Czech Communist Party Swings Right Again

Workers

A PAPER DEFENDING THE INTERESTS OF WORKERS AND FARMERS

Vol. 5, No. 20.

NEW YORK, N. Y., SATURDAY MAY 16, 1936.

5 Cents a Copy

THE C. P. O. MARCHES ON MAY FIRST

Union Square, taking its place in the ranks of the #greet the contingent, headed by the organization New York workers who paraded in the United May banner, and the Red Flag Brigade of the youth.

The Communist Party (Opposition) enters Day Demonstration. The extended fists of workers

AUTO UNION TO BEGIN DRIVE

Organization By Union Made First Task As Convention Ends

By SIDNEY JONES

The problem of organizing all auto workers in one powerful, allinclusive industrial union, affiliated with the AFL was the main issue of the second convention of the International Union, the United Automobile Workers of America, held in South Bend, Indiana, April speeches were related to this main issue—the organization of the unthat the discredited dictator of the union, ex-President Francis J. Dillon, appointed by Green at the last convention, was not even nominated to succeed himself because he failed in the main job of organization. This is also one of the reasons why young, energetic Homer Martin, a former Kansas City preacher, was unanimously elected by all the convention delegates as their general president. Many of the delegates told him, "We are giving you our votes and confidence. You go ahead and show what you can do in organizing and uniting all auto workers into our union." That's why, after the election of general officers in whom the membership have confidence. they will be able to do a real job in the field of organization. They such as are in the Little Entente, adopted a resolution on unity, inviting all the independent unions, even if special consideration will (Continued on Page 2)

Conquest of Ethiopia Wrecks League

Crack-Up Of Alignments
Will Follow For The ing swallowed by Hitler Germany.
The League, merely an arena in which French and British capital Small Nations

Italy has made formal announcement of the annexation of Ethiopia, the last piece of land independent of imperialism on the African continent. Hamstrung in its own defense by the burdensome feudal order under which it groan-27 to May 2. All resolutions and ed, the Ethiopian kingdom made the wild barbaric gestures of an independent primitive people. organized. It was from this angle fending themselves against the cruel machine-armies of modern "civilization." No bones were made by Fascist Italy and its bull-throated dictator, Mussolini, that this was an imperialist war. With a callousness indicative of this latter-day imperialism, his justifica-tion for this ruthless conquest was the history of the "powers"— France and England, who gained their empire in precisely this fashion. Mussolini's statements on this score can hardly be denied. Thus, the military conquest of Ethiopia tears away the veil of hypocrisy, exposing not merely Fascism, but British and French Imperialism, both of which had hoped to pose as defenders of the peace.

Within the orbit of the League of Nations, those capitalist states, and the Balkan group now are beginning to distrust the ability of sending a congratulatory telegram France primarily, and also Eng-land, to defend them against be- Ethiopia.

maintained hegemony over and against all others, and struggled against each other for further gains, has failed on precisely the issue that bound the "satellites" to it-i.e., either France or Britain. If no decisive action was taken to defend British interests in Africa (under the cover of the "freedom of Ethiopia"), if there was no basis of agreement on this question between France and England, then for Czechoslovakia and the other countries, there is no guarantee of protection.

This disintegration of the League undoubtedly signifies its finish on the field of imperialist diplomacy. It can no longer be the dominant force of the post-war decade. This means that, in practice, the smaller countries will tend to gravitate either around Soviet Russia, as a consistent defender of their interests, or bolt over to the Nazi camp. Certainly a great impetus will be given to the pro-German elements in the Polish bourgeoisie,

SHERRILL HAILS MUSSOLINI

General Sherrill, of the U.S. Army, has added to his "reputation" as a pro-fascist. Having led the fight for America's participation in the Nazi Olympics, he now displayed his internationalism by

Steel Convention Weighs Conflicting Proposals

Belief Is Strong That The CIO Proposal Has Good Chance Of Adoption; Craft Unionists Begin To Split The Ranks By Separate Drive.

The steel workers convention meeting here in Cannonsburg, Pa. is faced with the gravest problem which may have a bearing also on the whole future of the American Federation of Labor.

The convention, having before it the original proposal of the Committee for Industrial Organization offering funds and organizers for the organization of the steel industry provided the drive is conducted along industrial lines, elected a committee to study the problem. The committee appeared before the Executive Council of the

TO BACK F.D.

Prepare To Support Him organization. Thru "Real" Democratic Party

At a conference of the Old Guard caucus it was decided to definitely work for a split at the forthcom ing national convention of the SP in Cleveland. Since the charter was lifted from the Old Guard, and they were repudiated in the prim aries, it became clear that their hope lay either in a new organiza tion of their own or in the role of an adviser to a Labor Party. The latter not being forthcoming, the Old Guard will set about to call a New York state convention in June or July to consider the formation of a national "social-democratic"

Waldman, leader of the right wing caucus, has already clearly delineated the role of this league even preparing the ground for the support of Roosevelt. In a statement issued after the faction caucus, he stated that: "Personally I admire President Roosevelt and I have said publicly that if I could not support a Socialist candidate I would support him."

And of course, the Old Guard "cannot" support any candidate put the CIO unions. up by the Militants, in any shape or form. Thus, the extreme rights within the socialist movement tend to the completion of their course, in carrying out the policy of the "lesser evil."

DOUBLE-CROSSED!

Oklahoma got itself twisted on just how to carry out a policy of race discrimination against Negroes. When Caleb Peterson, a New York Negro, appeared in Oklahoma City to take part in the National Forensic Contest, the goatee'd drawling Southern gentlemen went into a huddle for the protection of the hearth, home, and Southern womanhood. These cavaliers then arrived at the following solution. All contestants were to leave the stage while Peterson spoke, so that Southern culture could remain contaminated.

Only one thing went wrong. Petersen won the contest by unanimous acclaim.

A. F. of L. and the latter respond-S. P. OLD GUARD and the latter responded with a letter to the convention offering assistance for an organization drive but laying down two conditions: the Committee for Industrial Organization must be kept out and the Amalgamated must not insist on the industrial form of

In a reply to the convention John L. Lewis lashed out against the Executive Council. "The Amafgamated," said Lewis, "is at the eross roads" and holds within its hand "the economic destinies of the workers in the steel industry." Lewis further pointed out that the Amalgamated cannot accept the Council proposal without setting aside its claim of jurisdiction over the whole industry.

While the convention was weighing the two proposals before it the United States Steel Corporation announced a grant of two weeks vacation with pay to every worker with 5 or more years of service. This is obviously an attempt to weaken the planned organization drive. At the same time the Amalgamated Association of Machinists promptly proceeded to split the ranks of the steel workers by starting an independent organization drive in crafts under its jurisdic-

Progressives are making a strong stand and it is expected that the proposal of the CIO will be adopted. There is no doubt that this situation still further strains relations between the Council and

The Arabs are continuing a general strike in Palestine, with the young Arabs demanding more militant action on the part of their nationalist leaders. A memorandum was submitted by the Arabian chiefs to the British foreign office, demanding the application of restrictions on immigration and land grants to the Jews, as the only solution to the Palestinean prob-

Incendiarism began to spread as an anti-Jewish weapon in various sections of the country, villages and orchards being burned by the Arabs. The British police were ordered out on a "collective punishment" ordinance which means the suppression of both Jews and Arabs. Especially could this be directed against any attempt at common action against British Imperialism.

Union Organization Is Keynote of Auto Confab

have to be given to some of the and speakers, (3) in every auto leaders of the independent unions. center an organization committee To show that they really meant is to be set up with the assistance business they invited and seated of the general officers, (4) the genas fraternal delegates three leaders eral officers and the Executive of the independent unions and gave Board are to try to get volunteer them the opportunity to speak at organizers to assist the District the convention where they pledged Councils and local unions in carry themselves to make all efforts to ing out the organization drive: convince their membership to (5) a campaign to give the widest merge with the International.

Organization Plan

The most important resolution committee on organization-conall the auto workers in U.S. and

UNION CALLS TO al department to help out in this work. FREE MOONEY

The United Automobile Workers last week at South Bend, Indiana, unanimously passed a resolution demanding the immediate release of Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings. The convention also voted to endorse the proposal of the California State Federation of Labor to make July 22—the twentieth anniversary of the frame-up-National Tom Mooney Day when meetings and demonstrations are to be held in attempt to affect the release of Mooney and Billings.

The resolution (No. 202), printed below, was introduced by Lester Washburn, Local 53, Lansing Michigan; Albert A. Woodruff, Local 55, Lansing, Michigan; John North, Local 133, Grand Rapids, Michigan; Arnold B. Coxhill, Local 113, Muskegon, Michigan; Charles M. Bowers, Local 87, Muskegon, Michigan; Henry C. Kahle, Local 62, Jackson, Michigan.

WHEREAS, Thomas J. Mooney, a member of the International Molders' Union of North America for 33 years, has been imprisoned by the state of California for close to 20 of the best years of his life on a life imprisonment sentence on the foulest frame-up conspiracy ever recorded in all history of American jurisprudence; and

WHEREAS, This monstrous frame-up conspiracy against plete belief in the innocence of Thomas J. Mooney was conceived, inspired, directed and executed with other American Federation of with wrath and paid for by the hirelings and Labor unions denounce with wrathagents of the California non-union | ful indignation the original framthe public utilities corporations of every other public official who aid-San Francisco, which had direct control of the district attorney's of encouragement towards the office and police department as is being proved in the present hear- frame-up; ing in his petition for a writ of habeas corpus from the California SOLVED: That this convention courts; and WHEREAS, The real motive be- by the California State Federation hind this outrageous conspiracy is class fear and class hatred of Thomas J. Mooney, because of his frame-up—as National Tom Mooaggressive, militant activity in the ney Day and to pledge the coop-California trade union movement eration of our union in this activiand his undying loyalty and devo- ty to further the release of Moo-

WHEREAS, All of the living defendant; judges, jurors, commissions, etc., AND BE IT FINALLY REwho originally heard and investi- SOLVED: That telegrams of engated his case have either de- couragement to Brother Mooney be manded his pardon or branded his sent by this convention, along with trial as a frame-up, as have hun- a telegram of protest to Governor dreds of thousands of public offi- Merriam of California demanding cials and members of trade union the immediate release of Mooney organizations:

(Continued from Page 1) man, and others, to act as advisor publicity to this drive: (6) the heln of all liberal, civic, fraternal, and foreign language groups is to be was presented in the report of the enlisted; (7) $250,000 is to be raised to carry on this organizataining a plan on how to organize tion drive, of which $75,000 is to be raised by the International Canada. This resolution instructs Union and an appeal is to be sent the Executive Board (1) to start out to every AFL International a nation-wide organization drive right after the convention, (2) to with the CIO whose interest lies in assist in this drive an invitation is the organization of the mass proto be send to the oustanding lead-duction industries; (8) to request ers of the AFL, Wm. Green, Lewis, the aid of all local, central, and Dubinsky, Howard, Hillman, Gor- state bodies of organized labor to assist in this drive; and (9) to establish a research and education-

For Labor Party

There were also other questions discussed by the convention such as Party which was adopted unanimously, the union's delegates to the next A.F.L. Convention being instructed to speak and vote for an ll-inclusive Farmer-Labor Party. Also this was done with the idea in mind that it would help out in many localities in organizing the auto workers, especially in those cities where workers are disgusted with the city administrations which are openly dominated by the management of the auto plants. The same applies to the issue of industrial unionism which was dis-

The main argument of Wm. Green, in his speech to the convention, was that an industrial union can be built only through a slow, evolutionary process as it took many years for the United Mine Workers to get it, and that the situation should not be aggravated by the union trying to take in peoole who belong to the other unions. However in the replies of the del- ers was contradictory to the otheregates—in the form of resolutions wise progressive proceedings and adopted unanimously at the con- activity. First, in granting permisvention-they made it very clear sion to Father Coughlin, considthat they are 100% for industrial ered an enemy of the AFL, to deunionism in all mass production

THEREFORE, BE IT RE-SOLVED: That this second con- the South Bend locals for the convention of the International Union, vention delegates. Especially was United Automobile Workers of it bad because Father Coughlin America declare its full and com- had recently begun to lose standers of this foul conspiracy and ed or abetted, by deeds or words continuation of this monstrous

AND BE IT FURTHER RE. support the movement inaugurated tion to the working class; and | ney and Warren K. Billings, his co-

and Billings.

ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED!

parts plants.

Resolutions were also adopted cision was the passage of a moment for a national Tom Mooney spies and a demand on the government to outlaw such agencies. Also munists. many progressive changes were made in the constitution to give the membership controlling power of the organization.

Contradictory Actions On three questions the South Bend Convention of the auto workliver a demagogic speech for industrial unionism at a semi-official banquet which was arranged by

Puchiny Nathan Silverberg Lucian Elsen Dave Gassuci Louis Cohen Tatrew Jack Goldstein William Blank Kappelson H. Elazaroff Dressmaker George Barkow Julius Weinzman Julius Betcher R. Z. L. R.

JOIN COMMUNIST PARTY (OPPOSITION) 51 West 14th Street New York City

Jennie Silverman

Cheskins

industries. They requested the ing among the auto workers in AFL Convention to change the Michigan for refusing to support charter of their International to in any form the Motor Products allow for the inclusion of all auto strike which was started by an inworkers, including those in the dependent union under his domination. The second unprogressive de-demanding the freedom of Tom tion on the last day of the conven-Mooney and support of the move- tion expressing the union's "unalterable opposition to Fascism, day, July 22, which will be the Nazism, and Communism, and all 20th anniversary of the frame-up other movements tending to disof Mooney and Billings. Other tract the attention of the memberresolutions which were adopted ship of the labor movement from were for the defense of civil the primary objective of unionrights, for the freedom of the ism." This resolution was adopted Scottsboro boys, boycott of the "unanimously" with many of the I.S.U., immediately dropping this Olympics in Germany, an endorse- delegates not participating in the cussed more at this than at any other convention of any union.

Olympics in Germany, an endorse- delegates not participating in the ment of the La Follette Senate voting, after a bitter fight took committee investigating industrial place on the resolution demanding the Federal Trade Commission in Committee investigating industrial place on the resolution demanding the expulsion of all known Com-There was another very bad feature of the convention. After two CIO speakers, Powers Hap- the union, altho Bridges is certainastic closing speeches on the floor of the convention for industrial unionism and a general progressive policy to be pursued if the union wanted to be successful in its organization drive, another representative of the CIO, Adolph Germer, at the same time gave out a statement to the press that, in the Auto Convention's voting down the resolution in support of Roosevelt for re-election it showed that "Communists and Socialists had taken over the convention and were voting not as auto workers but according to their political beliefs." It was this statement by Germer to the press which forced General President, Homer Martin, to reconsider previous action of the convention on the Roosevelt resolution, knowing that the union needed the support of the CIO to carry on a successful organization drive. The recommendation by Martin was adopted unanimously with many of the progressive delegates abstaining from voting. This South Bend Convention shows how workers in the mass production industries would react if organized and given the opportunity to express their feelings; that in general it would be a progressive movement although some of the issues they will try to solve in a very confused manner with the idea that some compromises will be necessary to further their organizational activities. However, experience will teach them that only through a genuine progressive policy and aggressive leadership for the bettering of the conditions of the workers will they succeed in organizing all the auto workers in the auto union.

On the LABOR FRONT

After 12 weeks of proposals, ounter-proposals and apparent deadlock, the conference of the anthracite operators and representaives of the U.M.W.A. reached an cceptable compromise. Whereas the miners had demanded a wage ncrease, and the operators had proposed a 221/2% decrease, the final decision was for maintenance of the status quo. A seven hour day, and five day week was the proposal adopted as against the union demand for a thirty hour week. This however will become effective only in the second year of the two year contract, provided bootlegging of coal is eliminated. The system of equalization of work, to provide for some sort of relief for the 40,000 unemployed niners was accepted in principle by the operators.

While these are the general terms of the agreement, full details will have to be worked out by a joint commission. Both parties agreed to the creation of a "stabilization" committee which will work for an "anthracite Guffey Bill."

I.S.U. Drops Injunction

The "truce" arranged by both factions of the International Seamen's Union, was rejected by the Executive Board of the International, and by the mass meeting of the strikers' under Curran's leadership. An injunction suit by the officials of the union against Curran's use of the union's name in the strike was dropped when a "star witness" for the union, testified while wearing a suit of clothes stolen from one of the strikers. He also admitted serving three terms Bridges militant leadership. Both these men were served with papers. thru the Commission, to cease publishing organs bearing the name of ly a bona fide leader of the West Coast Maritime Federation, including the I.S.U.

Green Supports Roosevelt

Before the quarterly meeting of the Executive Council of the A. F. of L. took action on the question of the presidential elections, William Green, speaking at the Women's Trade Union Council, came out for the re-election of Roosevelt. Two weeks ago be had sent a letter attacking the relationship of the CIO to the Labor Non-Partisan League, and advising all unions to await the national conventions in order to study the platforms and candidates of the respective parties. However, since the biggest unions in the Federation, especially those connected with the industrial union bloc, have come out so dramatically for Roosevelt's reelection, Green had to do something in the same direction, even tho weakly.

BRADLEY'S CAFETERIA SEASONABLE FOOD

ΑT REASONABLE PRICES

6th Ave. at 14th Street

THE STORY OF TOM MOONEY

By a STAR LABOR REPORTER

(Reprinted by permission of the Tom Mooney Molders' Defense Committee.)

TOM'S voice fell upon my ears first some six years ago. It may have been more than six. I was a labor reporter at that time for an evening newspaper. I heard Tom Mooney make an appeal for miners on strike somewhere in the West. I don't remember where that strike was, but if I were to go out to the Penitentiary this afternoon and ask Tom, he would be able to tell me. He remembers all of the troubles of the working people. I haven't got time to go up to the prison today, however. Besides it doesn't really matter just where that miners' strike took place. It was only one of the many struggles the miners of the West have had to take up a fight for-I was going to say a place in the sun-for little of the brightness and decencies of

I remember very clearly the speech Tom made for those miners and their women and children. The scene was at the weekly meeting of the San Francisco Labor Council. Mooney was a delegate from the Molders' Union. The hall was packed with men of all trades, men who built the city, men who fed the city, men who clothed the city, men who labored with hammers far up in the clouds, men who sweated in the sombre depths of steamers, men who drove great drays through the streets, men who worked naked in the furnace-like kitchens of restaurants. men who went down to the sea in ships. Women were there, too-laundry girls, waitresses, garment workers. In the center of the floor was a long table for newspaper reporters, among whom was yours truly in all the blush and bloom of youth and Everybody listened to the secretary, who was reading aloud communications. He came to a letter from the miners. It was a request for financial aid. The company had driven them out of their homes, which belonged to the company. The miners and their families were camping on the hillsides. Money was wanted for tents and food.

It was not a long letter. It was not brilliantly written. No attempt was made to play on the feelings. It was a plain, matter-of-fact letter sent by miners. There was no whine in it.

Somebody got up and pointed out that the Council's treasury was very low at this time and he didn't see how they could give anything to these people, though he was in sympathy with them and hoped

The charity-begins-at-home delegates stood up and had their say: very sorry for these brothers; I'm with them all right; but their own state ought to take care of them; we have troubles of our own.

The letter-of-the-law members wanted to know whether these miners were properly affiliated. What seal was on the communication? Was this strike duly sanctioned by the officials? Who are these

Tom Mooney took the floor. I didn't know his name at that time. He was a new delegate. We looked around when he raised his voice and saw a clean-cut young fellow, broad in the shoulders, with black, flashing eyes. He had washed his hands as hard as he could after his day's work, but still they were not clean. An iron worker, especially a molder, finds it mighty hard to get all the dirt off his hands, unless he is thrown into jail where time wears it off. He used his hands a lot while he spoke. Sometimes the fists were clenched; sometimes the palms were spread out in appeal.

For fifteen minutes Tom Mooney spoke. Behold. that far-off mining country rose before us under the toiled-stained hands! His voice was a cry from the wilderness. The anguish of the women, the woe of the children, the deep purple anxiety of the miners, all this we found in the young molder's voice. We heard the gunmen tramping into their little homes. We saw the miners and their families driven out into the roads. We heard the sobbing of the women, the whimpering of the little ones, the muttering of the workers, the yells of the armed agents of the mine barons. We saw the highways littered with the poor belongings of those families. We saw the frayed household things, looking so sorry in the broad light of noon. We saw the tattered bedroom articles of which the good wife was ashamed, the set-up furniture so miserable in the open roadway, the worn-out effects she had hoped the neighbors would never see. We saw the outcasts strug-gling out to the hillsides. We saw them putting up their rude shelters on the black sweep of the mountains, the men shouting brave words of cheer, the women frightened before the fist of calamity. We saw them in the dusk out there on the hills, looking down on their desolated homes—the raw earth their fireside now, the cold sky their roof, and bitter winds to whistle lullabies for their young.

Pariahs all! Wives, babes, grandmothers with silver hair, thin youngsters of frail health, men, tired and careworn, sitting beside the old women who bore them-all pariahs, all homeless. We saw through Tom Mooney's eyes, the night come down upon these people. Then, out of the black bulk of the mine properties, searchlights flared! The powerful lamps cut through the gloom, swift moving swords of light. Far and near the searchlights hunted, quick, alert, weird, menacing, the cruel eyes of the masters, the glaring eyes of Greed! We saw the searchlights hesitating on the hillside camps, on the white faces of the women, on the blanched faces of the children, on the angry faces of the miners, on all the tattered, frayed, shaky household things of the outcasts. The flashing, reaching, pointing searchlights gave the scene

War it was, cried Mooney. War upon our people. War upon me and mine! War upon the family of Toil of which we, you, I, all of us are members. War upon our women, upon our children, upon our brothers in travail! These be our brothers, our sisters, our little ones, though we are separated by mountain ranges! Their fight is our fight, their enemies ours, their sorrows our, their pains yours

This ironworker's voice reached into our hearts and played upon the harp of our sympathies. There was a lump in my throat that I couldn't swallow My eyes got full, and I was wishing the Council hal was dark, as in a movie show, where your neighbor can't see when you're stirred by some deep trouble on the screen.

