SEIDEL'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE SPELLS HOPE FOR WORKERS

Makes Document Public Prior to Speech at Auburn, Me.

AWARE OF HIS DUTY

Asks Socialists to Forget Differences and Present United Front to Enemy.

(Special to The Call.)

AUBURN, Me., Aug. 30.—Emil Seidel, Socialist party candidate for Vice President, completed his New England speaking tour by addressing a speaking which packed the City hall here tonight. Often his speech was interrupted by tremendous outbursts of applause. The audience was highly enthusiastic and was in a very happy mood.

The New England tour was a success beyond all expectations and the speaker in which Seidel was received with the brightest prospects for the Socialist movement in this part of the country.

The Vice Presidential party will now return to Pennsylvania, to address four meetings in different parts of the State.

Before making his speech tonight, Seidel made public his letter of acceptance of the nomination for Vice President on the Socialist party ticket. In it he makes a scathing indictment of capitalism and exposes the false promises and prophecies upon which the old political parties base their claims for the people's votes. Roosevelt and his "progressive" movement are held up to the spotlight and he makes the hypocrisy of the Bull Moose visible to the naked eye.

He also explains the historical and philosophical basis of the Socialist movement, and points out clearly that Socialism is the only avenue of escape from the capitalist wilderness.

Seidel's letter in full:

The letter is given here in full:

Comrades and Fellow Workers:

Your convention has conferred upon me the privilege of standing as one of your representatives in the contest that is now on in the political arena. The confidence that you have placed in me by your action prompts me to express my heartfelt appreciation.

Your choice also imbues me with a vigorous desire to prove myself worthy of the trust that you have placed in me.

I heartily feel the duty and responsibility that your choice has placed upon my shoulders, and I assure you that from now until the hour that the votes are counted every minute of my time and all of my energy shall be thrown into the contest. Nothing shall influence me to withdraw my attention from the enemy for even an instant.

That I may better acquit myself of this duty, which you have decided I shall perform, in a manner that is worthy of our great cause, I need and most earnestly solicit the hearty co-operation of each and every one of our comrades. This is our fight. Such victories as we may win will be our victories.

All else that might weaken our onslaught upon capitalism or in any way impair our strength in the contest must stand aside.

These are our comrades who in our struggle have after blow, and these are our enemies who tarry or whisper because they have some private grievance that they would first have righted. Those are against us who are not with us.

With this spirit of solidarity and unity, let us enter the battle arena. It is a sacred cause. This is part of a world-wide campaign. The like of it has never been seen before. Right and justice are with us. The people who make this world are with us. Progress is with us. The future is ours. What, then, can prevent us from going forward? We must win. Victory cannot fail us.

Bill Moore would save Capitalism.

The utter incompetence of the capitalist parties to deal with the vital problems of the day, the absolute inability to even comprehend the magnitude and extent of these problems, is shown so strikingly shown as in the recent conventions. Nor is it merely a matter of convention. It is merely an abortive attempt to prove the hold of capitalism on the people as a whole, and the workers in particular.

The Chicago Tribune, itself a supporter of Theodore Roosevelt for the Presidency, heralds the new confession of faith to the world in the following headlines:

"Radical ideas in Colonel's speech," says after its delivery in Chicago he was called Socialist. Curious as it may seem, he is alarmed, because he is not in their interest.

EXPOSES POLITICAL POWER OF PERKINS

Former U. S. Senator Shows How Harvester Trust Head Can Ruin His Enemies.

YORK BEACH, Me., Aug. 30.—That the Harvester Trust, of which George W. Perkins is the head, is a "gigantic political machine" as well as a big business organization is the substance of a statement contained in an "open letter" forwarded to Colonel Roosevelt tonight by H. C. Hainsborough, a former Senator from North Dakota. Hainsborough was a Senator from North Dakota for eighteen years.

He claims that he was defeated for reelection as a result of the activities of Perkins and other Harvester officials. Hainsborough charges that Perkins has been in politics many years, and that he exercises an insidious political influence through a multitude of merchants, shopkeepers and farmers throughout the country. Hainsborough points out that the Harvester combine was formed during the Roosevelt administration.

"Let me say that in my judgment no admiring word to Mr. Perkins from the President of the United States in 1912 would have put an end to his efforts in creating the present monopoly in agricultural machinery," writes Hainsborough to Colonel Roosevelt. "Instead Mr. Perkins, as a welcome visitor, a confidential adviser at the White House and to my personal knowledge exerted a powerful influence in blocking the wheels of justice in the Washington departments, thus escaping prosecution."

DEBS GETTING INTO CAMPAIGN SWING

Butte, Mont., Packs Theater to Hear Socialist Presidential Candidate.

(Special to The Call.)

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 30.—Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist Presidential candidate, was greeted by a great demonstration here this evening.

Three thousand listeners packed the Broadway Theater and the audience was on its feet time and again to cheer and applaud his indictment of the capitalist system.

The entire house was sold out, even standing room being at a premium. Before and after Debs' speech literature was sought up by the audience as fast as it could be handed out.

Debs felt quite at home in this town, as the administration is partly in the hands of the Socialists. He was greeted by the Socialist miners in the Western Federation of Miners, and by the Socialist Labor party.

The whole city was tingling with anticipation today before Debs arrived, and the main subject of conversation on the streets, in the mines and in the homes was the coming speech of the well-known and much beloved candidate of the Socialists.

Debs is greatly pleased at the enthusiasm with which the message of Socialism is being received in the Western towns, and predicts that when the votes are counted on election night, the capitalist politicians will receive a shock from which they will be long in recovering.

Debs is now getting into his old swing as a campaigner and as the tour continues becomes stronger. The enthusiasm which he arouses in his hearers becomes infused into him, and as the audience warms up to his subject, he rises to heights that become prophetic.

His arrival in each of the towns and cities is more like a home-coming to Debs, as all the audiences that greet him look upon him as their own.

The Presidential candidate's touring party left tonight for Spokane, Wash., where Debs will speak tomorrow.

RYAN SWEARS ANNUAL INCOME IS $152,000

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 30.—Under the provisions of the Virginia Income Tax Law Thomas F. Ryan, the banker and railroad operator, owner of a vast farm in Virginia and one of the State's delegates to the Baltimore convention, under oath declared that his yearly income from all sources is but $152,000.

Ryan's sworn income is much less than that of John P. French, Richmond's wealthiest citizen, who turned in $212,000 as his annual income, although Ryan is reported to be ten times richer than any other man in the State.

NICARAGUAN TROUBLE IS QUIETING DOWN

With Arrival of More U. S. Marines, Hostilities Are Subsiding.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Continued "improvement" in the Nicaraguan situation was reported to Washington today by Admiral Southard, commander in chief of the American forces there. The fact that easy communication is now being had with Nicaragua is sufficient in itself to allow a large measure of "anxiety" of the Washington officials.

Admiral Southard reported that Commander Terhune, with a force of 500 men, is working his way along the railroad line from Corinto to Managua. Last night he arrived at Chinandega, where he spent the night. His forces are repairing the railroad tracks and bridges and the telegraph lines as they proceed. Terhune met with him two locomotives and twenty five cars, with all material necessary for the work in hand. Chinandega is in the hands of the rebels, but they are making no attempt whatever to block or interfere with the progress of the Americans.

The Denver arrived at San Juan Del Sur, the cable port, today. Admiral Southard sent her there to act as a base for wireless messages from the ships at Corinto. Hearing also that a revolutionary force was threatening to attack San Juan, he sent a landing party along which will see to it that there is no interference.

The train with 800 marines from Philadelphia arrived at Corinto today at noon. Her marines were once entrained and sent across the isthmus, where they will embark on the motor California tomorrow for Corinto. With the forces coming on the California and those already there Admiral Southard is confident, he stated in his dispatch today, that he can "cope with the situation."

The only phase of the situation that causes any anxiety at present is the reports of conditions at Matagalpa, an inland town without railroad communication, about 100 miles from Managua. There are a large number of foreigners there, including more than 100 Americans.

SEIDL, Aug. 30.—All of the 123 persons accused in the Korean conspiracy trial pleaded not guilty today when the hearing was resumed.

Ten of the prisoners testified that their "confessions" of plotting against the life of the Japanese Governor General, Count Terajima, had been made after they had been beaten and tortured.

An eloquent plea in the prisoners' defense was made by Dr. Uzuwa, one of the leading members of the Tokio bar and also a Japanese member of Parliament. Although he had been engaged for the prisoners, he had been unable to attend the hearings by reason of his political duties.

In speaking on behalf of Kichinyong and nine other prisoners, Dr. Uzuwa said Kichinyong had been fifteen years a Christian. As a Christian, he admitted, he had committed crimes, but his clients had been also educated in the arts and sciences and were hardly likely to commit crime.

Dr. Uzuwa hoped that the court would doubt the correctness of the prisoners' confessions, which they had later retracted because they declared they had been secured under torture. The torture, he said, was denied by the prosecution.

Prosecutor Sakai raised objections to Dr. Uzuwa's statements, but in general did not dispute his arguments. He asserted that the whole case was a criminal and not a political one.

GAMBLING PROBE A BLUFF TO FOOL CONFIDING PUBLIC

It's a Hoax for Whittman's gubernatorial Candidacy.

That the entire noisy investigation of the connection between the constituted authorities, the gamblers and the operators of houses of prostitution, is actuated by nothing else except a desire to appease the wrath of an outraged public is becoming more apparent daily.

The belief that the whole probe of conditions existing in gambling circles which led to the murder of one of the members of the fraternity who "squealed" is only a bluff, received a greater credence yesterday when it became known that a deal had been made with two or more of the men who are alleged to have participated in the murder of Rosenthal. Deals have been made now with almost all those who are alleged to have been interested in the death of the gambler.

