when they're disgraced.

There's many, and many, and many a fool. But the biggest fool's the fool by rule.

"That Socialist barber wants the pay of the graft commission reduced." "Oh, well, those barbers are always bent upon cutting something close."

"Yes; if he were mayor he would shave all the salaries." "Snip it off! You are talkin' sheer nonsense."

"Reform the reformers?" Now, that is a task For which but few persons would eagerly ask.

The United States grand jury has at last, and as a legacy from a former generation, received the venerable Lorimer case. If the courts are not careful the Lorimer case will die, go to heaven, and thus achieve immortality.

The suffragettes Have covered all bets. And we shall see what we shall see. But hark to the news: The women won't lose; I know it; so take it from me.

"Charity Ball Hangs in the Balance," is the headline in a recent newspaper. Let it hang there until it chokes to death; it is a criminal, anyway.

No, dear reader, Barney Berlin is not the filler-up of the Ginger Jar. Barney says that ginger would spoil cigars, and that he is afraid to mix his work.

Fashion in New York is introducing a dance in which leaves drop from the gowns of the dancers. This reminds us of the leaves of autumn, which drop till the limbs are bare.

HOLD GIGANTIC MEETINGS, PROTESTING AGAINST WAR

Paris.—The meeting in Paris, organized by the Socialist Federation of the Seine at the request of the International Bureau, far surpassed all expectations. The vast hall of the Rue Saint-Paul was filled to overflowing. The speakers were Vandervelde, Lauche, Sembat, Pressense, Jaures and others. A telegram from the Italian Socialists was read expressing their sentiment of solidarity against war.

A resolution was passed protesting against the act of brigandage committed in Tripoli by Italy with the complicity of the other powers, and analogous acts perpetrated in Morocco, expressing the hope that Turkey would not visit the crimes of the Italian government on the Italian proletariat, repudiating militarism, and urging arbitration in all cases of international conflicts; protesting further against the crimes of the Spanish government against the Spanish people, and denouncing the horrible cruelties perpetrated in Spanish prisons.

Similar demonstrations were held in Austria, Bohemia, Portugal, Holland, Hungary, Belgium and other countries. At Brussels the meeting was held in the People's House, Huysmans presiding. Vaillant, Scheidemann, Nahum and Furnemont spoke.

While Nahum was speaking of the atrocities committed by the Italians at Tripoli he was interrupted by two Italian officers, who formally denied the charges. This interruption provoked a hostile demonstration on the part of the public. A similar resolution to that passed in Paris was carried.

DES MOINES SOCIALISTS TO PUBLISH WEEKLY PAPER

Des Moines, Iowa.—A meeting to organize for the coming fight will be held at Trades and Labor Assembly hall, Eighth and Locust streets, next Sunday. The campaign organization will be perfected some time during the following week.

Three hundred Socialists attended a mass meeting held yesterday afternoon in Trades and Labor hall. Howard H. Caldwell, national Socialist organizer, who is conducting a speaking campaign in the interest of Socialism in the larger cities of Iowa, was the speaker. More than $200 was raised at the meeting for the city campaign.

WILL CONTEST ELECTION; CROOKED WORK SHOWN

Salt Lake City, Utah.—The Socialists of Bingham will contest the election in that city and prosecute the voters who cast illegal ballots.

Anton Christensen, who was candidate for mayor on the Socialist ticket, was chosen to represent that body. He visited Salt Lake and consulted with the county attorney and other officers as to what could be done toward prosecuting these cases.

NEW SOCIALIST WEEKLY STARTED IN NORTH DAKOTA

Devils Lake, N. D.—The Inter Ocean says of the new Socialist weekly just started here: "Guy E. Cooks arrived in this city last Sunday and on Monday assumed his duties with the North Dakota Call, a weekly Socialist publication that will make its initial appearance Friday morning of next week."

DESIGNS FROM HIGH CHURCH TO LECTURE FOR SOCIALISM

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Quitting the richest parish in Pittsburgh, Rev. Dr. Alfred W. Arundel, rector of Trinity church, and one of the most prominent Episcopalian divines in America, will henceforth preach the doctrines of Socialism. It is not exactly a break between the parish and Dr. Arundel, but a crisis wherein he feels that he can not serve two masters, and that he can better reconcile himself to the lecture platform than to a rich pulpit.

"I am a Socialist," he said, "and believe in the democracy of the kingdom of God, the fatherhood of God, the brotherhood of man, practically applied; industrial democratization of industry, giving every man an equal opportunity and a co-operative commonwealth. This is what the Gospel meant."