What the outcome of that strike was I do no know. But the next time I go out to the Penitenknow. But the next time I go out to the Penitentiary, I will ask Tom. He will tell me through the bars how these miners made out. He keeps track of such things. He cuts them out and pastes them in scrapebooks. If he had not given so much attention to other people's troubles, he would not be locked up in a steel cage today, sentenced to be hanged by the neck.* And for something he had no more to do with than any infant that may have been born in that hillside camp of miners.

When Tom had finished speaking the request of those miners for financial help was not tabled. Money was voted to them, and a good sum at that.

Now, I don't mean to say that Tom got off any fancy oratory like a lawyer or a politician. He isn't built that way. The talk of a lawyer or a politician comes, as a rule, from the head. They can say things which they do not feel at all. Tom's speech came from his heart. At times it was not smooth; he stumbled for words because there was so much surging in him. But he didn't stumble often. His sympathetic imagination showed him that community of troubled miners just as clearly as if he were on the spot. He felt their problems as if he were living in them. When he said these are my people O the understanding in his voice! When he said their pains are ours, O the depth of feeling, the breadth of sympathy he put into that!

I said to myself there and then, I don't know who you are, old chap, but you've got altogether too much soul for a workingman. Men like you have been resolutions before the Labor Coun- bosses, to maintain our old gains jailed, crucified, shot and hanged throughout the cil and the Moulders' Union, warn- and to win new ones. ages by the masters. I got well acquainted with ing the workers to stay away from It is unfortunate that up until Tom Mooney after that. I have seen him in many Mooney in the foundry, in the dust and gloom and steam and smoke, almost naked to the waist, carrying the long ladle full of liquid metal, which sizzled turned tail upon the inescapable and sputtered and sent out showers of sparks like miniature fireworks. "Pouring off," the molders expressed himself as of the opin- bers has created the impression call it. Mooney during the noon hour, eating his lunch on a pile of burnt wooden moldings outside the shop. Mooney trudging home from work at | plosion. night, just one of the homeward-bound army toilers, his face blackened, little sweat streaks through the smudge, his clothing singed and seared from metal sparks. Mooney, the student, bent over books at night, his eyes aglow with visions, happy visions Labor's future, visions of Labor enlightened, Labor's future, visions of Labor enlightened, Labor with consciousness of its importance and bor brave with consciousness of its importance and power in the world, Labor no longer groping in the dark, Labor almighty, Labor the Master of the House of the world and no more the beggar at the gate. Mooney, the speaker on public platforms, in the halls of Labor, at National conventions, on street ingmen; Mooney speaking for John Lawson the miner; Mooney crying out against the Ludlow massacre, against Calumet, the Cherry mine disaster, the Triangle shirtwaist fire, the robbery of the Danbury hatters, the shooting of Joe Hill, the Lawrence mill strike prosecutions, the imprisonment of Ford and Suhr, the West Virginia mine injustices, the Coal and Iron Cossacks of Pennsylvania; Moo- mounting, run away shops and out File, we state that such was not ney, the industrial outlaw, the foundry doors closed of town present a very serious our intention and that all Union to him, walking the streets a marked man, black- problem, only a few weeks are left problems must be brought to the listed, feared, hated, turned away from door after until the expiration of our agree- office of the Union. door, Mooney the son, cuddling his aged mother, ment, the knitgoods manufacturers soothing her fears, joshing, laughing, rollicking, cutting capers around her, sporting with her at picnics, springing jokes at her in halls, packing her conditions in the shops and by re- that now once and for all we will off to movie shows. Mooney the strike organizer, attempting to organize the underpaid platform men of the United Railroads, the most powerful financial and political, force in San Francisco. He was By immediately starting an all and mistakes of the Rank and File arrested on the principal street after having tied up around mobilization of our entire Group as well as the Progressives the cars by calling off motormen.

Mooney and three other union men, a few days slaught on our living conditions gle for a stronger Union. after the failure of the car strike, charged by a and to prepare to fight for a new United Railroads detective with being responsible and better agreement for the knitfor the Preparedness bomb outrage. Mooney, con- goods workers. (Continued on Page 6)

MOONEY FOR PRESIDENT

The Mooney Float demanding the freedom of labor's great martyr. and calling on the workers to unite on a Labor Ticket with Mooney for President, is acclaimed on May First.

FORMER PROSECUTOR ADMITS

and Warren K. Billings because the recantations of the chief witnesses had weighed heavily upon him, James F. Brennan, chief prosecutor of the latter class war prisoner in 1916 and at present a con- ber in 1916 of the San Francisco tender for the Republican Congressional nomination, tried to pin the nal frame-up gang, that Brennan blame for the threatening and had felt that "they had the wrong anonymous post cards which were men," that it would be too difficult sent to the police on the eve of the to incriminate Mooney. Brennan Preparedness Day parade upon denied this, but acknowledged that Tom Mooney.

This preposterous charge has never been levelled even by the blew in his testimony.

pant of a State Assembly seat, within our Union established we went so far as to cite Mooney's are in a position to defeat our the parade for fear some violence now an inner strife has been gomight be perpetrated and then ing on in our Union. This strife blamed upon the unions. But hav- found sharp expression at various ing arrived at this point, Brennan occasions. implications of his testimony and the Rank and File to their memion that this proved Mooney had among any of the Union members some previous knowledge of the ex- that the intention of the Rank and with his attempt to secure a par- ers" or that the policy of our don for Mooney and Billings, it

Knitgoods Union ssues Statement gle against the attacks of the employers. Though we state that in

Statement of the Rank and File certain shops. Group of the Joint Council Knitgoods Workers Union.

Sisters and Brothers: Very difficult problems are now facing our union. Unemployment is lems to the office of the Rank and have started a drive against our letter has served as a cause celebre Union by viciously attacking our to keep our ranks divided, we hope sorting to arrests and frame ups. | sweep aside this obstacle and How can we successfully meet | march ahead to unity.

the challenge of our employers? Let us forget the shortcomings

The only way we can meet suc

San Francisco.—After declaring | was felt by impartial observers. for the release of Tom Mooney nan had his own doubts as to the veracity of the witnesses who subsequently retracted their testi-

Earlier in the hearings, it was disclosed by Draper Hand, a mem-Bomb Bureau and one of the origihe had been accused of half-heartedness in the prosecution.

District Attorney's office. Thus cessfully the dangers facing us is it was easy to see whence the wind through a united and determined membership. With our ranks closed Brennan, many times an occu- and unity of all militant forces

If a letter that was issued by File Group was to charge our His interpretation hardly squares | Union or its leadership as "betray-Union is one of capitulation to the employers, we wish to state categorically now as we have stated on ormer occasions at membership eetings and elsewhere that such was not our intention. It is our opinion that in general policy the oint Council has waged a struggle against the attacks of the empletely with the policy purued in

> Furthermore, if in any manner the letter gives rise to any illusions that the Rank and File Group calls upon workers to bring shop prob-

It is a well known fact that the membership to beat back the on- and unite our hands in the strug-

Executive Committe Rank and File Group Joint Council Knitgoods Workers Union

scription Rates: $1.50 per year; $1.00 for six months; 5c a copy. Foreign Rates: Entered as second class matter Nov. 5, 1934, at the Post Office New York, N. Y.

under the act of March 3, 1879.

Address mail to Box 68 Station "O" New York City.

Saturday, May 16, 1936.

Pacific America

LTOGETHER too little attention is being given these days to the A vast armament budget put thru by the Roosevelt administration. For one thing, the Italo-Ethiopian conflict and the Rhineland controversy seem to have drowned it out of active consideration. Then, the Republicans who are furious at the huge Roosevelt expenditures and mounting budgetary deficits have seen fit not to rave at or utter even a syllable against such fabulous spending for war. The reason for this silence is obvious.

Nevertheless there is sinister significance in this dollar spree for war. Unanimously the House passed the Rogers Bill authorizing the increase of Army airplanes up to 4,000. Only a handful voted against the naval budget which is to be over half a billion dollars for the coming war. Work is starting on two new battle cruisers costing 40 to 50 million dollars each. The size of the standing army has been increased. And all of this is what Roosevelt calls "good neighbour" policy!

For whom is Roosevelt arming? This question is easy to answer For the same big business interests, for the same imperialist objectives that the "peace-loving" Wilson armed. A more complicated question, for the noment, is against whom is Roosevelt arming? Roosevelt did not reveal the secret in his message to the annual convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution. To these time-worn ladies of the American counter-revolution the President could only say: "They (America's warships, airplanes, and military machine) are not a threat to peace." Surely, not even these doddering dames took these words seriously. They weren't meant to be taken at face value. The D.A.R.

Light can be let in on the question against whom the U. S. is arming by examining the naval race now being participated in by the three biggest imperialist powers. The $531,068,707 American navel appropriation and the $396,336,200 British naval budget are both without peace-time precedent. If one reckons with the drop in prices in recent years the size is even greater than the figures indicate. At this writing the naval tonnage of the British Empire is 1,388,184; of the U.S. 1.353,085; of Japan 866,564 This indicates an approximate reaching of the 5-5-3 ratio. However, this agreement of 1922 is now dead. Japan is hell-bent on a 5-5-5 arrangement. The race to ruin is Just now it is not primarily against Great Britain that the U.S. is arming on the seas, rather it is against Japan. Since 1919 the latter has increased its naval tonnage by 35%; that is, from 642,801 tons to 866,654 tons. In these seventeen years of post-war chaos, the U.S. and Britain, for financial reasons reduced their total naval tonnage and 1934, it became possible to make a tion on May Day in the city. On Under the influence of the Miliconcentrated on qualitative or specialized naval construction: Thus, in this period England reduced its tonnage from 2,891,758 to 1,388,184 tons-by 52%; the U. S. from 2,055,276 to 1,353,085-by 34%. The fact that Japanese economy could stand reduction even more than the British or American, the fact that it could bear the burden of constantly increasing naval armaments even less than England and the U.S. only aggravates the likelihood of Japanese imperialist aggression.

It is to meet this challenge, it is to be prepared to lock horns with Japan (which may, for reasons of economic difficulties, be driven to war at any time and even before its own ruling class is prepared or desires) that the U.S. is now piling up armaments. More than that: Preparedness is being hastened so that Uncle Sam does not lose the capacity for initiative. This means that maximum preparedness on sea, land, and in the air is to be attained so that Wall Street should be able to strike first if it so chooses.

