Guruga Mountain. This movement will be ood luck and unbounded success to The Call and its Workers.

To The Cali—I succeeded in getting a dollar from a girl working with see who shares my glorious fate of earning $6 a week. I give her The Call to read, and she just commences to understand how badly we need this efender to help better our condition. She could not see at first why test defender to help better our condition. She could not see at first why made my little sacrifice. She knows I live with strangers, and have no arents like herself. Even if they are poor, she is a little better off, as the does not get into debt if she is only one week unable to work. But Jod her I would gladly contribute, a whole week's wages if I could manage pay my board without. No sacrifice is too great as we do NEED The all. The girl don't want her name mentioned. Just from "A WORKING IRL." I read the accounts of the Wage Fund with delight. Wishing the bod work the greatest speed and success, I am respectfully yours,

A WORKING GIRL.

The two letters following were received at The Call office Monay. I did not get them till Tuesday, or I should have printed them yesterday's Call. To be sure they are anonymous, and some might think therefore to be neglected. But when I consider the destroying ower of Suspicion it seems to me that they require instant attention. do not want readers to think that I take all this space in The Call on any personal account. Frankly, I tell you that I do not care in the least how many persons may think that Ben Hanford is a grafter. But I do care more than words can tell not to have one honest man spirit in parts of Spain to French in in earth think that Ben Hanford the Socialist is a grafter. New York, August 13, 1908.

Editor of The Call, Gentlemen—I give my good money for The Call, d I want to know what is done with it, and just how much goes to Ben inford when we send in the money which we work so hard to get from a Capitalist. Does Mr. Hanford get 20 per cent of the One Day's Wages and? I have heard it said he did and it was not said in a whisper, ther. It stands to reason he isn't doing all that writing for nothing. I to read it—but he should not be paid 20 PER CENT. That looks like LAFT. I will not support The Call. You Socialists are no better than tern. Hanford doesn't do all that writing for his health. A SUSTAINER.

Let me say here that as to who wrote either of those letters not single name has entered my mind. As to any person or persons 1 we not one suspicion. They were written either by weak friends or by cowardly enemies of The Call. But it would be fatal to our present effort to place The Call on a self-supporting basis to have it whispered about that either myself or any one else was getting 20 er cent of the contributions. So far as the success of the One Day's Vage Fund for The Daily Call is concerned, to have such a thing aspected would be as fatal as if it were true. We cannot work to-ether in an atmosphere of Suspicion. If those letters were written y friends of The Call, why did they not write directly to the editor. business manager, or to any one of the Board of Managers of The Call, and ask the plain question as bluntly as it could be asked, How much do you pay Ben Hanford for his articles about the age Fund?"

Grand Jury Accuses State's Attorney of Protecting Official.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 .- That the September grand jury, which will investigate further charges that police officers have accepted money to protect vice, will have a stormy session, was indicated by the publication to-day of an attack upon States Attorney Way-man by a member of the grand jury of July, which indicted Police Inspector Edward McCann.

H. H. Van Meter, the grand jury ember, declared that last month the grand jury indicted a police official in opposition to the wish of the States attorney, who forced the reopening of the case, and then had it continued to the September term.

Van Meter says that the State's Atorney refused to subpoena witnesses that the jurors insisted had evidence that serious crimes had been com-mitted, and charges that the grand jury, as now conducted in Chicago, is not a free body, but subject absolutely to the State's Attorney's will.

In the meantime the State's Attor neys' assistants continued to-day to gather evidence.

But it is the purpose and the duty of this paper to disclose the real state of affairs as they exist—however names as they exist—however horrible the facts may be—for only in this conditions and their cause.

These conditions exist in every—large city, alike under Republican and Democratic rule. Election is approaching and soon the voters of New York will be called upon to support the Tammany administration, which profits by such conditions in this city. In other cities the voters will be called upon to support Republican administrations under which such evils thrive. A pitiful tale of abuse and ill-treat ment by "cadets" was told to Magistrate Nash in the Flatbush Police Court yesterday morning by Rebecca Sherman, a pretty girl of seventeen years, who was taken from a house on Thirty-eighth street, Borough Park, by a policeman of the Parkville sta-tion Tuesday night. Rebecca said that about three weeks ago she met a young man about 24 years of age on Sheriff street. and was introduced to him as "Fred She says that she does not know his but she gave the police a very good description of him The husband awoke soon after and told her, she says, that he had a ready threatened to work at $15 per week, and that after relli. She has been in this country less than a year, and she believed all he told her.