It is rumored in certain quarters that the so-called probe by District Attorney Whittman is part of the same of nursing the boom for the candidacy of Governor of this State for Whittman, and that the Police Department of the city is "laying down" to give him as much chance for publicity as a "good man" as possible.

The police, knowing that the District Attorney has the power to make matters uncomfortable for them, are anxious to give him a free hand in the matter, hoping that a very any dice result that might follow.

Even William J. Burns, the dictator of the police, appears to have made a deal with the breaking up of the so-called alliance between the police and the gamblers. Not having been given the chance to have a hand in the proceedings before the probe began, being called upon to detect crime after it had been committed, Sleuth Burns appears to be up a tree. Burns' specialty appears to be that of leading individuals into a commitment of crime and not so much that of detecting it in cases in which he had been, at least, a part investigator. Not knowing exactly what has been going on in this city, he appears to have made a failure of the "great expose" which he was supposed to bring to light.

Lawyer and Prosecutor Mum.

As in the cases of most of the alleged participants in the murder of Rosenthal, it is now asserted that a deal is also under way to get Whittman, Lewis and Dago Frank to turn State's evidence in return for an alleged promise of a prospect of serving only five years, and possibly less, in Sing Sing, and a monetary consideration. The report says that Lewis and Ciroletti are ready to make complete confessions in return for the considerations offered.

The lawyer named in the rumor is known to have been in conference with District Attorney Whittman for a lengthy period recently. Both the county prosecutor and the lawyer declined to divulge the slightest hint as to the nature of the subject under discussion.

That Whittman has expected Lewis and Ciroletti to make a full and unreserved statement to him sooner or later has been well known. He is said to have delayed indicting them as well as William Shapiro, the driver of the murder car, and Jacob Reich, otherwise termed Jack Sullivan, believing they would supply him with information that would tend to clear up the murder.

While Commissioner Waldo's activities in preparing a list of the disordered houses were being continued yesterday, the District Attorney's office was paying special attention to the trial of Lieutenant Becker for the murder of Rosenthal. And of most immediate moment to Whittman and Assistant District Attorney Frank Moss is the probable fight that will be made by Becker's counsel to delay the trial.

A statement from Becker's chief counsel, John F. McIntyre, which was issued yesterday, throws a strong light on the Becker defense as now outlined by the indicted policeman's counsel. Also McIntyre tells in his statement that he will fight to the limit to prevent the calling of the trial on September 11, as the prosecution is confident of having done.

McIntyre Talks Conspiracy.

McIntyre's statement on behalf of Becker last night contains a bitter arraignment of the persons who have repeated to outsiders the proceedings of the Grand Jury. In a sentence, too, McIntyre shows his belief in the truth of the stories recently printed to the effect that Rose, Valien, Webber and others are responsible for the shooting and that they then conspired to frame the murder upon the innocent Becker.

"My associates and myself," said McIntyre yesterday, "feel that we will be able to reveal at the trial a conspiracy framed up by the witnesses upon whom the State is now relying on outwitting the plots and conspiracies."

SUGGESTS HEALTH DEPARTMENT PROBE

Milk Committee Demands Credit for Forcing Board to Do Its Duty.

The New York Milk Committee, a recent report by which was pronounced unfair by Dr. Walter Bensen, sanitary superintendent of the Board of Health, made a statement suggesting that if the Board of Aldermen will turn its attention to the Health Department after clearing up the public situation, "doubtless the real reason could be found why the Health Department has to be driven by the Milk Committee to protect the city from impure milk."

"The committee recognizes that the Health Department cannot immediately change the character of the supply of milk served to the patrons of our restaurants and lunch rooms, yet it believes that a beginning might be made by making known to the patrons the kind of milk served at these places," said the committee.

Dr. Charles E. North, bacteriologist of the committee, said that Dr. Bensen's reply to the committee's report was evidently intended to mislead the public. The committee took its samples of milk from glasses and bottles in which it was served to customers because the committee wanted to know the number of bacteria the customers were getting from the milk. If, as Dr. Bensen said, the bacteria came from the glasses or bottles and not from the milk, Dr. North thinks that, as head of the division of sanitation, Dr. Bensen should be more active in protecting the public from such glasses.

"It has long been my opinion," said Dr. North, "that the washing of glasses at soda water fountains and the washing of glasses and dishes in public drinking places should be made a matter of direct supervision by the Department of Health."

Dr. Ira S. Wile, editor of the Medical Review of Reviews, who is a member of the Milk Committee, said:

"We have asked Dr. Bensen if he has not yet learned that typhoid is distributed through milk supplies. Dr. Bensen states that this milk with all its bacteria is used in restaurants, hotels and public places. We call his attention again to the epidemic of diphtheria, scarlet fever and sore throat which has had such a serious result in Boston, Baltimore and Chicago, and asked him as sanitary superintendent, whether he could not see no reason for taking notice of the unclean condition of the milk as shown in the report of the New York Milk Committee."

"Furthermore, Dr. Bensen has found typhoid in 17 per cent of the specimens of milk examined by him, and while adults are not yet susceptible probably to this form of infection from the milk there are countless children who are susceptible who are drinking the same milk in restaurants, hotels and public places and yet the sanitary superintendent can see no reason for taking notice of the unclean condition of the milk as shown in the report of the New York Milk Committee."

CATHOLICS TO TAKE SPECIAL CENSUS

Taft Authorizes It and Archbishops Confer on Plan to Make Government Accept Their Figures.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 30.—It developed today that the mysterious conference of Archbishops Messmer, of Milwaukee; Ireland, of St. Paul, and Glennon, of St. Louis, was intended to discuss a recent decision of President Taft with regard to the Catholic census of the country.

The recent official census reports were criticized by Catholics as giving far too small figures for the Catholic families of the country.

The protests reached the President and he has finally authorized the taking of a special census of Catholics by church dignitaries, and the archbishops were in conference with a view to studying how to make the census correct and officially inclusive.

WM. M. WOOD HELD FOR DYNAMITE PLANT

Head of Woolen Trust Indicted in Connection With Job Done to Discredit Lawrence Textile Strikers Last Winter.

BOSS RELEASED AT ONCE UNDER $5,000 BAIL

Notorious Exploiter of New England Mill Slaves Expressed Surprise at Grand Jury's Action and Denies His Guilt—Will Be Arraigned Next Week.

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Company, one of the largest textile concerns in the world, and uniquely prominent as the leading spirit in the textile industry of the United States and a hard slave driver, today surrendered himself to Inspector Thomas J. Lynch, of police headquarters, who read to Wood an indictment charging conspiracy in connection with the "planting" of dynamite in Lawrence last winter for the purpose of injuring the cause of mill operatives who were on strike there.

Wood went to police headquarters at 10 o'clock in company with former Congressman Samuel Powers, who previously will act as his counsel. He was at headquarters only a few moments, going directly to the Courts Building, directly across the street, to be arraigned.

According to an agreement previously reached with the District Attorney's office, Wood promptly furnished $5,000 bail to keep from going to jail with Dennis J. Collins, the Cambridge dog fancier, who was indicted and arrested yesterday at the time Wood's indictment was returned to Judge Pratt. It is understood Wood will be arraigned next Tuesday.

On his way from court the "wool king" stopped long enough for the newspaper photographers to snap him two or three times, after first halting them with the remark:

"Is everybody happy?"

In the clerk's office Wood drew five $1,000 bills from his pocket as his bail. He asked to be arraigned at once, but was told it could not be done until the other defendants named in the indictment were ready to plead.

The indictment contains six counts, which, summarized, are as follows:

"First—That William M. Wood, Dennis J. Collins and a third person whose name is not disclosed, on January 26 last, in Boston conspired with John J. Breen and Ernest W. Pitman to place dynamite in the buildings of Joseph Arraf and Urbano Di Prato and on the premises of Phillip Holland in Lawrence with the intention of falsely accusing the strikers of having the explosives in their possession with the intention of injuring certain of the mill owners and their property.

"Second—That the defendants are charged with conspiring with Breen and Pitman to place the dynamite in the premises of Lawrence people with the intention of injuring the persons who were found with the explosives in their possession unlawfully.

"Third—That Wood, Collins and a third man are charged with conspiring unlawfully and malevolently with Breen and Pitman to injure Joseph Arraf by placing seven pounds of dynamite in his house at Lawrence.

"Fourth—That Wood, Collins and another are charged with the same offense as specified in the third count against Urbano Di Prato, of Lawrence. (Seven pounds of dynamite were placed in his home.)

"Fifth—That Wood, Collins and a third man not named are charged with conspiring with Pitman and Breen to store dynamite in buildings in Lawrence without a permit.

"Sixth—That the same defendants are charged with conspiring with Pitman and Collins to place the dynamite in the county of Essex, where name is not disclosed, with the intent to injure various buildings and their occupants."

Collins is still in jail in default of bail.

Pitman in Wood's Office.

It is alleged that Pitman was in the office of Wood at the time of the last meeting of the men in Boston and that Breen was in the office of the man whose name is not to be disclosed until he surrenders himself. It is further alleged that the third man telephoned to the office of Wood and got Pitman on the wire.

He told him that Breen was in his office. It is alleged that later Pitman came to the office of the third man, met Breen and then called up some one on the phone and spoke to him about the dynamite.

Pitman went to the quarry of William H. Rice in East Milton. Rice says that Pitman represented to him that he wanted dynamite to blow up some stumps on land in Worcester. He stumps on Rice's place in an automobile. He obtained several sticks of dynamite from Rice. The latter accompanied him to Boston because he wanted to talk to him with a view

C. F. U. READY FOR LABOR DAY PARADE

All Dead Silent About Fake "Workingmen's" Meeting at Cathedral.