Today, the U. S. is building fastest. Maximum and speediest modernization is what the admirals are after. A total new tonnage of 275,000 is now under construction for the U.S. navy; for Britain 165,000 tons are under construction today; for Japan 95,257 tons. Of course, on the basis of the latest appropriations the U.S. tempo is even more furious.

This is a magnificent way of sending dollars to the bottom of the ocean-insofar as labor is concerned. This is a splendid insurance policy insofar as the interests of biggest business go. It is not for historically progressive reasons that American imperialism will ever fight Japanese imperialism or any other competitor in the world market. No imperialist power can ever engage in war except for imperialist in terests, capitalist considerations, predatory motives and reasons.

Hence, all workers must be dead set against these war preparations of the U.S. government as well as against the war preparations of all imperialist governments. Those who conceive the possibility of the U.S. or any other imperialist country waging a progressive war, waging any other kind of war but an imperialist conflict are playing into the hands of and playing the game of the imperialists themselves. Any attempt to explain this away can only be an effort to apologize for the rankest social chauvinism. This lesson we must drive home time and again precisely because the outbreak of the impending imperialist war is not so far off.

ATTENTION!

Beginning with this issue subscription rates of the Workers Age have been lowered. The new rates are:

$1.50 per year

$1.00 for six months

SUBSCRIBE NOW!

The Significance of May Day

BECAUSE it is, by nature and endorsing in principle the merging in the great demonstration. At the tradition, the day of internation of the communist "united front" trade union mass meeting, moremost significant events of recent towards our goal of unity. years, an event strikingly indicanovement.

power of the working class in the tory! face of the common enemy.

ly the united front of the socialist and communist movements, one of the great guiding lines of our policy. May Day after May Day well trade union aspect it so clearly nosicy. May Day after May Day we trade union aspect it so clearly posraised this question, urging with sessed.

"unity" on May Day.

WHAT NEXT IN FRANCE?

JAY LOVESTONE

(An eye witness to the developments in France)

MONDAY MAY 18th, 1936 — 8 P. M.

Irving Plaza Auditorium

15th Street and Irving Place

ADMISSION: -:- 15 CENTS

Auspices: COMMUNIST PARTY (OPPOSITION)

until 1934 in fact, disunity among other. For the first time in recent sections of the working class of the workers on May Day as on any history there was a genuinely New York on May Day. other day was generally accepted united, politically all-inclusive as the "normal" state of affairs. demonstration on May Day. Every The Communist Party ran its own, commentator, in the capitalist and purely communist "united front" labor press alike, has been quick demonstration and the Socialist to note the deep significance of the Party ran its own, purely socialist fact that the great May Day pa-"socialist and labor" affair. The rade, one of the most magnificent chasm between the two was re- labor turnouts New York City has garded as unbridgeable and the ever seen, was headed by an official even more unfortunate that no possibility of drawing into the committee including representamovement masses of workers nei- tives of the Socialist Party, the their socialist nor communist was Communist Party and the Communot even broached. Under such cir- nist Party Opposition. It is as a cumstances May Day was anything profoundly impressive demonstra- Old Guard socialist leaders. Too but a day of international labor tion of communist-socialist unity solidarity; it was a demoralizing on the great day of labor solidarity demonstration of the bitter divi- that May Day 1936 will leave its sions that were paralyzing the bright mark on the pages of his-

But surely no less significant is One voice and one alone was the active role that the trade Lost to all sense of socialist reraised against this intolerable situ- unions played this May Day. Ination; one voice alone rose to chal- deed, the provisional committee lenge this ready acceptance of per- that sponsored the united movemanent disunity in principle—the ment was of a purely trade union fascism" ("the communists are the manent disunity in principle—the ment was of a purely trade union voice of the Communist Opposition. character, headed by powerful Guard has become a distinctly re-We made working class unity Dressmakers Union Local 22 of the against capitalism, and particular- I.L.G.W.U. As the movement got ly the united front of the socialist under way, scores of other labor

every argument of political reason | The United Labor May Day Pathe necessity of unity. Finally, in rade was not the only demonstrapractical move in that direction. the afternoon of the same day, Upon our initiative, and under the there was a gigantic mass-meeting York responded thruout in a wholepressure of big unions who saw the at the Polo Grounds, under the some, constructive manner, sinvisdom of our policy, a Labor May auspices of a trade union commit- cerely putting the interests of Day Conference was set up in New tee in which the I.L.G.W.U. played working class unity above any par-York along officially non-partisan a predominant role. The two were tisan considerations. The same, and lines. A number of powerful trade distinct, it is true, but in a very even more, may be said of the unions formed the basis of the real sense they were essentially movement and such diverse politi- supplementary to each other. Decal organizations as the Socialist spite all the malicious efforts of much heavier sacrifices for the Party, the Communist Party Op- the bankrupt intriguers of the sake of unity, even to the point of position and the Trotskyites par- Forward and the Old Guard of foregoing a mass-meeting at Union ticipated. But complete unity was the S.P., there never was nor could still far off. Neither the Commu- there be any hostility or rivalry pointed out that, in a number of nist Party, nor any of its organ-between the two demonstrations. izations, took part; they never even Responsible spokesmen of the Chicago and Detroit particularly, made an effort to gain admission United May Day Committee went the C.P. retained altogether too nor would they have been welcomed out of their way, in word and deed, much of its old narrowness and had they done so. For those were to maintain harmony, while the petty factional spirit in its conthe sad old days of "social-fas- Trade Union May Day Committee, cism," on the one side, and the speaking thru an editorial in Jusvicious anti-communist phobia, on tice (April 15, 1936), very prop- May Day 1936 was both a chalthe other. In 1934 there were still erly emphasized that "the big ga- lenge and a triumph. Holding two rival parades demonstrating thering (at the Polo Grounds) on firmly to our course of previous "unity" on May Day.

May First will in no manner com- years, we took the initiative in de-In 1935 we were able to drive a pete with any other celebrations veloping a May Day movement little further ahead. The Labor or meetings that may be staged on that would be broad, politically all-May Day Conference was reestab- that day." Indeed, thousands upon inclusive and genuinely labor in lished and, as far as official decis- thousands of members of Local 22 character, a May Day movement ions could go, the movement was a and other unions, responding with with firm roots in the trade unions. good deal more non-partisan and admirable discipline to the instruc- Much more than in former years, all-inclusive than before. Indeed, at the session of the conference ceeded promptly to the Polo success. The goal of unity which held four days before May Day, a Grounds after having passed the we placed before us so many years resolution sponsored by the CPO reviewing stand at Union Square ago, when we had to champion it tional labor solidarity, May Day parade with the labor demonstra- over, the speakers included Jay necessarily brings to the fore in tion. But the time was too short; Lovestone of the Communist Opits most impressive form the prob-lem of working class unity. From New York in 1935. But already (Militant) Socialist Party—thus this angle, as from so many others, then we were able to see that a giving the lie, incidentally, to the May Day 1936 rises as one of the great step forward had been taken pitiful pretence of the Old Guard that the Polo Grounds meeting was How great an advance towards "their" affair. In fact, the two tive of the forces at work deep unity was made this year's May demonstrations might quite well be down in the ranks of the labor Day all those who have experienced regarded as distinct but mutually it can testify. No longer were there complementary aspects of one great Three, four and five years ago, two rival parades, hostile to each mass turnout of the more advanced

> And yet we cannot overlook some grave shortcomings. It was very unfortunate, indeed, that no official lished between the United May Day Committee and the Trade Union May Day Committee. It was Party was permitted to appear at the Polo Grounds as speaker. For both of these serious deficiencies we owe particular thanks to the impotent to accomplish anything positive for themselves, these worthies devoted their destructive talents to creating and perpetuating every conceivable obstacle in the way of working class unity. sponsibility, maddened by its vicious theory of inverted "socialactionary force in the present situ-

> May Day 1936 put to the test every political tendency of labor. Communist Party because the Square. Nevertheless it must be places outside of New York, in duct on May Day.

For the Communist Opposition was adopted by a large majority and there played a prominent part amidst sneers and attacks on all sides, is now already in sight!

In this lies the great historical significance of May Day 1936, the symbol and the harbinger of the united front of labor against the forces of capitalist reaction. May Day 1936 foreshadows May Day 1937 when-let us all pledge ourselves anew towards this end!unity on May Day will be entirely complete and all-inclusive. And since May Day is a true reflection of the political and organizational state of the working class, such unity on May Day will surely be the glorious herald of that broader and more fundamental unity which alone can drive the American capitalist class from its proud seat of power and profit!

AT FIRST GLANCE

By Jay Lovestone

A MOST disquieting feature of European affairs today is the trend of British foreign policy. Some characterize it as replete with tremists.

THE United Automobile Workers Convention has just closed with the election of an administration and the passage of resolution tremists. "headlessness and lack of direction." We do not think this is an accurate evaluation.

Recent months have witnessed a definite swing of the British pendulum in foreign policy towards Germany, more exactly towards Hitler. Most ominous in this swing is the momentum lent to it by the liberals. Illustrating this mood is the following estimate made by The Economist of London: "But ing the Croix de Feu and similar there is a stronger and grimmer oversigntions in a legs experiment." power on the warpath than either organizations in a less experiment-Italy or Japan. Germany has scarcely yet begun the course of France, unlike in Germany, it is scarcely yet begun the course of not only the Socialist Party, but violence to which she is being in-vited by the present French sabovited by the present French sabotaging of the Covenant and the relies on the bourgeois state, cappresent British acquiescence in it.' (April 25, 1936.—Our emphasis)

This is nothing else but a whitewashing of the Hitler assaults on peace. It is nothing else than direct support of Nazi imperialist aggression. Nor is there anything headless about British imperialist policy. Lombard Street and "The City" know what they want and are working overtime and planfully to achieve what they are after. It is not British imperialist aims which are confused; it is the whole international situation that is muddled. At the moment British imperialism can maintain its veto role over affairs on the continent by aiding and abetting Nazi ventures and paralyzing French imperialism to a certain extent. This foreign policy is getting the blesits consequences are direct in so far as world peace is concerned.

A T THIS juncture of class relations in France it is ap propriate to note some important differences between the Bruening-Papen or pre-Hitler days in Ger many and the present stage of political developments in France.

On the positive side, on the plus side, for the working class, are the following factors: (1) the increasingly close cooperation becreasingly close cooperation bement recently consummated; (3) the substantial abhorrence of Fascism in the rural areas and among certain sections of the lower middle classes in the cities lowance in Florida was only $5 to of German and Italian Fascism he was contradicted. "Oh, no," traditions of the French people who receive $16.10 a week." have a real and great revolution to their credit-the revolution of

None of these factors was at work in Germany to stem the tide gave the American Association of of Fascism. The absence of these Social Workers last February. He forces served to facilitate and in- quoted a report from Pensacola: sure the victory of the Nazi head- | "We have not been able to main-playing into the hands of the to about 60 per cent. Since feder-French Fascisti. These are: (1) al relief was withdrawn on Decem-French Fascism has in its present ber 1, there has been available only stage a far greater influence in federal surplus commodities." and hold on the military forces Marcantonio's measure would than did the Nazi movement in the raise six billion dollars for imme- power of the State to fix the sal-Feu by Marshal Petain; (2) the lion and a half. In addition, the armed gangs of the Croix de Feu bill would provide a union scale of George F. Means are today far better trained, dis- wages on all work projects, thus the State Federation of Labor, adciplined and equipped than were insuring a minimum standard of vanced the representative argugeoisie before the Nazi dictator- ers of the national government. ship was established. When we say this we neither minimize nor overhaving seen the services rendered tribution by both employees and and it follows that the city prop- Altho the measure will probably fighting worker. by Fascism in Germany, the big employers, went into effect. A erly should control them." bourgeoisie in France are ap- three-man commission will adminproaching the problem of support- ister it.

al and more certain mood; (4) in italist democracy, as the instrument by means of which Fascism is to be defeated.