Two weeks ago "Fred" took her to a house at 1348 38th street, she says, and there he left her. The house was occupied by an old man, called "Mike," and two girls. One girl was about sixteen years old, and the other was about twenty-four. She said tha the old man made love to her and when she repulsed him, she was treated cruelly and made to suffer all sorts of indignities. She tried to get out of the house several times, but on each occasion was prevented, and locked alone in a room for days there-week, the same to be effective the first week in August, other conditions to apply as they did to the one article per week. I should add here that the articles were furnished to the Chicago Socialist for simultaneous publication. The Socialist would gladly pay for them, if they had the money, but you know what a struggle it is having, and I have never received a cent for these writings except the $5 and the $10 per week as stated above.

Now, how much do I receive for the Wage Fund articles? Not one cent. Neither directly nor indirectly. Neither now nor in the future. Several comrades suggested that I should be compensated therefor. I asked one favor-that I be paid my $10 per week while doing this work, agreeing that when this task was done I would make up my delinquency by writing more than two a week. That was agreed to.

I know some may consider $10 too much for two articles. And here I will say that I so far have not been able to begin the real work want to do. In order to do that Ishall have to spend much time in Court Decides That Dead Lieutenan Public Libraries, and my health has been such that a few minutes in the library air drives me home ill. Every line of my work for The Call has been done in bed, though as a rule I have been able to get about part of each day.

As I have said, under no conditions would I accept any material compensation for this work. But that does not mean that I shall go killed by a shot from a service reunrewarded. Comrades, if y-o-u will send in your contribution to volver "held in his own right hand The Call One Day's Wage Fund, if y-o-u will Establish The Call on a self-sustaining basis, if y-o-u will build up The Call's circulation, if y-o-u will make it possible for us to have a Socialist paper such as our Great Cause needs-if y-o-u will do y-o-u-r s-h-a-r-e, I shall be compensated a thousand times over. Comrades, I can see a future for The Call. I can see a paper with its hundreds of thousands of circulation. I see a Call, not that you must ask people to take as a favor to you. The Call I see is one that men will ask you for. The Call I see is one that the Trade Unionist must have. The Call I see is a Call that Working Men and Working Women cannot get along

The Call I see will be so potent in the Labor Movement, will so build up Organized Labor, will so back up the Socialist Party, and so increase the Socialist vote, that the whole American Working Class will rally and march and give battle to its trumpet blasts. Comrades, I see a Call that will make Rockefeller sorry he learned to read. I see a Call that will make Andy Carnegie wish he was a union the findings and adds that he is man. I see a Call that will make Roosevelt tell the truth about Socialism. Don't you see these possibilities? Don't you comprehend the power of the press? Pay The Call's debts. Put The Call on a paying basis. Then you will see what a Socialist paper can do with metropolitan American journalism. All this cannot be done in an atmosphere of Suspicion. All my life I have lived in the open. True, many a time I have had to borrow. Today I am in debt. I shall die insolvent. I know a man who cannot subscribe to the One Day's Wage Fund because of the money I owe him. I had to borrow the $5.17 I sent in. That is the day's wage I would have made if I had a job and was able to work. But I never yet got a dollar in the dark. If any man who knows me were to see me steal a dollar, he would go to an occulist. He would not believe his eyes. That is the kind of character a man must have in the Labor Movement. He must be so ronclad that if he were to do wrong and it were proven, his friends couldn't believe it and others wouldn't. Comrades, I have that good name. Because of that I can ask you to join A WORKING GIRL and give One Day's Wage to The Call. And you will do it.

