Bulgarian Question Interests All Europe.

LONDON, Oct. 15 .- The "Times" rives prominence to a statement that Russia's attitude as developed at M. Isvolsky's conferences here is that she holds the questions raised are European questions, not questions simply between Austria and Bulgaria on the one hand and Turkey on the other.

They must be discussed and settled by Europe, and while it is impossible to undo what fas been done, Austria and Bulgaria must submit their action to the judgment of Europe. It is therefore necessary that a European

SPIES ARE URGED IN CLASS STRUGGLE

The detective agencies that spy on labor unions and otherwise serve the employers are teaching economics to their prospective customers based en-tirely on that "repugnant and un-American" doctrine of the struggle of the clauses.
The International Auxiliary Company, the local branch of the notorious Corporations Auxiliary Company of Cleveland, O., in a circular letter to New York employers, urges the use of spies among their employes says:

Our service advises you just who you can depend upon in the event of trouble, so that whatever situation may arise you will not be unpre-pared. We have been standing as a bulwark between the unfair demands made by labor officials and the emsupport of its class. Lodge Tries to Scare People

BOSTON, Oct. 15. Senator Lodge in an address at the banquet of the Postmasters' Association of New Eng land last night sent forth a word of warning against Socialism.

He declared that if this country ever confronted with imperialism it will rise from causes existent among ourselves and will come to us from the success of men who try to array class against class.

"I refer to that substitute for freedom which is popularly known as state Socialism," he said. "It is a dangerous thing to the American body made by labor officials and the employers for the past twenty years, and dangerous thing to the American body sacrificing spirit that has made it possible for the "Red Special" to run religious faith or to make a man vote day. Labor and capital are standing face to face, both prepared to cause he is of Scotch or Irish or Spirit that has made it possible for the "Red Special" to run religious faith or to make a man vote a certain way because he is a Mason. Speaking of the Democratic and Republican parties, Debs said:

At the time they were taken in custody they were at the Pennsylvania Railroad station waiting for a train bound for this city. Newsboys had complained to the police that they had given up 23 and 24 cents change in return for bad quarters, and the police say that the prisoners admitted having disposed of sixty-five coins, and told them that the man whose name they furnished gave them the coins and paid them a commission on all they passed.

Railroad "Passer" Basis of Democratic Dissension.

The visit of John W. Kern, the Democratic candidate for Vice President, has incidentally revived the faction, which was supposed to have been eliminated at least until the close of the campaign. Senator McCarren, as chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee, has made arrangements for a mass meeting on Friday night at the Academy of Music with Mr. Kern and Ignative Dunn of Nehraska as the chief speakers.

and Ignatius Dunn of Nehruska as the chief speakers.

He was surprised when he Jearned that the Kings County Democratic party, in which his factional foes are massed, had made plans to have Mr. Kern also speak at a mass meeting in Prospect Hall the same night. Chairman John Delaney of the anti-McCarren faction said yesterday that Mr. Kern would speak at both meetings and that his first appearance would be at Prospect Hall. Semator McCarren said that Mr. Kern would only speak at one-meeting and that that will be held at the Academy of Muzic.

CUBS ARE

Tigers Run Second for

DETROIT, Oct. 15 .- The Chicago Nationals are again supreme in bare ball. They won the fifth game of the world's series with the Detroits, the American League champions, yesterday, and take it all in all their playing in the series just finished left no doubt of their superiority over the pennan winners of the rival league, just us their campaign in the National League race for the championship left no doubt of their being the strongest and heat rounded out organization in that league. In everything that goes to constitute a championship team they surpassed the Tigers-pitching, batting, base running, preparedness, head work, intelligent co-operation and the faculty of rising to emergencies.

It was the second year in successio in which the Cubs have measured strength with the Tigers, and though they did not do quite as well against the latter as in 1907, they nevertheless were the masters quite as decisively for all practical purposes. Last year the Detroits lost four games in succession after tying the first one. This year the same number of contests was necessary to decide the series—five.

necessary to decide the series—five. The Detroits won one game of the five, the Cube taking the first, second, fourth and fifth.

The game yesterday was won and lost by a small score, but what scoring there was was confined to the ever hustling Cubs. They followed Tuesday's whitewash of the Detroits with another one yesterday. The score was 2 to 0, the Chicago The score was 2 to 0, the Chicago tailles coming singly, one in the first inning, the other in the fifth. Big inning, the other in the fifth. Big Jeff Overall ornamented on the mound for the Chicagos and was a much abler craftsman in the dispensition of speed and slants than Bill Donevan of the home tram. The Cubs got to Donevan for enough timely hits to foreclose the mortgage on the deciding game and championship, while Overall was a mountain in the pathway of the Detroits. He struck out ten men, one of the strikeouts which went to his credit being a wild pitch. Rossman swung at the bail purposely in the hope of feaching first and did reach it.