All the preparations for the Labor Day parade were completed at the meeting of the Central Federated Union at the Labor Temple last night.

James Holland, of the Firemen's Union and of the Militia of Christ, extended an invitation to the delegates to turn out to St. Patrick's cathedral and attend the "labor" ceremonies to be held there next Sunday night.

Albert Abrahams made a lengthy address on the increased cost of living and urged that organized labor do something to put a stop to the intolerable increase of the high cost of living.

Rudolph Modest, of the Butchers, said that the people can talk high about the cost of living, but labor would not gain anything until they give up the idea that the present Congress will do them any good.

Wroth at the solidarity shown in the ranks of the strikers and the support given by the working class of the nation deliberate attempts were made by the beneficiaries of the strike to provoke trouble.

On January 20 eleven arrests were made in connection with the "hounding" of a "plant" of seven sticks of dynamite, together with a short ton of TNT, in an empty room in the poorest quarter of the city where the strikers lived.

On February 28, nineteen sticks of dynamite were "discovered" attached to the trucks of a freight car when it arrived at Philadelphia, after having been brought to New York by the American Woolen Company in the train.

The facts of the "planting" were accidentally divulged by one of the participants to the District Attorney last Tuesday it was announced that the Grand Jury would take up the matter of the "planting" and the same evening Ernest W. Pittman, a mill contractor at Andover, Mass., committed suicide.

It is to be held under the joint auspices of the New York and Brooklyn Etor and Giovanniotti Defense Conferences.

The girls will hold shields bearing the following mottoes: "Action," "The Land for Those Who Labor," "All Wealth Belongs to Those Who Create It," "Labor Creates All Wealth," "What Destroys What Labor Builds."

The members of the league before the parade will be in the front of the float, and the organ of the Women's Trade Union League, among the different sections.

More building workers were made idle yesterday as a result of the strike of the sand and excavation drivers, which started last Wednesday. It was reported at the union headquarters, 220 East 47th street, that the strike was now complete and that there was not a single sand and excavation teamer at work in the Greater City.

The strikers held meetings yesterday, where they voted to fight until the contractors yield to their demands. The contractors admitted that the strike was general, but stated that under no circumstances would they agree to deal with the strikers.

The officials of Local 506 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters declared that the demands of the strikers were very moderate and they were confident that the contractors will let the strike last for any length of time. They say that the Teamsters' District Council is behind this fight and that they will get the support of the parent body.

All preparations are now under way to make the great Etor and Giovanniotti parade on September 14 the most impressive since the famous Triangle protest parade.

The Etor and Giovanniotti Defense League of Paterson, N. J., will hold a gigantic open air protest meeting with Elizabeth Gurley Flynn as the principal speaker on Labor Day morning in front of the Paterson postoffice. Every worker living in the vicinity of Paterson is urged to be present there and make the meeting as impressive as possible.

BIG OVATION GREETINGS SOCIALIST SPEAKERS

Workers of Brownsville Turn Out En Masse to See First Gun Fired.

The opening gun in what promises to be a historical campaign in the 23d Assembly District, Brooklyn, was fired last night, when over 1,000 persons packed New Palm Garden Hall, Sackman street and Liberty avenue, to hear the socialist message from the lips of the Socialist party candidates in that district.

Long before the announced hour for the beginning of the meeting the workers of Brownsville filed into the hall and took their seats, anxiously awaiting the arrival of the speakers. Their patience was rewarded when Abraham Shiploof mounted the platform and in a few brief and well chosen remarks explained the work and mission of the Socialist party and introduced Charles Vanderporten, Socialist candidate for the Assembly in the 23d District.

Vanderporten dwelt on the immediate issues in the campaign and told the workers that for them there were only two issues, the high cost of living and the unemployed problem. He pointed out how utterly helpless the workers are when the capitalist class face these two questions. He concluded his speech amid repeated outbursts of applause.

Jacob Panken, who spoke in Yiddish, showed up explained the present state of industry and inexcusable loss of working class lives as a result of capitalist greed for profit. He drew a graphic picture of the Triangle fire and drew the lesson home that the worker's life and capitalism is absolutely worthless when it is a question of profits.

The walls of the hall fairly trembled as a result of the enthusiastic and thunderous applause of cheers and applause that greeted Barnett Wolf, who was introduced as the next Congressman from the 11th District. Wolf told of the results achieved by Socialist congressmen Victor Berger, of Milwaukee, and Just imagine, he said, "how much more could be done for the working class, for you, if Berger had a few more men there to back up his demands for working class legislation," he concluded.

An ovation that brought tears of joy to the Socialists present greeted the remarks of M. Zamekkin, one of the sages of the Socialist movement in this country.

On Saturday, September 7, the 23d Assembly District will hold a monster ratification meeting, at which Charles E. Russell and Gustave Strebel, Socialist party candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, respectively, will be present.

Ever anxious to take a whack at Socialism, which he feels is cutting into the attendance at the churches, and which may thus ultimately deprive the church of its income, Catholicism is working to keep in the following letter to the Rev. John L. Berthel, president of the New York Catholicishe Gesellen Verein (Society of Catholic Mechanics), an organization which is working to keep in the Catholic mechanics "faithful" and obedient to the church.

Reverend Dear Father—I am more than pleased to learn of the progress being made by the Society of Catholic Mechanics, an international institution of influence, and especially in enabling the New York branch of this excellent society to erect the new and larger building now being planned.

Such an organization as yours is indeed more than ever necessary and has my hearty approval. I wish it every success and commend it to all those who may be able to aid it in enlarging its sphere of influence, and especially in enabling the New York branch of this excellent society to erect the new and larger building now being planned.

Praying for yourself and all the members of the Katholische Gesellen Verein throughout Europe and the United States, the central organization being located in Cologne, Germany. The New York branch is temporarily housed at 261 West 12th street. It is the purpose of the Verein to erect a building which will serve as a clubhouse and home for young mechanics who may there obtain board, quarters and plenty of religion.

SUN YAT SEN FEARS AGGRESSION BY JAPAN

Leading Chinese Republican Says U. S. Can't Maintain "Open Door."

PEKING, Aug. 30.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, in the course of an interview today, openly expressed fears that Japan would take aggressive action in Manchuria and showed pessimism concerning China's ability to save the Eastern provinces.

He said it was necessary for the government to remove the Chinese capital owing to the probability of Japan's taking Manchuria and thus coming within close striking distance of Peking.

Should hostilities between Japan and China break out, Peking's capture would be certain, he said, and such an event would demoralize the people and practically end the war. Nankow or Wuchang, he thought, could be more easily defended.

In reply to a question the first provisional president of the Republic said that Japan was China's greatest enemy. When asked if the powers would permit the occupation of Manchuria, he replied that no individual power was strong enough to object effectively. Japan's power in Oriental waters, he declared, was similar to that of England in the North Sea.

When asked if America would want the occupancy of Manchuria, he replied that America would be unable to maintain the "open door," as interference would mean war, and Japan would surely defeat the American navy.

Dr. Sun's words plainly indicated that "China has no faith in Japanese promises or in the utterance of the press controlled by the Japanese."

The objection registered by British Minister Sir John Jordan to the dispatch of Chinese troops into Tibet or the maintenance of a big Chinese military establishment there amounts to a notification that England would want the dependency itself, Chinese in high government posts said today.

Tibet is in rebellion, and if the soldiers cannot be sent to put the rebels down, it is possible that the territory will be lost to China. The theory here is that the British mean to give the Tibetans independence under British control.

President Yuan appears to be making an objection to putting the looting and murder by mutineers in the suburbs of Peking.

MOTHER AND SIX CHILDREN CREMATED. With Babe Pressed to Her Breast and Enveloped by Youngsters, She Meets Death in the Flames.

A mother and her six children were burned to death in Kingsland, near New York City, yesterday. The woman was found dead with her dead baby in her arms and the bodies of the other five children close to her, when they had run for protection when the flames closed them in.

The name of the woman was Rose Barbato. Her husband, Emil, kept a bakery shop on Freeman street. The shop was closed Thursday night, for the reason not yet known. Early yesterday Barbato was awakened by flames.

With his eldest son, Joseph, he slept in the front of the frame building. The room was full of smoke. He threw open the window. A crowd had gathered. Men waved to him to jump. With the boy in his arms he plunged down to safety.

CHICAGO CAR MEN DOWN COMPROMISE

Traction Slaves of Windy City Refuse Small Wage Increase and Strike May Follow.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—That the traction employees have voted to reject the compromise agreement offered by the Chicago Elevated and Street Railway Companies of a slight increase in wages and general reform in working conditions was learned this afternoon.

The referendum ended at 4 o'clock this morning and the vote has been counted, but the result will not be made public officially until President William D. Mahon, of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Workers, arrives from Detroit. As the compromise has been rejected, all of the questions in dispute may be submitted to arbitration under the general agreement between the company and the union, and if no terms are reached a strike will follow.

The first positive word that the offer of the companies had been rejected came from President William Quinlan, of Local 241.

"There is no doubt that the proposition has been defeated," said Quinlan. "The men undoubtedly have voted to reject the compromise agreement. When President Mahon arrives, the joint committee will make public the vote."

Quinlan refused to intimate how strongly the men had voted against the agreement.

Hayes' Trial Halts; TO GO ON NEXT WEEK. The trial of former Inspector Cornelius G. Hayes on the charge of having made a false statement to Commissioner Waldo in connection with the "house" raids came to an abrupt halt yesterday after a session of less than half an hour.

The appearance as trial commissioner of First Deputy Commissioner Douglas L. McKay, who has been subpoenaed as the principal witness for the defense, brought forth vigorous objections from Hayes' lawyer, which resulted in an adjournment.