Of all the factors—positive and negative-the last one mentioned is the most serious and decisive. Should the Socialists and Communists break with this costly illusion, then Fascism will be crushed in France by the mass power of the united proletariat in revolutionary struggle. This is especially so in view of the important against capitalist reaction. Herein is the key to the future of France. Here is a force far more potent lowing significant and unfortunate- bourgeoisie. It is around the Left Spain: "One can appreciate the tionary forces, all pro-capitalist feelings of alarm in many middle forces, are now rallying.

committee, that the average al-tistics which state administrators on.

mentary horse trades.

on the bill.

class homes. But so far there has been no tampering with the bourgeois framework of the State under the 1931 Constitution. And Senor Azana is no more the type of man to fulfil the role of Kerensky than

"This manifesto (Largo Caballero's), which is supposed to have tion from the capitalist to the Socialist state. The Communist Party leaders, on the other hand, are more studiously moderate. Apparently, on the instructions of the (April 25, 1936).

It is to be extremely regretted that the above estimate is corof Spain, confirms this when he says: "We must struggle against every manifestation of exaggerated impatience and against all objectives to break the People's Front prematurely. The People's Front must continue. We still have positive forces at work in France a long stretch of the road to traverse jointly with the Left Re-682, April 16, 1936).

than all election results and parliamunist Party! To check the "impatience" of the masses in accord-

WITH THE LAWMAKERS

By LEE MASON

ed to continue co-operation with blush with shame. President Homthe Azana democratic regime." er Martin forgot to discharge his rect. For instance, Comrade Diaz, ther Martin this lapse but must secretary of the Communist Party insist on stern measures against publicans." (Rundschau No. 17, P. by appointment from the President Great task indeed for a Com- | bor, I have endeavored to the very ROM THE columns of the Lon-don Economist we cull the fol-acceptable to and laid down by the

ly true evaluation of events in Republican Azana that all reac- gotten that I stood before the convention and pledged to him (Green) that I would remain loyal and true to him . . . "

All of which explains Dillon's difficulties with the auto workers. Courageous he may have been but his loyalties were certainly mis- bear a few additional remarks. directed. At least the auto workers acted as if they thought that tween the Socialist and Communist pressure of the niggardly Roosevelt program, David Lasser, president Dilparties in France, a significant dent of the Workers Alliance of America, called for the passage lon", he said, "my thanks and apunited front against fascism; (2) of the Marcantonio Relief Work Standards Act in an appearance precistion for the service he has the unity of the trade union move- before the House Labor Subcommittee which is holding hearings rendered you during the years. When Lasser tried to tell Edward W. Curley, chairman of the dabout the only kind words di-The bosses will be assessed nine- rected at Dillon during the course lower middle classes in the cities | lowance in Florida was only $5 to because of the disastrous results | $10 a month per family of five, payrolls, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1.8 | workers did not make any direct per cent in 1937, and 2.7 per cent assaults upon him they grabbed the todate; (4) the strong democratic Curley declared, "Those on relief in 1938 and annually thereafter. first opportunity to express what Workers will be taxed 1 per cent they thought of him by unanimous-

Benefits are payable beginning

existed that little group of pro-The Baldwin bill repealing the corresponding stage. We need but diate relief of the unemployed. aries of certain municipal employcite the sinister significance of the open indorsement of the Croix de rener of the Croix de Roosevelt's plans for a mere bil-by Marshal Potain. (2) the live and a live of the rener of the Croix de Roosevelt's plans for a mere bil-by Marshal Potain. (2) the live and a live of the certain municipal employ-es was raked fore and aft by labor at a New York State Senate bor at a New York State Senate have marshall potain. (3) the live and a live of the certain municipal employ-es was raked fore and aft by labor at a New York State Senate bor at a New York State Senate have marshall potain. George F. Meany, president of ment when he declared: "The bill Hitler's Storm Troopers before his assumption of power; (3) the Bank of France and the "Two Hundred measure, which is intended only ment when he declared: "The bill friend of labor and the petty-bour- is not a home rule measure, but a geois, signed the Brownell bill this tion."

ment when he declared: "The bill friend of labor and the petty-bour- is not a home rule measure, but a geois, signed the Brownell bill this tion."

The was un-Families" are more actively and as a stop-gap, is its placing the re- intentionally borne out by Harold year, or until July 1, 1937, the pow- would have required that the conextensively supporting French sponsibility for the care of the un- Riegleman, counsel for the Citi- er of New York City to impose the vention concert itself into a grand Fascism than did the German bour- employed squarely upon the should- zens Budget Commission, who sales tax. spilled the beans thus: "The Baldwin bill would restore to the city When Governor Green signed the absolute control over jobs, salaries cipation in the Nazi Olympiad have chasing which would have begun look the fabulous financing of Hit- bill passed by the legislature last and other expenses in the 1936 ler by the Krupps and the Thys- week, Rhode Island's unemploy- budget in the sum of $51,000,000. ing $10,000 for travel expenses would have been for the company sens; we merely emphasize that, ment insurance plan, with its con- These costs are paid by the city, into the Massachusetts legislature. rats to frame every militant and

TRADE UNION NOTES

By George F. Miles

lutions which place this international union in the category of a progressive organization. We herewith extend our greetings to Brother two-thirds of the party behind it, Homer Martin who joins the small but growing group of internaendorses the doctrine of the 'dic- tional officers who have an understanding of the needs of the broad tatorship of the proletariat' as a masses of working people in as far as organization is concerned, and necessary stage during the transi- what is more—have the courage to stand up and fight in order that these needs may be met.

> The convention showed a number of irregularities at which a skilled convention-politician would credential committee after it had completed its report, thereby leaving that body hanging twixt heaven and earth. We'll forgive Broformer President Dillon for forgetting to acknowledge the gift of a gavel from some unions in South

> In his address to the convention former President Dillon declared: "As your President who has served of the American Federation of Labest of my ability to discharge my obligation loyally, and courageous-

And again: "I have never for

But virtue is not without its reward in this world. William Green Time will be a great vindicator for Marcantonio set the record of their wages for the year 1937, ly electing Homer Martin to the aright when he produced the stal and 2 per cent a year from then presidency.

"The American Federation of in 1938. If a worker is unfortunate Labor has watched over the growth from membership all known Comenough to be employed for more and development and even the inthan 20 weeks during the year, he stallation of your splendid organiwill have to shift for himself (be zation", said William Green. The to the very trap which it had stu-But a number of negative factors tain any more than a 50 per cent a rugged individualist the remaindelegates must have smiled bitterdiously avoided the day before. But a number of negative factors budget and during October and must also be registered here as November the deficit had increased less of the amount of money the declined from 132 to 70 under the chagringed the day before at their worker contributes, he is entitled "kindly" fist of Green's man Dil- failure must indeed have been hap to only twenty weeks insurance. | lon. The membership would have declined still more had there not

> The Emergency Relief Bureau will placed provided "that no known compile the list.

Governor Lehman, the "great" tional Union or in any Local Union friend of labor and the petty-bour- nor be a delegate to any conven-take a licking, it is significant that these "lovers of fair play" have itself from this self-imposed mess Aliens on relief will be given resorted to this desperate action. by referring the whole matter.

gressive fighters who kept together auto workers, disgusted and demoralized with the policies and tactics of Green and his man Dil-

The decision of the convention in endorsing the reelection of President Roosevelt will stand a bit of explaining. It appears that the convention first defeated the proposal and then upon reconsideration passed it "unanimously". It is not quite clear how a conven tion can first reject a proposal and then, a few minutes later, carry the same proposal "unanimously". To an outside observer it appears as if considerable pressuremuch too much-had been brought to bear between the two votes.

This was setting a very bad example and is illustrative of certain methods which progressives resent and have fought against in other

It is also a little difficult to understand how a convention that had acted in so restrained and busness like a manner on that palpable forgery—the letter allegedly signed by the Communist Partycould be thrown into an anti-red hysteria by a resolution. This will

Obviously intending to start a red-bating drive, company stool pigeons concocted and mailed out letter to all delegates urging them to vote for Homer Martin for President and Wyndham Mortimer for Vice-President, both, the etter stated, members of the Comnunist Party. The convention acted in the most praiseworthy manner. Entering this fabrication into the records, the chair also read into the record a telegram from Earl Browder, secretary of the Communist Party, branding the document as a forgery. With this the whole

The next day the convention breaks out in a rash of red-baiting speeches when a delegate submits resolution asking the U.A.W. of A. to "go on record as against communism" and to notify all local unions "to immediately expel

The convention thereby fell in

This resolution, which goes far beyond anything decided at the Atlantic City convention of the A. F. and proven Communist be permitted to hold office in the Interna-

The passage of either proposal jury to hear evidence against anyone proposed for office, not to Proponents of American parti- mention the merry game of redmanaged to smuggle a bill seek- in the locals. What a field this

The convention finally extricated

Czech Communists Turn To the Ultra-Right Again

ONCE again the line has changed in Czechoslovakia. The very things that the "Little Father" (Gottwald) condemned so mercilessly as utterly impermissible opportunism, he now voices as the wisdom of the Mount and goes on to greater achievements in the field of social patriotism.

Age of March 14, 1936 in which we reported the first turn of line. of how well we estimated the changes. For the benefit of those who may not have their back copies available we reprint just one or two paragraphs:

and its sections continues."

of "revolutionary guard" over the national independence and the Ger-dictatorship. delegates required each delegate man, Polish and Hungarian peoples to write a detailed political auto- would experience an intensifica- Dr. Dolansky, said the following

We urge our readers to look up their copies of the Workers We ask our readers to reread the editorial in order to be convinced

"But the turn is only superficial at best; only the most outrageous expressions of the opportunist course are pruned away; the opportunist course itself remains intact and is even explicitly confirmed. Since the root of the evil is untouched, the result is that the same and even worse excesses are inevitable in the future. The opportunist atrocities which Gottwald and other Comintern spokesmen castigate so virtuously today all flow directly from the general line of the seventh congress and they are therefore certain to keep on reappearing in some form or other as long as this general tion of social and political oppres- about the position of the C.P. on conclusion: line is retained—only the next time Gottwald himself will be implicated in the crime and be made to suffer the consequences!"