PRINCETON JUST BEATS VILLANOV

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 15 .- One olitary flash of good form and slashing attack saved the day for Princeton in the game with Villanova at University Field here yesterday afternoon. The final score was 6 to 0. Had the visitors not waxed rough toward the end of the contest they might have stilled and tied the score. But when Bard was chasing Casey, who had a big lead, down the field, several Villanova players in an attempt to block off the little Tiger quarterback tripped him and held his arm. So the visitors paid for their carelessness by a penalty instead of a touchdown.

Princeton put up a slightly better article of the game than they did last Saturday, but not much better. The constant shifting from spot to spot apparently has not yielded encouraging results, and the absence of Capt. Dillon told very decidedly. Booth was in for a few minutes, while McCohan didn't play at all. The final score was 6 to 0. Had the

MACKEY LOOKING FOR FIGHT.

"Bis" Mackey, the clever little Cleveland bantamweight, who has defeated some o fihe best little fellows in the game, is i ntown looking for the scalp of any boys who think they can fight. Mackey is most desirous to meet Jimmy Walsh, of Boston, and Frankie Nell, the former champion, and will take them on any route suitable to his opponent. The Cleveland boy has boxed four times since he made his Eastern debut, defeating Jeff O'Connell and Kid Beebe, of Philadelphia, with case. He wants harder game and it is up to some of the se-called champions to get busy. Jim McDorald is looking after Mackey's interests in the East.

PRINCESS A. C.

What should prove one of the fastest and hardest fought six-round bouts of the fall boxing season is the starbout between Jimmy Gardner and Charles Seiger at the Princess Athletic Club, Broadway and Twenty-ninth street, to-night.

Gardner is one of the classicst welterweights in the country, having several rattling fights with Joe Gans to his credit, and in Seiger, the Hoboken "Iron Man." he will meet a rugged, rushing slugger, who will carry the fight to him from the start.

program arranged by Mr. Williams for his arm on the first fall.

William Hodge and "The Man from Home" have apparently settled down for an indefinite period at the Astor Theater, where the play has made one of the solid hits of the season, and preparations are now under way to permit of such contracts as tentatively existed as this playhouse to be either abrogated or set over until next season in order to give the Tarkington-Wilson of drame a chance to show just what it can do in the way of record business.

In Chicago its business has been larger even than here or in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Walter Hampden again will be seen as Hanson, Tyrone Power as the Drai Man, Arthur Lewis as the Bishop of Laneashire. Miss Matthison as the vicar's wife and Miss Wynne as the Drain Man's daughter. The only change in the cast will present Edmund Rann Kennedy, brother of the author, as the vicar.

For the first time in the history of the Hippodrome members of the big cast are having an opportunity of see ing the performance of which they are a part. Stage Director Burnside has engaged and rehearsed two gen-eral understudies for all the principals, which makes it possible for FINANCIAL.

"O. K." They Say

Our clients think we're all right; here's their word for it: "You have been on the genere every time," says Gates Avery, of Washington. "Go ahead and te'n, as you deserve to do," says El Shore, Cuba. "You're the stuff—with I had known you seoner," writes W. W. Truax, Oregon. "If I had known he (another comrade) was buying of you we would have been dealing long ago," speaks up Alfred Barter, of British Columbia.

We make no "bones" about our business. We try to convince our fellow-comrades that profitable investments PAY—and especially if GUARDED by SOCIALISTS. While some mines and oil companies are fakes, ALL ARE NOT, and there is no gainsaying the fact that wise co-operation in mining, as in everything else, pays rich. We are playing one of the games of the capitalists—FOR THE RENEFIT OF THE WORK-ERS WHO JOIN. Write for more information. Eight years in the Socialist Party—and no apologies, gentlemen!!

It is interesting to note that the really effective demand for industrial rather than from the working class Professor Hanus makes it clear that the question of industrial training is of great importance to the State so-cially and economically. The employer may be primarily interested in the matter because he needs trained workers that he can employ profitably —to himself; the artisan-to-be may be interested because he needs to get an efficient training at some trade as early and as cheaply as possible But the economist and the educator and the statesman can see that the question is one that concerns the individual, the worker and the citizen As the chairman of the Ma Commission on Industrial Education as an educator and as a citizen, Prof. Hanus has been for years urging upon labor unions and upon organizations of employers and upon school boards or employers and upon school boards and upon the public the importance, of incorporating vocational training in the public school system. "MAYBE."

Workless men who advertise in the "Situations Wanted" columns of the New York "World" these days are getting answers. Unfortunately, however, the answers do not come from employers ready to permit men to go to work and earn a living by useful work. Notwithstanding all the talk in the capitalist papers about "returning prosperity," there are still myrlads of men hunting jobs and no evidence of any jobs hunting.