The clerk had barely finished reading the charges against the deposed inspector before Thomas D. Thacher, Hayes' lawyer, jumped to his feet to question the legality of Commissioner McKay sitting on the bench at a trial in which he would be forced to pass upon his own testimony.

Mr. Thacher protested vigorously against the adjournment of the case. The defense was ready to proceed and wished for a speedy trial, and he suggested that those connected with the case remain in the trial room until the obvious objections to Commissioner McKay had been passed upon by some one in authority and another commissioner designated to hear the case.

Upon Assistant Corporation Counsel Terence Farley stating that it would be necessary to look up the decisions and law covering the point raised by Thacher, Commissioner McKay adjourned the trial until next Friday at 10 o'clock.

HATTERS' JURY HEARS FEDERATIONIST READ. HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 30.—In the haters' trial in the United States District Court today counsel for the plaintiffs read to the jury from the files of the Federationist, the official organ of the American Federation of Labor.

Convention doings of that and other labor organizations, during the time of the alleged conspiracy against the firm of D. E. Lowe & Co., of Danbury, plaintiffs in the suit for $80,000 damages, were also brought to the jury's attention by means of the files.

It is understood that the plaintiffs will endeavor to summon President John Moffit, of the United Hatters of America.

McIntyre may be prepared to fight every attempt to try Becker during the present clamor, which he considers so prejudicial to his client. As a last resort, he said, he will ask that Becker be tried in another county.

Lieutenant Becker himself issued a statement yesterday in which he denied that he had offered a retaining fee of $100,000 to Martin W. Littleton and that Littleton had declined it when he could not be assured that Becker had done no grafting.

Capt. Joseph Faurot, the finger print expert and for some time head of the Criminal Identification Bureau at police headquarters, yesterday realized in part a prediction made some days ago that Commissioner Waldo had him in mind to succeed Inspector Hughes as the head of the Detective Bureau.

The Commissioner yesterday appointed Captain Faurot to Inspector Hughes' job temporarily. Inspector Hughes took to his bed shortly after the murder of Rosenthal and the subsequent outcropping investigations began to get their stride. His illness is attributed to the hardships he went through in looking for the murderers in the neighborhood of the Calkill summer resorts. A number of men who fancy they know something about headquarters said yesterday that they believe that when Inspector Hughes returns to Center street he will find Captain Faurot the permanent head of the Detective Bureau.

WARDEN AWAY; CONVICTS FIGHT. JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 30.—A serious riot is reported to have broken out among the convicts in the State prison here today. The alleged outbreak occurred in the dining room, which was said to have been partly wrecked. The riot will be closed for the next three months for repairs to the building. During the interval in which the building will be closed the usual business of the courts will be diverted to the Jefferson Market, Essex Market, West Side and Harlem courts.

SOCIALISTS EXPECT BIG VOTE IN MAINE

Workers of Pine Tree State Are Rallying Around Red Banner.

By J. L. ENGBALL. (Continued from page 1.) PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 30.—There are still sections left in these United States where the Socialists have gone into the campaign this fall without any hope of electing their candidates. The State of Maine is among these. The fighting Socialist spirit that is overcoming the obstacles everywhere in the land exists here, and if the story is not one of victory, it is nevertheless one of increasing power. The capitalists' newspapers are just now busy watching Vermont and Maine to see how the elections are going to go next Tuesday and the following Monday. They have figured out that these early elections will be a omen of what is to come on November 5, when the rest of the nation goes busy at the ballot box.

The results, so far as the Socialists are concerned, have already been forecasted as being on the right side of the ledger, because the incessant agitation cannot help but bring in an increased vote. This is looked for in Maine, on September 2, as well as in Vermont, on September 3. So the indications would hold good for the nation, for Socialists elsewhere, as well, expect to increase their vote. This increase may be enough to elect Socialist candidates in some localities, while in others it must doubtless suffice to lead to encouragement for the next struggle.

We are just getting the nucleus of a good State organization in Maine. The State Secretary Fred E. Irish, who came over to the Socialists, is from his home in Woodford, Va. He has about forty good locals in the State, with an average of about 30 dues paying members for the last few months. This isn't very much, of course, but we are strengthening our organization right along and we should have something to show for our work in the very near future.

The Socialists of Maine hope to poll from 3,000 to 4,000 votes, about the same number collected by the Socialist party in Massachusetts at the election of 1910. The meeting addressed by Socialist Vice Presidential Candidate Emil Seidel here last night was held in the largest auditorium in Portland's million dollar city hall. The ruling made it that political meetings may be held in the auditorium free of charge. There are strings, however, especially on Socialist meetings, which are somewhat different from other political meetings.

The Socialists were notified that they must not charge an admission fee at their meeting and that they must not take up a collection. If they took a collection or charged admission they must pay the regular rent for the auditorium of $100, so the order read. This is the first time that the Socialists here have faced this proposition, so they gave in for the time being, planning to fight the matter later. Literature and campaign pennants, however, were sold in abundance.

Socialists and sympathizers in the State of the East are not behind the banners of the Middle West and the South in traveling long distances in order to be able to hear the message of the Socialist Vice Presidential Candidate Emil Seidel. In many States this is facilitated considerably by the interurban electric cars that make a trip of twenty, thirty and forty miles easier and cheaper than by transportation afforded by trains. This was especially true of the meeting in Portland here, which might be considered more of a Maine meeting than a Portland meeting.

The same was true of the meeting at Bennington, Vt., when a party came over from North Adams, Mass., by trolley. They were joined in their return by the Vice Presidential Candidate's party, which took this method of again getting to the main line of the Boston and Maine Railroad, which opened the way to Bennington, where connections were made for Portland, Me. The Bennington-North Adams trolley ride of twenty miles was the first one taken by the candidate's party so far during the campaign, adding another to the numerous methods of travel already used.

GIRL WON'T ELOPE; CUTS HER TONGUE

Enraged Crowd of 500 Attacks Escaping Youth Who Was Made Desperate by Unrequited Love.

Because 15-year-old Mary Degillo, of 278 Leonard street, Williamsburg, refused to elope with her lover, Felix Mennor, a clerk, 21 years old, of 91 Bowling street, Williamsburg, slashed her face and cut her tongue yesterday. The girl is in a serious condition in St. Catherine's Hospital, and Mennor was arraigned in the Manhattan Avenue Police Court and held to await the result of the girl's injuries.

Mennor had been a suitor for Mary's hand and often called at her house. Mary, however, did not take him seriously, and when yesterday morning he asked her to elope with him she laughed and told him that she did not love him enough to do that. This enraged Mennor, and without any warning he drew a razor knife from his pocket and struck her in the face. When she screamed he cut her tongue.

Leonard street was crowded with people going to work and when the girl's screams were heard, the crowd ran toward her. Mennor dropped the knife and started down Leonard street with an irate crowd of about 500 close at his heels. When he was finally captured the enraged people bounced on him and began beating and kicking him into unconsciousness about the head and stomach.

He would probably have been killed had not been for the arrival of Detectives Winterberg and Flascchetti, of the Herbert street station, who, after having broken through the crowd, rescued Mennor from his assailants.

At the Herbert street station Mennor was treated by Dr. Frazer, of St. Catherine's Hospital, who had already taken twenty-six stitches in his victim's face.

CHILDREN STARVING WHILE WASTE RIOTS

NEWARK, Del., Aug. 29.—Becoming desperate with the pangs of hunger and hearing the cries of the younger children for food, as well as the moaning of his wife, who is dying with tuberculosis, Howard Maharty, a farm hand, led home on Tuesday night a collection of food for a family of 12. He went into the country and tried to find work to assist his bedridden mother. Both failed in their attempt.

The neighbors supplied them food and bed covering and while a warrant had been sworn out for Maharty, charging him with desertion, this was dropped.

The children and their mother were removed to the county poorhouse, while the father again started out in search of work.

Within a few miles of where this family were suffering for food, they having been eating raw corn and apples, fifty workmen are engaged in preparing an athletic field donated by Delaware College by Eben and Stanley Frazer, father and brother of Joseph Frazer, who died recently after amassing a fortune in the country and will cost more than $200,000 when completed.

MOTHER LEARNS THAT SHE KILLED 3 CHILDREN

Mrs. Sarah Sypher was arraigned before Magistrate McGuire in the Gates Avenue Police Court, Brooklyn, yesterday charged with homicide. She thought she was to be charged with attempted suicide. Until the complaint was read she did not know that she had killed her three children when she turned on the gas in her bedroom and lay down on the bed with them.

When she learned that the children were dead she became hysterical. She pleaded with the judge with her mother, with her attorney, to let her go to the funeral. Owing to her nervous condition she was not permitted to go.

She killed her three children and tried to kill herself after her husband had accused her of being intimate with another man. Before she turned on the gas she wrote a note saying she was innocent.

LEGAL AID SOCIETY WINS. Bartender Compels Employer to Pay Wages in Full.

Otto Dietz, a bartender, residing in Brooklyn, was employed by Fred Kern, of 20 University place. He received $17 a week, and after working for some time left with three weeks and one day's pay coming to him. His employer gave him a check for $34, on which was written "In full for all claims." This amount only covered two weeks' pay, but Kern refused to pay the rest.

Dietz, being poor, applied to the Legal Aid Society for help. Letters were then written to Kern, but this did not do good. The Legal Aid Society brought suit against him in the First District Municipal Court. Justice John R. Davies, presiding, rendered a decision in favor of Dietz, and Kern was compelled to pay the balance of $19.45.

STRIKING FURRIERS GREET KEIR HARDIE

Enthusiastic Crowds Cheer British Labor Leader's Encouraging Words.