"This entire experience in Czechoslovakia . . . illustrates graph- Czechoslovakia, the Communist ically and painfully the price that the world communist movement Party stands for the defense of is paying today because of its lack of international collective leader- Czechoslovakia against Hitler, for ship and democratic centralism. Had there been party democracy, the defense of Czechoslovakia the ultra-left line would not only have been dropped because it against fascism. Why did we not collapsed, but its errors would have been discussed and understood speak of the defense of the reand the membership would have been discussed and understood and the membership would have been the most effective guarantee against any revival of leftism. Furthermore, had there been party democracy in the Comintern and its various sections, the crude ultra-right line could never have been adopted . . . The present sterility and paralysis of critical approach, initiative and responsibility in the Comintern but that the defense of the repubwill prevail so long as the present international regime in the C.I. lic against fascism can be interpre-

The Communist Party of Czecho- biography. The system of pup- slovakia held its Seventh Party pets was in full bloom. Gottwald, pretation. Convention over the Easter holi- the political secretary of the C.P. days. Once against the C.P. took of Czechoslovakia, became the ob- terpret our position this way." a sharp swing to the right and so- ject of a most disgusting hero cult. cial patriotism triumphed. There He was proclaimed the symbol and C.P. is already being carried out was no critical discussion of the ideal of the Czechoslovakian com- in parliament. The Prague parliaultra-left course, despite the fact munists and graced with saluta- ment is at present discussing that this was the first Party con- tion: "Little Father of the Party." draft for a "National Defence Act" vention in the past 5 years. Nor There was no report on the or- to become law in case of a serious was there any critical discussion ganizational strength of the Party. foreign or domestic crisis. It is a of the life-and-death questions that To judge from the number of dele- safety measure of the Czechosloconfront the party at present. The gates, the Party has about 45,000 vakian imperialists against the unconvention was a carefully planned members. mass meeting arranged by the burocracy—to take orders from handed the new line before the con- port: vention so as to avoid any criti-

The Central Committee in its role ian people would then lose their a constitutional basis for a military

FOR MILITANT UNITY!

Jay Lovestone speaks to 50,000 trade unionists the right is David Dubinsky. President of the Inat the Polo Grounds demonstration on May 1st. To ternational Ladies Garment Workers Union.

"On the question of the menace of Hitler fascism facing al committee of parliament, as re- assuming a differentiation within

EDITOR | ted to mean class peace, reformism, social patriotism. But this is not necessarily the correct inter-

And we Communists do not in

This social patriotic line of the concealed military and imperialist The convention came out for the aims of Hitler Germany. This law unconditional defense of the fa- deprives the citizens of Czecho The delegates had been therland. Said Gottwald in his re- slovakia, particularly the working class, of all democratic rights and "Were Hitler to succeed in rea- puts full power in the hands of the lizing his plans, the Czechoslovak- military. Thus this law becomes

sion under the knout of Fascism. | the question of the defense of the | "Assuming the development of a signified a refusal to endorse the defense of the republic. The Seventh Convention of the Communist Party has proven, he continued, that the C.P. is categorically for the defense of the republic against Hitler. The C.P. is ready to defend Czechoslavkia against any attack by German, Polish or Hungarian fascism. It is ready to protect the freedom of the peoples of Czechoslavkia with all means, including armaments." Sverma, member of the Central Committee of the C.P. of Czechoslovakia, spoke in the same session. The Prague Tageblatt re-

April 16, 1936:

"The Communist, Sverma, de

therland.

People's Front AT ALL COST."

"There will be difference within civil list. mentary fraction. Such differences that the Labor Party recognized will arise in all other bourgeois the upkeep of the royal house as a parties, and will result in the iso- national charge. lation of the reactionaries."

Gottwald draws the following M.P., voted against the civil list.

republic, before the constitution- United Front and a People's Front, ported by the Prague Tageblatt of the state apparatus, our attitude to the government would be changed.... The main issue would be the question of a People's Front government and not that of a fas cist dictatorship.'

The Party convention showed quite clearly that the policy of Sverma and Slansky, severely denounced four months ago by Gottwold and the ECCI, has been readopted in a more emphatic manner. Sverma and Slansky, who were reelected into the Central Committee amidst great applause, have won all along the line and Gottwald was their spokesman at the Party convention.

The Party also made a significant turn on the youth question. It was decided to give up the independent organization of the Communist Youth League. The Party appealed to the Socialist youth, the youth in the sports organizations, both the proletarian and the bourgeois, (Sokol and Jugend der deutschen Turner), the youth of the Industrial Party, the Christian youth, etc. to unite and form a united "non-partisan youth organization" on a program of its own, not influenced by the C.P.

In conclusion we can safely say position of the Communist Party that the Seventh Party Convention of the C.P. of Czechoslovakia has intensified the opportunist course of the Communist parties in a catastrophic manner.

I had the opportunity of speaking to a delegate who shares the more faith in democracy than any criticism of the political line of the Central Committee. Every-Gottwald has tried to extenuate thing was under strict control of in the party which will sharply op-

The People's King!

LONDON-"We have in our present King a man who has had urge the working class, and our party to achieve the united and People's Front AT ALL COST" People's Front AT ALL COST."

The Party must aim at a differentiation in the camp of the bourgeoisie so as to win allies for the People's Front. Literally, he said:

The Party must aim at a differentiation in the camp of the bourgeoisie so as to win allies for the People's Front. Literally, he said:

Only the I.L.P. and Gallacher.

BOOKS of the LOSING THEIR CHAINS AGE

GUINEA PIGS NO MORE. By J. B. Matthews. New York, Covici, Friede. $2.00. 311 pages.

Reviewed by Ellen Ward To those who have followed the career of J. B. Matthews in recent years, this book will be a keen dis-

First, because the case of the consumer against business in general has been done a great many times, and all the previous efforts rate considerably higher than the present one.

Secondly, Mr. Matthews drags into this field a series of polemics against the sectarianism of official communism which has nothing to do with the case under discussion. He is venting his spleen over a between himself and the Communist Party in which the average reader hasn't the slightest interest.

Thirdly, much more than an analysis of the problems of the consumer, the book is an expose of ing the world along Marxist lines. sight of the tremendous weight of balances, has been completely opportunism, as follows: swept aside. Now we read such confused mutterings as these:

"A worker's state is an inadequate goal for human endeavor: the Russian revolution was an historical accident: the problem of the consumer is posite problems of the workers: "while men are engaged in organizing their efforts for progress there is no value in stopping with the wholly inadequate objective of changing the means of production.'

The whole book is punctuated with similarly pathetic expressions.

RED NECK, by McAlister Coleman and Stephen Raushenbush Published by Harrison Smith & Robert Haas, New York City.

Reviewed by Dave Scheyer There are a lot of adjectives to apply to "Red Neck". Honest. Sincere. Authoritative. Native. Classscientiously on this book producing an interesting story but a pretty poor novel. There are no tricks, no sleight of-hand in "Red Neck"; all the Dave Houston, husky, militant, not tions of his people. too intelligent, wins the presidency and Raushenbush is the almost in-

by James Sand The Parliamentary Socialists - Victor L. Berger and Meyer London

ious trades and then took to teaching in the public schools. But in retardation in the labor and socialist movement were he alive today. appointment for several reasons: 1892 he turned his hand to socialist journalism. He had learned the rudiments of socialism in Europe and he was to become one of the leading founders and spokesmen of the American socialist movement. He established the Vorwarts, a German daily which continued its existence until 1898, when he came out with an English paper, the Social Democratic Herald, which had a life span from 1901 to 1911 when Berger set up the Milwaukee Leader which he owned and ran until his death in 1929.

Milwaukee with its German-immigrant population intensified Berger's political development which had begun amidst European social-But like Debs in 1896 he fell for Populism and the leatherlunged Bryan and was a delegate to the People's Party Convention in St. Louis in 1896. It was he who is said to have converted 'Gene Debs whole series of personal quarrels to socialism while Debs was serving his sentence in Woodstock jail, and it was he who had more personal influence with Debs than any other of the old guard and right-wingers. After the formation of the Socialist Party at the beginning of the century Berger began running for office in Milwaukee, for mayor, for congressman, for alderman. While sitting as alderman he was elected to Congress on the Socialist ticket,-the first Socialist to be elected to that body. He took his seat a very little man. Again and again, in 1911 amidst great rejoicing from the comrades, but watched with spoken of the great need of chang- series of pieces on Berger's parliamentary tactics in the People which were later published in pamphlet form under the title Berger's Hits But now he seems to have lost all and Misses. According to DeLeon's figures the misses won by a mile

Berger failed of immediate re-election to Congress, but in 1918 the inertia created by the profit he finally won the seat back again. But the war had come and motive in society which resists, the Red scare had begun and he was denied his seat. He was re-electwith such fury, any change cal- ed in 1920 and again he was denied his seat. Finally in 1922 he was culated to decrease the rate of permitted to take his seat and he sat there until 1929 when he was profit. He has forgotten altogether again defeated. His war stand was much the same as London's, sothe words he has been repeating cial pacifism, but of the most degenerate kind. He was tried for vioover half a decade that man can in lation of the Espionage Act but his conviction for twenty years imno sense be free until the whole prisonment was reversed by the United States Supreme Court. But system of private property with his war stand was never much more violent than LaFollette's. In all of its anachronistic checks and June 1918 he brought it to its highest development with the rankest

> Personally, I was against the war before the war was declared, as was every true Socialist. The Socialist Party did all only for democracy . . . Let us hope we will win the war quickly.

How "we"can win a war for proletarian democracy when it is being more important than the com- fought for imperialist booty nobody has ever found out.

In Congress Berger usually sounded like Pollyanna turned Socialist. On February 16th 1924 in Congress, he told of his boundless love for everybody, without discrimination.

Whatever remarks I make tonight (said Berger), I hope will be understood that I make them "with good will to all and ill will to none", to use an expression of Abraham Lincoln. Love everybody, even the Morgans, and quote Lincoln not Marx. This is the ripe fruit of Sunday school socialism being preached in the L'envoi he sang in 1929 just before his last departure from the House.

He said good-bye to his "comrades" thus: Undoubtedly we have too many lawyers in this House, more are ready talkers and good fellows, even if most of them are as innocent political economy as they are of the Sanskrit language. But I like all of them personally, from the illustrious and genial Speaker down to the youngest fledgling, and I wish them all well.

But Berger's every act in Congress makes it clear that no bourgeois conscious. Mac Coleman and Raus- Congressman was any more ignorant of political economy than Berhenbush have worked hard and con- ger was of proletarian strategy and tactics in parliament.

A few words about his theory. On revolutionary overthrow we have this in 1906 and worse later.