After twenty years of beloved association with his big Trinity parish, Dr. Arundel has decided to leave, despite overtures to allow him remain. A year ago he clearly enunciated his Socialist beliefs in a series of sermons for laboring men. Since that time his views have become known broadcast, and Dr. Arundel now is considering a proposition from a great body of New York laymen of the church to become a Socialist evangelist. This body of laymen is in sympathy with his views, and it is probable that a few more months may find Dr. Arundel in a New York next month to confer with leaders in the movement.

PROHIBITS SOCIALISTS FROM MAKING FUNERAL SERMONS

Hancock, Mich.—Because the Socialist movement is gaining ground here at a tremendous rate, the church has lined up with the rest of the reactionary forces which are endeavoring to stop its advance. The gauntlet was thrown down for the first time when the ruling of the trustees of the Finnish Lutheran church, prohibiting the usual graveside speeches, was enforced.

This city is the stronghold of the Finnish Socialists, and in making speeches many of them have spoken on Socialism. The church trustees do not care for the propaganda and have determined to stop it when services were held in the church over Otto Kahkonen, who met death in the Quincy mine last Saturday.

The Rev. J. Niskanen, president of the American Finnish College and Theological Seminary, presided and refused to allow any other person to say anything. Many attending the funeral left the church.

SOCIALIST MAYOR OF GRAND JUNCTION IS RE-ELECTED

Grand Junction, Colo.—This city is to have a Socialist mayor for four more years, Thomas W. Todd, the present Socialist incumbent, being re-elected. The Socialists came within fifty votes of electing their entire ticket.

The city will also have a Socialist chief of police, Todd having appointed S. B. Hutchinson, a member of the Socialist party, to that office.

Grand Junction is under the commission form of government and the professional ballot is used. A man votes for first, second and third choice. If no one gets a majority on the first choice votes, the second choice is counted. If no one has a majority of second choice, then the third choice is counted. Todd received a majority of third choice votes on his election two years ago and was declared elected. The people liked his work so well that they thought they would like to have a Socialist mayor for four more years.

CAPTURE FOUR SEATS IN LANDTAG ELECTIONS

Berlin.—The Landtag elections in Hesse have resulted as follows: Elector—Center, six members; Peasants' League, six; Socialists, 4; National Liberals, three; Radicals, two. In twelve divisions second ballots are necessary, in seven of which the Socialists are taking part. The result is better than was expected.

OPPOSE MILITARY LAW

The Socialists of New Zealand are waging a vigorous campaign against the compulsory military bill. Since the labor party has been put in power a bill has been put through forcing every able-bodied man to serve a number of years in the army. The labor party was once supposed to be a Socialist party or greatly leaning that way. All the Socialist papers in the province are putting out special anti-military editorials and stirring up a great sentiment against the law.

NOMINATE CITY TICKET

Grant Pass, Ore.—A lively campaign is being planned here by all parties, the Socialists being the first to get into the fray. The old parties look upon the Socialists with dread, as it is thought they will play a prominent part in the elections. Dr. J. C. Smith heads the Socialist ticket as candidate for mayor. The elections will take place in January.

SENT TO PRISON

Paris.—The court at Quimper condemned Roullier, the general secretary of the trades unions in Finistère, to three years' imprisonment and a fine of 1,000 francs for inciting to theft, and for stirring up soldiers to disobey and insult their superiors. These deeds were committed at the time of the demonstrations against the high prices of food.

SWISS WORKING CLASS POLL ONE-FOURTH OF TOTAL VOTE

Zurich.—The ten Socialists elected in the first ballots for the Swiss National Council are: Greulich, Pfleger, Seidel, Sigg, Grimm, Dr. Studer, Engstler, Dr. A. Rother, Dr. Rickli, and Naber. About 165,920 votes were polled, which is over a quarter of the total poll.

PREPARE FOR 1912

East St. Louis, Ill.—The Socialists here are planning to stir things up a bit and let the country know that this city is on the map. They are now making preparations for the 1912 campaign. G. W. Boswell, the Socialist alderman of Maplewood, Mo., has been secured to speak here Nov. 26.

STAMP 1912 CAMPAIGN

Des Moines, Iowa.—The Socialists of this city have already started work for the national campaign next year and promise to make things rather lively for the plutocrats. Members of the local are now out gathering in pledges of $1 a month for five months.