Manhattan Lyceum and Arlington Hall were yesterday taxed to their capacity with striking furriers who turned out to greet J. Keir Hardie, the noted British Socialist and labor leader, who has come to this country to speak in behalf of the Socialist party Presidential candidates. Hardie was given an ovation that lasted for several minutes and his speech was interrupted several times by the rounds of applause that greeted his remarks.

When Hardie appeared in the hall the strikers all sprung to their feet and applauded and cheered the veteran labor leader and the chairman swung the gavel for some time before he restored silence. Hardie said that he had not come to make speeches to the strikers, but that he had come to offer his good wishes.

"I understand the point of issue in your fight against your employers," said Hardie, "and I rejoice to see the brave fight you are putting up for your demands. Your demands for an eight-hour day, payment for holidays, improved sanitary conditions and the most important of all, recognition of your trade union by the employers, are just and reasonable, and it is remarkable how they can oppose them."

"The latter demand is by far the most important, since without an organization the workers are helpless. I hope that the workers of other trades will come to your aid by donating as much as they can, because the loss of your brave fight would weaken the cause of labor everywhere. Not only, however, must you be good trade unionists, but you must also be good Socialists."

"It is folly to fight your bosses by means of a strike and then vote for their representatives when you elected, will make laws against your interests. You must stand together at the ballot box as you are standing together now and vote for the Socialist party candidates, the only ones who will represent your interests."

"There has been a great encouraging development in the interest of Socialism displayed among the workers for the last few years, and the workers are beginning to understand that Socialism is the only solution of their problem. The working class, not only of this country but the world over, has at last accepted the prophetic advice of Karl Marx when he cried: 'Workers of the world, unite, you have nothing to lose but your chains, you have a world to gain.'"

When Hardie was through speaking at Arlington Hall he was cheered for several minutes, and was then followed by several hundred workers, who marched to Manhattan Lyceum, where he addressed another meeting, to get a chance to again listen to the great British Socialist leader. At Manhattan Lyceum Hardie's speech was carried to the platform amid cheers and applause of the vast assemblage that packed the hall to overflowing.

Meyer London, legal adviser to the Fur Workers' Union, called at the meeting and delivered the encouraging message that a number of attorneys for big manufacturers had applied for settlements, and that some of them were also at work trying to bring about a general settlement. London declared that the strike was in a better condition now than ever before, and appealed to the strikers to continue their brave fight and they would be sure of victory.

The things which have been busy around the shop of A. Jaekel & Co., 384 Fifth avenue, made another attack on the strikers yesterday, and eight pickets were arrested. When arraigned before Magistrate Butts in the Yorkville Court, four were held in $1,000 bail each, three were discharged and a girl picket was fined $10. Butts told the strikers they ought not to interfere with the picketers, who are charged with no direct evidence except that furnished by the thugs that the strikers had interfered with the scabs.

Max Weinstein, a striker who was beaten up when he called at the shop of his brother, who is a member of the firm of Bonas & Co., 27th street, after the bosses found out that he had not called to scab, was also held in $1,000 bail to keep the peace for six months, on a charge of "unlawfully breaking into the shop." His own brother, together with the other bosses, appeared against Weinstein, and though he was all bruised, Magistrate Butts took the evidence of the boss and held him in bail. While he was held in heavy bail, his assistants are still at large and no attempt is being made to land them in jail.

SIX INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP. Car Runs Into Pile of Steel Rails With Telling Effect.

Six persons were injured by being thrown from an automobile which struck a pile of street car rails at City Island Bridge yesterday and was dashed against a telephone pole. Two were seriously hurt and were taken to Fordham Hospital. Those in the car were: Harry Cleveland, of 1058 Southern boulevard, slight bruises; William Hart, of 855 Grant avenue, bruises; taken home.

Clifford Lee, of 207 East 144th street, contusions of head; taken to Fordham Hospital. Isabelle Murray, a telephone operator, of 1051 Stebbens avenue, slight bruises; taken home. Albert T. Neston, of 622 East 163d street, fractured left leg and contusions of the head.

William Sheehan, of 887 Freeman street, the Bronx, slight bruises; taken home. According to police reports, Cleveland, the owner and operator of the car, was placed under arrest.

COL. A. S. ALEXANDER DEAD. Col. Archibald Stevens Alexander, of Castle Point, Hoboken, died yesterday morning of typhoid fever at St. Luke's Hospital, 113th street and Amsterdam avenue, Manhattan. Colonel Alexander was born in Hoboken in 1840. Colonel Alexander got his military title by virtue of his appointment by Governor Wilson last year as a member of the Governor's staff. He early took an intense interest in Democratic politics and served as a member of the House of Assembly in 1905.

ers that defy all attempts at description. This is true of the textile industry in the East, as it is of the lumber industry in the South; of the miners as it is of the farmers; of the steel workers as it is of the wood workers; of the paper mills as it is of the leather industry.

Only in those industries where the workers have been able to maintain some form of organization have they been able to resist in some degree the downward pressure. Only with great sacrifices have they been able to keep themselves a trifle above the level of mere brute existence.

One does not go among the workers, see their miserable homes, witness their ill-clad children, behold the deplorable educational opportunities and hear the tales of woe and suffering, that one does not depart with an aching heart and an impression against such conditions upon the lips.

It is adding insult to injury to lead these men, women and children to believe, as the dishonest progressive fakers would, that a commission of one-half or a whole dozen of men, sitting and deliberating a thousand miles away, are competent and able to right the wrongs and rectify the inequalities. It is a mockery upon their intelligence too monstrous to even imagine.

The experiment may be amusing to a lot of bumbling progressive politicians; at best it can only prolong the misery of the masses.

Even if it would be successful such a solution would be neither progressive nor is it democratic.

There is one social phenomena that stands out boldly from the industrial development of our country during the last seventeen years. It is the growth of the trusts and the rapid concentration of wealth with the supplementing increased cost of living.

Insecurity of the Job. This has resulted in a startling decrease in the average standard of living of our people and the growing insecurity of a job.

The cost of living has increased 60 per cent during this seventeen-year period, while the average increase in wages has been only 20 per cent. That means that the standard of living has gone down just 25 per cent in seventeen years.

When we consider the tremendous profits that must be earned by the people for watered stock, as well as for the trusts, the above fact explains itself.

The overcapitalization of our industries is estimated at $20,000,000,000. The dividends and interest on that vast amount of inflated value is at least $1,500,000,000. This is $18 for every man, woman and child in the land.

From the twenty-third annual report of the Interstate Commerce Commission we learn that the railroads of the country in 1911 showed net earnings amounting to $930,262,457. This means that about $10 was exacted from every man, woman and child of our nation.

These profits are thefts pure and simple though legalized. How much greater becomes this sum when one considers the profits of all the many other industries and trusts of our country.

At the same time the army of dummies, servants and non-productive workers that are busy gratifying the whims of an over-satiated plutocracy is rapidly increasing. All of these feed and prey upon the fat of the land and the sweat of its toilers.

And all the time the army of the totally unemployed is continually increasing. There is also true of the large number of the partially unemployed.

Neither the Republican, the Democratic, the Prohibition nor the Progressive party has dared to even hint at these startling conditions; far less had the courage to concern themselves with profit, rent and interest, or take a stand against these cherished institutions.

The figures quoted are dry, but they speak volumes. How much misery, agony and tears is hidden behind them can never be shown in mere figures.

At the same time the task of holding a steady job has become more difficult from year to year.

There are today more heads of families looking for jobs than there are jobs to go around.

Just as the serf was dependent upon the feudal lord and was obliged to ask for permission to use a clod of soil if he desired to build himself a home; just so must the worker of today go to a boss and ask him for an opportunity to get a job if he would build a home for himself, his wife and his children. The worker has lost his independence.

Other Parties Are Helpless. In the face of these conditions the Republicans, Democrats, Prohibitionists and Progressives alike are helpless.

Their frantic efforts at dodging the live questions by parading old issues and playing with phrases that mean nothing is a tacit confession of their moral and political bankruptcy.

The demands contained in their platforms which possess some degree of merit have been pilfered from the Socialist party platform.

These demands are used, however, merely as a bait to lure more captives to the labor vote. When they purport to deal with the more serious problems of the hour there is no misunderstanding between them.

necessarily be to further increase the cost of living. Prattling about regulation may be very effective as a political campaign expedient, it means that there are political jobs in view for the faithful progressive followers. How these regulators would compel a man to run his factory after they had fixed the ages and dictated the price of his product, without resorting to confiscation, we are not told.

The Presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket had a bright thought when he said that some of the most ignorant men he had ever met were among those most educated. He might add that the most crooked reactionaries are "honest progressives."

It cannot possibly be that these men do not see the futility of regulation. Some of those that have lent themselves to aid in the labors of the progressive convention have as much as admitted at one time or another that the outcome of this industrial growth and development must be the collective ownership of monopolies.

Fooling the People is Dangerous. Then are they playing the game of fooling the people for the sport that is in it? If so, they are playing a dangerous game.

What are we to think of a proposition such as this: the wages are to be increased; the prices are to be reduced, yet the manufacturer is to make a reasonable profit. It is an imposition to expect us to take that seriously.

When the progressives try to put new life into the tariff mummy by saying that the benefit should go into the pay envelopes, they attempt to fool the workers. Are we to understand that the American workman is to be protected against competition with the immigrant who works for low wages?

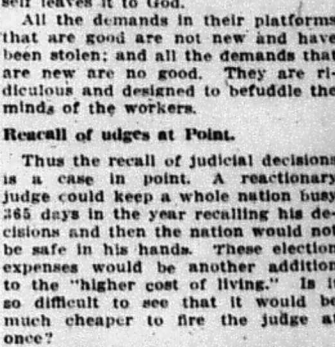

The Democratic nominee has expressed a higher esteem for the cheap Asiatic coolies than for the American workman demanding a higher standard of existence. That was before he discovered that he was not running for President of the Chinese Republic, but President of the American workers to become President.