This is the last time I shall introduce my personal affairs into these pages. I do it now because it is essential to this work. Those who know me know that for some years the heavy hand of affliction has spared me not at all. Bereavement. Sorrow. Illness. No ill of the Working Class has passed me by. All have entered my door without knocking. They remained without asking. I am little other than a skinfull of pathological phenomena that need not worry much longer. Personal ambition does not hold me. But I am ambitious for The Call. I see its possibilities so clearly. I see so plainly the wonderful service it might give to the Working Class. I spoke of my afflictions. Forget them. My blessings. No man other ever had such blessings and so many. Such a mother. Such friends. Such ber of marriages have been recorded between Japs and Americans. I see a Cause. Such love of Comrades Such a wife. Once every day for more than four months—some days twice—in my paroxysms of pain and I do not believe the result would I have quit, and said enough. And no further would I go. Then her harmful to our standard of life. courage and her strength has saved me. And once more I could do idea. OUR work. The Call is on the road to Success. It will be all that I have said it shall be. With y-o-u-r help.

Watch. Be alert. But do NOT be Suspicious. We have real enemies. Fight them. Not each other. You "hear it whispered" that some one "gets twenty per cent." Ask him or his paymaster just as bluntly as words can do if it is true. And don't forget to sign your name when you impeach any man's motives. That is what names are

Through it all remember this: No matter WHO goes wrong, the GREAT CAUSE CAN NEVER GO WRONG.

Had Isaac Newton been a traitor or a fool, it WOULD not have altered the law of gravitation. Had Carl Marx become a Capitalist, had Frederick Engels been a Police Spy, the law of surplus value and the materialist interpretation of history would have remained unimpaired. Should Andrew Carnegie die poor, it would not prove that he had lived honest. Should the Standard Oil Company become a bankrupt, it would not follow that Roosevelt or Bryan did it, or that Capitalism was a Benedict Arnold's treason neither helped King George nor delayed American independence, and Judas Iscariot's kiss did not impede the march of Christianity.

Measured against great causes, purposes and principles, how insignificant is man. Again, for any given task in hand how important is-not man-CHARACTER.

. Now, reader, turn back to those letters of A WORKING GIRL, and ask yourself if you are worthy to live in the world with her.

DEBS AT NEWARK

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 18. depths to which some enemies of So cialism will go is shown by the rumor being buslly circulated in Newark that Eugene V. Debs would not be present at the Essex County Socialist picnic in Wever's Colosseum, Springfield avenue, Saturday afternoon and night, August 21.

The evident purpose of spreading this rumor is to injure the attendance at the picnic, which bids fair to be enormous. What particularly excites the ire of politicians is the fact zations have voted to attend in a body, one large union voting to fine each member a dollar in the event of not being at the picnic.

YANKS DROP TWO

SPORTING NEWS

Frisky Boston Beats Highlanders in a Double Header.

The Yanks dropped a double-header today, which put them further back in the race. The undoing of the New Yorks in the first game started with a base on balls in the third inning. McConnell took the stroll, and as he ran for second Carrigan hit through the vacant space at short. Wood forced McCon-nell at third with a push to Wilson, but when Pete made a throw to secto catch Carrigan napping the ball took a tangent off Carrigan's roof. It was on again and off for Carrigan, who ran to third. while Wood wandered to becond. Harry Niles, our whilom crony, piled a single to center and scored his catcher

Carrigan ran to the grandstand in the fifth innning and took Austin's foul from under the eaves. On simi lar fouls the New York catchers floundered around and failed to get under the hall—one of other contrasts under the ball—one of other contrasts in the playing of the two teams. Only once did the first Highlander up get to first base—that when Engle was hit in the seventh inning. So admirably was the hit and run manipulated by the New Yorks that Engle didn't know Elberfeld's fly had been caught by Wagner until the ball had been tossed to Stahl for a double play.

In the second game the home team expended their remaining scoring energy in the fourth. Laporte doubled and was driven home on Knight's single. Austin walked and Sweeney sent a fly to Gessler, and as the latter swung to throw over to third for Knight he dropped the ball. Knight crossed the plate on the error. Pretty base running by Elberfeld in the sixth went for naught because the Kid did not touch the plate, A single and out put the Kid on second, and he rushed past third for home on Knight's bunt Cicotte, Stahl's throw to Carrigan as high. Elberfeld's slide took him wide of the plate, but he had time to touch it before Carrigan touched him. He didn't make use of the time and was called out when Carrigan tagged Chesbro's trials in the seventh began with a base on balls to Speaker. Gessler flied to Demmitt, but singol-ogy by Wagner, Stani and McConnell, the ball going over the fielders' head each time, were productive of three runs, and a fourth was distilled from an out. The out was on Carrigan, and that quite a number of labor organi- that he too didn't make a hit was due to a splendid stop by Laporte, who headed off the ball in right field.