No true Social Democrat ever dreams of a sudden change in society. Such fantastic dreamers nowhere find more determined opponents than in the ranks of the true Social-Democrats.

mechanics of the book are on the And in July 1907 we have Berger's discovery of Socialism's need. surface plain to see. What you see | "Our greatest need," he wrote, "is hope." Add faith and charity and is a distinct lack of motive for you have the reason why Sinclair Lewis called Victor Louis most of the events that make up the "St. Paul of American Socialism." On September 25th 1909 w the tale and an extremely shallow have more penetrating insight from Berger in the form of a question: set of characterizations. This "Do We Want Progress by Catastrophe and Bloodshed or by Commakes an easily read book, a prole- mon Sense?" On trade-unionism he had no important ideas. As a tarian novel as it might be written philosopher he was ludicrous. As a Congressman he was impotent by Harold Bell Wright, which may He was much more pretentious than London, and one has a right to be what the authors intended. But expect more from him; but no more came. In fact, less came because it isn't-very distinctly not-Art. | he was not capable, as London was, of arousing the affection and emo-

Berger was one of the internationalists among the founders of the of a UMWA local, shoots a Ku American Socialist Party, but his internationalism was nothing more Klux Klan revivalist minister, than obsequious pursuit of Kautsky. He must have met Lenin at the escapes punishment because his Copenhagen Congress of the Second International in 1910, but he cerpals have intimated the jury, be- tainly learned nothing from him. The theoretical heritage he left, the comes a union organizer and ends strategy and tactics he followed, are in no small part the cause of the up drinking gin in a frowsy hotel confusion and opportunism which is today manifested towards the Rusroom-this according to Coleman sian Revolution in the Socialist Party. From this confusion and opevitable end of UMWA organizers. the novel are all there but the col- to the detriment of the American The pictures of the mining town, lective talent of the two authors work. Coleman and Raushenbush at work and on strike, the descrip- hasn't sufficed to clothe them with had far more exciting material but tions of union meeting and union the flesh of life. Inevitably "Red Cronin had at least a tinge of the politics, the fights and sluggings Neck" will be contrasted with that genius that makes a novelist someare all carefully drawn but super-ficial, unconvincing. The bones of Cronin's "The Stars Look Down," thing more than a pedestrian chronicler.

portunism in theory, strategy, and tactics, it is but a small step to Victor Louis Berger came to the United States with his family that Red-baiting which has eaten at the heart of proletarian unity all in 1878, when he was eighteen years old. He was born in 1860 in over the world, at the same time that it has paved the way for terrific Nieder Rebbuch, Austria Hungary, and was educated in a "gymnas- defeats. He would certainly not today recognize the Spanish Socialium" and at the universities in Budapest and Vienna. Arrived here, the family settled in Milwaukee, where the young man worked at var-

But both Berger and London raise the great problem of parliamentary strategy and tactics by working class parties, and their errors can serve to illumine what the attitude of revolutionary socialists toward participation in bourgeois parliaments must be. On the question of parliamentary participation, there are four approaches in the labor and socialist movement. The first, the anarchist approach, is opposed to participation in parliament by the representatives of the workers,-it is completely opposed to any political action. We have dealt with this point in some detail in the study of anarchists.* On this point Lenin's analysis of the anarchist view is, as everywhere, trenchant. "We are not Utopians," said Lenin, "we do not indulge in dreams of how best to do away immediately with all administration, with all subordination; these Anarchist dreams, based upon a lack of understanding of proletarian dictatorship, are basically foreign to Marxism, and, as a matter of fact, they serve but to put off the Socialist revolution until human nature is different." The second view is the reformist view which Berger and London held. According to this view, bourgeois democracy and parliamentary government in particular can bring in socialist society. Not only can it bring it in, it can also be the form within which Socialism can be brought to completion. Parliaments in this view are not instruments of the ruling class. in recent years, Matthews has hawk-like eyes by DeLeon, who during Berger's first session wrote a of the bourgeoisie, but they are instruments of democracy in general. Marx called parliaments "talking shops", but to reformists they are working class realities. "The way out of parliamentarism," said Lenin in the State and Revolution," is to be found, of course, not in the abolition of representative institutions and the elective principle, but in the conversion of the representative institutions from mere 'talking shops' into working bodies. . . . The venal and rotten parliamentarism of bourgeois society is replaced in the Commune [read 'Soviet'] by institutions in which freedom of opinion and discussion does not degenerate into deception, for the parliamentarians must themselves work. must themselves execute their own laws, must themselves verify their results in actual life, must themselves be directly responsible to their electorate. Representative institutions remain, but parliamentarism as a special system, as a division of labor between the legislative and the executive functions, as a privileged position for the deputies, no longer exists. Without representative institutions we cannot imagine democracy, not even proletarian democracy; but we can and must think of democracy without parliamentarism, if criticism of bourgeois society it could to keep this country out of the war. But now, since we is not mere empty words for us, if the desire to overthrow the rule of are in the war. I want to win this war-for democracy. And the bourgeoisie is our serious and sincere desire, and not a mere 'election cry' for catching workingmen's votes."

This, however, is the stand of parliamentarism which the proletariat takes after it has gained power and has become the ruling class. What stand do revolutionary socialists take on parliamentarism while they are struggling for power? After the Russian Revolution had put the Russian workers into power a wholesale epidemic of what Lenin called the infantile disorder of "left-wing" Communism broke out throughout the rest of the world among revolutionary socialists and in respect of this question of parliamentarism led the various other revolutionary parties to proclaim non-participation in parliaments as the proper strategy and tactics for revolutionary parties still struggling for power. Lenin took up this question in his great pamphlet "Leftbeerstubes of Milwaukee.—But even that is militant compared to the Wing" Communism: An Infantile Disorder. Against this ultra-left tactic of refraining from parliamentary activity while fighting to gain working-class power, he set his pen, and the view he propounded is today part and parcel of the great system of proletarian strategy and than we can use for any good purpose. However, all of them tactics known as Leninism. Studying the case of the German "Left" Communists at that time, 1920, Lenin writes as follows:

> It is clear that parliamentarism in Germany is not yet (1920) politically obsolete. It is evident that the "Lefts" in Germany have mistaken their desire, their ideological-political attitude, for objective reality. This is the most dangerous mistake revolutionaries can make. . . . For the Communists in Germany parliamentarism is, of course, "politically obsolete": but—and this is the whole point—we must not regard that which is obsolete for us as obsolete for the class, as obsolete for the masses. It is precisely here that we see that the "Lefts" do not know how to reason, do not know how to conduct themselves as a party of the class, as a party of the masses. You must not sink to the level of the masses, to the level of the backward strata of the class. This is incontestable. You must tell them the bitter truth. You must call their bourgeois-democratic and parliamentary prejudicesprejudices. But, at the same time, you must soberly observe the actual state of class consciousness and preparedness of the whole class (not only of the Communist vanguard), of all the toiling masses (not only of its advanced elements). . . . It has been proved that participation in a bourgeois-democratic parliament even a few weeks before the victory of the Soviet Republic, and even after that victory, not only does not harm the revolutionary prolekarian but actually makes it easier for it to prove to the backward masses why such parliaments deserve to be dissolved, facilitates their dissolution, and facilitates the process whereby bourgeois parliamentarism becomes "politically obsolete." . . . Tactics must be based on a sober and strictly objective estimation of all the class forces in a given State (in neighboring states and in all states, i.e., on a world scale), as well as on an evaluation difficult, a very difficult, problem. How far a cry are Leninist tactics from London's eulogy of the 'sincerity" of bourgeois Congressmen and from Berger's well-wishes to the Congress he was leaving. Leninism is proletarian while London of the experience of revolutionary movements. To express one's

"revolutionism" solely by hurling abuse at parliamentary opportunism, solely by refusing to participate in parliaments, is very easy; but just because it is too easy, it is not the solution of a

* Workers Age, Volume V, Numbers 3 and 4, January 18th and 25th, 1936.

THE STORY OF TOM MOONEY

(Continued from Page 3)

victed by a shady jury and by perjured testimony, receiving the death sentence, fearless, defiant, scornful, a smile of confident contempt on his lips.

Tom had never looked so splendid as on the day when he stood up in the dock and heard his life read away by twelve men who, since the Oxman perjury plot was exposed, have been sneaking through the streets of San Francisco like thieves. One long, burning look of scorn Tom leveled at them, and then he gave his strong arms to the miner's widow brave old Mother Mooney.

She wept, but she didn't grow hysterical. That old lady hasn't been off her feet a single day during all his trouble; while younger women have spent many a day sick in bed. Every day, since the first week Tom and Rena and the rest were locked up at the County Jail, the old lady has visited them, rain or shine.

I asked her one day how in the world she managed to keep so well. "Sure I don't know," said she with her south of Ireland brogue. "I got to stand up under it. I've seen lots of trouble before this. Tom's father was a man who was a good deal like Tom is now, always in labor troubles. I lost him early on account of a bullet they put into him during a mine strike."

Bryan Mooney was the name of Tom's father. He was a coal miner. During his life , which was The sentence was commuted to life imprisonment after nois and Pennsylvania. He died in the coal regions ment thruout the world.

of Indiana when Tom and John and Anna were little toddlers. Bryan Mooney worked most of his this social patriotic line by em- the burocracy. The theoretical levtime in and about David County, Indiana. It was phasizing that the most important el and critical consciousness of the there during a mine strike that he was shot by a factor has been preserved, that is, delegates was on an unspeakably strike breaker. That bullet was what shortened his life, thinks old Mrs. Mooney, though Bryan did not ent class policy. An independent dent, however, that the new line life, thinks old Mrs. Mooney, though Bryan did not pass out till quite a bit later.

Little did those miners think, as they guided Tom Mooney from his father's last resting place, that he was to develop into a man after Bryan Mooney's

The fact that Tom was a coal miner's son was held up by a San Francisco newspaper as proof of his criminality. The San Francisco Call, August 4, 1916, referred to Mooney as-"A creature from whom the coal black has never been cleaned." Which means that Tom Mooney's father got coal dust in his blood during his life in the black regions, and his coal black was transmitted into Tom's veins.

Tom made answer to the Evening Call through the bars of the County Jail.

"If there is coal dust in my veins," he said, "I am not ashamed of it. I was born in a coal miner's shanty, that is true enough. But I am not nanging my head. It is my boast that I came out of the the leadership of the Agrarian fortunately traditional statement. shanty, that is true enough. But I am not hanging not long, he worked in three states-Indiana, Illi- demonstrations by Russian workers roused the labor move-

"The Communist, Dr. Dolansky, read the resolution on the defense of the republic passed by the Communist Party convention the prev-ports as follows:

clared that the C.P. is unequivocally in favor of the defense of the republic . . . In this respect the Hitler at all cost. The draft for the 'National Defense Act', he continued, is not preparing for national defense along the correct lines in the opinion of the C.P. There is too little trust in democracy in the draft; even the C.P. has that it had been impossible to voice ent class policy. An independent class policy, however, is incom- will soon be eradicated thru the acpatible with the defense of the fa- tivity of the few healthy forces

The party convention also pose it. veered to the right on the issue of the united front. Gottwald expressed the united front policy of the Party in the following manner:

"In order to avert the dangers confronting the working class, we

MAY DAY REPORTS SHOW GROWTH OF LABOR UNITY

May Day In Baltimore

Baltimore, Md.-May Day ir Baltimore found the first united front between the official Communist Party and the Communist Party (Opposition). A united front May Day rally was held at the City Hall Plaza at 3:30. Dorothy Dare representing the C.P.O., Mary Himoff, representing the C.P. and speakers from other labor organizations addressed the gathering.