Likewise, the candidate of the progressives has found that there are after all fewer undesirable citizens in the United States than he believed a few years ago, before he wanted a third term.

President Taft had a lucid thought when, after presupposing that all the reforms of the reformers were enacted, he asks: "What then? Votes are not bread, constitutional amendments are not work, referendums do not pay rent, no furnish houses, recalls do not furnish clothing, initiatives do not supply employment or remedy inequality of conditions or of opportunity. We still ought to have set before us the definite plans to bring on complete equality of opportunity and to abolish hardship and Recall of judges at Point. Thus the recall of judicial decisions is a case in point. A reactionary judge could keep a whole nation busy 265 days in the year recalling his decisions and then the nation would not be safe in his hands. These election expenses would be another addition to the "higher cost of living." It is so difficult to see that it would be much cheaper to fire the judge at once?

The short ballot is another one of those progressive American inventions. The shortest ballot would be a king voted for once in a lifetime; and, to make it shorter, once in a dynasty.

The small governmental body can also be manipulated much easier than can a large body. This should prove a boon to big business.

To counteract this small body millions of voters must first be educated and put in motion. Large bodies move much slower than small bodies. Those would be golden days for the trusts and special privilege.

In contrast to the illogical, chaotic, economically unsound proposals offered by the capitalist parties the Socialist party is the only party that has a scientifically correct solution to offer.

The Republican party stands for things as they are; it wants no change.

The Democratic party stands for "honesty" on a platform made up of stolen planks.

The Prohibition party can only see poverty when there is a beer sign in sight.

The Socialist party recognizes in the present system only an epoch in the development of society.

Slavery, Communism, Feudalism, Capitalism—each was an advance over the preceding stage of society. And so Socialism will be a step forward over all the rest.

Trusts are bad only in so far as they deprive the people of the means with which to earn their livelihood. They are good in so far as they increase productivity with decreased waste.

Collective ownership of the trusts would retain the good features and eliminate the bad features. The people would then again be the masters of their own west and woe.

The nation should through its government take possession at once of the national trusts; the State should own those trusts that are a unit in the State; the counties should own those trusts that are a unit in the counties, and the cities should own those that are a unit in the cities.

Economics Will Oust Politics. The management and regulation should be assumed by the people through and in co-operation with their governments—local, State or national. This should be done at once and should be started any time the people are ready and willing.

Thus we would enter upon a new era of democracy; a real democracy, because it is an industrial democracy. Politics would then make way for economics, because there is then no need to fight over possession.

The people will decide the hours of labor. Progress in economy and invention would determine the remuneration for labor performed.

Child labor as a national curse and waste of human energy would disappear. Women would be protected as the mothers of our race and the race become strong. Poverty and want would no longer exist unless crops failed, and this with our resources and rational husbandry would be improbable.

Mankind would be given better educational facilities. The arts would undergo a renaissance. Science, literature and the arts would become democratized. The country would enter upon a new era.

Labor as the source of all human blessing will be respected instead of scorned as it is today.

This is the goal of the Socialist party. For this the workers are better gradually prepared, irrespectively of creed, nationality or race. They are learning to write their own demands. They have written their declaration of independence to words so plain that the plainest mind can understand.

They have broken away from the old political parties and organized their own party; they have learned to write their own platform. They have nominated their own candidates. They will learn to elect them.

Then they will pass their by-laws themselves, to meet their needs and repeal such as are inimical to their interests. Their own executives will enforce them and their own judges will define them. There is no need for recall of decisions then. All the laws that will benefit the workers will be constitutional; all the laws that will injure them will be unconstitutional.

The Constitution then will have a new meaning—that of Jefferson—that of Lincoln. For we shall then have a republic of the workers, which means a republic of the people, by the people, for the people.

STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS

Reports Everywhere Show Great Activity—Five New Locals Chartered.

An important meeting of the State Executive Committee of the Socialist party was held recently at the State headquarters, Edward Lindgren acted as chairman and the following members were present: State Secretary Solomon, Cassidy, Slobodin, Paul, Lindgren and Becker. Absent with excuse, Mally, Washhope and Fraser.

A large number of communications were read from different parts of the State bearing on campaign work and outlining plans for conducting an active campaign in the different sections of the State. On the whole the communications indicate that the locals are carrying on an effective propaganda and that more work will be done this year in the State than ever before.

The following new locals were chartered by the committee and charters ordered issued: Canastota, Madison County; Barker, Niagara County; Pattersonville, Schenectady County; Carthage, Jefferson County; Rayena, Albany County. Seven applications for members at large were favorably passed upon by the committee.

Requests for organizers were received from the following counties: Oneida County, for three or four weeks so that every industrial town in the county may be visited and efforts made to establish organizations in places ripe for it. Herkimer County for one month, to work on similar lines as outlined by Oneida County; Cayuga County, for one month for work especially among the farmers.

After considering the financial condition of the committee and the speakers available for work in the counties named, it was decided that an organizer be assigned to each of the counties named for a period of two weeks or more in accordance with the possibility of meeting the expenses.

Rudolph Becker, of Queens, was seated as delegate in place of William Burkle.

Communications were read from New Berlin with reference to the efforts made by a few sympathizers to raise the necessary funds to hold a meeting, and it was decided to assign Gustave A. Strebel to a meeting there.

A communication was read from Local Town of Ithaca, with reference to practical work along co-operative lines and steps to be taken to secure legislation permitting the incorporation of the different stores.

The 30th Congressional District reports on the active campaign carried on in the different counties composing the district, also on the distribution of the different speakers assigned to work in said district.

A committee from Local New York appeared and requested that Keir Hardie be assigned for a date to speak at Local New York. The secretary reported that before any assignments for Hardie were made the dates were submitted to Local New York, but none were acceptable, and accordingly Hardie was assigned to such places as were willing to accept any of the available dates. In the meantime it was found out that Hardie will only be available for two dates in the State, September 6 and 7. On motion the secretary was instructed to ask the campaign manager to assign Hardie to New York for September 7, if possible. The Westchester County Committee asks for an appropriation of $5 per week for the rest of the campaign. The request could not be granted because of lack of funds.

Labor Day Crowds to Hear Reds.

A request was received from the Troy Federation of Labor to send a speaker to represent the party at the Labor Day demonstration in Rensselaer Park, Troy, as representatives have been invited from the three capitalist parties. The secretary reported having arranged to have William E. Duffy, of Syracuse, be the spokesman for the Socialist party. A similar arrangement was made for the Labor Day demonstration in Watertown, where Gustave A. Strebel will be the speaker.

A communication was received in the matter of the action of Local Tonawanda in admitting in the party a man who is at present a captain in the State militia. After considering the matter, it was decided that the local be notified that in the opinion of the State Executive Committee members of the militia are not eligible as party members.

The situation in Patchogue was considered and Edward Lindgren submitted a report on his investigation of the causes which brought about the discussions in the local. In this connection the secretary reported that three of the members of the local have resigned and that at present there is virtually no local there and that steps will have to be taken to reorganize the local. The consensus of opinion was that the matter be held in abeyance pending the report of the different speakers assigned to speak in Patchogue and vicinity.

Several communications were received from Phoenix, of Troy, and on motion action on the same was deferred until after the election.

Local Rochester reported on the possibility of being confronted with a free speech fight, as the authorities have attempted to prohibit them from holding meetings in the business section of the city.

The Socialists in Rockland County reported on the meetings addressed by John T. Vaughn in Haverstraw, Pearl River, Nyack, etc., and the arrest of Vaughn in Spring Valley, as the village authorities are determined to prohibit the holding of Socialist outdoor meetings there.

Activity in Westchester. The locals in Westchester County reported on the successful meetings addressed by Gerald M. P. Fitzgibbon, his meetings everywhere being well attended and the collections quite liberal.

The committee approved the engagement of the following speakers to be toured for the period as specified: Jack Britt Gearty, from October 5 to October 24; Fred W. Harwood, for work in the counties of Oneida, Herkimer and Cayuga; John J. Kelly, of Buffalo, from October 1 to election day.

It was decided that Henry L. Slobodin be asked to write a leaflet on the Bull Moose party and that the secretary be instructed to secure estimates on the cost and take the necessary steps for the publication of a thirty-two page campaign booklet suitable for distribution from house to house.

It was decided that the question of nominating two candidates for judges of the Court of Appeals be made a special order at the next meeting of the committee, when also the nomination of the Presidential electors will be made.

The secretary reported that the referendum vote on the increase of dues initiated by Locals New York, New Rochelle and Queens has been submitted to a general vote of the membership, the vote to close September 26.

Two hundred copies of the State platform were printed, and most of them have already been sold to the different locals, and steps will have to be taken to order a new supply printed. The preparations of new leaflets by Charles Edward Russell is expected to have his letter of acceptance ready by the end of the month and same will be printed in leaflet form.

The different speakers toured during the last four weeks report very favorably on the reception accorded them, and the general increase in the Socialist sentiment. The different tours have been so arranged as to give in the month of October eight speakers in the field. Owing to sickness, William E. Duffy was compelled to suspend for the present his speaking tour, and may not be available for the rest of the campaign, except for indoor meetings. Comrades Russell, Strebel and Allen have been assigned to speak every day, beginning with September 1. The speaking tours of Vaughn and Fitzgibbon may be extended for another month each, in order to meet the demands for speakers which are coming from all parts of the State.

The necessary instructions were sent to the locals in relation to the meetings of the different official committees, for the purpose of designating candidates to appear on the primary ballot. The necessary steps have been taken for the official state convention, to be held in New York, September 24.