The answers that these workless men get are Democratic circupretending to be personal letters from other out-of-work men, advising the applicants for employment to "study the trust question and understand it."

The advice is good, so far as it goes, although it does not pay the price of a meal and a bed.

The circular says in part:

Our living expenses have increased mixed up with every mouthful of food pour cast. Have our wages incased that much? This trust quescan involves not only you and me, but burn. You cannot put the burden of fillions of our fellow men. It is a investigation upon your neighbor. The usetion personal to yourself. It is facts are present in your own house. That is all very true. And it is encouraging to see the Democratic party forced to come even as near to intelligent argument as It shows that the masses of the working people are awaking, and that even the Democratic politicians, accustomed to treat them as brainless idiots, whose votes are to be bought with money or campaign cigars or shandshakes and flattery, begin to realize that the ters have brains, after all, and are going to use them, and feel that they must make some effort to appeal to their intelligence.

But this Democratic circular goes no farther. It puts the question, but does not dare to try to answer it. It calls on the unemployed workingmen to study the trust problem and the effects of the trust upon wages and prices; but it does not venture to propose a positive solution of the problem.

The nearest it comes to suggesting a solution is this, at the close

But he has never denied the pub-lished report that he does sometimes wear one, so it is presumably true. Of course, no self-respecting member of the working class, all nom always wear fine linen and high collars and white ties and broadcloth and tall, shiny, silk hats, would give a second thought to voting for a man who had once disgraced himself by donning a ed shirt. We did cherish some hopes for Debs, but they are

A Tennessee man has been fined $2,500 for killing quail out of son. No such fine has ever been levied on any manufacturer for exploiting little children below the legal age. Quail are a much prized luxury for the tables of the rich, and it is necessary to conserve the supply by protecting them during the breeding season.

TWO BOOMERANGS AND THE RIGHT WEAPON.

LET THE PEOPLE RULE.

By ROBERT HUNTER.

Before the Democratic convention net Mr. Bryan considered the advisability of adopting a slegan instead of a platform. He intended to put that slogan in a few words so that it could be printed on a postcard and sent to every voter in the country. That war-cry was to have been "Let the people rule!" The scheme fell through, but Mr. Bryan puts forward that plea wherever he speaks.

Of course, we all agree that the people should rule. No one, and especially no politician, will dare come out IN PUBLIC against that

But I would like to ask Mr. Bryan: But I would like to ask Mr. Bryan:
Do the people rule in the Democratic party? Have the people anything to say about the selection of Democratic candidates? Did the people select the delegates to the Denver convention? And will the people be able to control any Democratic candidate when he is once in office?

Mr. Bryan knows that Murphy and

Mr. Bryan knows that Murphy and Connors, that Tom Taggart and Roger Sullivan, and men of similar character, own the Democratic party in the various states. We all know that there is not a single candidate put up, a single bit of legislation passed, or a single public act taken, by the Democratic party in any state in which the Democratic party rules UNLESS THE DEMOCRATIC BOSS HAS GIVEN HIS APPROVAL.

HAS GIVEN HIS APPROVAL.

Mr. Bryan knows this as well as anyone. He has twice been defeated by the bosses in his own political ma-chine, and he will be defeated again by them in the next election.

And bosses who have power enough And bosses who have power enough to defeat Mr. Bryan will have power enough to defeat any legislation that Mr. Bryan or his friends want passed. Let the people rule. That is certainly THE great issue. But if they cannot rule the machinery of their own political parties how shall they rule when they put these political parties into power?

Mr. Bryan states that the Sena-tors shall be elected directly by the people. Does he mean that Murphy

He says that the Democratic party

SYNOPSIS.

Jurisics, an aristocratic young man, is engaged to Adele, the daught er of a peevish, conventional profes sor. He becomes interested in Jessi, a beautiful flower girl of whom his friend, Szentgrothy, spoke very high-ly. His friend in the meantime lost heavily at cards and Jurisics forged his father's name to a note covering that debt. Right after he signed the note 'he learned that his father had died suddenly leaving him no money He breaks his engagement to Adel and, taking Jessi, goes off to country for a short stay. the Jurisics and Jessi took a walk and were met by an acquaintance who insisted that they have dinner in his house. There they met the priest and the judge of the village, and Jessi passed as Jurisics' wife. On the way home Jessi felt and and

A few moments later Jurisics stood in the presence of the police sergeant, who examined him.

The owners of the note had given notice of the forgery, and demanded his arrest. Presumably they had heard of the breaking off of his engagement with Adele Mihalyi, and Forgery!

Jurisics put his hand to his forehead as if struck a powerful blow of the fist. Then he was overcome by a fearful rage against the man who dared to cast the word in his face.