Niles' smash through the box and out and a hit by Gessler gave the Bosrunning catches by Engle, gems in their way, were useful in keeping Boston's total down.

HURST REMOVED.

Umpire Officially Deposed by Ban

President Ban Johnson has officially removed Timothy Hurst from the American League staff of umpires for the alleged act of spitting in the face of Second Baseman Collins of the Philadelphia Athletics. Hurst say's that the insuits to which the Philadelphia players subjected him pos-sibly made him lose his head, and hopes in the course of time he will be forgiven. Hurst may be a scrapper and also hotheaded when under fire. but he is both honest and fearless and has never been accused of being a "home umpire." In fact players in general will admit that they would rather have Hurst umpire their games on the road than any other judge of play. A VOICE FROM INDIA.

By Moses Oppenheimer.

Far off India is waking up from its | though they may occasionally speak benumbed condition. There are many signs that the natives no longer mutely submit to the English rule. They are making efforts to organize a movement with one end in view: India for the Hindus. Many Hindus of education take an active part in it. The British rulers, of course, do every-thing in their power to crush the spirit of opposition and revolt. The literature emanating from native sources of opposition bears a striking the literature of Young Europe at the time of the Holy Alliance. One must learn to read it between the lines, to catch subtle hints, to connect odds ends. Thus one finds that the Hindu giant is no longer sleeping the

A NEGLIGIBLE QUANTITY.

Theodore A. Bingham, recently removed from the Police Comsionership of New York by Mayor McClellan, has published an apology of his official life in Van Norden's Magazine.

In this apology Bingham tells what a characterless person Mc-Ciellan is. How the latter dreaded a recount of the vote cast at the last mayoralty election. How, in consequence, he shunned to appear in public, for fear of being received with hoots and jeers. How he had decided to go out of politics and then suddenly changed his mind and resolved to fight for the control of Tammany Hall. How he wanted to use in this fight the police, "who are a factor in every election contest, whether it be a primary election, a municipal election, a state or a national election," and how the virtuous, the guileess Bingham resisted him even while he appeared to be yielding. How, in order "to play his little game to win the ministers," he suddenly ordered all the moving picture shows shut down one Sunday, after he had permitted them for a long time to do as they pleased, "to make money and then become respectable." How, in following up the same "little game," he ordered all the clean Coney Island amusement places shut down, etc., etc.

All these things are more or less interesting, though not particularly novel or striking. But there are some other things of much greater importance that Bingham does not even refer to in his

He says nothing about the brutal clubbing of striking workingmen, bakers, teamsters, and others. Were these clubbings executed by his orders or by McClellan's? Did these orders come from

He says nothing about the riding down of unemployed workmen congregated in peaceful assemblage. Was this done by his order er by McClellan's? Did the order come from "higher up"?

He says nothing about the repeated violation of the rights of free meeting and free speech during his regime. Were these things done by his orders or by McClellan's? Did these orders come from

He says nothing about the sending of police agents, uniformed and disguised, to the meetings of the working people, as well as of progressive people generally who dare entertain notions concerning ciety, morals, and literature different from those of this profound social and political philosopher. Were these things done by his orders or by McClellan's? Did these orders come from "higher up"?

He says nothing about the ceaseless persecution to which innocent but poor people were subjected at the hands of the police during his regime, as well as preceding regimes. Were not these things done with his knowledge and consent, as well as McClellan's and those "higher up"?

These are the things concerning which the great masses of the people wish to be informed. These are the things that affect them vitally in their hard struggle for a decent human existence and in the exercise of their rights as free citizens. But Bingham has not a word to say about these things, for these are not the things that interest "respectable" public to which he addresses himself.

Bingham and his "respectable" public evidently look upon the reat mass of the people of this city as a negligible quantity. Such they have hitherto been, most of the time. But it remains to be seen ow long they will continue to justify this view of themselves by their "superiors" and governors.