The referendum on the new State constitution will be submitted during the latter part of September, so as not to conflict with the referendum now being held in the different counties. Financially the committee is in a very precarious condition, as it is doing a great deal of work, entailing considerable expense, with no other resources for the present except the revenue from the sale of State stamps. In addition, the big expense of the State convention made it necessary to open the State campaign with a demand in the treasury. The campaign lists have been sent to the different locals and it is hoped that this year special efforts will be made to circulate none but the State campaign lists and disregard campaign appeals from other up-State workers never better than they are at present.

The next meeting of the committee will be held on Tuesday, September 3, 7 p.m. sharp, at the State headquarters, and it is expected that in view of the importance of the business to be transacted that every member will attend.

BOUNTS AT ROYALE TONIGHT. Larry English and Bill Skyler Meet in Main Event.

The Royale A. C., Brooklyn, has two favorite sons competing in the star bout at their headquarters at the Clermont Rink this evening.

Larry English, who has fought and bested many of the best men of his weight before the public, encounters Bill Skyler in a scheduled ten-round scrap. Skyler has been boxing only one or two times since he was knocked out by a six-round preliminary and a half dozen four-round preliminaries, also announced by the management.

DOGGERS TRIM GIANTS

Champions Get Big Early Lead, but Brooklyn, Pound New York Pitchers, and Cop Game.

The Giants batted Stack out of the box in the first inning yesterday and took a four-run lead, but it did them no good. The Brooklyn knocked White out in the second and Crandall did poorly. Ames pitched well, but came in too late to keep the Giants from losing. The New York lead over Chicago has dwindled to four games.

WINS BRITISH FLYING PRIZES. LONDON, Aug. 30.—The two leading prizes in British army aviation were awarded today by the British War Office to S. F. Cody, an American citizen, not a naturalized British subject. The prizes were won at the recent army aviation meeting at Salisbury Plain military camp. Cody won the principal award, the first prize of £4,000 (£2,000) in the competition open to airmen of the entire world, flying in aeroplanes of any system made in any country. Cody used a biplane of his own construction. The contest open to British subjects only, who were compelled to fly machines built, with the exception of the motors, in the United Kingdom.

BERNIE, TAR, TO MEET SANDELE. Lex Bernie, middleweight wrestler of the United States Navy, will meet George Sandele, the "Greek Demon," at catchweights next Tuesday night at the Harlem Music Hall, 209 West 125th street. That same night Will Gingham, lightweight champion of England, will try conclusions with Cal Whistler, the "Stockyards Boy."

HIRST BEATEN BY PACKEY. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—Joe Hirst, although game at every stage of the fight, was outclassed by Packey McFarland here tonight. Had the Chicago boy cared to, it would have been an easy matter to have knocked out his opponent. McFarland was never in danger from the start of the fight, and try as Hirst would he could not penetrate Packey's defense.

YANKEES LOSE AGAIN

Nationals Lambast Davis Hard in Two Innings for Seven Runs and Have No Trouble Winning.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The Nationals jumped on Pitcher Davis hard enough in two innings today to best the Highlanders 7 to 2 in a spirited game featured only by a sensational catch of the right field fence by Hartzell, which knocked a Washington batter rally into a cooked hat.

Wolverton's hustling youngsters were powerless before Bob Groom's curves. The lanky pitcher was a trifle wild, but mighty effective, and the outcome of the game after the Nationals had raked down a cluster of tallies in the third was never in doubt. Groom did not hand out anything that even looked like a hit for six innings, but during the three remaining frames he let down a triple and was touched up by Dale.

Collection Davis uncorked a wild streak in the Nationals' third, issuing two passes in a row, which proved costly. In the eighth he was lambasted hard, but gave the impression of a real major leaguer. Davis' battery, mate, Sterrett, was wasteful, two sharp passed balls and a couple of wild heaves down to second helping boost the home folks' run total.

MANY KNOCKOUTS SCORED. Only One Preliminary Went Full Limit—Ames Beats Ryan. Red Ames lambasted Battling Larry Ryan to his heart's content last night at the St. Nicholas rink, but could not put him out in a rough ten-round scrap. Ames landed at will, sending a bull's-eye wherever he aimed. Ryan did little with his wild swings on account of the other's cleverness and fast attack. Both men weighed 160 pounds.

Battling Chuck, a clean-cut colored dun, won on points over Mickey Dunn in the other ten-round scrap, which was also of the hurrican variety. Dunn's whirlwind finish in the final round did him little good.

Only one of the seven preliminaries went the limit. It was the first one in which Roy Johnson, a boxer, Eddie Kane, Frankie O'Neil stopped Young Meyer; Johnny Rich knocked out Joe Rafter; Packey Murray was halted with two swings by Jack Quinn; R. S. Glenn knocked out Volney Williams, while Young Foley put out Battling Alabama in the fourth round of the semi-final number.

HIS COMEBACK SUCCESSFUL. Jack Dorman, Who Boxes, Alberts Tonight, Has Done Well Recently. Jack Dorman, who, in spite of severe setbacks, has again come to the front prominently since the start of the year, will have a further chance to show his "comeback" qualities this evening at the Fairmont Club, when he meets Kid Alberts. The latter is clever and strong, and will push Dorman to the limit with his boxing.

Tommy Bergen, the Lewiston "Bearcat," after a rest of several months, will try conclusions with Fighting Kennedy in the semi-final. Kennedy recently put the kibosh on the champion Walter, who boxed Doyle and Johnny Harris in another ten-round go and two six-round scraps complete the card.

Cody won the principal award, the first prize of £4,000 (£2,000) in the competition open to airmen of the entire world, flying in aeroplanes of any system made in any country. Cody used a biplane of his own construction. The contest open to British subjects only, who were compelled to fly machines built, with the exception of the motors, in the United Kingdom.

BERNIE, TAR, TO MEET SANDELE. Lex Bernie, middleweight wrestler of the United States Navy, will meet George Sandele, the "Greek Demon," at catchweights next Tuesday night at the Harlem Music Hall, 209 West 125th street. That same night Will Gingham, lightweight champion of England, will try conclusions with Cal Whistler, the "Stockyards Boy."

HIRST BEATEN BY PACKEY. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—Joe Hirst, although game at every stage of the fight, was outclassed by Packey McFarland here tonight. Had the Chicago boy cared to, it would have been an easy matter to have knocked out his opponent. McFarland was never in danger from the start of the fight, and try as Hirst would he could not penetrate Packey's defense.

DRAMA. "LITTLE MISS BROWN," BY PHILIP BARTHOLOMAE, DISPROVES FALLACY THAT LIGHTNING CANNOT STRIKE TWICE IN THE SAME PLACE. The moss-grown fallacy that lightning cannot strike in the same place is conclusively disproved by "Little Miss Brown," the second farce comedy from the pen of Philip Bartholomae, which has just opened at the Forty-eighth street Theater. In this farce comedy, which is in three acts, Bartholomae strikes a success which promises to be a strike similar to that which greeted his first play, "Over Night."

STARS TO COMPETE IN JUNIOR CHAMPS. The Junior Metropolitan track and field championships will be held today at Calk Park, L. I., the home of the "Winged Flighters." This meet will produce the best talent that can be found among the local clubs.

The committee in charge has accepted the entries of over 250 athletes, which is the largest number ever received in the history of the association. This is due to the fact that many of the smaller clubs have been active all the season preparing material for the games, and as a result have produced many good sprinters and middle distance men, who will undoubtedly give the runners of the large organizations a hard tussle for premier honors.

Among the prominent athletes who will be seen in action are M. Robertson, N. Y. A. C.; W. Conway, I. A. C.; and E. Ferris, Mount Pleasant A. C., who will compete in the 100-yard dash.

A. Volmeke, Pastime A. C.; Sam Schwartz, unattached; T. Neuss, N. Y. A. C.; and T. Gifford, I. A. C., should make the one-mile walk interesting. The three-mile run should be close, in which H. Smith, unattached; W. Schreier, Nations A. C.; H. Biddle, Mohawk A. C.; and Eddie Jordan, Xavier A. C., are pitted against one another.

Florence Reed, who is playing the leading part in "The Master of the House" at the 59th Street Theater, will be put in entire charge of the production after September 30, when Julius Steker, at present the manager, starts on a vaudeville tour. This will be the first time the Shuberts have entrusted such work to a woman.

Harlem to Hear Russell.

The big Russell meeting, which is eagerly awaited by the citizens of Harlem, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp. People of all shades and political opinions will see the big Star Casino, which holds 4,000 people, to hear our candidate for Governor, Charles Edward Russell, fresh from the road, tell of the awakening of the workers everywhere, of the growth of Socialist sentiment, of the confusion within the capitalist ranks, of Roosevelt's amusing attempt to stem the tide in his own Roosevelt way—Russell will speak—enough said.

Among the other speakers will be Nicholas Aleinikoff, candidate for Congress; William Karlin, chairman, and others; The musical program will consist of operatic selections, rendered by Miss Ethel Robinson.

All who have sold tickets will kindly turn in the cash tonight. A number of truck meetings will be held tonight for the main purpose of advertising and selling tickets for the meeting. Everybody should be on hand at 8 p.m.

General Council, Y. P. S. F.

All delegates to the General Council of the Young People's Socialist Federation must make an attempt to be present at the next meeting of the council on Wednesday, September 4. Several important reports are to be heard, and some matters must be settled not later than this Wednesday. If possible, the meeting will be in Harlem.

Young Peoples' Ed. Ass'n.

The Young People's Educational Association of Bronx Borough will attend in a body the picnic of the New Yorker Volkzeitung, tomorrow, at Harlem River Park and Casino, 12th street and Second avenue. Members and friends should not fail to be present. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Is Open for Speaking Dates.