Previous to this meeting the S.P. held a smaller rally at the City Hall Plaza. The united front May Day committee did all that it could to achieve a completely united May Day, but the Old Guard group controlling the Baltimore Socialist Party flatly rejected the appeal for unity. The division among the more advanced sections of the Baltimore working-class contributed greatly to the generally poor response of the workers to the May Day meetings. For the division that existed the Old Guard group was proudly responsible.

The United Front May Day

Committee held an indoor celebration at night, attended by approximately 1000 workers. Herbert Benjamin was the main speaker. Earl Dixon, section organizer of the C.P. and James MacArthur representing the C.P.O. spoke. Greetings were delivered by Branch 900 of the Workmen's Circle.

Comrade MacArthur pointed out that the C.P.O. was born in the struggle for unity-for the unity of the workers of each industry in one trade union, affiliated with one trade union center, for the unity of the workers in one labor fraternal order, for the unity of all communists in one united political party based on democratic centralism, and for the unity of all workers in the class struggle, to abolish the life-destroying system of capitalism. He called for the release of Tom Mooney, for the de-fense of the Soviet Union, for a united labor front against war and fascism, and for the freedom of Comrade Thaelman in Germany and Roy in India.

In Chicago

Nearly a whole day of rain prevented the Chicago United May Day Demonstration from setting a new record for display of working class strength in Chicago. In spite of the downpour nearly ten thousand trade unionists, Socialists, and Communists marched from Grant Park, through the Loop, to Union Park, the scene of the Haymarket Demonstration which fifty years ago laid the basis for International Labor Day. One of the most encouraging things about the demonstration was the large proportion of it which marched under the union banners of the trade union section. For the first time since the war, Socialists, Communists, and non-party workers marched tohour week, for unemployment inlitical action, and against war and fascism.

In the evening the Socialist and Communist Parties held a joint mass meeting at Ashland Auditorium. The principal speakers were Norman Thomas for the Socialist Party and Clarence Hathaway for the Communist Party. Norman Thomas spoke very briefly and left to speak at a May Day meeting at Kenosha, Wisconsin. Clarence Hathaway spoke on the significance of May Day in 1936 and of the movement toward unity of the American working class. He expressed the view of the Communist Party that a national Labor Party in 1936 would be premature and urged the Socialist Party to unite with the Communist Party in supporting a United Labor Ticket in the national election.

The CPO participated in the demonstration as well as the mass meeting. Leaflets proposing a United Labor Ticket with Tom Mooney as the candidate for President were distributed to the assembled workers.

In Detroit

Stressing the necessity of a complete united front on May Day the SP and CP in Detroit organized a conference calling in political groups, fraternal organizations, and such unions as could be induced to participate. A steering committee with representatives from the SP, CP, CPO and Proletarian Party, was elected to take care of arrangements for the mass meeting. It was agreed that the Farmer-Labor Party would not be discussed and that the main slogan would be labor solidarity. In reply to an inquiry by Comrade Shadduck it was stated that every attempt to broaden the conference had been made.

When the question of speakers came up the SP favored allowing all political groups a representative, but the CP was bitterly op-posed to the CPO. They argued that "there would not be time" for so many speakers; that the CPO was only a communist tendency and that the CP speaks for all communist tendencies. The SP bowed its head to these ridiculous arguments and accepted the CP "compromise" proposal that the almost defunct Proletarian Party be given a speaker.

A later attempt by practically all the political organizations outside the CP to secure representation for the CPO on the speakers list failed when the CP made this a breaking point.

Detroit did not have a demonstration because of the objections of the Socialist Party but a mass meeting was held in the evening. We sold 100 Ages, distributed free 200 Ages and 1500 appeals for a united labor ticket with Tom Mooney as the candidate for Pres-

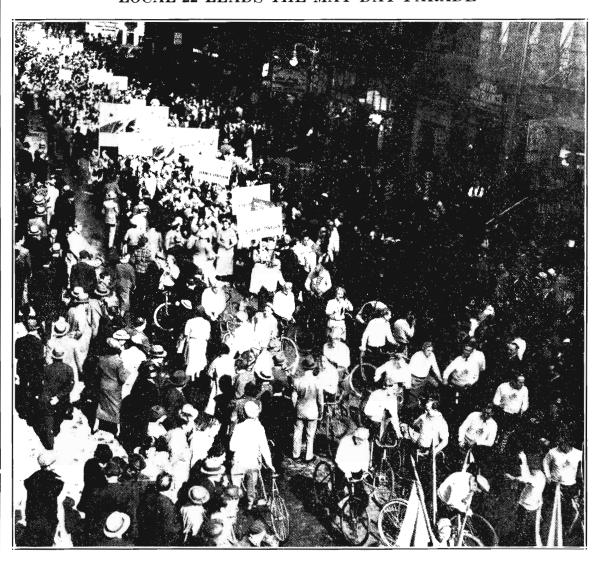

In Anthracite

Some three hundred workers marched into Kirby Park, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., on May 1st, to celebrate the workers' holiday. Despite the fact that 16 collieries were shut down by the miners that day and the sun shone brightly, the attendance fell below that on May 1st a year previous. The only workers' organization that refused to participate in the celebration was the Socialist Party. Speakers included Steve Nelson, district organizer of the Communist Party, Pat Brennan, Wyoming Valley secretary of the Penn. Security League, Harold Spencer of the Philadelphia Buildgether on May Day for the thirty- ing Employees Union and Saul action by the New England Dis-Held of the New Workers School trict of the Communist Party, the surance, for independent labor po- of New York. Though it was a Communist Party (Opposition), a splendid meeting it was an index of the weakness of the workingclass organizations in one of America's vital industrial centers.

The evening of May 1st found about 70 workers at a United Front May Day Meeting at Runita Hall, Luzerne, Pa. Once again the Socialist Party was absent despite an invitation to participate. The Communist Party, Workmen's Sick & Death Benefit Society and various Slovak fraternal societies sponsored the meeting.

While the combined membership of these organizations in Luzerne meeting, but all these attempts totalled over 2000, the meeting attracted only 70. The principal speaker, Saul Held, analyzed the problems of the coal miners both where the celebration took the form chairman of the mass meeting

LOCAL 22 LEADS THE MAY DAY PARADE

The Dressmakers of the I. L.G.W.U. headed the United May Day Parade in New York City. Shown here is the bicycle brigade of 75 workers, dressed in white sweaters and berets, only one of the many colorful divisions that made up the ranks of this fight for industrial unionism everywhere. He stressed the necessity of a progressive group in the United Mine Workers Union to fight for union democracy and the elimination of abuses which have been a source of union weakness. The necessity of educating the many new members of the Union was urgent, he declared, and proposed that the union members fight for the establishment of an educational department in the union. The political situation in 1936 was then dealt with. The proposal that Communist, Socialists and others unite on a United Labor Ticket with Tom Mooney for president struck a responsive chord in the audience.

Pointing out that the United Mine Workers was the largest trade union in the country, the speaker emphasized that unless the backbone of labor is not strengthened internally, and if it did not forge to the forefront with progressive policies on the econom ic and political field, it would fail to inspire and strengthen American trade unionism.

In Boston

BOSTON, Mass .- Thousands of workers in Boston participated in the May Day celebrations on Boston Common this year. The demonstration was the result of united number of branches of the Workmen's Circle, Young Circle League and several other working class organizations.

In the afternoon, six thousand workers massed at the Mall on Boston Common where they were addressed by representaives of participating organizations, notably, Phil Frankfeld, District Or ganizer of the C.P., and Sam Sandberg of the C.P.O.

Both the authorities and the Veterans of Foreign Wars made desperate efforts to break up the were successfully repulsed.

In the evening 500 workers packed the Chelsea Labor Lyceum as to their own union and in the of a symposium. The speakers were there.

DRESSMAKERS' EXECUTIVE BOARD HAILS MAY FIRST ACHIEVEMENTS

greetings and congratulations to ful and impressive! the thousands upon thousands of dressmakers, members of Local 22, umns to march behind the banners of their organization in the United May Day parade and the great Polo Grounds mass meeting last Friday! Your loyalty, your magnificent response to the call of the Union, your discipline and responsibility, demonstrated as nothing else could your enthusiastic appreciation of the historical meaning of May Day as the great day of labor unity, solidarity and mili-The firm discipline for tancy. which the dressmakers were so widely admired during the fight for the new agreement was again manifested on this May Day. Special credit should go, in particular, to the athletic teams, to the social, cultural and sports divisions, to the bicycle squad, to the red-and-white sweater brigades and to all of the other groups that helped to make our section of the

I. Zimmerman of the Communist Party (Opposition), George Blake, New England Secretary of the Communist Party, and Leslie Rich- their share to enhance the richness main of the Socialist Party.

The enthusiasm of the crowd reached its height when both Sandberg at the Common meeting and Zimmerman at the Lyceum meeting proposed a United Labor Ticket in the coming Presidential elections with Tom Mooney as the standard bearer.

At the Lyceum meeting a resolution was unanimously adopted demanding the immediate unconditional release of Mooney and Billings and all other class war prisoners.

Richard Moore of the I.L.D. presided at the Boston Common Meeting, and Louis Greenfield, director of the Chelsea Labor Lyceum, was

We wish to extend heartiest great parade so marvellously color-

The splendid conduct of our membership shows how utterly unwho turned out in unending col- founded were the charges raised against our Local that our participation in the United May Day Parade would somehow bring division and damage to the Trade Union May Day Demonstration at the Polo Grounds. Not division but unity was the aim and the result of our policy. Events now prove clearly that our action on May Day contributed very materially not only to the unification of the forces of labor in a vast demonstration but also to the success of the great Polo Grounds mass meeting. With an admirable sense of responsibility, our members carried out the decision of our Local in the most thoroly disciplined manner. Having passed the reviewing stand at Union Square in solid ranks, they were among the first to arrive in great masses at the Polo Grounds, forming the biggest single unit at that huge gathering. In the program at the Polo Grounds, too, our athletic, choral, mandolin, dramatic and dance groups took a leading part, doing colorfulness of the meeting

> By its action and by its example on May Day, our Local has made a great contribution towards the consolidation of the forces of labor against the hosts of capital, towards the unification of the working class without regard to race, creed, color or political opinion. We are determined to pursue our policy of unity, to carry on this great struggle until the ranks of labor are at last united against the common enemy, until the working class is at last triumphant over the menacing forces of reaction, fascism and war!

Executive Board Dressmakers Union Local 22, I.L.G.W.U. Pearl Halpern, Chairman Chas. S. Zimmerman, Sec.-Mgr.