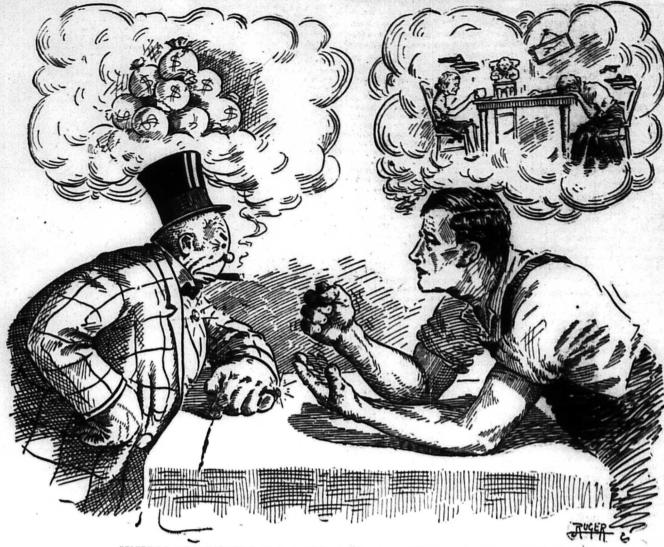

According to the New York Times another "victory for the peole" was registered day before yesterday when Ephraim J. Page, a racuse lawyer, was selected as counsel to the legislative committhe appointed to look into the advisability of placing telegraph and their restless, nervous course. Every moment is precious. The hours are golden. For every shirtwaist more and more wages come to the wearled missions. The creation of this committee was another "victory for the people," for it came into existence owing to a combination of They would stop to gossip, to talk Republican and Democratic influences, who were opposed to placing the telegraph and telephone companies under the Public Service Pleasure id that "Fingy" Conners. Democratic State Chairman, is interested in several up-state telephone companies. When the committee will present its report there will be occasion for announcing more "victories for the people." And should it finally, after debates lasting through many weary years, be decided to place the telegraph and telephone companies under the supervision of these commissions, there will be occasion to calebrate a "glorious victory for the people." And when the commissions will be rendering, with regard to these companies, decisions similar to that regarding the Coney Island fare, there will be a great many more "victories for the people."

The indications of prosperity continue to multiply. According to the latest report of the American Railway Association there was a decrease of 15 per cent in the number of unused cars in this country and Canada during the fortnight ending August 4. According to an official of this association there will be a severe car shortage before October if such reductions continue. Moreover, it must be borne in mind that, according to the recent statement of a prominent railway official, from one-half to three-fourths of the cars now idle are of antiquated type, while the greater part of the remainder are kept in enforced idleness preparatory to the moving of the crops. The tide of prosperity is rising. Let the workers note it. And let them also not forget to support their brothers fighting against the most cruel taskmasters of the Pressed Steel Car Company.

We have recorded the fact that on Friday, August 13, the Evening Journal editorial writer met with a mishap and allowed the words capitalistic exploitation" to slip from his unguarded pen. We have now to record that on August 17-only four days later-the same writer, his mouth watering at the prospect of the enormous harvests now ripening, expressed the hope that "in time"-at some distant future time-there may be enough for all "even after the big people have taken their unnecessary share." The thought that possibly have taken their unnecessary share." The thought that possibly there may at some future day be no "big people" at all has, apparently, not yet penetrated that hard radical-antediluvian skull.

Chicago Daily Socialist, Ella Gingles, the white slave, freed from prison, where she was confined on a trumped-up charge, was able to sail for home from New York last Thursday. So-

OPEN-AIR SPEAKING

Editor of The Call:

Permit me to take exce Comrade Hunter's remarks ing outdoor speaking; and s clusions are based upon an ence possibly as extensive as Comrade Hunter. He recommends beginners to orise their speeches; whereas, mind, no greater mistake in speaking (on street corners) or made.

You want these things not in vague You want these things not in vague abstractions, but in practical measures — measures available right now.

Read the Socialist platform—the last part first. You will find specific, feasible, unquestionably decirable measures outlined there, measures which face human needs—vital needs. But more than that, if you read the other part of the platform, you will find a statement of how these things and much besides may be obtained.