Max Sherover is now open for speaking engagements for noon hour and Friday night meetings during the months of September and October. For dates and terms he may be addressed at 111 West 157th street, New York City.

Minutes, Executive Committee.

A regular meeting of the Executive Committee of Local New York was held on August 26, at 239 East 84th street. The following members were present: Sachheim, James, Frost, Aleinikoff, Berlin, Paulitsch, Lichtschin, Heidemann, Asquith, Sloan, Rubinow, and Gerber. Absent and excused were as follows: Schonberg, Feuer, Sackin, Spindler, Schneider and Rosen.

Lichtschin was elected chairman of the meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were adopted as read. Twenty-nine applicants were admitted to membership. One application was referred back to the secretary for investigation.

Communication from the Russian branches of the Eastern States, calling attention to a conference of delegates of all the Russian branches of the Eastern States, and asking that the Executive Committee send a delegate to this conference. Julius Gerber was elected to represent the Executive Committee.

Communication from the National Office, calling attention to the tour of Winfield Gaylord in the Eastern States, was received, and on motion Gaylord was booked for two dates. The Committee on Education reported that the leaflet referring to the Progressive party will be ready to be submitted to the Executive Committee at the next meeting. The committee further recommends the printing of leaflets for the use of the Young People's Socialist Federation.

and also that the branches of the Young People's Socialist Federation affiliate with the party branches in their respective districts, and that the Young People's clubs in their respective districts. On motion, this matter was laid over to the next meeting. The committee further reported that they have under consideration the printing of a booklet for speakers, containing valuable information, statistics, etc., especially information on municipal affairs, which would be useful for next year's campaign. It was decided that the next meeting of the committee be held on Tuesday, and that the members of the Executive Committee be notified by mail.

Secretary Gerber reported on the Madison Square Garden meeting. The report was received, also report for dinner arranged for speakers on September 8, at the Cafe Monopol, 20th street and Second avenue. Comrade Sloan was elected a committee to take charge of the sale of tickets for the Madison Square meeting, at the Russell meeting of Branch 7, to be held on September 1.

Secretary Gerber reported that he had a meeting of all the branch organizers, and that the dates for Charles Edward Russell, Gustave A. Strebel and Carrie W. Allen were as follows:

Russell: October 3, Branches 1 and 2, for a meeting at Cooper Union, and Branch 2, same date, October 4, a meeting in the Bronx, and another meeting of Branches 5 and 10, at the Manhattan Casino; November 3, Branch 4.

Strebel: October 3, Branch 2 meeting, and the Cooper Union meeting of Branches 1 and 3; October 6, Branch 6; October 7, the meeting of Branch 2, and in the Bronx.

Carrie W. Allen: October 7, Branch 2, and in the Bronx; October 11, Branch 7, in the afternoon, and Branch 5, in the evening.

The intervening dates, between October 7 and 11, are to be used as street meetings. He further reported that the organizers meeting decided in favor of a parade on November 2, starting from the Labor Temple uptown to the Harlem River Casino, where a mass meeting is to be held, with Russell and Strebel as the speakers, but as the Harlem River Casino cannot be had on that date, and the Executive Committee having decided upon a large parade with a mass meeting at Union Square, it was decided to adhere to the former decision, that they parade downtown, and that the mass meeting be held at Union Square plaza.

VERMONT SOCIALISTS IN LIVELY CAMPAIGN

Working Class Party Will Make Good Showing Next Tuesday.

By J. L. ENGBAHL.
(Correspondence to The Call.)

BENNINGTON, Vt., Aug. 29.—The State of Vermont also has its Socialist storm center. It is this city of Bennington, snuggled away among the Berkshire hills, in the southwestern part of the State.

It is about as old as any city in these New England States. It has its monuments to its Revolutionary War heroes, it has its quaint ways. But capitalism has crept in among the hills during these later days, the workers have been oppressed and the evolution of industry has forced the toilers to fight for their own, and there is a Socialist movement as the logical result.

The State and national elections come on Tuesday. The old party politicians have been going up and down the State. But Socialist speakers have been here, too, and while the Republicans do not fear the Democrats they do fear the Socialists. But the Republican forces have been split by the Bull Moose secession and the war has become merry.

In the early days of the campaign, Socialist Presidential Candidate Eugene V. Debs came into the State and was greeted by the workers, Winfield K. Gaylord, Socialist State Senator of Wisconsin, has been in the State, while Charles Edward Russell, Socialist candidate for Governor of New York, will be here before the end of the week.

On the eve of Bull Moose Roosevelt's invasion of Bennington, Socialist Vice Presidential Candidate Emil Seidel was on the job last night, and it is a question which he will receive about the choice of the Bull Moose party to this State.

Incidentally, the local candidates have been doing considerable work and carrying on a great deal of agitation, especially John Spargo, Socialist author and lecturer, whose home is in Bennington.

Quarrymen for Governor.

The candidate for Governor is Fred W. Sutor, international secretary of the Quarrymen's Union, and it is estimated that he will receive about 1,000 votes, which will be a considerable increase over that received by the Socialist candidate in previous elections.

There are those enthusiastic enough to look for the election of Norman E. Greenleaf, Socialist candidate for the State Legislature from the Bennington district, but it is believed that this must be postponed until the Socialist strength has been further increased. Greenleaf is a machinist here and acted as chairman of Seidel's meeting, making an excellent impression.

Even in the heat of the campaign considerable work of a more solid nature is being carried on. It is especially true of the agitation and organization of Sigurd Russell, under the direction of the National Socialist Executive Committee, among the French Canadians of the New England States. Russell has been spending the past week in Bennington.

It is estimated that there are about 750,000 French Canadians in the New England States, numbering about 10 per cent of the entire population. In many cities they practically control the balance of political power. They are for the most part the hands in a cotton and shoe factories, toiling in a miserable way, kept in subjection through religious fear and prejudice, and their own ignorance and illiteracy.

The task of carrying the message of Socialism to these French Canadian workers has been shouldered by Russell. He has been at work since early in July, and has dates that will keep him busy up to the middle of November.

He has met with considerable success in spite of the antagonism that he has been compelled to overcome. At Woonsocket, R. I., recently before coming to Bennington, a large number of his meetings were held to increase the size of the crowd, which finally insisted that Russell be given a hearing, resulting in one of the best meetings yet held.

Church Fights the Socialists.

Whenever Russell announces that a Socialist meeting is to be held, the church is on the job advising the French Canadians to stay away. This advice is usually given on Sundays. Russell has managed to get around this by advertising his meetings on Mondays.

The arguments usually brought into use by the church are the old and worn-out ones that have been discarded by nearly all other anti-Socialists. While carrying on his work of agitation and organization, Russell is translating considerable of the campaign literature of the Socialist party into the French language. He is now at work on the letters of acceptance of Presidential Candidate Debs and Vice Presidential Candidate Seidel.

This city is noted for the fact that it doesn't possess a hall in which a political meeting can be held. There is a hall in town, but the aged and deaf proprietor refuses to rent it for political purposes.

Henry Cabot Lodge, while Senator from Massachusetts, came to Bennington to make a political speech, and he was much averse to speaking in the open air.

"Who be ye?" asked the aged and deaf proprietor of the hall in answer to Lodge's repeated supplications.

"I'm Lodge, United States Senator from Massachusetts, and I want to speak in your hall," pleaded Lodge.

"Well, ye can't speak in this hall," was the final ultimatum. "Ye had better go back to Massachusetts," and Lodge spoke in the open air.

The New comer Charles Edward Russell, who, although he happens to be a Socialist, is equally averse to speaking in the open air, and local Socialists are in a quandary.

CIGAR MAKERS' JOINT LABEL COMMITTEE.

By David Levy.

The president being absent at the last meeting, a delegate of Union 251 was elected chairman for the evening. Reading minutes of previous meeting was suspended. A new delegate was elected from Union 215.

A communication from the typographical international president was read in relation to the article published in their official Journal, and in answer to the letter sent to him by the Label Committee, he stated that the letter had been referred to the editor of the Journal, Mr. Hays.

A communication was read from the American Bonding Company, stating that they had canceled the bond of the secretary on account of only his signature being necessary to draw money from the bank. The secretary was instructed to look up another bonding company.

A communication was read from the Kalamazoo Playing Card Company stating that the cards are 25 cents cheaper per dozen decks. No action was taken. The secretary reported that the label had been granted to Richard Bankwitz, 30 Delta avenue, Woodside, L. I., Factory 177, 1st District. The Night Committee held its report.

Income of the Label Committee, $26; expenditure of the Label Committee, $55.95; income of the Agitation Committee, $1,247.25; expenditure of the Agitation Committee, $25.

BOOKKEEPERS' UNION.

Wednesday's meeting of the Bookkeepers, Stenographers and Accountants' Union was a very successful one and was well attended.

A donation of $5 for the Furriers' Union strike benefit was given. All members of the local are urged to join the banner in the Labor Day parade, in which it will participate. It meets on East 51st street, near the meeting place of the Women's Trade Union League.

"PATRIOT" INDIGNANT OVER AMERINGER BOOK

The following letter was recently received by one of the big magazines. It refers to Oscar Ameringer's little book, "The Life and Deeds of Uncle Sam." The book gives the economic interpretation of the history of the United States in a simple and humorous manner:

"Dear Sirs—I am inclosing here with the most damnable book ever published. It is a dirty shame that in this free and glorious country of ours such a work dare be published, and I think that the President of the United States should stop it going through the mails at once, if he has not already done so.

"Will you please use your influence to put an end to such treacherous conduct and see that the scoundrels who are guilty are quickly put behind the bars where they belong.

"Yours indignantly,
"A MILWAUKEE CITIZEN AND PATRIOT."
